The young people of the Stony Hill R. C. church are holding a picnic this afternoon in a large grove near Feltville. Those in charge of the affair comprise Miss Annie Molloy, Miss Anna Watters, Miss Clark and Mrs. Schick. Judge Schick is also assisting in making the event an enjoyable one. The proceeds will be given to the Stony Hill church, and a goodly sum will no doubt be realized.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schick are entertaining Mrs. Schick's sister, Mrs. Daly, of Philadelphia, and Miss Stella Schick, their niece, of Bordentown, for a few days.

Dr. J. H. Parks has rented his property on Park avenue adjoining his residence, Honnedawn, to Mr. Schaffer and family, of New Brunswick.

The little juniors of the Baptist church are expecting to resume their interesting Friday afternoon meetings in the near future.

Miss Minnie Squiers, of Westfield avenue, Rahway, was the guest of Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Jr., on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, of Brooklyn, are spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. Frank Hosinger.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., will hold an important meeting in their rooms this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ford have been entertaining Mrs. Ford's mother for two weeks.

William Jimerson has returned from a week's sojourn at Asbury Park.

William Kiely, of Plainfield, was the guest of friends in town last evening.

FREE DELIVERY GRANTED.

Word Received This Morning That Westfield is to Have Three Carriers and a Substitute.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Aug. 23—Westfield is to have free mail delivery and its citizens are properly jubilant. Word was received at the Westfield postoffice this morning from the postoffice department at Washington stating that the department had considered Westfield's petition and decided to grant free delivery.

The notification from Washington also contained the statement that Westfield would be allowed three regular carriers and a substitute and that the service would be inaugurated December 1st. Civil service examinations for the carriers will be held at Westfield in short time and from the men who pass the highest, the carriers and substitute will be selected.

TWENTY-NINE WOULD-BE HEIRS.

More Claimants for a Share of the Durning Estate.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Aug. 23.—The number of claimants to the estate of the late Michael Durning, a wealthy Elizabeth undertaker, has now reached twenty-nine, and more are expected to be heard from. The list of heirs is headed by Cardinal Logue, of Armagh, primate of all Ireland, who claims his relationship to be that of a first cousin. The other claimants hail from various places, Newark taking the lead with not less than half a dozen.

The contest, when it comes up in the Union County Orphans' Court, promises to be one of the most interesting ever tried before that tribunal. It is now alleged that the dead man's estate is not so valuable as the claimants think. Mr. Durning was supposed to be worth $200,000 when he died, but it is asserted the estate will not figure up more than half that sum when sold. By the provisions of the will made, it is said, only a couple of hours before his death, Mr. Durning bequeathed everything to his wife. The couple had no children.

JR. O. U. A. M. TREASURER SHORT.

Arrested on a Charge of Misappropriating Funds of His Council.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, Aug. 23—On a charge of misappropriating $176.76 Edward J. Boettcher, of 151 Whiton street, financial secretary and treasurer of Plymouth Council, of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, of Jersey City, was arrested Monday. The money, it is said, belongs to the order.

The complaint was made by John L. Kelling, who alleges that the money has not been deposited in the bank in which the funds of the council are kept, and that he has been unable to get an accounting from Boettcher.

Boettcher was committed for a hearing Tuesday. He did not deny having the money and promised to make the amount good. The last money he received from the council was June 28th.

SEASON'S BOOKINGS AT THE MUSIC HALL.

spectacular musical comedy, "Lost in Egypt," Allen's serenaders, a really amusing comedy called "Too Rich to Marry," and the success from the Bijou Theatre, "Aunt Hannah." Manager Edwards has not completed arrangements for his Christmas attraction.

The Bennett-Moulton Comedy Company will appear here during the first week in the new year. Other January and February bookings are the Nashville Students, a colored aggregation of talent, Con Murphy's drama, "The Gamekeeper," Lincoln J. Carter's latest play, "The Eleventh Hour," the well-known comedy "A Bunch of Keys," the Francis-Morris Comedy Company.

The theatre-going public has no greater favorite than Denman Thompson in "The Old Homestead." Manager Edwards has finally secured a contract for his appearance here February 9th. It is quite an achievement as Mr. Thompson seldom appears in one-night stands.

During March and April some of the bookings are the southern drama "On the Suwanee River"; Herman III, the magician; "the Macauly-Patton Comedy Company; "At Piney Ridge"; Vogel and Deming's Minstrels; young Tom Jefferson in "Rip Van Winkle," and the original Whitney version of "Quo Vadis."

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Bertha Larew, of Liberty street, is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Cora Harris, of West Fifth street, is visiting friends at Elmhurst, N. Y.

John Utzinger, of Grandview avenue, has gone to Freehold for a few days visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams, of Netherwood, entertained company from Beverly yesterday.

Miss Julia McCann, of West Third street, has gone to Ballston Spa, N.Y., for a month's visit.

Mrs. Amelia Sandford and son, Percy, of East Front street, have gone to South Watertord, Me., for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tugwell, of Craig place, have returned from Chicago, where they have been visiting relatives.

Cortland Adams, of Netherwood, has returned from his vacation spent at Mariners Harbor and other places of interest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McVey and family, of North avenue, left this morning for Red Bank where they will reside in the future.

John A. Hickey, of Brooklyn, is spending his vacation at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hickey, of Spooner avenue.

Miss Kathryn and Annie Drake, daughters of Louis L. Drake, of Plainfield, are on a visit to their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Keron, of Chestnut street. They have lately returned from Long Island, where, with their grandmother, Mrs. Alice L. Drake, they spent a month.—Elizabeth Journal.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruption, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Supreme Court Judgement.

Judgment has been rendered in the New Jersey Supreme Court in the case of Elias Wolf, trading as Wolf & Sons, of Philadelphia, against John J. Goff, of this city. The verdict was for $1,099.76. Murphy & Blatz, of this city, represented the plaintiff in the case. No defence was made.

Only One Bid.

The sale of real estate known as the Peter E. See property, located corner of Somerset street and Manning avenue, North Plainfield, was adjourned yesterday afternoon for two weeks. Only one bid, $4,500, was received and this figure was considered far too low for so valuable a property.

Fred Conkey, of A. M. Griffin's force of clerks is enjoying a two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Force, of New street, has been enjoying a visit from her daughter from New York.

Miss Elsie Lucker, of Lorraine, is the guest of the Misses Bowman, of Manning avenue.

—Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign going without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Ostpreußen.

Allenstein. Das hiesige Militärgericht verurtheilte den Lieutenant Ran vom 150. Infanterie-Regiment, welcher am ersten Weihnachtsfeiertage v. J. den Oberstlieutenant Stielow im Duell erschossen hatte, zu zwei Jahren Festung.

Bartenstein. Ein hier einlaufender Personenzug mußte auf der hiesigen Station Wasser einnehmen, wobei die Maschine eine kurze Strecke längs des Perrons fuhr. An der Stelle desselben stand ein Landmann mit seiner Tochter, der Angehörige zur Bahn gebracht hatte. Ein vorüberfahrender Postpacketwagen versetzte dem Manne in dem Augenblick, als die Maschine vorbeifuhr, einen solchen Stoß, daß er auf das Geleise fiel und vor den Augen seiner entsetzten Tochter und des zahlreichen Publikums zermalmt wurde.

Provinz Westpreußen.

Danzig. Hier lief der russische Kreuzer „Novick" vom Stapel. Pater Maltzeff, der Kaplan der russischen Botschaft in Berlin, der das Schiff einsegnete, nahm in seiner Rede auf „die russisch-deutsche Kameradschaft in China" Bezug. Der frühere französische Marinemnister Lockroy wohnte dem Stapellauf bei.

Weichselmünde. Erschossen wurde der Kanonier Rigelski vom Fußartillerie-Regiment Nr. 2 bei einer Schießübung auf dem Schießstand. Rigelski, der an der Scheibe stationirt war, hatte das Sicherheitssignal unbeachtet gelassen und war hinter der Scheibe vorbeigelaufen, als ein Unteroffizier einen Gewehrschuß abfeuerte, der Rigelski tödtete. Der Schütze ist schuldlos an dem Unglück.

Rheinprovinz.

Bonn. Die an der Koblenzerstraße nach dem Rheine zu gelegene prachtvolle Villa des verstorbenen russischen Staatsraths König, jetzt Eigenthum des Professors Finkler, ist vom Kaiser käuflich erworben worden. Sie soll zur Hofhaltung des Kronprinzen und später der anderen Kaisersöhne während ihres Studiums an der hiesigen Universität dienen.

Emmerich. Hier wurden zwei holländische Baggermaschinen konfiszirt, deren jede ein Kapital von 40,000 Gulden repräsentirt. Die Maschinen waren ohne Genehmigung der Zollbehörde auf deutsches Gebiet gebracht worden und hatten hier gebaggert. Der Besitzer verliert ein Vermögen.

Koblenz. Für den hiesigen Platz ist die Gründung einer Schifferschule beabsichtigt. Koblenz erscheint deshalb hierfür geeignet, weil es, am Einfluß der Mosel in den Rhein und unweit der Lahnmündung gelegen, mit der nächsten Umgebung eine zahlreiche Schifferbevölkerung hat. Die Stadt wird das Schullokal stellen, auch die Kosten der Einrichtung, Heizung und Beleuchtung übernehmen und außerdem einen jährlichen Beitrag von 300 Mark leisten.

Provinz Sachsen.

Magdeburg. Max J. Baehr, der neue amerikanische Konsul dahier, hat von der deutschen Regierung das Exequatur erhalten.

Erfurt. Hier ist der Stadtarchivar Professor Dr. Karl Beyer, ein bekannter Alterthumsforscher, im 52. Lebensjahre gestorben.

Halle. An der Universität Halle studiren im laufenden Sommersemester 1900 mit Einschluß der nachträglichen Immatrikulirten und Hospitanten 236 Landwirthe von Beruf.

Provinz Schlesien.

Breslau. Lorenz Schwietz von hier ist zum Scharfrichter für das Königreich Preußen ernannt worden. Schwietz war früher Kaufmann und lebt in guten Verhältnissen.

Königshütte. Vier Rechnungsführer der Bismarckhütte wurden wegen Unterschlagung beträchtlicher Summen verhaftet; zwei derselben hatten durch Fälschung der Lohnlisten 12,000 Mark veruntreut. Weitere Verhaftungen stehen bevor.

Schwientochlowitz. Die nahezu erloschene Typhusepidemie ist von Neuem und allem Anschein nach in bedenklichem Maße ausgebrochen. In Folge dessen sind neue sanitäre Maßnahmen nothwendig geworden, auch die aufgestellte Döcker'sche Baracke, welche bisher unbenutzt geblieben war, hat man mit Kranken belegen lassen.

Sprottau. Bei einem Gewitter von außerordentlicher Heftigkeit traf ein Blitzstrahl das Stallgebäude des gräflich zu Dohna'schen Dominiums Kleineula, erschlug 28 Kühe und äscherte das Gebäude ein.

Provinz Schleswig-Holstein.

Kiel. Hier feierte der schleswig-holsteinische Lehrerverein sein 50jähriges Jubiläum; über 2500 schleswig-holsteinische Lehrer waren anwesend.

Friedrichsort. Zwei Studenten und zwei junge Mädchen unternahmen eine Segelfahrt auf dem Kriegshafen. Das Fahrzeug kenterte und die Insassen waren den Wogen preisgegeben. Ein Marineboot eilte herbei und rettete die Schiffbrüchigen. Ein junges Mädchen, Charlotte Wentz, welches noch lebend an Bord der Schulfregatte „Moltke" gebracht wurde, starb in Folge der Anstrengungen; die übrigen erholten sich.

FEMININE GOSSIP.

Notes About the Doings of Women In Many Parts of the Country.

Miss Sado De Laney of Yokohama, who has been the ward of the emperor of Japan since the death of her father, Colonel De Laney, more than two years ago, has come to America. This is her first visit to the home of her parents. Having passed the whole of her life among the Japanese children, she much resembles them in feature and manners. She was educated at a Catholic missionary school at Osaka, and she intends to enter college within a year. She speaks several languages and is beautiful and attractive. She is 18 years old.

Among cattlemen Mrs. Ollie Northlane is termed "The Cattle Queen of the West." In her unique vocation of cattle buyer she had indeed proved the theory of woman suffragists, that the gentler sex is admirably capable of plunging into the business world on an equal footing with man. Westerners have great respect for her judgment in cattle and hogs. In fact, she is considered one of the best judges of stock in the United States. Besides her success in the stock business she is a social success at Sioux City, Ia.

The governor of Kansas has appointed Miss Lillian Hall to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the coroner of Cowley county. She is probably the only woman in the world to hold the office of coroner.

Good fortune attended Mrs. Belle Nixon of San Francisco when she set out for the Klondike less than five years ago. Six months after she had been left a widow she placed her family with a sister and started for the Yukon, taking with her $800. After many privations she made her headquarters in Dawson City. By dint of much saving and frugal borrowing she managed to exist until she struck a rich claim. Today her income is something more than $25,000 per year. Her eldest son will enter Harvard with the class of 1905.

Getting oneself tattooed is the latest fashion among social aspirants. For many months this fad has been secretly flourishing, but not until the bathing season was the secret disclosed. The negligee of the bathing suit shows that the ladies prefer small designs, such as butterflies, flies and moles, while the men assume elaborate eagles, flags and marine views. The tattooers may look for quite a rush on the "mole effect" this fall.

"The Ministering Angel" of New York's east side, as Miss Mae Brown, the daughter of a millionaire banker, is known, has declared her mission in life to be that of a trained nurse and helper of the poor. Since her graduation from the Presbyterian hospital Miss Brown has made her home in the nurses' settlement on the east side. She has deserted society for work in her chosen field.

Miss Marion Abbott is said to be the first woman who has made money out of a violet farm on Long Island. A year ago she bought a deserted farm and has since been cultivating her favorite flower. Her profits for the season have averaged so far about $150 a month. Miss Abbott says the flowers are very easy to cultivate and that it is a delightful occupation for women.

To Mrs. Ida Belmar Camp of Caro, Mich., belongs the distinction of having the finest collection of cacti in existence. She has in her possession over 700 specimens which she has raised herself, including some rare varieties not even to be found in large botanical institutions at home or abroad.

Mrs. A. E. McCrea, who was the landscape gardener of Lincoln park, Chicago, has completed more than 25 pieces of public landscape gardening during the past nine years. When her husband died ten years ago, she was left without means for support, and she took up gardening. From that it was but a step to landscape architecture, and she soon mastered that branch of the business. One of her best pieces of work is the landscape effect about the Soldiers' home at Grand Rapids.

The first woman to take the stump for Bryan is Mrs. Mary Green of New Rochelle, N. Y. Though she is 75 years old, she is a woman of wonderful conversational force and usually carries her point.

St. Joseph, Mich., can boast of at least one woman who has a unique profession. The proud distinction of having witnessed more marriages than any other woman in the state falls to the lot of Mrs. John W. Needham, the wife of the county clerk. Mrs. Needham runs a wedding trust. To the many couples who call at the town hall for marriage licenses Mrs. Needham supplies the clergyman and offers the shelter of her parlors for the ceremony. Business is thriving, and now St. Joseph rivals the famous Gretna Green of Scotland.

A Simple Question.

Plainfield People are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:—

Mr. Robert Love, of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers, grocers, of 257 West Front street, says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for eight or nine years, pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated it. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the mornings my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures but it was throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper and being in bad shape at the time, I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved and continuing their use, all the pain left me."

The Summer Gown at Its Best in Newport

The Materials Are Not Decidedly New but the Costumes Are More Than Beautiful

NEVER had muslins such a vogue as this season. Never was it better deserved, for never were they so pretty. The dainty dimity muslins with their pretty floral sprays meandering over the surface are enough to give any happy possessor of a frock made of them a satisfied look.

And the muslins of the season have satisfied, else they would not be so generally worn as they are. Of all the summer materials seen at Newport none equal in popularity, judging from the number worn, the summer muslins. And while some of them are decidedly expensive, others, quite as pretty and charming, are very cheap. Indeed, so much do the expensive and the cheaper qualities look alike that one wonders what makes the difference, and I guess that the only satisfactory answer is a difference in profits to the manufacturer and merchant.

Merchants always have and always will, and probably with reason, work upon the theory that the really fashionable people will buy the expensive fabrics because they are expensive, and because the poorer people cannot afford them. That may be true as a rule, but this year the muslins are the exception that is needed to prove the rule. Of the cheaper designs in the season's muslins none are prettier than those with colored stripes between, and none have had a greater run among the ultra fashionables at Newport. These are seen in blues, mauves and the natural tones of the flowers.

But the summer gowns that are now captivating manly hearts by the score—a Newport matron told me the other day that it was always the best dressed girl who had the greatest number of admirers, no matter what her personal charms might be—are not all of muslin, and though that material takes the lead in popularity some others are not far behind.

There are the fine batistes, admirable piques and drills, the always popular ducks and the new woven white material that is proving a successful rival to the ducks. Many of these materials that have formerly been used only in white are this year shown in colors that add to their charm. There are, for instance, colored ducks, and colored piques, both of which are popular.

OF BLUE MUSLIN DOTTED WITH WHITE.

These things cannot be said to be decidedly new. They are products of the early spring, and were seen on the shop shelves when first milady went shopping for her summer gowns at Newport. A description of some of these gowns, with an illustration or two, may give a good idea of just what the summer girl, gowned in these charming materials, is like.

There was a blue muslin frock that I thought unusually charming, though quite elaborate. The blue muslin was dotted with white, and the bodice had a deep yoke of tucked muslin and French embroidery with a stock to match. The blue muslin was in tucks for the lower portion of the bodice, with pointed lapels of French embroidery trimmed with lace. The sleeves were plain to just below the elbow, with turnback cuff of embroidery and full under-sleeve of French lawn. The skirt was in small tucks about three inches down from the waist line, with three flounces, narrow in front and gradually widening toward the back.

A pretty buff muslin that was much more simple had the skirt made with clusters of five tucks all around flaring eight inches from the bottom. Around the wide hem of the skirt was a trimming of white guipure applique. The bodice had a white tucked front, with the buff at each side giving a jacket effect. This was trimmed with white guipure applique. The sleeves were tucked in clusters of three with a fall of guipure lace at the wrist.

To go from these simple materials to something more elaborate and expensive I wish to describe a black lace robe that was made over a soft white silk. The bodice was slightly full in front, with high stock and crushed girdle of white taffeta ribbon, finished in a coquettish bow at one side. The sleeves were finished at the wrist with a narrow ruching of white taffeta ribbon, having a fall of black French lace over it.

The short skirts that have been fighting so valiantly for popular favor for a year or more seem to be about to win their long battle with femininity. According to the authorities that dictate our styles for us the short skirt is to be the favorite for all classes of women during the fall and winter. They have been popular with the common-sense women for shipping expeditions and such purposes for some time, but they have never gained much favor with the wealthier classes. But now the powers that be in the fashion world have decreed that it must be short skirts for all who wish to be in style during the fall and winter, and New York merchants report that they are providing themselves with a large supply to meet the coming demand.

KISSING AND LEGISLATION.

Law Denies the Saluting with the Lips on Sunday in the "Nutmeg State."

In the good old colonial days it was the custom for a lady to reserve the privilege of kissing her hand at meeting and parting for her intimate friends; a pretty custom, though probably not one that would find favor in this day of the equality of the sexes. Then, too, in the etiquette of kissing a girl gave "her hand to a friend, her cheek to a reliaive, and kept her lips for her lover," writes Frank H. Vizetelly in the Woman's Home Companion. But there was always some busybody around who wanted the matter of kissing regulated by law, so the legislature has been called upon more than once in different states to consider the subject. Under the unique blue laws of Connecticut no mother was allowed to kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day except under heavy penalties. Even within the last few months an appeal has gone out for the repeal of the law which has just been enforced in the Nutmeg state. According to the public press this law "forbids an eager young man to kiss a willing young girl, and even goes to the length of declaring that a man may not kiss his own lawful spouse on Sunday."

The shot output of New Hampshire last year was $2,900,000.

HELP GROWTH OF CHILDREN.

Certain Hygienic Principles Which Must Not Be Disregarded by Parents.

The question how to make children grow has been often asked, but until recently no specialist has gone deeply enough into the subject to be able to give a satisfactory answer, says the Chicago Chronicle.

A French specialist who has lately investigated the subject says:

"The chief reason which urged me to investigate the matter was the discovery of the fact that recent statistics have proved that the majority of the French people are below the normal stature.

"The first essential to child growth is fresh air. Indeed, children cannot have too much of it. So many mothers are afraid to allow their children to go out of doors if there is the least suspicion of rain, cold or wind. Trey do not realize that by keeping the little ones indoors they are depriving them of the glorious fresh air that would strengthen their little frames and help them to withstand the cold and damp and cutting winds that are responsible for so many troubles. If children are to grow properly they must not only inhale as much fresh air as possible in the daytime, but at night also. Their bedroom windows must be kept open at night so that the air is constantly renewed. For, strange though it may appear, a child needs a much larger quantity of oxygen than a man. The air of sleeping apartments is easily polluted and nothing tends to lessen growth so quickly as the constant inhalation of impure air."

THE FRUIT BREAKFAST.

When Taken in Their Proper Season Fruit Juices Are Beneficial to the Digestion.

"The business of breakfast," says a hygienic periodical, "is a most important one, for it stores the human battery with power for the day's work.

"What are the essentials of a proper breakfast? First, the most important item is a preliminary meal of fruit—oranges, grapes, apples, cantaloupe, berries—seasonable fruit in which juice predominates over fiber. Fruit juices, taken early into the stomach, are converted into alkalies, keep the blood normally alkaline, preventing saturation of the system with uric acid and averting the troubles which follow such a condition.

"Fruit juices act as correctives to the digestive organs, whetting the appetite, increasing the secretion of the gastric juice, and stimulating peristalis. Where fruit is eaten every morning, digestion is satisfactory, the bowels are natural and regular, the head is clear, and an agreeable feeling of general well-being is experienced.

"Too much emphasis cannot be laid upon this matter of preliminary fruit breakfast. . . . If the fruit does not appear to agree with you at first, if there are sour belchings and abdominal distentions, try a small beginning. Take only an orange, the juice alone. Persist, and the stomach will adapt itself. Gradually add more fruit. After the fruit breakfast the ordinary breakfast is in order."—Detroit Free Press.

ELECTION PROMISES.

Candidate Who Found Out How to Value Them—Concluded All Voters Were Liars.

"The talk about ante-election promises reminds me of the experience of a man whom I knew at my old home," said William Snyder. "He was a candidate for constable, and just before election day I asked him concerning his prospects. 'Oh, I am certain of a two-thirds majority,' he answered, most cheerfully.

"'What causes you to feel so positively certain?" I asked.

"'I've got the promises.'

"'You place the proper value on election promises, it is hoped?' I ventured to say.

"'Sure!' he said, 'sure! Everybody has promised to vote for me; but I count one-third of the voters as liars. The truthful two-thirds will vote for me.'

"In the election the trusting man did not receive any votes at all. Seeing him, I asked him about it.

"'I expressed to you the opinion,' said he, 'that one-third of the voters were liars, didn't I?'

"'That's what you said,' he was assured.

"'May I amend my observation?'

"'Certainly.'

"'Then I strike out "one-third" and substitute "all"—thus, all the voters of our town are liars.'

"So saying, the defeated one made a bee-line for a drink."—Birmingham (Ala.) Age-Herald.

Linen Crumb Cloths.

An old-fashioned custom of our grandmothers, who had carpets that were of sufficient value to make it worth the while of ambitious descendants to connive for the possession of these same strips of velvet, is being revived. I refer to the restoration of the linen crumb cloth. This is quite the latest thing in the way of summer furnishings, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. Our grandmothers used crumb cloths over their carpets to preserve them for the future generations, but we of the wholesome hygienic age place them on the polished floors without rugs or carpets of any description beneath them. The marked favor with which they have been received has furnished the spur that urged the designers on to their best efforts. Consequently the cloths are to be found in every conceivable pattern and coloring. Some of the most beautiful are in delicate shades of green and yellow, with conventional and floral designs.—Detroit Free Press.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To John H. Hays and Elizabeth S. Hays, his wife, Euphemia Richardson and Andrew J. Richardson, her husband, Hester A. Thompson and John R. Thompson, her husband.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Almira Morrison is complainant, and you and another are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant, on or before the thirty-first day of August next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed for partition of certain lands in the city of Plainfield, in the County of Union, of which Henry Hays died seized, and you, John H. Hays, Euphemia Richardson and Hester A. Thompson, are made defendents because you are tenants in common therein; and you, Elizabeth S. Hays, are made defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower, in the share of said lands and premises of which your said husband is seized; and you, Andrew J. Richardson and John R. Thompson are made defendants because you may each claim to have some interest in the share of said lands and premises, of which your wives are seized respectively, as tenant by the curtesy initiate.

THE DOLLIES' PIC-NIC.

A number of sweet little dollies
Were lying close by on the shelf,
Contented to lay there together,
And not thinking at all of theirself,
When up jumped one bright-looking dollie
And cried out in a manner most gay:
Oh, dollies, let's have a real pic-nic!
And have it this day, right away!
So they got up a wonderful pic-nic,
And played till they could play no more.

LIFE IN THE GHETTO

It Is Full of Animation, Bustle and Distinctive Color.

What the United Hebrew Charities Are Doing Toward Improving the Condition of Jewish Children in Chicago.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

UPON investigation nothing appears quite in accordance with one's preconceived idea, and it is probable that many people, if they should walk through the Chicago Ghetto, on a summer's day, wold find it less objectionable, in some respects, than they had anticipated. It depends much, of course, upon the frame of mind of the investigator. One should, under such circumstances, go prepared for the worst and hope for the best. If a police officer accompany the party, he will be found a valuable companion, as the information which he can furnish will save much walking around; and it is hardly to be conceived that people, not resident in the district, would care to make a prolonged stay.

The sidewalks are very irregular and where to step next requires some careful consideration. The streets are an abomination. The wooden pavements are destroyed, and the mud indescribable, its component parts being of a widely varied character. Some of the houses are of wood and in every stage of dilapidation, while others are brick and present a comparatively decent exterior; but inside all are crowded to overflowing with families of Russian Jews, and the overflow finds its way into the streets and alleys.

A majority of the men are peddlers and not likely to be in really destitute circumstances. The whole Ghetto is filled with little shops kept by these people, and a representative of another nationality could not obtain customers. Their great day is Friday, market day; their market being considered one of the liveliest places in Illinois. Wagons are backed up to the sidewalk on Jefferson street for one or two blocks on either side of Maxwell and here everything can be purchased, from a shoestring up, from Thursday afternoon until Friday afternoon, when the Sabbath begins.

LITTLE MOTHERS IN ISRAEL IN THE CHICAGO GHETTO.

Shops are closed until Saturday at six p. m., when a lively scene may be witnessed. Everything is thrown open. The whole population is out in holiday attire. Soap and water have made large inroads on the grime collected during the week. Dresses are of the gayest colors. The streets literally swarm with children in brilliant apparel. The material is of the cheapest, but it shows up bewilderingly. Even the women's wigs seem to be red in a majority of cases. Their wearers chatter incessantly. Nowhere can a larger number of children be seen to a square yard of sidewalk, and nowhere do parents seem more devoted to their offspring. Baby buggies are numerous and are wheeled along regardless of the rights of anyone but the propeller. One must keep out of their way or be run down, and there is no malice in this. It is merely one of the characteristics of the inhabitants of this locality. Are they not the chosen people?

PLAYING CRAPS IN THE GHETTO.

It is not here that the authorities look for great criminals. The bad class seems to be of a cowardly nature and its members confine themselves to small thefts and the receiving of stolen goods. The district north of Twelfth street, where the Ghetto ends, is much worse.

Many of the Russian Jews have fine, intelligent faces, but the majority indicates a very low order of human nature. They are said to eat more poultry and fish than any other people. The fish is, as a rule, kept alive in tanks and exposed for sale on the streets. Carp is a favorite variety. It has been said that these people could not live without Russian fleas, which will not go on a dog, but prefer to tenant the clothing of human beings. Doubtless much disease is communicated by them. The Ghettoites will not eat a chicken unless it is killed by some one especially authorized by the church. Religion, such as it is, seems to be the controlling factor in the life seen on every hand. How little it has done spiritually, mentally and physically for its devotees, is sadly apparent. Probably none of the Hebrew faith are so abjectly superstitious as this class and none have less in common with the best and highest things of life.

But at the outskirts of this district a great work is being carried on. On Morgan street, near Maxwell, is a dispensary supported by the United Hebrew Charities, where poverty, ignorance and illness may find relief. The building is an excellent one, erected along the most approved sanitary lines. The front is of pressed brick and contrasted with the neighboring houses presents a very attractive appearance. A door opens into a commodious T-shaped hall, where are seats which it would seem should accommodate all the patients which even this crowded locality could furnish; but most of those in waiting become impatient. They stand and walk around, hushing crying babies, conversing monotonously in any language most convenient, a motley throng, dressed in every conceivable fashion except what might be expected in a Christian land, in which, as such, they certainly are aliens. A small party recently visited the Ghetto for the purpose of witnessing the children's clinic of Dr. Rosa Engelmann. Nearly every child brought into the office during their stay (and 37 cases were treated) were Russian Jews. They followed each other in rapid succession, the time being limited and the applicants many. Since her connection with the institution, the doctor has treated about 118,500 cases and quickly recognizes ordinary ills caused by bad air, improper food and care. But there are numerous diseases requiring time and thorough examination. There were diphtheria and heart troubles, and some little patients were sent to other physicians in the building for surgical operations. Eczema, whooping cough, throat and intestinal diseases are common. The surprising thing about the babies was their comparative cleanliness. Not in a positive, but in a negative way. The best that could be said was that they were not very dirty. It seems that they are not allowed to enter the doctor's office except in a decent condition. If they are not properly prepared for treatment at home, they will be given a bath downstairs. "But," the doctor says, "the worst thing is the fleas."

Most of the younger of the women had evidently rebelled against the custom which requires that they shave off their beautiful hair at the time of marriage and appeared without the hideous wigs with which the older ones were adorned. Although the day was warm few were without a woolen shawl around their shoulders and the children wore layers of heavy clothing. The doctor frequently said: "Have you not been here before? Have I not told you not to feed your babies at such short intervals?" They look bewildered and answer: "Yes, but what shall I do when he cries?" There seems no hope of teaching some of these women better methods. Traditions are handed down, from generation to generation, and they are not a people who take kindly to innovations of any kind. Few speak English well enough to carry on a conversation in that tongue, and the doctor was compelled to address them in German. Occasionally one needed an interpreter in that language.

The faces of many of the little ones were very pitiful. Instead of being in nice cool beds, tenderly cared for, they were dressed in enough clothing for three babies and carried around in the arms of mothers without sufficient intelligence to know that a child, screaming with the pain of cholera infantum, is not best hushed by being tossed in every conceivable manner. Woman after woman was told to take her child to Jackson Park sanitarium, but it is doubtful if many of them get so far from Halsted street.

A young and very beautiful Jewish nurse, to whom nothing could be more becoming than her Red Cross uniform, acted as conductress through the establishment. The dispensary is well supplied with everything needed. All who are able to do so pay ten cents for their medicines. The same fee is charged for surgical operations. Forty medical patients, besides those of Dr. Engelmann, were prescribed for in one afternoon, so the position of the chemist is no sinecure. There are separate rooms for the treatment of medical cases, dentistry, dermatology, gynecology, surgery, children's diseases, the eye and ear, nose and throat. In the basement are a diet kitchen and lavatories.

SPORTING.

GOLF

Among the golf experts who are gathering at Southampton, L. I., in anticipation of the woman's national championship which begins at Shinnecock Aug. 28th, is Mrs. N. P. Rogers, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club.

The golf season will be resumed on the Hillside course Labor Day when the golf committee cups will be contested for. Then the regular schedule will be followed until cold weather and snow makes it impossible to play.

There is quite a colony of Plainfielders in Jefferson, N. H., and according to the reports many are making records at golf. Among those who are playing frequently are Messrs. Fisk, J. Whitney Baker and W. T. Kaufman.

Reports of competitive golf on the links of the Weumbek Golf Club, Jefferson, N. H., give credit to a Plainfield player. The qualifying round in the amateur tournament was run off Tuesday and J. Whitney Baker, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, made the lowest gross with an 89.

There are quite a number of golfers who are now summering at the Hotel Netherwood and spend quite a little of their time on both of the local courses. Arrangements have been made by the hotel management so that the guests can play at the local links by payment of a reasonable fee and the visitors have all expressed themselves delighted with the excellence and picturesqueness of the courses.

In a few weeks there will be enough of the local golfers home from their summer vacations to allow the teams of the two local clubs to resume their wonted activity. The good showing made by the Park Club team last spring has encouraged the members to hope for even better things this fall Some matches will undoubtly be be played next month with teams of this vicinity. The Morristown Field Club has promised to send a team here during September while the Metuchen Golf Club team will also play a return game on the Park Golf Club links.

There are a number of the local golfers who are summering in the White Mountains and spend much of their time on the different courses there. Several Plainfielders have played on the various hotel teams. Saturday afternoon the Waumbek and the Intervale teams, according to a dispatch from Jefferson, N. H., played a match in which the Waumbek team was easily the victor 31 to 2. J. Whitney Baker and William T. Kaufman, both of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, played on the winning team while Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards and his son, George Richards, were on the Intervale team. Baker beat his man 13 up while Kaufman defeated Dr. Richards 2 up. Young Richards was beaten by his man 2 down.

There is likely to be a general reduction in handicaps before Saturday's play for the president's cup on the links of the Park Golf Club. After W. B. Fabers net score of 88 last Saturday, he will fall under the ban of the green committee and have a liberal slice taken off his handicap. Edgar I. Serrell is getting in better form these days and his handicap of 6 is also likely to be sliced off somewhat. It is doubtful if he will keep away from the scratch men very long. Although somewhat erratic, he has been doing good work when it was needed and gave W. J. R. Theirs a lively tussle for the green committee trophy last week which came very near being a victory for Serrell.

The defeat of the team of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club by the golfers of the Town and Country Club at Elizabeth last Saturday was greatly regretted by the Plainfield enthusiasts as it somewhat injured Plainfield's chances of finishing first in the championship of the East Jersey Golf Association. No blame is attached to anyone, however, for the defeat, as the Elizabeth cracks were playing in fine form and knew the course well while it was entirely new to most of the Hillside team. The Hillside team does not play again until September 8th, when the team from the Madison Golf Club comes here. The Madison players will have to meet the strongest combination that Plainfield can put up and they are likely to be defeated by a very large majority. The defeat of the Hillside team at Madison was one of the biggest surprises of the league and the Plainfield players are not going to take any chances of having that incident repeated. The Madison golfers play fair golf but they are utterly outclassed here. It was only the peculiarity of their course that ever won the first match for them.

ON THE DIAMOND

A great game of baseball was witnessed yesterday afternoon in Washington Park, when Walter Vail's team contested for honors with the Washington Park team. The latter was victorious for the second time, winning by a score of 21 to 8. The battery for the Park team was Barlow and Boome, while Vail and Roberts occupied the principal points for the opposing team.

COPS TALK TOO MUCH.

Mayor Smalley Does Not Like the Way in Which the Borough Policemen Act.

There seems to have been another outbreak in the borough police department, but fortunately the trouble has been settled and everything is all right again. It was a very small matter to cause such a fuss.

A few nights ago Marshal Emmons arrested Frank Moncton, of the borough, for being drunk and disorderly. He was locked up and a hearing was set down for Tuesday evening last at 7 o'clock. It happened that Mayor Smalley decided to release Moncton prior to the hearing, and when the officer went to the lockup to appear against the prisoner, he learned that he had been released. This had a tendency to arouse the officer's indignation and he threatened to resign at once. There was no one present at the time who had the authority to accept the resignation, and the officer went on duty as usual. Nothing more has been heard of the matter.

When a Press representative saw Mayor Smalley about the matter, he declared that he had a perfect right to use his judgment in the case in question, and he was not obliged to get the consent of the officer as to how he should act. The Mayor stated very plainly that some of the marshals talk too much for their own good. He considers that they all have excellent positions at $50 a month, and a comparatively easy time of it. The Mayor contends that all the men have to do is to patrol their beats, see that proper order is maintained, and not talk so much. He says he would like to find a few men who cannot talk, but who know enough to carry a club and cover a prescribed beat. These kind of men, he says, he would appoint to positions on the police force.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The Grand Rapids Evening Press has the following to say about the Sun Minstrels: "The usual Sunday evening audience greeted The Gus Sun Minstrels at their initial performance at the Grand last night. In the quality of its specialties, scenery, and in the voices of its members the show is far above the average and won well-merited applause throughout the performance. The first part served to introduce the prettiest stage setting and costumes seen in Grand Rapids for years, fine singing and some exceptionally funny comedians. The olio that followed contained a number of fine features." This company will be seen here at Music Hall Friday night.

Even though Harlem is an integral part of Greater New York, it still has its own individuality in various ways. When F. F. Proctor secured possession of the theatre on 125th street, between Lexington and Park avenues, (and formerly known as the Columbus and Miner's), Harlem grew agitated at the prospect of extraordinary good shows at small prices. The season of 1900-1901 opened in Harlem Monday afternoon, last, August 20th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the curtain rose at F. F. Proctor's 125th Street Theatre and thus inaugurate the first continuous performance in that section. The programme was an immense one; the prices only 15c and 25c in the afternoon and but 15c, 25c and 50 cents in the evening. There will be no smoking or drinking whatever in Proctor's 125th Street Theatre and it will give the ladies and children of Harlem the best programs of vaudeville at the smallest prices with every refining influence, the same as at Proctor's Fifth Avenue, Twenty-third Street and Palace theatres. The opening stars are: The Little Magnet, Lottie Gilson, and J. K. Emmet (Fritz) in a joint musical sketch, "Collie's Dilemma," in which they will have individual innings for their respective specialties; Sager Midgley and Gertie Carlisle, two favorites, will offer their juvenile skit, "After School;" Jennie Yeaman's, a pleasing comedienne, will be seen in monologue; Jas. Richmond Glenroy, with his "green gloves;" Bros. Permane, European acrobats; Bates Musical Trio; Max Unger, a Samsonian athlete; Barry and Halvers, farcical sketch; and the ever popular Kalatechnoscope are among the opening features.

He Wants That Dog.

John Pilger has commenced suit in Justice Nash's court against Harvey Drake for the recovery of a dog which he claims Drake is keeping from him. Pilger states that some time ago Drake offered to return the dog to him for $2.50. Pilger refused to pay this but afterwards reconsidered and offered Drake the amount, but it was then placed at $5. Again Pilger refused and this time he brought suit. The case will be heard on next Wednesday.

Francis J. Blatz and John Steiner, both of Somerset street, drove over to Boynton Beach yesterday and went crabbing. They met with remarkable success, so they say, and brought back over fifty crabs, most of them of large size.

A TELL-TALE TICKET.

It Had a Number Corresponding With One of a Lot Stolen From Central Depot at Neshanic.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Aug. 23.—Chief Marshal John Sebring arrested William McIntyre, a colored man, at South Plainfield, yesterday, on the charge of being the man who robbed the Central Railroad station at Neshanic last Friday night.

The ticket office was broken into and a quantity of money and tickets taken. Suspicion pointed to McIntyre, who worked about the town and who was found to be missing. A description of him was sent out and a man answering it turned up at West Dunellen yesterday. He gave half of a ticket to a towerman bearing a number corresponding with one of those stolen. Marshal Sebring was notified and traced the man to South Plainfield where he arrested him.

McIntyre was taken to Somerville and will be held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

DOLLIVER'S SPEECH WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

The Senator-Elect Will Spend Two Days in Jersey During Tour of the Country.

ONE OF LEADING SPEAKERS.

WILL ADDRESS MASS MEETING HERE, THE FIRST OF CAMPAIGN.

City Committee Will Take Charge of Arrangements as Soon as County Committee Positively Secures the Speaker.

The recent cool weather and the results of the meeting of the Republican county executive committee Tuesday evening have done much to revive interest in politics as far as Plainfield is concerned. The fact that U. S. Senator-elect J. B. Dolliver, of Iowa, one of the most prominent figures at the recent National convention of the Republicans, is to speak here in a few weeks, has stirred up the local workers.

Charles N. Codding, chairman of the county committee, is working with the State and National committees of the G. O. P., so that when the matter of speakers for Union county came up he was given to understand that he might have his choice of all the talent with very few exceptions. It was his desire, of course, to have Gov. Theodore Roosevelt address a meeting in Union county, but there is now little chance of that unless he happens to pass through here on his campaign tour when a few words from the rear platform of his car might possibly be heard. He is to speak at Newark, however, and that will give Plainfielders a chance to get over to hear him provided, of course, that they can get admission into the building.

Aside from Gov. Roosevelt Senator Dolliver is one of the most prominent speakers on the Republican side. He is quite eloquent and was deemed one of the best orators in the House. He is down for two speeches in Jersey, and Mr. Codding was told that one of those might go to Union county. There will be other speakers here, of course, but Mr. Dolliver is coming to New Jersey September 13th and 14th, and it had to be decided at once where he would speak.

It is rather remarkable that Elizabeth should permit Plainfield to get such a famous speaker but the county committee decided that he should speak in Plainfield if the dates could properly be arranged and there was no trouble about that. William Newcorn, a member of the county committee from the Fourth ward, saw Manager Maze Edwards, of Music Hall, Wednesday and secured the option of the hall for Thursday evening, September 13th. The hall was taken for the following night.

When the date is positively fixed and the arrangements made with Senator Dolliver, the part of the county committee regarding the mass meeting here will be completed. The other arrangements, including the footing of the bills, will fall upon the city executive committee. A meeting of that committee will be called as soon as Chairman Codding notifies the committee that the date has been accepted by Senator Dolliver and plans laid for the mass meeting.

It was first expected that the banner raising would mark the formal opening of the campaign in Plainfield but this opportunity to get such a famous speaker here is too good to be lost and the local Republicans are perfectly willing to alter their plans to conform with the circustances.

There was quite a little discussion at the meeting of the county committee at Elizabeth Monday evening and the chief topic was the need to stir all the Republicans from any suggestion of apathy. The National and State committees have been very emphatic in their statements to the organization of the party to make their campaign just as lively and thorough as possible. They fear that many Republicans will be so satisfied with the situation that they will think themselves secure and will not work as hard as usual. It was impressed on all the committeemen present that such a situation must not be allowed in Union county.

Rented a Cottage.

A number of Plainfield boys belonging to the Alis foot ball team have rented a cottage at Asbury Park and will spend their vacations there. Among those there at present are Harold and Roy Phillips, Garfield Pike, Charles Woolston, William Hobby and James Taylor.

BIG TROLLEY DEAL ON.

A LINE FROM JERSEY CITY TO HARRISBURG, PA.

Franchises Procured—A Gap of Only Forty-six Miles to be Railed Before the Line is Completed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, August 24 — This city is the centre of one of the largest trolley deals ever contemplated. There is no longer any mystery about the movements of the financiers who have of late been securing franchises through the smaller cities of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and work on the Morrisville-Yardley road is not so much of a secret as before.

It was learned that a syndicate headed by the Williamson heirs, o this city, and several New York and Philadelphia capitalists, was the combination that has been at work in Lancaster and elsewhere along the line between here and Pennsylvania's capital, and that at this date they are in possession of rights and franchises that will permit of the construction of a complete trolley road between Harrisburg and Jersey City.

Workmen have begun the laying of rails between Morrisville and Yardley, which is to be a branch of the big road, and will be added to the connection between Trenton and the Bristol turnpike, which runs through Tullytown. There are ten miles of track necessary between Harrisburg and Lancaster, and twelve miles needed from Lancaster to a point near Chester, where connection can be had with lines running out of Philadelphia.

From Princeton to New Brunswick the right of way has been secured, and when this fifteen miles of roadway is finally constructed, the North Jersey lines will lead to the metropolis. With the ten, twelve and fifteen miles just located, and the turnpike of nine miles, there is completed, the gap of forty-six miles yet to be railed between Harrisburg and Jersey City.

OLD RAILROADER RETIRES.

G. L. Bryant Resigns From Central's Service After Working for Them Since 1865.

G. L. Bryant, who since 1865 has been connected with the Jersey Central Railroad, and who up to a short time ago was trainmaster of the High Bridge branch, has resigned his position and will hereafter live in retirement. When Mr. Bryant entered the service of the company October 1st, 1865, he took the position of brakeman from Elizabeth to Jersey City in the morning, acted as assistant baggage agent in the afternoon, then as conductor of a return train to Elizabeth. In 1876 he was placed at Bound Brook as despatcher at the opening of the line to Philadelphia, where he remained for a short time. June 25th, 1876, he was appointed trainmaster of the High Bridge branch. Mr. Bryant served the Central under seven presidents and receivers and eight superintendents.

PATTERSON FOR SECRETARY.

Jersey Republicans Begin a Boom for Young Assemblyman.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Trenton, Aug. 24—There has been a good deal of gossip lately over the probable successor to the late A. S. Barber, as secretary of the Republican State committee. While the post will not be filled until State Chairman Franklin Murphy returns from Europe, it is likely that the man for the place will have been practically agreed upon by that time, for the rapid approach of the active campaign demands the early selection of a secretary.

Within a day or two the South Jerseymen have been suggesting the name of Assemblyman Frank F. Patterson, Jr., of Camden, as an ideal secretary. The leaders in this end of the State feel that as North Jersey has the chairman and the treasurer, it is a good idea to have a secretary who is in close touch with the lower part of the State as was the late Secretary Barber. Through his long experience as a newspaperman, his great capacity for work and his immense popularity with both party leaders and workers, Mr. Patterson, it is argued, would make an idal secretary if he could be induced to accept the post. At all events, the movement toward the Camden man has set in earnest, and is sure to grow stronger as the days go.

Be on Time.

A special train of thirteen coaches and baggage car will leave Grant Avenue at 7:55 a. m., and Plainfield at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Saturday, August 25th, with the Hope chapel Sunday-school excursion to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove. Be on time and enjoy nine hours at the seashore.

GETTING READY TO OPEN CITY SCHOOLS.

No Important Improvements Have Been Made to School Property This Summer.

WAS THOROUGHLY CLEANED

ANNUAL STOCK OF SCHOOL SUPPLIES NOW READY FOR DISTR'BUTION.

Few New Text Books Needed—Delay in Getting School Funds on Account of New Law—Schools Will Open Tuesday, September 11th.

The opening of the city public schools for the fall term is now only a few weeks away and the work preliminary to the opening of the schools is steadily going forward so as to be completed in time. There have been but very few changes made to any of the school buildings this summer, although all have been subjected to the usual thorough cleaning. The chief improvement made to any of the school property was that to the combined yards of the Stillman and Franklin buildings along Arlington avenue.

City Superintendent of Schools H. M. Maxson is now spending his summer vacation at Grove, N. Y., but he will return to Plainfield shortly after the first of September to get everything in order for the opening Monday, Sept. 10th. Meanwhile F. B. Clark, clerk of the Board of Education, has general supervision of the preliminary preparations and the arrival of the big stock of school supplies needed for the coming fall and winter work in the schools.

There will be little or no change in the general system of affairs at the schools this year. The supply of books which has been purchased during the last three years, when the free book plan was adopted, is now sufficient to equip all the school with but little additions. Every season it is necessary to rebind a few of the books but most of them are in good condition and will be numerous enough for another year.

It requires quite a stock of paper, blank books, blotters, pens and pen holders, pencils and the like to supply all the schools and great packages of these articles are now gathered in the Stillman building pending their distribution to the various schools in the city.

When the trolley was put through Arlington avenue the school property along that thoroughfare was improved. The old, unsightly board fence was removed and a neat iron one put in its place. The sidewalk was curbed and new flagging laid and the yards to the two adjacent schools put in good condition.

The Board of Education has had some trouble over the provisions of the new school law which provides for a custodian of funds for the Board. None was appointed and, according to the law, the city treasurer was therefore given the place by virtue of his office. In the absence of the Corporation Counsel all the members of the Board were not exactly certain as to their proper course in the matter and the result was that there was some slowness in getting at the regular school monies. No serious complications resulted, however, and the only effect was to delay the expenditure of the school funds.

No changes of importance were made to any of the schools, as has usually been the case. A stranger, who had occasion to visit the schools on a business errand a few days ago, remarked on the very clean appearance of all the school buildings. In all his experience, he said, he had never seen school buildings better taken care of than they are in Plainfield.

Every year the blackboards in the different schools are given a new coat of black. This year a number of them have been changed to a dull grey. The new color will take the chalk just as well but is not as tiring to the eyes as the color of the old preparation. The basements of all the buildings have also been whitewashed.

Don't Want Cemetery.

Councilman James W. Hope, of Roselle, is very much against the establishment of a cemetery in Roselle, and announces that he will endeavor to defeat the scheme when the matter comes before the council again.

Want to Abolish Grade Crossing.

An agitation is now on to have the Broad street crossing at Westfield changed from grade to under the tracks. It takes a most vigilant gateman at the crossing to prevent accidents.

Local News on Pages 2 and 3.

GATES CUT THEM OFF.

DANGEROUS PLIGHT IN WHICH TWO DUNELLEN BOYS WERE PUT.

Penned in on Railroad Tracks and a Fast Express Train Rapidly Approaching.

Penned between the gates of the Washington avenue crossing, with his horses' head but a few feet away from an east bound express, was the experience which befell Fred Touzeau, of Dunellen, yesterday.

Touzeau, who is but a young lad, is employed by George Schenck, the grocer, and in company with Charles Vliet, another Dunellen boy, drove up to the crossing of the Central Railroad as an east bound freight was passing. As soon as the freight had passed, the gates were raised by the gateman and they started to cross over the tracks toward New Market. When almost in the center of the four tracks, the boys were startled to hear the shrill whistle of an engine and on looking up saw an express train coming toward them. Touzeau instantly saw he did not have time to cross over and attempted to back out, but to his intense alarm the gate had been closed behind him and he was caught in a trap.

Still keeping his nerve, however, the plucky young lad jumped from his seat and siezed the horses' head, just as the train swept by. He was so close to it that the suction almost drew him from his feet. The engineer had reversed his engine but the speed of the train was not slackened in the slightest. Vliet had sprung from the rear of the wagon and gotten under the gates.

Nearly everyone who witnessed the affair expected both boys would be killed but to their amazement when the train had passed neither was injured in the slightest, but both confessed they were nearly frightened to death. The action of the gateman in closing the gate behind them was caused by his thinking they would cross over and he wished to prevent another wagon from following them.

CAUGHT IN AN ORCHARD.

Quartette of Small Boys Were Much Frightened and Promised to Keep Out in the Future.

George and John Louden, Frank and James Cullen, all small boys, were having a fine time Wednesday afternoon with the apples in William D. Corlell's orchard, corner of Clinton avenue and West Third street, when Patrolman Lunger appeared on the scene. Then the boys didn't enjoy themselves quite so much. Things began to grow uncomfortable for them when the policeman led them down to police headquarters, and the situation was decidedly black when they were all haled before Mayor Rockfellow.

The boys agreed that they ought not to have been in the orchard, and solemnly promised to steer clear of there in the future. So the Mayor suspended sentence with a careful warning that any future misconduct would bring about some awfully unpleasant happenings.

WANT PASTOR REINSTATED.

Young Catholics of Madison May Appeal to the Apostolic Delegate.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

South Orange, Aug. 24.—The Young Men's Catholic Club, of Madison, has appointed a committee to wait on Bishop Wigger at Seton Hall College and ask for the reinstatement of Rev. Anthony H. Stein as rector of St. Vincent's church of Madison. If the Bishop refuses to grant the request the committee is empowered to appeal to the Apostolic Delegate in Washington. Father Stein is now at Paterson, where he has been appointed rector of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes. The Rev. Father McDowell, formerly of St. Paul's, Jersey City, has been appointed to the Madison parish.

Bishop Wigger said that the committee had not yet called upon him, and added that he would not grant their request when they did. The Bishop further said that he did not think his action would be overruled by the Apostolic Delegate.

Borough Police Affairs.

Mayor Smalley and the marshal committee from the Borough Council held a meeting last evening to talk over the matter of appointing two new marshals, one to take the place of Jacob Kliner, who resigned, and one to take the place of another marshal who is expected to resign. After some discussion over the matter it was decided to wait until the next regular meeting before making the appointments.

Three Cars Wrecked.

Three loaded cars were wrecked as the result of a broken axle on an eastbound coal train near the Greenbrook tanks shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. The track was blocked for about an hour.

NEW CONTROL OF JERSEY CENTRAL.

Belief That Baltimore and Ohio Will Lease or Buy the Property.

DENIALS FROM OFFICIALS.

SUCH A MOVE WOULD BE PART OF VANDERBILT-PENNSYLVANIA DEAL.

The B. and O. Needs a New York Terminal of Its Own, and in Obtaining Control of the Central it Would Get One.

Wall street hears much these days of an impending deal whereby control of the Central Railroad of New Jersey will pass to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Despite persistent official denials, there seems to be ample warrant for the belief that negotiations to this end are not only pending, but are approaching completion, and that within a relatively short time official announcement of the change of control will be made.

Wall street's belief in this has not been shaken by the many recent denials which have in a large measure been offset by the persistent strength of the stock. Two months ago Jersey Central was selling below 120. On a moderate volume of trading it has advanced by spurts, and yesterday sold at 138.

Acquisition of the Jersey Central by the Baltimore and Ohio, will, as a matter of fact, mean its acquisition by Vanderbilt-Pennsylvania Railroad interests, and the move will be only another step toward the completion of the plan of that alliance to obtain control of all railroads in the Eastern trunk line territory. There are legal reasons why the Pennsylvania Railroad cannot acquire the Jersey Central, either by lease or by purchase, and for the New York Central to take it over would be contrary to what appears to be the scheme of these interests, whereby the Vanderbilts are to take in the Northern roads, while the Pennsylvania gobbles up those south of the New York-Chicago line. But inasmuch as the Baltimore and Ohio management is now dominated by the Pennsylvania-New York Central contingent, the control of Jersey Central, if lodged there, would be virtually in the hands of the Vanderbilt-Cassatt party.

The Jersey Central system is valuable to the Baltimore and Ohio chiefly for its New York Bay terminals. At present the latter has no direct communication of its own with any points east of Philadelphia, and it enters Jersey City by utilizing at a heavy cost the tracks of the Philadelphia and Reading from Philadelphia to Bound Brook, and the tracks of the Jersey Central thence to Jersey City.

As an Eastern trunk line Baltimore and Ohio needs a New York terminal of its own. That it is to lease or purchase the Jersey Central, however, implies that control of the Reading property has been or is certain to be obtained by the Vanderbilt-Pennsylvania interests, inasmuch as Baltimore and Ohio would have no use for the Jersey Central were it not sure of the Reading, which is the connecting link between the two. Moreover, control of the Reading is necessary to complete a line from the Cumberland Valley region, into which Baltimore and Ohio runs, to New York by way of the Jersey Central from northern Pennsylvania.

Wall street is guessing as to whether Baltimore and Ohio will obtain the Jersey Central by lease or by purchase of a majority of the stock. A lease proposition is most likely. It is stated upon good authority that a guarantee of 6 per cent on Jersey Central stock has already been offered, but has been met by a demand from the interests in control of the latter for 8 per cent.

To Discuss Track Elevation.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bayonne, Aug. 24.—Citizens of Bayonne who have opinions to express on the track elevation contract will have an opportunity to do so next Tuesday evening. The Common Council at its meeting Tuesday evening passed a resolution providing for a public meeting to hear protests against and opinions on the elevation of the tracks of the Central Railroad and the giving to the railroad company the city's streets in return therefor. The resolution was the result of a protest made by the Bayonne Business Men's Club.

Returns of Prize Fight.

The returns of the Fitzsimmons-Sharkey prize fight will be read from the stage in Music Hall this evening at intervals in the minstrel performance. Every round will be reported as it is finished.

BENEFIT HOP TOMORROW

OVER 200 SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED FOR DANCE AT NETHERWOOD.

Will be a Great Success—Military Euchre and Calico Ball With Corn Roast Planned for Next Week.

The event of the week at the Hotel Netherwood is to be the subscription dance tomorrow evening given for the benefit of the Orpheus Club, which furnishes the music at the hotel daily. Just at present Acton Poulet is the busiest man in the hotel. He is acting as treasurer of the committee in charge of the dance, and through his energetic efforts over 200 subscriptions have already been received and a number of others are promised.

The dance promises to be the most important of any of the Saturday evening hops yet held and the attendance will undoubtedly be large, judging from the way that the subscriptions have come in. The subscribers for the dance are the guests at the hotel and a number of Plainfield society people who are in the habit of visiting the Netherwood during the evenings.

The committee in charge of the affair consists of Gen. Robert Williams, U. S. A., Louis de L. Cammann, Horace E. Dickinson, Frank Wetzlar, Clifton Wharton, Jr., W. V. R. Smith, L. N. Jones, Ricardo Struller, S. H. Parsons, John S. Hillman, A. R. Robertson, Edward C. North, John A. Sullivan, Charles L. Cammann, W. B. Ogden, D. F. Harbaugh, Richard H. Clark, Jr., Benjamin F. Miller, J. Lynch Pendergast, Acton Poulet and Samuel Garre.

The life at the Netherwood still continues along very pleasant lines. There is dancing every evening and many beautiful gowns are to be noted. Last evening was no exception. A number of the young men from Plainfield were up at the hotel some of them taking part in the dancing.

Next week is going to be a lively one at the hotel. Monday evening there will be a "military euchre," something very new in the line of a progressive euchre party. A calico ball and corn roast will be given to the guests Wednesday evening by Mrs. Coleman. It promises to be a big event.

EULOGIZED HIS LIFE.

Beautiful Tribute of Words Paid to the Life of the Late B. Frank Harris.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

South Plainfield, August 24.—The funeral services of B. Frank Harris were held yesterday afternoon from the late residence at 2:45 o'clock. There was a very large attendance of relatives, neighbors and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cubberly, pastor of the Baptist church. Following appropriate Scripture reading, he spoke at some length concerning the life of the departed. He mentioned the closing scene between husband and wife, when he spoke of the happy meeting beyond, and asked God's blessing on his wife and two little children. Mr. Cubberly also spoke of Mr. Harris' high standing in the community as a citizen and a business man; also how he was regarded by friend and neighbor. He dwelt upon his willingness at all times to help and assist in every worthy object, and how much many owe for his many deeds of kindness.

Although Mr. Harris was a member of several lodges the members did not attend in a body, as it was contrary to the wish of the relatives. Many attended individually and there were several beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow from Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A., and another pillow bearing the inscription "My Husband." There were several other tributes including bunches of flowers and roses from relatives and friends.

The interment took place in the family plot in Samptown cemetery, and those who served as bearers were Charles Conover, George VanNest, Dr. L S. Pocock, of Plainfield; Rheune Manning, William Manning and Thomas Brantingham, of South Plainfield.

Will be 101 Years Old in December.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

East Orange, Aug. 24—Thomas McGowan, who is visiting his son, John McGrowan, at the latter's residence, No. 26 North Fifteenth street, this city, will be 101 years old if he lives until December. Mr. McGowan was born in County Lough, Ireland, in December, 1799, and notwithstanding his great age his faculties are only slightly impaired. He came to this country when about 48 years of age and went on a farm at South Norwalk, Conn. It is only three years ago that he gave up active work. He tells with pride how he once walked all night to Edinburgh to hear Daniel O'Connell speak.

TROLLEY COMPANY BUYS IN WESTFIELD.

Big Plot of Ground Purchasd on Which to Build Offices and Car Barns.

MIDWAY ON THROUGH LINE.

IT WILL BE CONVENIENT FOR EASY OPERATION OF THE ROAD.

Adjacent Property Will Also be Developed for Building of Moderate Price Houses to be Occupied by Factory People.

The Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company closed the deal yesterday for a plot of ground, 450 feet by 250 feet, on the northerly corner of Central avenue and Grove street, Westfield, where they will shortly erect a brick office building and storage depot for cars, with a repair shop and all the necessary appurtenances of a trolley road.

The matter has been held back until the question of drainage could be settled, as the land is relatively low. Engineers Marsh and VanEmburg have been running levels through the land, and have reported upon the feasibility of draining the land, which removed the only obstacle to location of the buildings and transfer of the property.

As the location is about midway between Elizabeth and Plainfield it has decided advantage over either end of the line, as cars can be started in the morning in either direction, thus covering the line more quickly than otherwise could be done; also being situated at the junction of the Rahway line the direction of the company's affairs will be expedited and much saved in repairing breaks to feed wires.

The land and improvemant company owning the adjacent property has already had surveys made and levels taken, and will begin the grading of streets at once, after which sewers will be put in and houses erected to accommodate the railway employes, who must live near the starting point, in order to be on time to begin their runs.

This large track of land, known as the Ripley farm, has been rendered accessible by the trolley, and the Westfield capitalists who have had it mapped out into lots, and streets and avenues laid out, will now proceed with the development of the property, which will make a considerable addition to taxable values of the town, and also satisfy the demand for moderate priced houses created by the location of new industries on the borders of the town.

NEIGHBORS HEARD.

Stories of Mrs. Schmidt's Alleged Abuse of Children Told to President of S. P. C. C.

The officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children have about decided to take legal measures against Mrs. Schmidt, who is accused by the neighbors with cruelly beating the children of John Rempius, at whose home on Webster place she is housekeeper. The witnesses in the case assembled at police headquarters yesterday afternoon and were carefully examined by Charles Place, president of the Society, as to their knowledge of the alleged cruelty of Mrs. Schmidt. It is understood that the evidence is sufficient for the issuance of a warrant. Action in the case will be taken in a few days.

REUNION OF VETERANS.

Survivors of Thirty-first Regiment to Form an Association.

A reunion of veterans of the Civil War will be held at Flemington, Hunterdon county, Labor Day, and the purpose of the affair is to have all veterans of the war who live in Hunterdon county present. On that day the 31st Regiment, N. J. Vols., will form a regimental association, and a county association will be formed by the 30th and 31st Regiments. The reunion will be in charge of residents of Hunterdon county, and they will give the veterans a glorious time. A number of Plainfielders who belong to either of the two regiments will attend. Among them are John T. Case, John Emmons, Simon Braider, James M. Lewis, Peter V. Weaver, T. J. Carey, L. C. Shepherd, P. B. Goodfellow, Alex. Sargent, C. H. Bugg, Fred Wenzell and David R. Weaver. All of the above belong to the Hunterdon county regiments, and there are excellent prospects for the formation of a strong association. The 31st Regiment has never been organized, and the members believe that it is about time such an organization was formed so as to bring them together once a year.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference Press Readers

—Owing to a rush of work the employes at the Potter Press Works is working overtime.

—The Mayor and Borough Council will hold its next regular meeting on Friday evening, September 7th.

—You will never find any other pills so prompt and so pleasant as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. L. W. Randolph.

—Hibbard & Jones formally took possession of McVey's Hotel Wednesday afternoon and they are now in charge.

—The steam roller is off duty undergoing some repairs. As soon as it is fixed it will be used to finish rolling down Park avenue.

—Contractor Ferrier says that unless he has bad weather he expects to finish laying the Somerset county wall of the Duer street bridge Saturday.

—The next regular meeting night of the Common Council will fall on Monday, September 3d, Labor Day. It is quite likely that the meeting will be held the following evening.

—David Bowden hopes to have the macadam work on Park avenue nearly completed by Saturday night. It will take a little extra rolling which may extend it to the first of the week.

—If you want choice cuts of meat, either salt, fresh or cooked, or fine poultry, stop at Drake & Mundy's Union meat market, 153 West Front street. Prompt delivery assured.

—The work of relaying the foundation for the new station opposite the North Avenue Station, is almost completed. It has been pushed very fast by the contractor who does not want to lose any more time than necessary.

—The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Fred Dunavan, of Randolph's pharmacy, will take his vacation the week commencing September 10th.

L. W. Randolph and wife, of Myrtle avenue, left yesterday for Newport, R. I., where they will stop for a short time.

Miss Mary Graves and Miss Maretta Yaeger, of Liberty street, will return tomorrow from Asbury Park, where they have been spending two weeks.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as L. W. Randolph secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Lizzie Day, of East Fourth street, is visiting Brooklyn friends for a time.

Stephen A. Ginna and family, of Watchung avenue, are summering in the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of New Brunswick, have been visiting Plainfield friends for a short time.

Mrs. Charles Westphal, of South Second street, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Schomp, of Dunellen.

Willard M. Miner and family, of East Sixth street, left this afternoon for Brewster, N. Y., for their summer outing.

Thomas Lynch, foreman of the press room at The Daily Press office, together with his family, has taken up his residence on Craig place, near Somerset street.

A. M. Kinsman, chief engineer of construction of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and his family, have been visiting at the home of his brother, F. E. Kinsman, of Sherman avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Krewson, of Plainfield avenue, will leave Sunday morning for Chicago, from which place she will go to one of the smaller cities to visit some relatives. She will be accompanied by John Sheppard, of this city, who goes to Chicago to attend the G. A. R. encampment.

THE AKRON RIOT.

Military Now In Control—Loss of Life and Property.

AKRON, O., Aug. 24.—As a result of Wednesday night's rioting two are dead, two will die, 16 others are more or less injured, and fully $1,000,000 in property has gone up in smoke.

The city hall is destroyed, the Columbian building, which adjoined, is a heap of ashes, and several smaller frame buildings in the vicinity are in ruins.

The destruction was wrought by the wild mob which held possession of the city for a whole night.

It is estimated that the mob was composed of not fewer than 1,500 men.

The old postoffice building, at the corner of Broadway and Mill street, has been secured as temporary quarters for the city officers.

Akron's streets present a decidedly warlike appearance. Soldiers, tanned by a week's encampment, are marching to and fro with belts filled with cartridges. Colonel J. D. Potter is in command. Under him are 41 staff and line officers and 390 men of the Fourth regiment. Assistant Adjutant General Adams and Surgeon Major Taylor of General Speak's staff are also here. Company C of Canton, 43 men, is under command of Captain W. A. Fisher.

Shortly before 10 o'clock yesterday Mayor W. E. Young issued a proclamation closing every saloon in Akron until further orders.

The mayor is taking every possible precaution to prevent a renewal of the outbreak. If the situation demands more drastic measures, the mayor states that the city will be put under martial law.

In the Akron riot history again repeated itself. The innocent ones were those to suffer, while the guilty ones were practically uninjured.

Young Duryea Will Not Lack.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The will of the late Edgar E. Duryea of the National Starch Manufacturing company, who died a few days ago at Glen Cove, N. Y., was filed for probate yesterday. The estate is estimated to be worth about $500,000 in personal property and $60,000 in real estate. Walter E. Duryea, the son, who was expected for months to die of a broken neck, but who is now recovering, receives the use of $200,000 for two years, at the end of which, if he still survives, the bequest becomes absolute. Should he die before the expiration of the two years the money will go to his children, if there be any, and if none the sum will be divided between Louis T., Frank W. and Harry H. Duryear, nephews of the testator.

Germany to Use American Port.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A report received by one of the foreign legations here states that Germany is preparing to make San Francisco a point from which large quantities of military supplies will be sent forward to China. The report comes from the consul general stationed at San Francisco and gives a number of details on the extent of contemplated German shipments. He says that German ships are already arriving there and that a commission of German officers, together with a representative of the Hamburg-American Steamship line, is there to look after the plans for forwarding supplies. These relate principally, he states, to horses for cavalry and other military uses and breadstuffs for the army.

Race Riot to Go Before Grand Jury.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Preparatory to beginning a rigid investigation into the real cause of the race riot in New York last week the grand jury has asked the police board for the official report of Chief Devery on the trouble. The board has ordered Chief Devery to make a close investigation and report at its next meeting next week. Acting Captain Cooney was at once set at work by the chief. The investigation was demanded by prominent colored men and others who are British subjects.

MEN ENOUGH IN CHINA

Government Decides to Send No More Troops.

AMERICAN FORCE NOW FIVE THOUSAND

The Seven Thousand Men Who Have Sailed and Those Under Orders Will Be Landed at Manila—Instructions For Mr. Rockhill.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The important development in the Chinese situation is the decision of the government not to send any more troops to China. All the troops now at sea, amounting to about 4,000, together with those under orders for service in the far east which have not sailed, amounting to about 3,000 more, will be sent to Manila. These troops will sail on the same route and upon touching at Nagasaki will go on to Manila unless there are developments in China not now expected. Secretary Root says that no more troops are being sent to China because they are not needed. With the arrival at Taku of the Hancock and the troops she carries General Chaffee will have 5,000 available men, which is deemed sufficient for all present purposes. The decision of the department is not based upon any recommendation made by General Chaffee, but upon reports received by him, which make it apparent that no more troops are needed.

The announcement of the diversion of the troops is made in the following official bulletin posted at the war department:

"The government has decided that unless required by future developments no more troops are to be sent to China. Orders have accordingly been cabled to Nagasaki for the Meade, which was due there yesterday with four troops Third cavalry, four companies Fifteenth infantry and Company E, battalion of engineers, to proceed directly to Manila. Similar orders will be given to the other troops which are under orders for China via Nagasaki."

It is stated at the department that the encouraging condition in China is the main reason for the orders regarding the troops. Besides the troops on the Meade, there are now at sea the Warren, with two squadrons of the Ninth cavalry and recruits, and the Sherman, with one battalion each of the Second, Fifth and Eighth infantries. The Logan is scheduled to sail on Sept. 1 with two battalions of the First and one battalion of the Second infantry. It was said at the department that 6,000 or 7,000 troops would be affected by the order.

A dispatch has been received from General Chaffee, dated Peking, Aug. 18, which was not in response to the request sent him a few days ago to report the conditions and requirements. General Chaffee did not report further fighting in Peking, and for that reason the Washington officials feel assured that hostile demonstrations in the Chinese capital have ceased. The dispatch related largely to transportation conditions and stated that the railroad between Taku and Peking could not be used at the present time, as portions of it had been destroyed by the Chinese. General Chaffee will co-operate with the other commanders in China in reconstructing the road for the use of the allied forces. General Chaffee also reported that the telegraph line which was constructed by the signal corps from Tien-tsin to Peking is frequently interrupted, being cut probably by hostile Chinese.

At a conference at the White House yesterday, in which the president, Secretary Root and Acting Secretary Adee participated, careful instructions were prepared for Mr. Rockhill, the United States special commissioner to China, to be forwarded to him at once for his guidance. The state department received a dispatch from Mr. Rockhill, dated Yokohama, briefly announcing his arrival there. This brought about the White House conference and the preparation of instructions. Before Mr. Rockhill left he was advised very fully on the purposes of this government, but since his departure the situation has so changed at Peking as to make it desirable to supplement the instructions he already had received. Mr. Adee stated that as the instructions related to pending affairs it would be inexpedient to make public anything in reference to them.

The United States has taken the lead in replying to China that there will be no temporizing negotiations, and there is every reason to believe the powers will be united in this same policy. The answer of the United States was quickly followed by similar action on the part of Germany, the Berlin foreign office delivering to the Chinese minister an answer refusing to enter into negotiations on the ground that there was no evidence that Li Hung Chang's credentials gave him sufficient power to act and that nothing short of complete authority from the responsible rulers of China, the emperor and dowager empress, could be regarded as sufficient.

The course of France and Great Britain has not been made known here, but there is thought to be no doubt that these governments will decline to treat with China at this time. Each government, however, is acting entirely on its own responsibility, and there was no prearrangement as to the reply. For that reason the German answer differs from the American, although the end secured is the same. In the case of the American answer copies of it were sent to all the powers simply for their information, but in the state department's note of transmission there was no suggestion that concurrence or approval was expected or desired. On the contrary, the United States acted entirely on its own initiative and, as it has turned out, acted first and in such a way as to have other governments take like action.

The Japanese legation has received the following advices from the foreign office at Tokyo, dated Aug. 23:

"The commander of the Japanese fleet at Taku transmitted by telegraph on the 21st the following report from Peking:

"'The Japanese regiment which had been detailed early on the 15th for the purpose of protecting the imperial palace had hard fighting all day, but they could not bring it to a decisive issue, as they refrained from firing on the palace. On the following day, however, they took its principal gate, and now the city is almost entirely cleared of the enemy.

"'The imperial family and the ministers of state left for Sian five or six days ago, escorted by 3,000 troops under Tung Fuh Shiang.

"'With the object of restoring order the city has been divided into districts, Japan being assigned the northern half and Japan, the United States, Great Britain, Russia and France have each deputed an officer to carry on the administration.

"'Prince Tuan's residence has been burned down by the Japanese. The Japanese naval detachment which guarded the Japanese legation lost during the siege five killed and eight wounded.

"'The Japanese forces which now occupy the imperial palace have rescued foreign and native Christians from their confinement.'"

HOW CAPTAIN REILLY FELL.

An Incident In the Capture of the Imperial Palace.

PEKING, Aug. 15, via Chefu, Aug. 22.—The Americans breached three gates before the imperial palace and occupied the approaches to the last wall.

Captain Henry J. Reilly, Battery F, Fifth United States artillery, and five privates were killed, and 16 were wounded. During the afternoon the Americans returned to camp, pending a conference between the generals. Thereupon the Russians occupied the approaches to the palace.

Captain Reilly was standing on the wall and directing his battery when a bullet struck him in the mouth, killing him instantly. The battery hammered at the gates until they fell.

In the meantime the infantry cleared the street and walls, where the Chinese soldiers, with a fine cover, stubbornly resisted. The fighting was close and sharp.

A French battery while shelling the approaches to the palace narrowly missed the Americans.

General Chaffee and Mr. Conger are conferring regarding the diplomatic features of the situation.

The Pei-tang cathedral, north of the city, which was garrisoned by 30 French and ten Italian bluejackets and which had no communication with the other foreigners during the progress of the siege, has been relieved by the Japanese and British. The defense of this church was most heroic. The combined forces, after capturing them, are now posting sentries in the palace buildings to prevent looting and destruction. The whereabouts of the dowager empress are not known to the allies.

The American casualties thus far, in addition to Captain Reilly, are the following:

Killed, Ninth infantry, Robert E. Walsh, Daniel W. Simpkins and James O. Hall; Fourteenth infantry, Russell T. Elliott and James C. Wieber.

Wounded, Ninth infantry, George H. Siemens, William F. Norton and Martin A. Silk; Fourteenth infantry, Thomas A. Lanker, William B. Hoffman, Henry G. Davies, Thomas King, Ora F. Tyler, Henry J. Kysela, George King, Corporal Charles Morgan, John L. Lynch, Carey L. Durbin, George C. Kauffman and Harvey Baker, musician; Battery F, Fifth artillery, Lee Doyle.

Edward B. Mitchell, Fourteenth infantry, received wounds during the action which subsequently proved fatal. The privates were buried in the grounds of the American legation in the evening.

M'CALLA'S REPORT.

Story of the First Attempt to Relieve Peking.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The navy department has made public the report of Captain B. H. McCalla, who was in command of the American contingent of the international column under Admiral Seymour that on June 10 made the first move in the relief of Peking, but which was cut off by the Chinese troops on the road and forced to turn back from Yang-tsun, being in danger of complete annihilation before coming in touch with the re-enforcements sent out to meet them from Tien-tsin. The report is most interesting despite the official brevity with which the romantic features of the story are dismissed and the corresponding wealth of official, but to the lay mind, unimportant detail.

The force of which Captain McCalla's command was a part was made up of eight nationalities—British, Russian, German, Austrian, Italian, Japanese, French and American marines and bluejackets. Its aggregate strength was 2,078 officers and men, of which 112 were the Newark's men. These forces were all acting with nominal independence, but were tacitly under the command of Admiral Seymour and operated as one body. It is interesting to note Captain McCalla's description of how the various commands co-operated, how the British and Russians in turn helped to shift the Newark's 3 inch rifle from one position to another when the American gun crew was inadequate to transport it, how the Americans led the advance up the railway and protected the rear in the retreat and how during the repeated attacks of the Chinese on the Tien-tsin arsenal British, Russians and Americans in turn would spring into the breach to defend the hard pressed outposts of some other nationality that was bearing the brunt of the attack. The co-operation of the entire force seems to have been perfect, and Captain McCalla has nothing but the warmest praise both for Admiral Seymour and all of the other officers who participated in the expedition.

Russia's Part In Peking's Capture.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—General Linevitch, commander of the Russian troops in the province of Pechili, telegraphs to the ministry of war as follows: "At 2 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 14 our troops stormed the eastern gate of Peking and were the first to enter the city. The Russian flag was the first hoisted on the wall. The bombardment of the gate lasted 14 hours. The Russians then scaled and occupied the wall. The Chinese, however, still held the observatory and other towers, whence they subjected our troops to a heavy enfilading fire until our infantry forced them to leave their positions. Our losses were: Killed—Colonel Antinkoff and 20 men. Wounded—General Wasilowski, Colonel Modl and five other officers and 102 men. In the meanwhile the allied troops stormed and captured another gate and entered the city. We found the imperial government had fled and that the legationers were in great straits." The dispatch concludes with describing the recent attacks on the legations. During the siege the inmates of the Russian legation had five men killed and 20 wounded.

NOTIFIED AT TOPEKA

Mr. Bryan Is Told of Nomination by Populists.

BIG GATHERING IN CAPITOL GROUNDS.

The Presidential Nominee Praises the People's Party For Its Educational Work—Currency, Trusts and Imperialism Discussed.

TOPEKA, Aug. 24.—William Jennings Bryan yesterday received the second official notification of his nomination for the presidency. This notification came from the Populist party, and Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado acted as mouthpiece of the party in making it. Mr. Bryan was at the same time informed of the indorsement of his candidacy by the United States Monetary league, this notification being given by A. W. Rucker. The ceremonies occurred in the spacious and beautiful grounds of the state capitol and were witnessed by a large number of people.

In many respects the meeting paralleled the Indianapolis notification. This was true in the fact that both were held in parks and that the weather was intensely hot.

In his reply to the addresses of Messrs. Patterson and Rucker Mr. Bryan held the close attention of his audience. Among other things he said:

"In accepting the presidential nomination which you tender on behalf of the Populist party I desire to give emphatic recognition to the educational work done by your party. The Populist party as an organization and the Farmers' alliance and the labor organizations from which they sprang have done much to arouse the people to a study of economic and industrial questions. Believing as I do that truth grows not in seclusion, but in the open field, and that it thrives best in the sunlight of full and free debate, I have confidence that the discussion which your party has compelled will aid in reaching that true solution of pending problems toward which all honest citizens aim.

"In 1896 the money question was of paramount importance, and the allies in that campaign united in the demand for the immediate restoration of silver by the independent action of this country at 16 to 1, the ratio which had existed since 1834. They were defeated, but that did not end the discussion. The Democrats were defeated in 1888, but that did not put an end to tariff reform. The Republicans were defeated in 1892, but that did not permanently overthrow the protective tariff. Defeat at the polls does not necessarily decide a great problem. Experience and experience alone settles questions. If an increase in the volume of the currency since 1896, although unpromised by the Republicans and unexpected, has brought improvement in industrial conditions, this improvement instead of answering the arguments put forth in favor of bimetallism only confirms the contention of those who insisted that more money would make better times.

"It is true that the Populists believe in an irredeemable greenback while the Democrats believe in a greenback redeemable in coin, but the vital question at this time, so far as paper money is concerned, is whether the government or banks shall issue it.

"If belief in an income tax justified a Populist in acting with the Democratic party in 1896, what excuse can he find for aiding the Republican party now when even the exigencies of war have not been sufficient to bring the party to the support of the income tax principle?

"I have called attention to the issues which brought the Democrats and Populists together and which justifies the co-operation during the last four years. Let me now invite your attention to new questions which would justify co-operation at this time, even though we differed upon all economic questions. It is not our fault that these new questions have been thrust into the arena of politics."

Growth of Ohio Cities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The population of Cleveland, Toledo and Columbus, O., has been announced by the census bureau as follows: Cleveland city, 1900, 381,768; 1890, 261,353. These figures show for the city as a whole an increase in population of 120,415, or 46.07 per cent from 1890 to 1900. Toledo city, 1900, 131,822; 1890, 81,434. These figures show for the city as a whole an increase in population of 50,388, or 61.88 per cent from 1890 to 1900. Columbus city, 1900, 125,560; 1890, 88,150. These figures show for the city as a whole an increase in population of 37,410, or 42.44 per cent from 1890 to 1900.

Bernstein Lost on a Foul.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—For the second time within two months Oscar Gardner, the "Omaha Kid," and Joe Bernstein of this city met in the roped ring of the Broadway Athletic club. On the former occasion Bernstein was disqualified for butting in the eighteenth round, and last night he was again disqualified. He threw Gardner over his head with a crossbuttock hold, which was done deliberately, and Referee Teddy Foley immediately gave the bout to Gardner. This occurred in the twelfth round.

Boy Smokers Shut Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Hereafter no boy who smokes will be employed in the Chicago postoffice. Formerly the rule has been merely that boys employed in the postoffice could not smoke during working hours. After a conference between Postmaster Gordon, George W. Hubbard, Le Roy T. Steward and W. B. Roberts, it was decided that all cigarette smoking by the boys in the office must cease and that no boy who had ever been addicted to the habit could get a place in the future.

Will Not Celebrate Sedan Day.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The idea of not celebrating Sedan day this year is gaining steadily in favor with the press, especially the liberal section, which advocates the omission of the commemoration at a time when the French are fighting shoulder to shoulder with the Germans in China. A number of local military commanders at Hamburg, Gleiwitz and Hanover are sending out circulars announcing that there will be no celebration.

Poisoned by Ice Cream.

ATLANTA, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hutchinson is dead and four of her children are at the Grady hospital in a serious condition from eating ice cream, which the doctors say was made in an improperly cleansed freezer.

Mrs. Cairns and her daughter, Miss Cairns, of West Fourth street, are summering in the Adirondacks.

Postmaster E. H. Bird has decided to wait until next month before taking a vacation. Last year he did not get any time off, and he now feels the need of a little rest and recreation. Mr. Bird has not decided just where he will spend his outing.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Samuel Schuyler and family, of Somerset place, have returned from a visit of three weeks in Morris county.

Mrs. Holmes and family, of New York State, are visiting Mr. and Mrs George Cortright, of East Sixth street.

Alex. Sargent, of East Second street, will attend the reunion of his regiment, Ninth N. J. Vols., to be held at Flemington, September 19th.

BOERS STILL FIGHTING.

De Wet, With a Small Command, Keeps British Busy.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Lord Roberts reports to the war office, under date of Pretoria, Aug. 22, as follows:

"Buller's division marched to Vanwycksvlei, 15 miles south of Belfast, yesterday. His casualties were 20.

"Paget reports from Hammanskraal that Baden-Powell engaged Grobler's rear guard all day yesterday. Grobler was driven back east of Pinaars river. Baden-Powell occupied the railway station of that name. During the fight Baden-Powell's advance and that of the enemy galloped into each other, the Rhodesians losing Colonel Spreckley and four men killed and seven wounded. Many of the Boers were killed or wounded. They were at Cyferkuil this morning. Plumer and Hickman were closely pursuing them.

"It seems certain that De Wet, finding it hopeless to make his way eastward, has recrossed the Magaliesberg, with a few wounded, with the intention of returning to the Orange River Colony. He is in a very different condition from that when he left Bethlehem with six or eight guns and 2,000 men. His guns have mostly been buried, and his personal following cannot be more than 300.

"It is stated that Steyn, with a small bydyguard, has crossed Pinaars river on his way to join Kruger at Machadodorp.

"The Boers yesterday blew up a portion of the railway at Koetze's drift, five miles north of Newcastle, and damaged the rails at a point 30 miles south of Newcastle."

ROBBED IN A SLEEPER.

Omaha Bank Officer Brutally Handled and Relieved of Cash.

OMAHA, Aug. 24.—Edward E. Balch, assistant cashier of the Omaha National bank, was assaulted and robbed in a Pullman sleeper on a Northwestern train while coming from Chicago to Omaha. He was roughly handled, brutally mauled about the head and did not regain consciousness for several hours after the assault. Immediately upon the arrival of the train in Omaha Mr. Balch was removed to his home, where medical attention was given to his wounds. The attending physician does not anticipate any serious consequences from the injuries. The perpetrator of the deed escaped with $50 in cash and two drafts of $50 each belonging to Mr. Balch. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Amiretti, Jr., of Omaha were also visited by the robber, who secured $5 in cash and a valuable revolver.

Not the slightest clew to the identity of the robber is at hand. The robber did not attempt to hold up all of the passengers on the sleeper. He awoke none of the occupants and accomplished his work with the greatest stealth.

Drowned in the Susquehanna.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 24.—William and Joshua Levering, cousins, each aged 21 years, of Baltimore, were drowned in the Susquehanna river near Safe Harbor. They were taking a pleasure trip in a canvas canoe. At the point where the accident occurred the river is 60 feet deep and the current very strong. The canoe was caught in a swift eddy and capsised about 30 yards from shore. A companion, Charles Fisher, also of Baltimore, who was in another canoe, jumped overboard, but was unable to rescue his companions. He narrowly escaped with his own life.

Waiter Murdered by a Negro.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—John Tietgen, a waiter in a Brooklyn restaurant, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by Benjamin Puglis, a colored man. Puglis, who was a regular customer of the restaurant, entered during the afternoon and ordered a lunch which, not being served quickly enough to suit him, caused him to enter into an altercation with the waiter. During the quarrel the negro drew a pistol and shot Tietgen in the breast, killing him instantly. The murderer made no attempt to escape and was locked up by a policeman who was summoned.

Denial From Andrew Carnegie.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The World prints the following copyrighted cable, dated London, Aug. 23: "The World correspondent telegraphed Andrew Carnegie, who is at Skibo castle, his Scotch residence, asking whether the report was true that he intended to stump the United States for Bryan because of his opposition to imperialism. Mr. Carnegie replied, 'There is no truth in the report.'"

Negro Desperado Shot.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Aug. 24.—News has reached here that James Biddle, a desperate negro and gambler, was shot and killed by Deputy Sheriff Bunnell at Bunnell Station, in the southern part of St. John's county. Biddle attempted to kill a woman. The officer interfered, and Biddle fired upon him and ran. Bunnell then dropped Biddle with a shot through the heart.

DISORDER IN PEKING.

Foreigners Do Not Agree as to Methods.

CHAFFEE OPPOSED TAKING PALACE.

Great Fire In the Imperial City. Puzzling Reports Regarding the Hiding Place of the Empress Dowager.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Fires, fighting and dissensions are apparently following in the wake of the relief of Peking. The Daily Mail publishes dispatches from the Chinese capital, dated as late as Aug. 17, declaring that a great fire was then raging in the imperial city. The Russian commander had declined to accept the decision of the other generals not to violate the imperial precincts, and street fighting was going on.

General Chaffee, so it is asserted, maintained that the Chinese had been adequately punished already and that it would be unwise to take the imperial palace. This explains the withdrawal of the Americans after breaching three gates, as cabled. The Russian general, however, maintained that his government had declared war against China and that therefore there was no reason to prevent him carrying hostilities into the sacred precincts.

Judging from various and in many cases contradictory dispatches that have reached Europe this morning from Peking the commanders eventually adopted a middle course, for a Reuter telegram asserts that sentries were placed to prevent looting. Hence it is presumed that the imperial buildings, although captured, will not be destroyed.

All the dispatches point to the fact that when the latest message received here left Peking the commanders were somewhat at sea regarding their future action, all awaiting instructions from their governments.

The foreign residents appear to have been sent to Tien-tsin, although the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail says the ministers will not leave Peking until negotiations for indemnity are under way.

Neither the commanders nor the diplomats were in communication with the Chinese government on Aug. 17. They were then searching for Prince Tuan.

Among the puzzling reports as to the whereabouts of the empress dowager is one from St. Petersburg, saying that she is in the vicinity of Peking, but surrounded. The emperor seems to have disappeared completely.

It is officially reported that the minister of The Netherlands, Dr. F. M. Knobel, was slightly wounded during the siege.

St. Petersburg dispatches announce good progress in the Manchurian campaign. The town of Mergen was captured Aug. 18 with trifling Russian loss, while the Chinese suffered severely, leaving ten guns, 700 rifles and large quantities of ammunition in the hands of the Russians.

The reports of risings in northern Korea are confirmed. It is believed that these are not due to ill will toward foreigners, but to local dissatisfaction. The Korean government is sending troops to the disaffected districts.

According to telegrams from Shanghai considerable uneasiness is felt there over the fact that no dispatches have been received from Peking since Aug. 20.

Other Shanghai reports locate Emperor Kwang Su as under the protection of the allies and the dowager empress as already captured by the Japanese.

Describing the engagement west of Tien-tsin Aug. 6, a special dispatch says: "The Sixth United States cavalry worked with drilllike precision in the hand to hand fighting."

America's Monopoly In Cotton.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—In the course of a long article dealing with the growth of cotton production and manufacture in the United States, The Times says this morning: "The United States, as a producer, will be able to command a universal market at remunerative prices. It seems unlikely that the manufacturing branch will be able to do more than to supply the home demands. These make it the most valuable single market in the world, and the maintenance of the monopoly is likely to be assured." American progress, the article points out, is largely due to the quick adoption of perfection machinery, much of which has been devised in England.

Noted Engineer Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—A cablegram received here yesterday from Vienna announces the death of Fairman Rogers, distinguished as a civil engineer and an authority on gentleman coaching. He was 67 years old and was visiting Vienna when he became ill. Mr. Rogers was formerly a resident of this city, where he was born. For the past ten years he had resided in Paris. During the civil war he served as an engineer officer on the staffs of Generals Reynolds and William F. Smith. Mr. Rogers was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and of the American Philosophical society.

To Do Away With Strikes.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—To take the place of the old board of walking delegates, which went out of existence last week, a new board has been organized here. It represents 23 unions, with 35,000 organized workingmen in the building trades of Manhattan and the Bronx. The rules of the new board provide that all grievances of any affiliated union must be settled by negotiation or by arbitration, and only in case of a last resort will the board indorse a strike or order a general sympathetic strike.

May Refit the Stringham.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The navy department has been notified by the Harlan & Hollingsworth company, builders of the 30 knot torpedo boat Stringham, that the vessel made a very satisfactory trial trip, her engines and boilers working perfectly, but that she failed to develop her full contract speed, and they have requested permission of the department to fit her with higher speed propellers. It is believed by the navy department that with this change the Stringham will easily come up to the 30 knot limit.

Much Cotton Burned.

SANTANDER, Spain, Aug. 24.—Four thousand five hundred and eighty bales of cotton brought from Liverpool by the Spanish steamer Isla de Luzon were destroyed in a warehouse here yesterday by fire.

Gibson Out of It.

The principal political news of yesterday in New Jersey was the announcement from former Comptroller John S. Gibson, of Newark, that he had decided to retire from the contest for the nomination to Congress at the hands of the Republicans in the Sixth district, which consists of the city of Newark, in favor of R. Wayne Parker, the present Representative.

For several weeks strong pressure has been brought to bear to induce Mr. Gibson not to oppose the claims of Congressman Parker for renomination, but he has persistently refused to retire, and at one time several weeks ago he even went so far as to say over his own signature in a public statement that he was in the fight to stay.

It is understood now that Mr. Gibson has been influenced in his decision by counsel of his friends, who in turn are acting upon the advice of Senator Sewell. In his letter yesterday to the Newark papers Mr. Gibson said that he did not want to be the only man to contest a renomination for Congress in New Jersey, and that would be the condition of affairs if he persisted. On the other hand, it is said that Congressman Parker has given such general satisfaction that it would be an uphill fight to displace him. He is now serving his third term in Congress. When first nominated in 1892 he was defeated by Thomas Dunn English, but he was elected in 1894 and made a record in his first session.

This announcement from Mr. Gibson puts an end to the contests that have been made against the renomination of various Republican members of the New Jersey delegation in Congress. Congressmen Fowler, Parker, Stewart and Gardner were all threatened with struggles against their renomination, but it has happened that in each case the contest has petered out before the conventions in their respective districts have been held.

The Philadelphia Record notes that impatience and irritation over the long delay in reducing the Transvaal to subjection have led the British public to indulge in some harsh criticisms of Lord Roberts, but there was no good reason to suppose that the war in South Africa would end with the overrunning of the Free State and the taking of Pretoria. The most active and tireless enemies of British power—The Transvaal Boers—are still unsubdued, and are possessed of unexpected resources in men and munitions of war. They have 8,000 troops at Machadodorp, on the Delagoa Bay Railroad, and have concentrated at this point their entire equipment of heavy artillery. The Record says: "If this is to be the Boers' last stand they have certainly given Lord Roberts a problem extremely difficult of solution. It is very doubtful whether the British commander could spare from his widely scattered forces an army sufficient to cope with this last forlorn hope of the Boers. British victories have been secured hitherto by the simple device of setting ten men against one in the field; but where are the 80,000 troops to pit against the desperate 8,000 Boers at Machadodorp, under Botha and Lucas Meyer?"

Colonel H. J. Budd, of Iowa, who visited Plainfield two weeks ago soliciting funds for the Democratic National committee, is still doing work in New Jersey. In gathering the sinews of war to carry on a political campaign Col. Budd is meeting with better success in New Jersey than was anticipated. This State was regarded as a somewhat barren field for that sort of work in the Democratic fold, but Col. Budd has proven that either Jerseymen did not know themselves or else he has persuasive qualities in his appeals for financial aid that no one else has been able to command. He has already collected several thousand dollars from Democrats who desire to aid in carrying on the fight for Bryan and Stevenson, and has yet to see some of the most liberal contributors to campaign funds in New Jersey in the past. Former Congressman Cadmus is aiding him somewhat, and the latter is now engaged in visiting Democrats in the Eighth Congressional district.

The official call for the Democratic convention of the Eighth Congressional district to nominate a candidate to oppose the re-election of Congressman Fowler, was issued yesterday. The convention will be held in Bayonne Wednesday, September 19th, a week later than it was announced a short time ago that it would be held. The selection of delegates will be on the same basis as the delegates to the State convention are chosen—that is, one delegate for every one hundred votes cast for the last Democratic Gubernatorial nominee and one delegate for every fraction over fifty. On this basis Union county will be entitled to fifty-seven delegates, of which Plainfield will contribute eight.

Congressman Fowler is at present making Republican campaign speeches in Maine, but he will get through there so as to devote plenty of time stumping the Eighth district in which he is a candidate. If Edward S. Wilde should be nominated for Congress by the Democrats it will be interesting to see if Congressman Fowler will accept the challenge to a joint debate which Mr. Wilde declares he will issue if he should be chosen to contest Fowler's candidacy.

The New Brunswick Times believes, as befits its Democratic inclinations, that Congressman Howell can be beaten for re-election in the Third district. The Times says that "among the candidates mentioned for the Democratic nomination, any one of whom would give Mr. Howell the fight of his career, are George A. Helme, of Middlesex, Samuel Patterson, of Monmouth, and Andrew D. Lane and S. C. Childs, of Somerset."

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

A young man from this city recently made the trip awheel from Plainfield to Niagara Falls and met with all kinds of experiences. While accustomed to poor roads, he was not prepared for some of the thoroughfares which he met. He went by the way of Easton, Wilkesbarre, Scranton, Binghamton and Elmira. Throughout all his trip he says he never had worse roads than those he encountered right in this State between Clinton and Phillipsburgh. The road was extremely rocky and so bad that he was compelled to walk many miles even when the road was level. He had believed when he started that he knew what a steep hill was but after wheeling through the mountains of Pennsylvania he changed his mind.

The rainfall this summer has been quite evenly distributed through the summer months as is seldom the case. Usually at this time of the year the country is dried up and the fields have lost the bright green appearance which makes them so beautiful in the spring. This season has been remarkable for that fact. All through New York State the country is green and prosperous looking, while the country districts of this State have a similar appearance. Spring is usually the pleasantest time for driving on this very account, but the country has still retained the brightness of its verdure and drives through the country districts surrounding Plainfield are just as pleasant now as they were in the height of the spring season.

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Aug. 24.—Among those who formed the stage party to Boynton Beach yesterday, were Mrs. Howard Giles and daughter, the Misses Kratzel, Mrs. Watson Emery, Miss J. Peters, of New York, John Whitlock, Grover Kratzel and Harry Page, of Plainfield. The start from the borough was made at 2 o'clock, but enough of the day was left in which to have a good time. It was late before they returned home but everyone was thoroughly satisfied with the day's outing.

Dr. Brakeley paid a visit to the boroughites who are camping at Two-Mile lock on the Raritan yesterday, and reports them as having an excellent time, the boys in particular. Two excellent catches of carp were made yesterday by Max Brakeley and Ward. There were about fifteen visit at the camp yesterday. The campers will remain until next Monday.

David Randolph and Miss Sallie Mundy, of Greenbrook, have returned after a visit with the former's son, Daniel Randolph, of South Plainfield.

Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Margaret Smith and Mr and Mrs. Edward Love, of West New Brighton, S. I., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Douglas.

Mrs. William E. Terry is entertaining a number of young friends at a lawn party this afternoon, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Duncan, of Perth Amboy, has returned home after a three months' visit with her daughter Mrs. Howard Giles.

Robert Craig has returned home from Stroudsburg, Pa., where he has been spending a few days.

Miss Katie Dineen is detained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dineen, by illness.

The house on North avenue vacated by J. E. Henry, has been taken by Wesley Gaskill, of Rahway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Meseroll have returned home from Hightstown after an extended visit.

Edward Taylor and Gus Hill are decorating and otherwise improving A. S. Giles office.

Miss Ethel Garretson is spending a week with her uncle, Wm. Garretson, of Somerville.

Miss Pearl Dodwell has returned home from a visit with relatives at Somerville.

Mrs. I. J. Stites and family visited friends at Metuchen yesterday.

John McMahon enjoyed a trip to Coney Island Wednesday.

Mrs. James McElvar visited friends in Metuchen yesterday.

Miss Irma Mulford is visiting friends in Plainfield.

Miss Hogman is the guest of friends at High Bridge.

Miss Hattie Giles is visiting relatives in Bound Brook.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, August 24.—Joseph Winklers horse which wandered away from the Hotel Nelson stables, has been found. He was located through an advertisement in a new Brunswick paper at the farm of John Gillam at Martins Dock on the Raritan river. He had wandered on the farm early Monday morning, so must have gone there direct. Mr. Winkler has been notified of the recovery and he will probably be here today to take the horse home.

Burglars attempted to gain an entrance to the post office some time during Wednesday night. They were frightened off, however, before accomplishing their purpose.

Clarence Sofield and two friends from Plainfield captured eleven carp in the brook below the dam yesterday. Their total weight was over fifty pounds.

Herbert Benward, of Brooklyn, is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Benward.

The public sale of real estate is taking place at the Hotel Nelson this afternoon.

Rev. George Hauser, of Plainfield, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, August 24.—The old-fashioned picnic held yesterday afternoon by the ladies of St. Mary's Catholic church, of Stony Hill, was not only an enjoyable event, but a profitable one as well, for the friends of the church turned out nicely and the ladies will be able to realize a neat little sum from their efforts. One of the special features, as well as the most tempting one, was the Luxemborg dinner which was served from 5 to 7. Dancing was enjoyed by the younger people and the picnic will remain as a pleasant memory to those who enjoyed the ladies hospitality. The committee in charge were the Misses Molloy, Waters, Clark and Mrs. George Schick. Besides these there was Father Brennan, of North Plainfield, who seemed to be determined to make everyone present enjoy the day. The proceeds will be turned into the church treasury.

The sheds of the M. E. church are being repaired this week at a cost of about $30. For Sunday evening, August 26th, a special musical service has been arranged and a collection will be received to help pay for the restoration of the sheds. By this means everyone interested in the church property will have an opportunity to contribute.

Charles Layton and Abram Wade enjoyed a day's crabbing at Cartaret yesterday. Their efforts were crowned with success and their friends are enjoying the results of the trip.

Miss Daly, of Philadelphia; Miss Katy, of Trenton, and Miss Schick, of Bordentown, are visiting at the home of Judge and Mrs. Schick, of Scotch Plains.

The Epworth Literary Society enjoyed an interesting reading in the classrooms of the Methodist church last evening.

Mrs. George W. Marsh has returned from a pleasant visit of a week with her sister, Mrs. Fred Bulkly, in New York.

The members of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company met at their headquarters for drill last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hand and son enjoyed a pleasant day's outing at Boynton Beach, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vannatta, of Bayonne, are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Emery.

Mrs. James H. Parks has returned from a visit of several days with Philadelphia friends.

Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., held their regular weekly meeting in their rooms last evening.

Mrs. Maria Noble has returned from a short visit with relatives in Newark.

Mrs. Ann Cleaver is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Pound, of Brooklyn.

WESTFIELD

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Westfield, Aug. 24.—William Boyle, of Scotch Plains, came to Westfield Wednesday and evidently imbibed too freely of the tangle foot sold here, for about midnight he lay down to sleep and was sent toward home a little later by an officer, but he became twisted and yesterday morning Officer O'Neil found him peacefully sleeping in the depot park and arrested him. He was kept in the lock up until noon when he had sobered up and Justice of the Peace Toucey allowed him to go home.

M. J. Spillan, the produce dealer, who was arrested here for embezzlement Monday and who was held for his appearance at Newark, faced Judge Lambert in that city on Wednesday and in default of $300 bail was sent to the Essex County jail to await the action of the Grand Jury which meets in September. Stephen Mattews made the charge.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

The Daily Advertiser, Tiffin, O., says of the Gus Sun American Minstrels: "The Gus Sun Minstrels appeared at the opera house Saturday evening to a large and enthusiastic audience, and presented one of the best attractions seen here for a number of years. The beautiful scenery and costumes are certainly worthy of special mention. Many new songs were introduced and all were well received. Messrs. Yorkey, Sun, Lynch, Marion, Pearl, Lambert and Anderson, were a whole show in themselves. Should the company return here they can be assured of a royal reception." The above company will appear at Music Hall tonight.

Plays may come and plays may go, but "A Trip to Chinatown" seems destined to go on forever. This popular musical comedy will be presented here during the season and it is not too early to predict that it will be received by an immense audience. The presentation this season is said to eclipse in brilliancy and extravagant setting anything yet seen under the Hoytian banner. The cast is reported to be the highest salaried gathering of farce-comedy artists yet seen in any one comedy, and is headed by Harry Gilfoil, recognized as the cleverest and most versatile comedian now before the public.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Provinz Westfalen.

Münster. Die Stadtverordneten bewilligten einstimmig 3000 Mark zur Unterstützung der Pflege von verwundeten deutschen Soldaten in China.

Gronau. In der Baumwollspinnerei Eilermark stürzten der Schlosser Grawe, der Maschinist Lakering und der Zimmermann Boers, welche damit beschäftigt waren, eine Reparatur am Fahrstuhl vorzunehmen, in Folge Nachgebens des Balkens, auf dem sie standen, in die Tiefe. Alle drei trugen lebensgefährliche Verletzungen davon; ein vierter Arbeiter fand Halt an einem Sparren und schwebte in der Luft, bis ihm Hilfe wurde. Der Schlosser Grawe starb bald darauf.

Hagen. Hier sind bei einer Kohlengrubenexplosion 24 Grubenarbeiter mehr oder weniger schwer verletzt worden.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Legationssekretär Karl v. Metzsch von hier, ein Verwandter des sächsischen Ministers für Auswärtige Angelegenheiten, ist auf einer Reise durch das Engadin in einem reißenden Gebirgsfluß ertrunken.

Chemnitz. Die Ansprüche, welche an unser städtisches Elektrizitätswerk gestellt werden, haben sich in letzter Zeit dergrt gesteigert, daß die Stadtverordneten zur Erweiterung der Anlagen 120,000 Mark bewilligen mußten. Ferner wurden für neue Wasserwerksanlagen am Bautenberg 576,000 Mark bewilligt.

Claußnitz. Hier erhängte sich dieser Tage die 68jährige Wittwe Beedix, nachdem vorher ihr Mann und ihr erwachsener Sohn auf gleiche Weise aus dem Leben geschieden waren.

Großenhain. Der hiesigen Realschule sind bei Gelegenheit der diesjährigen Feier ihres 25jährigen Bestehens außer der Capridi-Stiftung im Betrage von 4000 Mark an weiteren Beiträgen noch 8011 Mark zugegangen, wovon 2106 Mark zur Deckung der Festkosten, der Rest für verschiedene Stiftungen der Anstalt Verwendung gefunden hat.

Kleinkarsdorf. Auf einem dem hiesigen Gasthofsbesitzer Garten gehörigen Maisfelde wurden von Bubenhänden eine ätzende Flüssigkeit ausgegossen, welche den Bestand des Feldes zerstörte.

Leipzig. Laut Bekanntmachung am schwarzen Brett der Universität ist 27 Studirenden, welche im laufenden Semester weder eine Privatvorlesung noch ein Praktikum angenommen haben, das akademische Bürgerrecht entzogen worden.

Oelsnitz i. E. Während eines schweren Gewitters wurde der auf seinem Wagen sitzende Flaschenbierhändler Polte vom Blitz getroffen und gelähmt.

Reichenbach. Die weitbekannte Streichgarnspinnerei von J. F. Stack wurde durch eine Feuersbrunst total eingeäschert. Der Schaden beträgt 100,000 Mark. Die Entstehungsursache ist unbekannt.

Zwickau. Für die hier geplante allgemeine Vogtländische Ausstellung sind so viele Anmeldungen eingegangen, daß diese nicht nur gesichert ist, sondern auch einen großen Umfang anzunehmen verspricht.—Im Zwickauer Steinkohlenreviere waren im vorigen Jahre auf 15 Werken 11,667 Arbeiter beschäftigt. Die Förderung betrug 1,444,462 Tonnen Kohlen im Werthe von 26,454,490 Mark. Betriebsunfälle ereigneten sich 1812, einschließlich von 16 tödtlichen.

Thüringische Staaten.

Gera. Die städtischen Behörden übersandten dem Lloyddampfer „Gera," der als Lazarethschiff im fernen Osten der Nächstenliebe dienen soll, beim Verlassen der heimathlichen Küste als Scheidegruß eine Adresse und 10,000 Stück Cigarren, deren Hülsen den Aufdruck tragen: „Den wackeren Kämpfern für Deutschlands Ehre im fernen Osten. Die Stadt Gera."

Gotha. Im Hofe des Tieb'schen Waarenhauses am Altmarkt wurde beim Ausschachten eines Kellers ein irdener Topf mit drei großen Stücken Silber, augenscheinlich von eingeschmolzenen Geräthen herrührend, und etwa 1000 mittelalterlichen Münzen gefunden. Die Münzen sind alle in der zweiten Hälfte des 12. Jahrhunderts geprägt.

Ruhla. Auf dem Wege nach dem Inselsberge wurden zwei Frauen, Kurgäste aus Brotterode, von zwei 17jährigen Burschen mit einem Messer bedroht und ihrer Baarschaft beraubt. Dem sofort benachrichtigten Gendarm gelang es, die Thäter, zwei Brotteroder, zu ermitteln und dingfest zu machen.

Weimar. Der Hundehändler Grünewald hier hat sich erschossen, weil sein Hund auf dem Schützenfeste einen Mann in's Bein gebissen hatte und die Kumpane des Gebissenen den Besitzer des Hundes dafür derb geprügelt hatten.

After a journey which dragged itself out as to time more than two years, as to space a distance of nearly twice around the globe, it is more pleasant than I can express to take up again these familiar talks with old friends and new acquaintances.

Of old friends, some of the nearest and best have happily escaped from the toil and stress of this life since I began my wanderings. Of new readers, some are bright, eager girls, just entering life's road, dreaming the dreams of brainy and worthily aspiring young womanhood. It is a weary way at best, life's road, especially to those who endeavor to show any reason why they should have been born at all, yet we are glad we are alive. Even the worn and weary gray haired woman who has any sense must rejoice that through the hardship, the work and suffering of this planet she attains a growth and development denied to the very angels.

What right minded being would want to be an angel when it is possible to be a man or a woman striving on always in love and righteousness, seeing new light breaking, feeling new and greater power and wisdom filling and thrilling at every step of the way?

Especially American girls and women ought to be thankful that they are citizens of this blessed country, the United States. Women all over the earth, English, French, Russian, German, Japanese, turn their eyes toward America as to the earthly paradise of women. That it is. In all France there is not a college for women. The Frenchwoman, though she have the brain of a statesman or a gift for swinging a blacksmith's hammer or mauling rails, must perforce learn at school to sew, embroider and hemstitch by hand, and she learns scarcely anything else. In Germany it is scarcely any better; in Russia no better.

Only in the United States can the girl who is gifted and persevering aspire to what she will attain. American women do not half understand and appreciate their opportunity. If they did, our women, business, professional and domestic, would be more thoroughly trained and wide awake, happy all day long in their work, whatever it may be, thankful with all their souls that their lot has been cast in this republic. What is happiness? Happiness is that which happens. Therefore are we happy all the time and don't know it.

Mrs. Grundy endeavors to turn all girls and women out of the same mold, but nature has sent every one of them into the world an individual to develop her own mind and save her own soul. No two minds are alike any more than any two faces. Every mind is entitled to grow its own way as much as every nose is. Those who undertake to thwart the natural talents of a young man or woman and force them in a different direction assume for themselves a responsibility that even the Almighty does not take on himself. Whether the tyrannical meddler with another's individuality be parent, guardian, husband or wife, in the time to come he or she will have to suffer mightily for this interference. Women especially have been so stunted and dwarfed by parent, husband and society that many of them are as crippled mentally as a Chinese woman is physically. What is worse, they don't know it themselves.

Professor Lombroso and those worthies who preach the doctrine of the physical inferiority of women will have a nut to crack in the achievement of Mrs. Emma R. Bayne, who at Valley Stream, N. Y., recently accomplished a feat in cycling that no man or any other woman has as yet achieved or undertaken. Mrs. Bayne rode 3,000 miles upon her bicycle in 20 days and 12 hours, completing this unprecedented 30 century run in excellent physical condition, weighing six pounds more than she did at the start. It may be noted that she ate no meat during this extraordinary ride, though using freely eggs, milk and beef tea. Her trainers never allowed her to sleep more than two hours at a time, but let her slumber at frequent intervals. She found her worst difficulty was to fight off the desire to sleep. No sooner had she made the new record than she set out to do 15 centuries more in ten days, thus wheeling 4,500 miles in 30 days. At the moment of beginning the additional 1,500 miles she said to a New York World reporter, "There is not the slightest danger of my overtaxing my strength."

Russia has a woman blacksmith who is famous throughout the whole province in which she lives. She owns and manages her shop, and her name is Agrassana Namiroy. She appears to be a Sandow among women, for, although she is now 50 years old, she herself does the heaviest labor in her shop, tasks which her men assistants are not strong enough to perform.

Miss Emily Walton was elected school commissioner in a certain country district in Illinois. A man commissioner refused to serve with her and even went so far as to command her to stop looking into the school record books, which she was perusing with a view of getting the hang of things. She was not, however, to be scared off, but insisted on her right and duty as one whom the people had chosen, and maintained her ground modestly but unflinchingly. Then the men commissioners, finding her more capable than themselves, left her to do all the work, keeping the minutes, repairing the schoolhouse and hiring the teachers.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 26, "Ministering to Christ." Text, Math. xxv, 31-46.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

The dramatic features of this word picture given by Jesus are not the most important considerations for study. Many curious ideas and interesting speculations could be indulged about the final fate of the impenitent; the nature of the great judgment; the features of future heavenly existence; the visible return of Christ and such like matters. But the important idea of this selection is the present opportunity to serve Christ in helping those around us.

Heart devotion is the test of all true piety. External ceremonies and forms of ritual are of value only as they assist to awaken and express the inner heart life. Thought and feeling and soul determination are the factors which make up personal life. Bodily postures and acts are important as they display and make actual this invisible spirit existence.

The piety which expends its force in inner soul exercises of meditation, contemplation, supplication and adoration is barren of results and issues in fanaticism or atheism at length.

This world is adapted to develop all heart powers into outward expression, so as to embody thought in deed and aspiration in active beneficence. The marvelous powers of healing and food giving displayed by Jesus in His earthly life are to be continued in the church by his people. By plans of heavenly inspiration and work of daily persistence the hungry are to be fed, the vicious reclaimed, the diseased are to be doctored and nursed, the ignorant taught, the indolent stimulated and nerved to work, the comfortless and discouraged to be neighbored. What Jesus did for a little while by extraordinary displays of power we are to do continually by ordinary means through the ever present Holy Spirit. Christ taught in synagogue and by seashore. We are to teach in church and school, in home and mill, in store and workshop and office. He healed by the touch of a finger by divine power. We are to heal in homes and hospitals by all medical skill and tender care, using all curative elements in nature and all possible helps of spirit.

Our task is to follow Him in plans and purposes because of our love to the Father and the Master and His children.

Our Bishop In China.

Dr. David H. Moore was elected bishop on the seventeenth ballot by a vote of 534 cast by the general conference at Chicago in May. His residence was fixed by order of the general conference at Shanghai. This will enable him during the next four years to supervise our work in the orient as no previous bishop has been able to do. Japan, Korea, north, central, west and south China will all be under his charge. Bishop Moore brings to his high office rare qualifications, which will insure him the co-operation and confidence of his brethren.

BISHOP D. H. MOORE.

He was born in Ohio in 1838. He graduated from Ohio university and entered the pastorate in Ohio conference. He saw service in the civil war as private and officer. He has been pastor, president of Cincinnati College For Women and chancellor of Denver university. In 1884 he was elected editor of The Western Christian Advocate, published at Cincinnati, from which position he was elected to the episcopacy.

The Complete Man.

The aim of the gospel of Jesus Christ is to present every man before God perfect. At least that is the way Paul puts it, and certainly that is the aim disclosed in all the teachings of Jesus. Perfection signifies completeness. It is the rounding out of all parts of the nature, not the distorted overdevelopment of any one power or set of faculties. The social, intellectual, æsthetic and ethical sides of human nature must all have harmonious fullness. The perfect man shall eventually be found in the perfect society. All shall have the same complete nature unstunted and unstinted in powers and operations and enjoyment. Jesus redeems the physical life and makes these bodies to be regarded with higher valuation when we view them as temples for holiness of heart and audience chambers of Deity. All appetencies of body, mind and sensibility then become impulses to the free spirit to capture and control all possible energies of the world and life and build up the full orbed and strong personality in the likeness of the great model, Jesus Christ.

The lost clew to existence is regained, the lost grip on things is restored, the lost zest to exertion comes back, and living becomes joyous, vigorous, with purposeful aim worthy of those of royal lineage.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 26—Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Ministering to Christ.—Math. xxv, 31-46.

In the topical reference we have a picture of the grand concluding act of the several judgments described in this chapter of eschatological discourses. It is not a parable, though Christ does speak of a shepherd dividing the sheep from the goats, but it is an awful, solemn reality. All nations appear before Christ for judgment at the time of His second coming. These are divided into two classes, one on his right hand, the other on his left. To one he says, "Come," to the other, "Depart." The judgment that determines the place of each is decided by works. This is natural and necessary. Judgment in all cases must be according to works, but Christian works are inseparable from Christian faith. These works were done in Christ's name and for His sake. They were the result of faith and not good, moral works apart from faith. These will not save. The efficacy of works depends upon their spirit and motive rather than their outward appearance. The only works that will count in the day of judgment will be those that have been the result of faith in Christ. It will not be our ministering unto our fellow men, but our ministering unto Christ, that will be of value in His eyes in that day.

1. Ministering to Christ. Those on the right hand of Christ had ministered unto Him. (1) They ministered unto Him by ministering unto their fellow men who were in need of help. They fed the hungry, visited the sick, clothed the naked in His name, and therefore did it unto Him. If Christ were actually on earth, how gladly we would minister to Him. But let us see Him in every one about us who needs our assistance, and help Him in helping them. (2) Those who ministered to Christ were amply rewarded by an abundant entrance into heaven. No service for Christ goes unrewarded. A cup of cold water given in His name has its reward. Let us lay up treasures in heaven by ministering to suffering, needy humanity in the name of Christ.

2. Failure to minister to Christ. Those on Christ's left hand, to whom He said, "Depart," had failed to minister to Him. The judgment pronounced presupposes opportunity, yet they pleaded ignorance, but their excuse was not accepted. They had failed to believe in Christ and to serve Him by serving their fellow men in His name, and eternal doom was pronounced upon them.

This picture of the judgment tremendously emphasizes the importance of faith in Christ and a life of service for Christ. The judgments passed were final and irrevocable. The results of these judgments were eternal. The word punishment in verse 46 is not annihilation, but positive misery. In this verse "endless and boundless life is contrasted with endless and boundless misery. The two facts—one transcendentally glorious, the other unspeakably awful—are revealed; the details, blissful and terrible alike, are wisely withheld."

THE PRAYER MEETING.

This would be an opportune time for a comprehensive study of the subject of the general judgment, the time, characteristics and accompanying events. Study (1) the judge, (2) the judged, (3) the grounds of judgment, (4) the verdicts.

BIBLE READINGS.

Math. x, 32-42; xvi, 25; xviii, 1-6; Mark ix, 41; Luke ix, 48; I Cor. xv, 58; II Cor. viii, 1-9; Gal. iv, 12-14; vi, 9; II Tim. i, 16-18; Heb. vi, 10.

Self Sacrificing Love.

A mother wins her child's love by caring for him, by feeding him, dressing and caressing him. But when, in case of sickness, the mother sacrifices her rest and comfort by nursing a son such a child will never forget this manifestation of a mother's love and will try to repay it. Should this mother, however, in consequence of her self denying love, herself become ill and die, her memory will never vanish from the mind of a well disposed child. Recently there was a great fire in a western city. The father rescued all his children, but in doing so he became himself a cripple for life. But his children treated him like a saint. The very scars in his face seemed beautiful to them because they were manifestations of a father's self sacrificing love.—Reform Church Messenger.

A Homely Parable.

Lots of folks who would like to do right think that servin the Lord means shoutin themselves hoarse praisin His name. Now, I'll tell you how I look at that. I'm workin here for Jim. Now, if I'd sit round the house here, tellin what a good fellow Jim is an singin songs to him I'd be doin just what lots of Christians do, but it wouldn't suit Jim, an I'd get fired mighty quick. But when I hustle among the hills an see that Jim's herds are all right an not sufferin for water an feed or bein off the range branded by cattle thieves, then I'm servin Jim as he wants to be served.—A Converted Cowboy in Episcopal Recorder.

The Cure of Manmindedness.

A disciple turned manward in his mind instead of Godward is a stumbling block in the way of Christ—a hindrance to His purpose. The cure of manmindedness is Christheartedness. The mind's look will follow the heart's love. We are drawn onward and upward to have the mind of Christ.—American Friend.

Born of Agitation.

Ideas are born of agitation. They fall through the air like fruit shaken from a tree. Contentment is the surest symptom of death. Satisfaction is often another name for indifference. It is a grave to all future possibility.—Presbyterian Journal.

HOME TRAINING.

All Mothers Should Teach Their Daughters the Management of the Household.

Initiating the daughters into the mysteries of homekeeping is one of the duties which falls upon the mother, and it should not be neglected, writes Phebe W. Humphreys, in Ledger Monthly.

Every girl should be taught, as soon as she is of an age to appreciate the knowledge, the various amounts of food, time, work, etc., required in managing a household, and should be initiated into the mysteries of ordering dinner on the nicest yet most economical principles, and should be made to realize that the smooth running of the domestic mechanism depends entirely on the skill and care of the responsible housekeeper.

Generally, however, instead of this, the mother, anxious to make home-life as pleasant as may be to her daughters, and well aware of the amount of work, both social and educational, that falls to the share of the girls nowadays, does her best to "save them," and avoids in any way increasing the burden on their young shoulders. And the young people, accustomed to find all their wants supplied without any trouble on their part, and unconscious of the care and attention that have brought the domestic machinery to perfection, learn to fancy that housekeeping is a thing that comes by nature, until one fine day they realize from personal experience the weight of the burden they have so lightly assumed.

OIt may be that the mother refrains from initiating her daughters herself, from a disinclination to face the worry it will entail and the extra fatigue of letting others half do work one can do oneself in half the time with perfect success. But whether the girls' ignorance be the result of maternal unselfishness or disinclination to give up power, the result is the same, and reacts fatally, later on, in the daughter's chances of comfort and that of the family over which she may have the supervision in coming years. If we are to enable our girls to advance prosperously in domestic economy, and have a practical understanding of all household duties, in order to succeed we must begin very early in the initiating process.

As a young wife, deplorably ignorant in domestic matters, it was my good fortune to have an opportunity to take some lessons in cooking from Pierre Blot. He was the pioneer in introducing competent teaching of the principles and practice of cookery, from which the whole popular plan of cooking schools has grown up.

But, much to my surprise, I quickly discovered that the finest culinary art was a complete system of economics. Again and again the fact was impressed upon the class that, certain materials beng given, it was the duty of the cook to produce the full value of those materials in her skilled result. As this principle was constantly shown in an object lesson before our eyes, everything being utilized with the most scrupulous care, and the delicious dishes that resulted offered us to taste, it would have been stupid, indeed, to fail to perceive the importance of the lesson.

The least waste was strictly forbidden. All meats, fish, poultry, etc., were daintily trimmed and prepared in the most tasteful manner, but every scrap of these trimmings was put to good use, either for soup stock, sauce or for some delicate dish which was to make its apppearance in the most appetizing form. While we saw this minute economy carried on, we were also constantly warned against the universal wastefulness of American cooking.

When Traveling.

A thin tissue veil should be worn during a railway trip. It not only protects the eyes from smoke and cinders, but the skin from contact with floating dust. After a trip by rail, a bicycle ride, or any undue exposure to dust, the temptation is strong to plunge the hot, dusty face in cold water. It is a trap set for ignorance. Nothing could be more disastrous and less cleansing to the skin. A good cold cream should be well rubbed into the skin, to soften and penetrate the pores and dislodge the dirt. Then wash the face thoroughly with hot water and pure soap, rinsing in several waters, finishing with cold water. Then if the face is sunburned or feels drawn, apply a little rose cream, wiping off the surplus with a soft bit of linen. A little harmless powder may now be lightly dusted on, without detriment.—Ledger Monthly.

A Carpet Hint.

Don't use tea leaves to clean a delicate carpet. They will be sure to stain it. Damp bran or newspapers dampened and torn will answer the purpose. Sweep the way of the nap of the carpet. Never shake rugs from the end; too much weight comes on them, and they are liable to be torn or strained; shake them from the sides. Turn them face downward to be swept, or the dust will be ground into them. Salt used on a carpet collects dampness and rusts the tacks.—Good Literature.

Chili Sauce.

Boil together slowly for two hours one large onion sliced, two minced red peppers, six large tomatoes, one tablespoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of ginger, same amount of cinnamon, same amount of cloves, two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar and two teacupfuls of vinegar. Stir often when cooking.—Utica Observer.

Good Society.

When wit is kind as well as playful, when information knows how to be silent as well as how to speak, when good will is shown to those who are absent as well as those who are present, we may know that we are in good society.—Ladies' Home Journal.

MET BY CHANCE AT MATINEE.

Transfer of Theater Tickets Responsible for the Renewal of a Broken Engagement.

"All's well that ends well," and thus it is that a pair of lovers who were recently reconciled after an estrangement of several months are once more happy, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The hero and heroine of this little romance live in Chicago and move in exclusive social circles. Their engagement was announced last winter and the date of the wedding set for some time in April. The prospective bride's trousseau was being prepared, when suddenly orders to the dressmaker were countermanded and the friends of the young people were told that the engagement was broken. No one ever knew the reason of the breach, excepting the two persons most interested, but it was generally understood that both the prospective bride and bridegroom were broken-hearted and were still in love with each other, in spite of their difference.

The reconciliation was brought about last week purely by accident. At least, that is what the two young women responsible for it aver, although there are those who declare the meeting which ended so happily was prearranged by the young women in question. One of them, who may be called Miss Rolston, had a cousin from the east visiting her. The cousin was a friend of both parties to the engagement. Miss Rolston bought tickets for the matinee, a week ago Saturday, and gave one of them to her cousin, who was going to spend a few days at the home of the former fiancee.

"I am not absolutely certain that I can come," Miss Rolston said, "but if I can't, I will see to it that the ticket is given to some one you know, so that you will have company at the play."

This arrangement was all right, but at the last minute the cousin received a telegram asking her to return home at once, as her mother was ill. So she gave her ticket to her hostess, the sorrowing bride that was to have been, and told her that she would be likely to find Miss Rolston at the theater, if she cared to go. In the meantime, Miss Rolston had met the young man with a wounded heart and had said to him:

"Oh, by the way, my cousin, Miss ——, from Binghamton, N. Y., whom you liked so much, is in town. She is going to be at the matinee at the —— on Saturday and expects me to be there. I find, however, that I will be unable to go. Won't you take my ticket and go instead? I know she would be delighted to meet you again."

Certainly the young man would take the ticket. When he arrived during a dark scene he saw a familiar figure dimly outlined in the gloom. It was his former fiancee. It is believed there was a little hand-holding indulged in, then and there. At any rate, before the man and the girl left the theater they had made it all up. A new date for the wedding has been set, and operations have been resumed on the trousseau.

ECLIPSES AND THE BABIES.

According to a West Indian Superstition the Former Hurts the Latter.

Cuba and Porto Rico lay outside the line of totality in the last eclipse of the sun; in fact, the amount of observation was rather less than was observed in New York, or, more correctly, than would have been observed if the clouds had permitted. None the less, to the eclipse is to be charged a large amount of infant ill-health and mortality, says the New York Sun.

In those islands all mothers and nurses have a fear of the evil operation of an eclipse on tender infants. They say that it is a fear that the children will be hit by the eclipse, but if anyone should suggest that it is the devil which does the hitting the statement will not be disputed by adult Cubans and Porto Ricans. The only remedy against the malign influence that is known is to strip the babies as soon as the eclipse begins and expose them in the open air unattended until the shadow has passed entirely off the sun. If the child gets a case of pneumonia or bronchitis as the result of the several hours of exposure it is proof positive that it has been "hit" by the devil behind the astronomical phenomenon; if the baby escapes it is due entirely to the purity of its soul.

When any child is "hit" it is taken first to the "padre" for the expulsion of the devil, and then to the "medico" for the completion of the treatment. In all such cases the approved treatment consists of the administration of an emetic to dislodge the devil of the eclipse and confidence that all will go well under the influence of faith and medicine. On the morning of the eclipse the weather in Cuba, at least on the north shore, was decidedly raw, and a large proportion of the exposed children took colds and died. Children who are not thus exposed at the time of an eclipse are supposed, according to local superstition, to be "hit" by the eclipse "diabolo" in less manifest ways, and to be beyond these methods of cure. All children who have never been exposed to this treatment must be exposed to the eclipse or take the consequences.

Experience as a Teacher.

Miss Singleton (reading aloud from a novel)—"Seating himself by her side, he whispered sweet nothings into her ear." Now I wonder what he really said.

LAWN HOCKEY Is Proving an Attractive Athletic Game

THIS season marks the progress of the remarkable game of lawn hockey, to the point where the sporting writers of the country will soon have to take notice of the healthful, inexpensive and heart and lung developing sport. It may be inferred that the game is a first cousin to hockey, by the name. The rules for hockey would do very well for lawn hockey, had not Dr. J. H. McCurdy, an enthusiastic player of the lawn game, drawn up an exhaustive code of specifications and regulations governing the sport.

For simplicity, efficiency in producing health results and sociability, give the rough and ready fellow who has tired of tennis and golf the game of lawn hockey in the summer and autumn months. European countries have had lawn hockey for some time, but, as a golf-green keeper remarked the other day: "The whole of some localities in England and Europe would become like a beautiful lawn with a little care," and lawn hockey may have found that the English rules would be needed and adopted them.

"There should be 11 men on a side," continues Capt. Foss, "but the game may be played with six or seven. Players get their names from their positions, viz: Three forwards, five rushes, two backs or guards and one goal tend.

"The ball is put into play at the beginning of the game and after each goal by what is known as the 'bully'—one of each side shall stand facing the side line and shall strike the ground on his own side of the ball and the stick of his opponent over the ball alternately three times, after which either player may strike the ball, which is then in play. During the 'bully' the players must be 'on side,' as they say in football, by being between the ball and their own goal line.

"When the ball is put in play the forwards rush down the field on their opponent's territory and the 'rushes' by a system of diagonal passing, advance the ball past the rush line of their opponents and endeavor to get the ball into the grasp of the forwards, who should be inside or near the striking circle.

OUTLINE OF A LAWN HOCKEY FIELD.

"The striking circle is made by drawing a line 12 feet long in front of each goal, parallel to the goal line and 15 yards from it. The ends of the line are to curve around to the goal lines, using each post as the center of the arc. This circle is the only place from which a goal may be scored.

"The forwards having the ball, the rushes work to get the ball through the goal, which, if accomplished, counts as one point. Advance guards should fall back behind the line a few paces to be ready for a scrimmage to return the ball. The guard, who remains away back, checks assaults on the goal. The guard should never advance farther than the center of the field. He should be a sure hitter and should never let the ball pass him if possible. No definite place can be assigned each player at all times of the game, as the position will vary with the strength of the opposing team. The same relative position must be maintained as long as possible, for it facilitates team work. Like football lawn hockey demands plenty of team work. The goal tend, strange to say, is the only one on the team permitted to kick the ball. He has to keep his place between the goal posts, and when the ball is forced to him he kicks it. Or he may strike it—do either in his effort to keep the ball from passing the goal. In no case when the ball is in the striking circle should it be allowed to remain in front of the goal. The defenders must use their skill and agility and put it off to one side."

Rules to prevent rough play must be observed. No player is allowed to raise his stick above his shoulders when striking at the ball, and the stroke must always be from right to left. The ball may be stopped by the body, but—except in the case of the goal tend—it must be advanced by the stick only. Great skill may be attained in hooking sticks, which diversion is allowed when within striking distance of the ball. A careful hook when an opponent has the advantage and is about to hit the ball a hard stroke will often permit a team mate to get in with his stroke. Framers of rules have built up a series of "don'ts," something similar to the football rules, and they are off side play, kicking the ball, tripping, fouling, etc. Violations cost the team a penalty. The rival team is entitled to a "free hit." This corresponds to the free kick in football, and the free hit is likely to cost the offending side a goal when the violation occurs inside the striking circle for a "penalty bully" is then allowed. All players except the offender and another from the other side are removed and these men "bully at the center" until the goal is scored or the ball passes outside the circle. Only when the latter occurs are the other players permitted to consider it in play again. The game is played in "35-minute halves," the same as football, and there is an intermission of ten minutes. It would not be surprising if lawn hockey got into a prominent place next season among the many Y. M. C. A. branches. The game has a great deal more to it than the critics who have never seen it tried will admit.

E. G. WESTLAKE.

"just growed up there" because there was little besides turf for the contestants to play summer hockey on.

Anybody who can run on the grass and who is not muscle bound in the arms may play lawn hockey and get more sociability out of the contest than he would out of tennis. For associations where the unskilled men are joining in large numbers and the task of the physical director is to develop these untrained men, no better outdoor game could be hit upon than lawn hockey.

You do not have to spend a fortune in playing the green grass hockey. The stick is a curved one something akin to the "shinny" sticks we used to cut out of trees in the woods when boys—the curved part near the root so much favored for "knees" for row boat construction being the strongest—and must not be larger than a stick that might be passed through a two-inch ring. Any old cricket ball will suffice for the ball, that is used much as the "puck" is in the game of ice hockey. If you cannot find a nicely kept lawn with verdure like deep velvet, and you have conscientious scruples against invading the "fair green" of the neighboring golf links, find a grassy area 110 yards long and not more than 60 yards wide. That will do for the field. Some lime for marking the boundaries of the "striking circle" from which a goal can only count, and the other lines, applied to the grass much as you mark out a tennis court and according to the diagram of the field as officially approved, and 22 young men may prance about, run like fiends and enjoy all of the benefits of football, but in a milder way and with no danger of being tackled and thrown on frozen ground.

LAWN HOCKEY STICKS AND BALL.

Endurance and heart action are developed by this running game on the grass. Self-control is brought into action, for the rules provide against dangerous and rough play and the eye is taught to be accurate, as to be able to strike the ball with a stick not more than two inches in diameter when the ball comes from all sides is essential to good play. Like the good polo player who strikes at the wooden ball while on the dead gallop, the lawn hockey man has to have a true eye. What should make the game favorite is that great skill is not essential to any player, for the contest does not call for the knack of catching fly balls and fielding hard bounders, as does baseball, nor has the ball to be caught in the lacrosse net, as in the Indian game, before the player can begin. The advantage of lawn hockey over other games is therefore palpable. "Duffers" at golf are even included in the list of those who might be benefited by the lawn game.

Capt. M. I. Foss, of the '99 class team of the Springfield training school—thrice winners of the United States championship because of the perfection of the game at that school, says that when Dr. McCurdy first introduced the lawn game in 1896 the players soon found that the rules would be needed and adopted them.

SPORTING.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

An exciting fourball match will probably be played on one or the other of the local courses tomorrow afternoon. Morris Dumont and Frank Talmage, both members of the team of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, have challenged W. J. B. Thiers and Edgar I. Serrell, of the Park Golf Club, to a fourball match and the challenge has been accepted. Thiers will try to play off his match for the green committee challenge trophy in the morning so that the other match can be played in the afternoon. The Hillside men ought to have a little the best of it, particularly if the match is played on the Hillside course, but if Serrell and Thiers are at their best, the other two will have no easy thing of it.

GOLF

Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, is entered in the fifth annual woman's championship of the United States Golf Association, to be held on the links of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, from August 28th to September 1st.

WILL OPEN ON TIME.

Borough Board of Education Planning to Reopen School at the Usual Time Next Month.

The Borough Board of Education expects to reopen the schools about the usual time next month. They do not believe that the improvements now under way at the Somerset Street School will retard the progress of school to any great extent. The contractors are now working as rapidly as possible so that the upper part of the building may be ready the day school opens. It probably wil be several days after the opening day before the manual training school building will be ready for occupancy, but every effort is being made to have it ready at the earliest possible date.

Superintendent Wightman is expected to return home next week Tuesday from his trip abroad, and he will be at the school at certain hours to see parents about children entering the school this fall. Within the next two weeks all the teachers will return home and be ready to assume their positions.

Festival at Galilea.

Fairview Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., gave one of the largest festivals held in many years in their handsome lodge rooms at Galilea, last evening, and the crowd was so great that hundreds of people could not get in the rooms, but were compelled to remain outside and wait an opportunity to be served with refreshments. Among the features of the affair was the appearance of Miss H. Laender, elocutionist, of New York, who made many new friends, and John H. Carney, of this city, who has always been popular and a favorite. "Jack" kept the audience roaring with laughter with his up-to-date dialect stories. He was obliged to respond to many encores. Among those who attended the festival were many Plainfielders.

Wrecked a Hack.

One of John Lynch's hacks, driven by Robert Evans, was standing on West Second street, near Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, when a man from Dunellen drove into Lynch's rig from behind and smashed it up generally. The invading wagon was partially wrecked. The Dunellen man was arrested by Patrolman Myers for being disorderly but Mayor Rockfellow allowed him to go after he settled in full with Lynch for the damage done.

Driver Townley's Vacation.

Harry Bush, of the fire department, returns tomorrow from his vacation, and Driver William Townley will start on his annual outing at the same time. While Townley is away his place, as chief's driver, will be taken by his brother, Bert Townley. While George Feiring is off duty, on account of injuries received recently, his place is filled by Frank Hart.

The sale of goods in the store of Alfred Thorn, on Somerset street, are now being sold under bankruptcy proceedings. Hand & Pangborn are the auctioneers, and Lawyer Steele, of Somerville, is the referee. The sale commenced this afternoon at 1 o'clock and will be continued until everything is disposed of.

IDENTITY MAY BE WRONG

DROWNED MAN MAY NOT HAVE BEEN OLD BLACKSMITH.

Corpse Taken From the Canal and Buried in Potter's Field, to be Disinterred for Identification.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Aug. 24.—The friends of Enos Foreman, the old village blacksmith of Weston, claim that the body of the man found wedged in the logs of a raft in the Delaware and Raritan Canal, below Bound Brook, Monday, and subsequently buried in the Potter's Field near New Brunswick, is not that of Foreman, as stated by the authorities.

After Foreman made a third unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by drowning in the canal near Weston two weeks ago, he was induced to make his home with Dubois French, a wealthy farmer, living near Millstone. On Saturday afternoon Foreman went out to pick blackberries for the Dubois family. During the afternoon he startled a party of little girls who were at a picnic in a woods near Millstone, by performing a war dance among them and asking for a drink of whiskey. On the following day his pail of berries was found on the canal bank near the woods and he has since been missing. The body of the man taken from under the raft on Monday was found twelve miles from Millstone.

It is said the dead man weighed over two hundred pounds and was beardless, while Foreman weighed less than 130 pounds and wore a long beard. The body of the man in the Potter's Field will be disinterred today for identification by Foreman's friends. If it proves to be the wrong man the canal at Millstone will be searched at once, as there is a belief that Foreman's body is still in the canal at that place with a stone weighted to his neck.

ANOTHER WHEEL STOLEN.

Charles E. Vail the Victim of One of the Boldest Thieves That Has Operated Here.

Somebody borrowed a Lenape wheel belonging to Charles E. Vail, of 416 Orchard place, last evening. Somebody still has the wheel and the former owner thereof is wondering at the boldness of the bicycle thief who seems to haunt the city.

Mr. Vail stopped a moment on Somerset street last evening to speak to his cousin. The wheel was only out of his sight a few minutes, but when he returned it was gone. No one had noticed its disappearance. There is no clue to the thief.

The wheel stolen is a last year's Lenape, with upturned handle bars. There were red tips to the handle grips. The loss was reported to the police.

A Dove Party.

Miss Nellie Apgar, of Richmond street, gave a delightful dove party to about a dozen of her friends last evening in horor of a friend, Miss Grace VanCleef, of Trenton, who is the guest of Plainfield relatives. Beside the usual number of games and songs, the evening was spent in listening to vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Florence Symonds and Miss VanCleef. Several excellent recitations were given by Miss Josie Murphy. The serving of refreshments brought the evening's enjoyment to a close.

Allow Small Stones to Fall.

Wheelmen and horsemen have both complained to the city authorities that some of the stone carters, whose wagons pass through this city, are very careless and allow the fine stone to scatter over the roadway. Formal complaint has now been made against John Smalley and George Weiss and they have been ordered to appear before Mayor Rockfellow tomorrow morning.

Young Man Died.

Everitt B. Staats, aged 22 years, son of Abram Staats, of East Fourth street, died this morning after an illness of long duration. The young man was well-known in this city, where he has lived nearly all his life. The funeral services will be held Sunday from the house at 2:30 o'clock.

New Haven Man to Speak

A. F. Irvine, of New Haven, Conn., will address the Y. M. C. A. rally Sunday at 4:15 p. m. He spoke nearly every Sunday for two years in New Haven to large audience of men at the Grand Opera House in winter and on the green in the summer.

Load was too Heavy.

The sudden shifting of a heavy load of window weights caused the collapse of a rear wheel on one of A. M. Griffen's trucks on Belmont avenue yesterday. The driver, Thos. Banks, telephoned for another wagon and transferrred the load.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

E. H. Clevely, of North avenue, entertained his brother, Lionel Clevely, of Jersey City, yesterday.

Miss Sallie Swazee, of Washington, is visiting at the home of Mrs. Walter Peterson, of Belvidere avenue.

Mrs. Susan Collins, of West Fourth street, was taken to the hospital this morning for a surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Green's home at 820 Second place has been made bright by the arrival of a young son, born Aug. 17th.

The many friends of Mrs. Andrew Love, Sr., of Duer street, will be pleased to know that she is much improved from a recent attack of paralysis.

Death of Mrs Leveridge.

Mrs. Cornelius Leveridge, aged about 70 years, died suddenly this afternoon about 1 o'clock of apoplexy. Sometime ago she suffered from a similar attack while visiting at Westfield. She is survived by a husband.

SUMMER BELTS AND GLOVES.

Seasonable Suggestions for Those Who Keep Pace with the Fashions.

So far this season there is no one style of belt that can really be called "the thing." Fully belts are being widely worn, and are certainly a boon to the woman who has difficulty to make neat connections between her waist and skirt. But it is my observation that the woman with the trim figure, who understands the fine art of wearing her clothes correctly, still clings to the narrow leather belt, of seal, alligator or patent leather for street suits, and of calfskin for athletic sports, says the Ledger Monthly.

Inch-wide belts of the same material as the suit, lined with canvas and closely machine-stitched, are a neat, stylish waist-finish for either cloths, satins or silk or duck.

More picturesque and effective, with rich summer goods, are the sashes of crepe de chine, liberty gauze and mull that circle the waist and are knotted at the left side.

The newest buckles for ribbon belts are of flowers in dull gold and unburnished silver, often carrying a suggestion of the actual coloring of the flower.

Washable suede gloves will probably outrank the chamois of last season. They are lighter weight, no more expensive, and are said to be equally durable. An excellent quality can be found for 95 cents. Summer evening gloves will be of thin, fine suede, mousquetaire cut and in delicate pastel colors.

For ordinary wear calfskin in tan and reddish brown or mode will be used very much, and also the chevrette kid in mode and gray. Castor gloves continue inexpensive and much in style for outdoor sports.

It is considered exceedingly bad taste for the gloves to match the costume. Even for evening wear gloves are a paler shade than the press, or white.

BITS FOR HOUSEKEEPERS.

A Variety of Household Information for Inexperienced Housewives.

The woman who does her canning by the "boiler process," i. e., by cooking the fruit in the cans, should have the tinsmith make her a false bottom to her boiler, of heavy tin, with a wire rim, and strengthened across the bottom by strips of galvanized fence wire soldered on about four inches apart. Holes must be made in the tin to permit air and steam to escape. Cans can be set on this, the water put in, cover put in place, and the work of cooking the fruit goes merrily on while the housekeeper does something else, says the Detroit Free Press.

To prepare paraffine for use in covering jellies, etc., shave it up, put into a pitcher or pint cup and melt it by setting it in a vessel of hot water, while the jelly is still warm pour this over it, sufficient to make a thin coat over all. It effectually keeps out mold.

A good way to keep hams through the summer, is to make bags of heavy cotton large enough to hold a ham or shoulder. Put a little hay in the bottom of the bag, put in the ham, stuff a little hay round it on the sides and tie firmly. Hang in a cool place.

Rooms that smell close and musty, or are "smelly" for any reason, may be fumigated by burning a little flowers of sulphur on hot coals, using an iron vessel. It is death to germs.

OBJECTIONS TO THE BOULEVARD REPORT.

Corrections Asked for, but Few Landowners Will Insist on Higher Awards.

TO TAKE LITTLE TESTIMONY.

PROBABLY WILL NOT BE STRENUOUS OBJECTION TO THE REPORT.

Few of Those in Opposition are Seeking Higher Awards—Another Hearing for the Objectors Set for Next Wednesday.

Herbert W. Knight, who was deputized by Justice Swazee Wednesday to take testimony of those who object to the confirmation of the report of the commissioners on the widening of Westfield avenue, has begun the assignment and sat at the courtroom in Elizabeth yesterday to hear several of the objectors.

Ex-Judge Gilhooly, Surrogate Parrot and C. Addison Swift, with their clients, appeared. None of the cases heard yesterday was because of objections to the awards. Judge Gilhooly and Mr. Swift represented landowners who find that the commissioners have made the awards in the name of persons who do not now have title to the land. The testimony was in reference to this error, so that there could be an adjustment or correction of the report.

Surrogate Parrot presented brief testimony in reference to the John May estate at Lorraine. The purpose is to get an apportionment of the award on two different parcels of the land to conform with the mortgage on the property. As the award is now placed it is upon the entire piece of property, and the disposition of the money would effect a mortage on one portion on which there is a house, which must be removed.

None of the other objectors appeared. Mr. Knight will hear any others on Wednesday next.

The probabilities are that there will not be strenuous objections to the report. There are only a few of those in opposition who are seeking higher awards, and some who appeared as objectors on Wednesday last have since withdrawn their grievances, rather than to have the matter longer delayed or the boulevard scheme fall through.

There will be very little testimony taken before Commissioner Knight, but the testimony taken at the previous presentation of the report as to value of property will be used in court Sept. 5th, when the argument is made on the matter of the confirmation of the report.

CANNOT HOLD HIS GIFT.

Jersey Court Decides Against Taking Dying Person's Property.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Aug. 25—According to an opinion filed by Vice Chancellor Grey gifts made just prior to death are to be looked upon with suspicion. The case in which the decision was rendered was brought by the relatives of Miss Hannah McFadden, an aged woman at Atlantic City, who died December 27, 1898. The defendant was George H. Buecker, of Philadelphia. After Miss McFadden's death Buecker came into Court with a mortgage amounting to $1,000, which he claimed Miss McFadden had given him just prior to her death. He had no evidence to show that she had intended to present him with the mortgage, and Miss McFadden's heirs claimed that there was no reason why she should make such a gift, as Buecker was neither a relative nor a particularly close friend.

The principal laid down in the opinion is that the mere possession of some claimed gift does not establish the title to it, and adds that if such were the rule it would be adding new terror to death, and offer an actual invitation to the seizure of the effects of sick persons.

To Speak in Cranford.

Rev. James Rosedale, the converted Hebrew, native of Mt. Zion, Jerusalem, who spoke so acceptably at the Westfield Fresh Air Camp last Sunday afternoon, will spend tomorrow in Cranford, preaching in the Opera House in the morning, teaching the Sunday-school lesson in the afternoon and lecturing in the same place in the evening. His daughter will accompany him, and both will dress in the Palestine costume.

Foundation Finished.

The foundation for the new railroad station opposite the North Avenue station has been laid and the stone work has been started. Excellent progress is being made. The work of building the tunnel will be commenced very soon.

BLAME THE FOUNTAIN.

IT IS ALLEGED THAT HORSES ARE MADE SICK BY IMPURE WATER.

Trough From Which the Beasts Drink is Said to be Filled With Dirt and Scum.

There is considerable discussion among teamsters and drivers in general about the city at present as to whether the public drinking fountain on North avenue is responsible or not for a peculiar ailment with which the horses of some of them are affected. The trouble, which at first seems to be a heavy cold, soon turns into a sore throat and the animal affected is barely able to swallow any food. There are quite a number of horses, most of them belonging to truckmen, who are affected in this way. Their owners declare the trouble is due to the contaminated water in the fountain, at which they were accustomed to water their animals.

When the fountain was erected no provision was made for a run off and as a result the water is far from being in a satisfactory condition most of the time. All sorts of refuse from the street blows into it and together with the sediment from the horses mouths, forms a scum on top which is unable to run off. Of course, such water is not fit for drinking purposes and that is why some of the teamsters declare their horses were made sick by it.

There are other drivers, however, who assert that they water their horses there every day regularly and that thus far the animals have showed no bad effects. But for all that an unusual number of horses are sick with the strange complaint and thus far the fountain is the only explanation of the cause.

MARTIN ACT SALE.

Proceeding Again Adjourned Yesterday Afternoon by City Collector for a Month.

The sale of property for unpaid taxes under the provisions of the Martin Act was adjourned again yesterday afternoon for four weeks. It had been announced that the last adjournment was positively the last but Collector F. H. Smith decided that the circumstances warranted this adjournment.

Settlement has been made by all of the city's debtor's except "Count" J. K. VanNess, James E. Martine and the Cole estate. In the case of all of these, the necessary money had been partially raised. In order to enable them to settle up in full, and as the attorneys for these three debtors really showed that the money was being raised as fast as possible, Collector Smith adjourned the sale.

GIBSON MADE SECRETARY.

Jersey Republicans' Coup to Stop a Congressional Contest.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, Aug. 25.—At a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the State headquarters, at No. 42 Walnut street, the executive committee of the State Republican committee chose John S. Gibson successor to the late Augustus S. Barber, Jr., as secretary of the committee. Mr. Gibson was formerly Comptroller of Newark, and is a veteran campaigner. He is now at his summer home in Sussex county, but will come to Newark and take up at once the neglected work of the campaign. Hundreds of letters are in the secretary's desk waiting to be disposed of.

Those who attended Wednesday's meeting were Acting State Chairman E. C Stokes, William Riker, Jr., E. J. Anderson, John O. Ward, Henry H. Barker and Edward Fry. The one purpose of the meeting was to select a secretary.

Beef Wagon Ran Away With.

A horse belonging to the Union Beef Company, and attached to one of the meat wagons, ran away this morning while the driver was in a local meat shop. The horse started from the centre of the city, ran through Park avenue to North avenue, where he was caught by Wm. Conway in front of Lusardi's fruit store. There was no damage.

Public School Opening.

The Plainfield public schools will open on Tuesday, September 11th, instead of Monday, September 10th, as was announced in yesterday's Daily Press.

MUST NOT DROP STONE.

STREET COMMISSIONER MAKES COMPLAINT AGAINST CARTERS.

The Offenders Try to Clear Themselves, But Mayor Rockfellow Decides That They are Guilty.

The street department has been greatly bothered by the carelessness of the stone carters who insist in loading their wagons so full of crushed stone that it overflows the sides of the wagon and is scattered all over the roadway. John Smalley and George Weiss, two local carters, appeared before Mayor Rockfellow in city court this morning. A former complaint had been made against them by Street Commissioner Gavett who charged them with dropping stone all along West Front street a few days ago.

Both Smalley and Weiss insisted that they had not dropped any stone and that their wagon had been properly loaded. Smalley added, however, that since that day he had fixed his wagon so he wouldn't drop any more stone. The Mayor didn't believe that the Street Commissioner would make any such charge unless it was true and decided the two men were guilty.

His Honor sentenced each of the men to pay a fine of $5, but suspended the sentence until there should be another complaint against them.

This action was only taken after a number of conferences between the Street Commissioner and the proprietors of the stone quarries. The latter said that they had no control over their men in the matter of loading as the men were paid by the quantity of stone they carted. The proprietors therefore asked that the men be arrested and punished if they were caught violating the law.

Both Smalley and Weiss said that they did not want to drop stone on the roads and were very confident that they had not. They admitted, however, that some drivers did. They promised to be particularly careful in in the future and warn the other drivers to do the same.

TOWN'S ONLY COP IN TROUBLE.

Man Whom He Arrested Charges Him With Assault.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Aug. 25—Wm. Mooney, Bernardsville's only policeman, who gets $75 a month from the wealthy residents to keep the tough citizens of the mountain town away from the depot and off street corners, is having troubles of his own. Tueeday night he tried to preserve order among some citizens who were on their way home from the tavern. He got into a fight with Harry Davis, a business man of the place.

The town has no jail and he hauled Davis to the residence of Squire Dunster. The Squire is an aged man who was not pleased at being routed out at midnight, but he heard Mooney's complaint and fined Davis $15 for disorderly conduct. Davis then made a journey of thirty-two miles in his carriage this to place, where he appeared before Justice Kitchen, and preferred a charge of assault against Policeman Mooney. Detective Totton went to Bernardsville and arrested Mooney and brought him to the county seat. Justice Kitchen released Mooney unper $100 bends to await the action of the Somerset Grand Jury.

Squire Dunster registered a protest with the Town Council of Bernardsville against having his office turned into a jail and being disturbed after midnight to administer justice. The Town Council has placed an iron cage to be paid for by contributions from the wealthy residents.

Hope Chapel's Excursion.

The Sunday-school of Hope chapel started on its annual outing to Asbury Park this morning. A train of fourteen cars was provided and the five hundred excursionists filled eleven of them. The train started at the Clinton avenue station and picked up more at Grant avenue. There were only comparatively few who boarded the excursion train at the North avenue station. They leave Asbury Park on the return at 7:55 o'clock.

Concert Next Friday Night.

Owing to the inclement weather the band concert was not given on North avenue last night, but it will be given next Friday evening. The programme arranged by Leader LaVere is an entertaining one, and will doubtless draw a big crowd.

Received Warrior Degree.

Two candidates received the warrior degree and two propositions for membership were considered at last evening's meeting of Miantonomo Tribe of Red Men. They were also requested to be present at the funeral services of Everett Staats.

EXPECTS TO CARRY SOMERSET BY 1,000.

Senator Charles A. Reed Talks of the Situation in Somerset County This Campaign.

TO A PRESS REPORTER.

DOES NOT ANTICIPATE MUCH TROUBLE EVEN ON TRUST QUESTION!

Says the Farmers Are an Intelligent Class and Are Able to Understand the Situation When It is Explained.

Somerset county will go Republican by 1,000 plurality in the coming national election this fall, according to the prediction of State Senator Charles A. Reed, who can rightfully be called the leader of his party in that county. Senator Reed has received the highest honor that the voters of Somerset can confer unassisted by the rest of the State and is also chairman of the Republican county executive committee.

At a meeting of the county chairman with the State committee, recently held at Trenton, Senator Reed reported that the only thing to fear in Somerset was the agitation against trusts. Concerning this statement and his view of the coming campaign in Somerset, Senator Reed was interviewed yesterday by a Daily Press reporter.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said the Senator, "but that the Republicans will carry Somerset county easily. I do not mean by that that they can sit down and allow the battle to fight itself but, with proper effort a good plurality for McKinley and Roosevelt should be rolled up.

"No, I do not anticipate that the plurality will equal that of four years ago, 1,800. That was a tidal wave and cannot be expected again so soon. I was elected last year by 1,000 plurality and we ought to carry the county again by a similar plurality. The party has a strong organization, which is ready today for the election. I do not expect any trouble from the recent factional misunderstandings.

"Four years ago there were a great many Democrats who refused to accept the silver fallacy and expected that their party would ultimately turn from silver and follow their lead. The Democratic party has not done so and the gold Democrats, who have any hopes for political preferment, find that they must swallow free silver and Bryanism to get back into the ranks. For them any excuse will do and so they declare that imperialism is the paramount issue and that they will unite with their old party in fighting it. It's a poor excuse but it answers their purpose. The gold Democrats, who four years ago refused to support Bryan and his free silver platform from principle, will be just as much against him this year as they were at the last National election. There will be no Palmer and Buckner ticket on the field and they will either support McKinley outright or else stay at home."

Concerning the influence of the trust question on the farming population of Somerset, Senator Reed observed: "There have been a number of picnics in Hunterdon county to which many of the farmers of Somerset have gone. Some of the Populistic speakers have told what terrible things were going to happen from the growth of trusts and how the Republicans and trusts were hand in hand. As soon as the true standing of the Republican party on the question of trusts and their significance to the farmers is explained, I do not anticipate any reduction in the Republican vote in that section. The farmers are an intelligent class and can understand the state of affairs when it is explained to them."

The currency question, according to Senator Reed's ideas, would not be troublesome. The present period of prosperity seemed to settle that, he thought. Neither did he believe that the people of Somerset wanted to see the American flag ignominiously hauled down in the East.

After the State and Congressional conventions Senator Reed, as chairman of the county committee, will call a meeting of that body and arrangement will be made for the opening of the campaign there. A series of meetings will be planned and good speakers secured for them.

Boys are a Nuisance.

The attention of the marshals of the borough has again been called to the nuisance created by a gang of boys that congregate every Sunday on the bridge near the residence of Former Mayor J. F. Wilson on Green brook road. Next Sunday the marshals will see that the nuisance is stopped, even if the boys have to be arrested.

FOUGHT ABOUT A CHICK.

ITALIANS CARRY THEIR SCRAP INTO JUSTICE'S COURT.

Legal Complications Grow Out of the Case—Prosecutor Griggs Appealed to.

Several sons of Italy figured prominently in Justice Mattison's court last evening in a case of alleged assault, wherein a small and innocent chicken was said to have been the cause of all the trouble. For awhile it seemed as though Italy had been transferred to this court.

Salvatora Vambata was the complainant, and Joe Napoli, Salva Napoli and Lacy Napoli, brothers, were the defendants. All four Italians work for A. I. & N. B. Smalley at their stone quarry in the mountains. After much difficulty Justice Mattison was able to learn that the alleged trouble was supposed to have occurred last Wednesday night near the quarry in the mountains. The men discovered a small chicken tied to a clump of bushes in the woods, and it is believed that the brothers thought the plaintiff was guilty of the act. At any rate this formed the basis for a quarrel. In this scrap the plaintiff is alleged to have had his face cut twice and his eyes bruised.

Willie Sweeney was engaged to represent the plaintiff and last evening the hearing was held. The plaintiff was put on the stand and in his broken language the story was learned. The brothers insisted that there was no fight, as no one had been killed. They admitted that a scrap had taken place. The plaintiff testified that he was struck in the face and cut with the butt end of a revolver, and that the brothers had thrown strones at him and struck him with their fists. It was difficult to secure a great amount of evidence in the case owing to the inability of the Italians to talk intelligently, but Justice Mattison declared that there was an abundance of hold the brothers in default of bail, and as no one would furnish the bail the defendants were committed to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Immediately afterward the Smalley Bros, who employ the Italians, went before Justice Smalley, where they had Justice Mattison's decision set aside, and they entered into bond for the defendants' appearance before the Grand Jury. Constable Pangborn thereupon returned the commitment papers to Justice Mattison. This action is declared illegal by the latter, and Willie Sweeny communicated with Prosecutor Griggs this morning regarding the matter and was informed that Justice Smalley acted illegally. The plaintiff's counsel immediately had papers issued compelling Constable Pangborn to arrest the defendants and commit them to the county jail, where they can arrange for bail if anyone will give it. The law does not allow one Justice to interfere with the work of another Justice in this sort of a case, and Justice Mattison very naturally takes exception.

HORSE WAS IN A HURRY.

Steed Belonging to W. J. R. Thiers Made an Exciting Run and Wrecked the Carriage.

A horse belonging to W. J. R. Thiers, of Watchung avenue, was in a hurry to reach the stable yesterday afternoon and departed without its owner. After an exciting run from the club house of the Park Golf Club to the corner of Watchung and North avenues, the horse was caught by William Emery, of Scotch Plains.

Thiers went up to the golf course yesterday afternoon in his bicycle-wheeled runabout and left the horse tied to a post near the club house. A crowd of unemployed caddies frightened the animal and it broke its halter and dashed away down the hill. The frightened equine made the turn into Mountain avenue, wrecking one of the wheels, and then turned into Watchung avenue and started for home at a flying pace.

The trolley cars were assembled on the switch at North avenue and the runaway kept to the right of the road. The passengers hustled out of the way but William Emery managed to halt the animal and grab the horse's head. The horse was somewhat cut and the runabout was practically wrecked.

Storm Prevented Good Attendance.

Owing to the storm last evening the Christian Endeavor societies of the Park Avenue Baptist churches held no meetings last evening. At the former church thiee persons assembled and two at the latter.

May Call Special Meeting.

It is barely possible that Mayor Smalley may call a spacial meeting of the Borough Council before the next regular meeting to dispose of the question regarding the marshals.

MRS. LEVERIDGE DEAD.

SECOND STROKE OF APOPLEXY PROVED FATAL YESTERDAY.

She Had Been Married Over Fifty Years—An Exemplary Christian—Lived Here Five Years.

The death of Mrs. Cornelius Leveridge, as briefly recorded yesterday, occurred about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home on West Front street. Her many friends were deeply shocked to hear of it. Less than a year ago Mrs. Leveridge suffered a stroke of apoplexy while visiting at Westfield. It was several weeks before she recovered sufficiently to return home. Since then she enjoyed excellent health. The second stroke of apoplexy came yesterday and death followed very soon.

Mrs. Leveridge was born seventy years ago next month at Exeter, Eng., and fifty-one years ago September 24th next, she was married to Mr. Leveridge at her home in Quebec, Can. Soon afterward they came to New Jersey, and nearly all but five years of their married life was spent at Westfield and Cranford. It was about five years ago that they came to Plainfield and have resided here ever since on West Front street, between Plainfield avenue and Elmwood place. Mrs. Leveridge was an exemplary Christian.

When she and her husband first took up their residence in Westfield there was no organization of the M. E. church. Pending the formation of such a body she joined the M. E. church in this city. Later she united with the church at Westfield. A year ago the 24th of next month she and Mr. Leveridge celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and it was, indeed, an enjoyable and bright day in their lives.

Besides a husband, Mrs. Leveridge leaves a sister, Mrs. Miller, who has lived with her for the past twenty-five years.

The funeral services will be held next Monday. At 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon a short service will be held from the late residence on West Front street, and at 2 o'clock the service will be held from the M. E. church at Westfield. The interment will take place in the M. E. church cemetery at that place.

CAMP WILL NOT MOVE.

No Foundation for the Report That Fresh-Air Camp Will be Moved From Westfield.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Aug. 25.—The report that the Fresh-Air Camp, which has been located in this town for the past six years, was about to move to Plainfield, is without foundation.

Miss Sara Curry, the matron of the camp, was seen by a Press reporter, who, when told of the report being circulated, expressed much surprise and stated that the only cause for the camp moving would be the sale of the property which belonged to George E. Woolfe, of New York, the president of the association which conducts the camp. She had not heard of such a sale.

Arthur N. Pierson, the first vice-president of the association, was seen by a reporter and he, too, expressed himself as surprised that such a statement had been made. He stated that he did not know of any reason for the camp moving as it was well supported by the different church societies and that he did not think it would help the cause any to move to Plainfield or any other place.

WITNESS NOT THERE.

Trial of Three Girls Charged With Throwing Stones is Laid Over.

Amy Ammon and Julia and Eva Killoren, who are charged by Sebastian Miller with throwing stones and and apples at himself and wife and calling evil names, were to have had their trial in the city court this morning. Miller went forth in search of an interpreter as his English isn't of the most classical nature and forgot to return.

Lawyer William Newcorn represented the complaining witness while Attorney William G. DeMeza appeared for the prisoners. DeMeza wanted to go to trial at once, but Newcorn couldn't without his chief witness so the Mayor laid the case over until Wednesday morning.

On Good Authority.

A reliable medical journal makes the statement that the average amount of sickness in human life is ten days, and it is believed that at least one tenth of this is a consequence of inattention to care of the organs of sight. Why run the risk of incurring this extra penalty, when a timely visit to Collier's, 103 Park avenue, will fortify you against it?

LIVELY WEEK AT THE HOTEL NETHERWOOD

Over Two Hundred and Fifty Expected to Take Part in Benefit Hop This Evening.

MILITARY EUCHRE MONDAY.

CALICO HOP AND CORN ROAST FOR GUESTS WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Novel Kind of Progressive Affair Planned for Monday Evening—Young People are Taking Lively Interest in Calico Ball and Wonderful Costumes Promised.

Two hundred and fifty guests are expected at the subscription hop to be held at the Hotel Netherwood this evening. It promises to be one of the most successful events socially of any held at that popular hostelry this season. One chief cause for the liberal support is the fact that it is given by the guests of the hotel for the benefit of the Orpheus Club, which furnishes the music at the hotel daily. The young men in the club have been very obliging during their stay at the hotel and the guests have taken this means of showing their appreciation.

Next week will see two important happenings at the hotel. A "military euchre" has been arranged for Monday night. It is a subscription affair and arrangements have been made with a man from New York who will bring out the entire equipment necessary take charge of it. The "military euchre" is a novel kind of progressive euchre party. The couples are each placed at so-called "forts" and are instructed to attack certain other "forts." These attacks consist of a game of euchre. If the attacking party is successful it carries off the flags of the defeated defenders and then returns to its own fort to meet the attack of another who have turned invaders. The players who have captured the greatest number of flags when the affair is completed will receive the prizes. A number of handsome prizes have been provided for the play. There is quite a little apparatus used and the parlors will assume a picturesque appearance during this contest.

The second big event of the week for the guests at the Netherwood will be the calico ball and corn roast, which Mrs. Coleman is to give the guests Wednesday evening. The dance will come first and some startlingly wonderful costumes are assured. All the young people in the house have taken a decided interest in the affair and have promised to appear properly attired. After the dance will come the corn roast out on the lawn in the rear of the hotel. If it should happen to rain that night, the affair will be postponed to the first clear night.

The great crush at the Netherwood still continues. Major and Mrs. Coleman are at their wits' end to know where to put all the guests. They have even given up their own rooms to accomodate the host of people who have appeared and insisted that they be taken in whether there was room or not. A great stack of letters stands in the office and is made up of applications for rooms which are still waiting. The guests have overflowed the dining room and meals are now being served in the palm garden as well as in the regular dining room.

DRIVER NOT SEEN.

Several Brave Men Thought They Were Stopping a Runaway.

During one of the heavy downpours of rain last evening considerable excitement and consequent amusement was caused by what appeared to be a runaway horse dashing down West Front street, attached to a delivery wagon. As the animal passed Exchange alley a man sprang out in the pouring rain and seized the supposed runaway by the bridle. To his disgust the driver, who had taken shelter from the rain under the seat, poked his head out and commanded him to let go. The driver then retired under the seat again and the horse went on as before. When passing Music Hall another energetic man sprang out and for the second time the horse was stopped. Before the second man had returned to the sidewalk amid the gibes of the bystanders, a third man had met with the same fate as his predecessors. By that time the driver had become disgusted with the frequent stoppings and resolved to brave the storm. He accordingly resumed his proper seat where all the would-be runaway catchers could see him.

New Arc Light.

A new style arc light has been located at the head of Park avenue, on Front street, to replace the old one which refused to work. The new one is similar to the ones used at the North Avenue station.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

INTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference Press Readers

—Neuman Bros. will have plenty of peaches on sale Monday morning. Fine stock, low prices.

—The contract case of Howe against Willis will be tried before Justice Smalley next week Thursday.

—You will never find any other pills so prompt and so pleasant as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. L. W. Randolph.

—The steam roller has been repaired and is again running up and down Park avenue, completing the macadam work.

—The members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will resume their regular meetings the first of September.

—Several members of the G. A. R., of this city will start Sunday morning for Chicago, where they will attend the annual encampment to be held in that city.

—The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

—John Porter, who was employed by the city ever since the steam roller was purchased, but left the city's employ a month ago, has now accepted a position with Contractor C. M. Meeker, who is engaged in building the extension of the county road in the Passaic Valley from New Providence to Berkeley Heights. Porter has charge of the steam roller which is finishing up Meeker's job.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as L. W. Bandolph secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

OUT IN SECOND ROUND

Fitzsimmons Makes Quick Work With Sharkey.

BRIEF SPORT FOR SWELTERING CROWD

Betting Favored "Lanky Bob" Owing to His Recent Showing With Ruhlin—Whole Fight Lasted but Two Minutes and Six Seconds.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Whipped into insensibility in less than two rounds is the story in brief of Tom Sharkey's meeting with Bob Fitzsimmons at the Coney Island Sporting club last night. Fitzsimmons was the victor, Sharkey the loser. Fitzsimmons said all along that when the opportunity presented itself he would prove conclusively that he was Sharkey's superior and settle accounts for the injustice done him when he met Sharkey in California four years ago. Sharkey was equally confident that he would prove to be Fitzsimmons' master in the ring, but the result of last night's battle and the brevity of it proved that Fitzsimmons is still a great fighter and able to beat the best of the heavyweights. He has beaten Corbett, Ruhlin and Sharkey, and now it is up to Jeffries to give Bob a show to retrieve his lost championship laurels, which he lost to Jeffries 14 months ago in this same clubhouse. Fitzsimmons was a decided favorite in the betting owing to his showing with Ruhlin a short time ago.

His defeat of Ruhlin on that occasion and the previous victory of Ruhlin over Sharkey a few weeks earlier were figured on as showing that Fitzsimmons ought to whip the sailor on this occasion. When they met last night, both of them declared themselves to be in first class condition, and they certainly looked it. Fitzsimmons had taken on a few pounds in weight since his meeting with Ruhlin, but neither he nor Sharkey would tell what they actually weighed, but Sharkey looked to be about 20 pounds the heavier. When the men came together, Sharkey became the aggressor, rushing fiercely and swinging wildly. Fitzsimmons had no difficulty in sidestepping out of the way. Bob soon began feinting Sharkey into leads, and when the sailor tried his round arm blows he left himself open, of which Fitzsimmons was quick to take advantage, as he stepped inside and put powerful right and left smashes on the sailor's body and neck. He stabbed Sharkey with his left, making the sailor lose his temper. Then Sharkey rushed more wildly than before, missing most of the swings, while Fitzsimmons was getting to him with great force and using both hands.

At the close of the round Sharkey with a terrific left swing which landed on the shoulder and neck put Fitzsimmons down to the floor of the ring, and Tom fell over him in his mad rush. Tom regained his feet quickly, but the bell rang, with Fitzsimmons still on the floor. The spectators were cheering like wild men, and when Fitzsimmons got to his feet the men shaped to go for each other, evidently not having heard the bell amid the uproar. The referee rushed between them, sending them to their corners, and this is where Sharkey says he would have finished Fitzsimmons had he had ten seconds more. In the second round Sharkey, having gained confidence from his knocking Fitzsimmons down in the preceding round, went for his man as if to annihilate him, but Fitzsimmons, having the cooler head and better judgment, outgeneraled the younger man, who seemed to lose all control of himself in his frantic endeavors to land on Fitzsimmons. Fitzsimmons stepped in with a crushing right to the body and a ready left to the jaw, while the best Sharkey could do was to swing a left which landed in the middle of Fitzsimmons' back.

There was fearful force behind this blow, as Fitzsimmons said after the fight was over that he felt as if he had been hit with a pickax in the small of the back.

Fitzsimmons' coolness never forsook him, and he watched Sharkey's wild efforts with evident satisfaction, as the sailor was leaving himself very open. Fitzsimmons stepped into him and literally battered Sharkey down with right on the body and lefts and rights on the head. Sharkey took the count and came up groggy. He staggered back to the ropes with Fitzsimmons hot after him. Sharkey was then unable to protect himself, and Fitzsimmons sent that fearful right once more to the body, following it up with right and left to the body. Sharkey wabbled, but still had strength enough to keep on his feet. Fitzsimmons stepped in again with another right on the body, following twice with rights and lefts on the head and finished his work and the fight with a stinging left hook on the jaw, which sent Sharkey down and out.

It was a short but hard fight, in which Fitzsimmons proved his superiority, and it is just possible that another meeting with Jeffries will result in Fitzsimmons again winning the title of heavyweight championship of the world.

NO DIVISION OF CHINA

United States Will Oppose All Partition Schemes.

CONFERRING WITH OTHER POWERS.

Imperial Family, According to Late Dispatches, Is In Shensi Province. Prince Ching Still in Peking. A Noted General Dead.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The Chinese situation has developed little of importance. It is stated frankly by the officials in the state, war and navy departments that no dispatches have been received bearing on the problem which has yet to be solved—namely, the disposition of China's affairs at the hands of the powers. In the absence of other food for speculation the receipt of two casualty lists from General Chaffee, dated at Tien-tsin, are made the basis for a report that he and the American force had evacuated Peking. It is stated at the war department, however, that no advices have been received indicating that General Chaffee had left Peking, and it is said that he would have advised the war department and given his reasons for doing so had he contemplated such an important step.

A cabinet officer is authority for the statement that alleged differences among the powers brought on by the reported action of Russia have not disturbed this government in the least, and there is no information in possession of this government that Russia has declared war or that she is pursuing a course in any way different from that of other governments represented in China. It was also said that the statements regarding Russia had not received consideration at the meeting of the cabinet yesterday.

Regarding the attitude of this government in case serious differences among the powers should arise as to their future course in China it is stated on authority that this government remains opposed to any territorial division of China, as was plainly stated in Secretary Hay's note of July 3. Every resource of diplomacy will be exhausted to prevent partition of the empire, and it is said that the diversion of American troops to Manila, already announced by the war department, is practical evidence to the other powers of the good faith of the United States in this matter. Our work in China has been accomplished in large part by the relief of the legations, and our further obligation, that of aiding to restore and maintain peace, can be accomplished through the troops already on Chinese soil.

It is pointed out, however, that in view of the attitude already assumed by the United States and the large part it has had in opening the way to Peking, this government is in a position to demand commercial freedom in China as a minimum condition of the final settlement in the event of territorial division of the Chinese empire, should that be accomplished. The United States of course wants no territory, and it is felt that her rights as to commercial freedom are too clear to be gainsaid by the other nations interested.

After the cabinet meeting yesterday there was an extended conference at the White House, in which Secretary Root and Acting Secretary Adee participated. The conference related to Chinese affairs, and it was said to be confined largely to considering messages received from other powers on the subject and in drafting answers to them. The suggestion that the powers be asked to participate in a conference or to give some indication of future purposes in China was believed to be under consideration, and it was intimated that notes to the different powers have been prepared. Secretary Root said at the close of the conference that it related to matters which needed the consideration of the president and covered the wide field of Chinese affairs. He said that nothing had developed of a serious nature in the late reports from China. It was also stated that the United States government is in frequent communication with the other powers regarding the Chinese situation.

During the afternoon Acting Secretary Adee had a conference with the acting chief of the bureau of navigation, the nature of which was not made public.

Acting Secretary Adee made public the following dispatch from Consul Fowler, at Chefu, giving additional information bearing on events in Peking:

"Japanese report emperor and empress left Peking 14th, rested at Wau-shou-shan, supposed destination Tai-yuen-fu, Shensi. Prince Ching believed in Peking. Li Ping Heng died. Half population left."

Tai-yuen-fu, the supposed destination of the imperial family, is the capital of Shensi province and is a large city of probably several hundred thousand inhabitants. Scattered throughout various parts of China are temporary palaces, which the royal family occasionally occupy, and it is supposed one of these is located at Tai-yuen-fu.

THE TIEN-TSIN FIGHT.

American Troops Took a Hand In Defeating Boxers.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Five hundred American troops participated in a signal defeat of Boxers outside Tien-tsin Aug. 19. The fact is briefly reported from Vienna. Details of the engagement come from the Reuter agent at Tien-tsin in a dispatch dated Aug. 20. In addition to the Americans the force consisted of 375 British and 200 Japanese, all under the British general Dorward. The fight took place at a village six miles southwest of Tien-tsin, where the allied forces found a considerable number of Boxers, whom they engaged, killing over 300 and taking 64 wounded prisoners, who were sent to the hospitals of the allies. The village was burned. The Americans had five wounded, the Japanese six and the British none. Hundreds of Boxers' flags, spears and swords were captured.

From Shanghai comes a report, qualified by the assertion that it is from purely Chinese sources, that the empress dowager, after proceeding one day's journey from Peking, became terrified at the looting by General Tung Fuh Siang's troops and went back to Peking.

A Chinese telegram from Tsinan-fu says that Prince Tuan has been captured by a detachment of the allies. Other Chinese messages record the formation of a provisional government in Peking by the allies, but this appears to be a purely military measure and merely an elaboration of the scheme for dividing the city into sections for police purposes.

The Peking correspondent of The Times, wiring last Saturday, says:

"Peking is now entirely under foreign control. Looting is proceeding systematically. The French and Russian flags are flying over the best portion of the imperial domain, where it is believed the imperial treasure is buried.

"The forbidden city is respected by international agreement, although any punishment will be ineffective unless it is occupied.

"The Japanese have seized a hoard amounting to 500,000 taels, silver.

"The dowager empress, the emperor, Prince Tuan and all the high officers escaped to Tai-yuen-fu, in the province of Shensi, from which point they proceeded to Sian-fu. There is no governor."

At the Gates of the Forbidden City.

PEKING, Aug. 17, via Chefu, Aug. 23.—The Japanese command the gates of the forbidden city and are awaiting instructions as to whether to hold them in possession or destroy them. Prince Tuan, leader of the insurrection, is reported to have been seen here, and a diligent search is being made for him. Chinese cavalry are operating in squares near Tung-chow, and a squadron of Sikhs and American cavalry has been sent in pursuit of them. It is believed that the dowager empress has established her court at Sian-fu, the ancient capital.

Encamped on Sacred Ground.

PEKING, Aug. 17, via Chefu, Aug. 25.—After temporarily withdrawing from the entrances to the forbidden city the United States troops are now encamped within the ground reserved for the Temple of Heaven. There is considerable disorder in the city. Captain Reilly's body has been interred with military honors in the American concession close to the American consulate.

STATUTORY REVISION.

A Proposition to Change the Entire Court Practice In New York.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 25.—Assemblyman A. J. Rodenbeck of this city has finished his preliminary report to the joint committee on statutory revisions of the legislature on the revision of the statutes, including the general laws and codes. The report recommends the continuation of the work begun by the committee as regard the revision of the general laws, but he proposes to go to original sources for his revision, in pursuance of which the committee now at work in this city is engaged in looking through the session laws from the first one ever passed in this state up to the present.

As to code revision Mr. Rodenbeck proposes to change the entire practice in the different courts of the state. He would have the rules of the different courts made by the people and not by the judges, so that all may be as nearly as possible the same. The revision of the general laws, he says, must be completed substantially along the lines outlined by the statutory revision commission. It is too late now to do otherwise. The general laws must be brought down to date and remain in special legislation-codified.

Silas M. Giddings Dead.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Silas M. Giddings, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Brooklyn, is dead at his home in that city of heart failure. He was born at Seneca Falls, N. Y., 68 years ago and came to Brooklyn when 9 years of age. He first engaged in the manufacture of artificial flowers and later became a member of the firm of Oxley & Giddings, manufacturers of gas fittings, from which he retired in 1894. He was the oldest member of the Y. M. C. A. For years he was the president of the Brooklyn Sunday School union and was well known in Sunday school and church work in the state.

Bryan Asks $500 an Hour.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 25.—Manager Parker of the Fountain Park assembly was very anxious ten days ago to secure Mr. Bryan for an hour's lecture upon current politics, and after consulting with the board of directors a letter was addressed to the Democratic candidate outlining the work of the assembly and entering particularly into its hopes for the future. An offer was made of $200 to Mr. Bryan if he would deliver an hour's address. There was much disappointment when the reply came stating that he did not lecture for less than $500 an hour.

Three Crushed to Death.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Aug. 25.—Three unknown Hungarians were crushed to death by a cave in of hundreds of tons of rock and earth in Sugar Camp Mine No. 4 of the Lehigh Valley Coal company near Snowshoe. The men were removing pillars preparatory to abandoning the mine. A rescue party after working all day had failed to recover the bodies.

Boy Killed by Lightning.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25.—Charles Geiger, aged 16 years, son of Rev. Mr. Geiger of Uniontown, while fishing in the Susquehanna river was struck by lightning and killed instantly. Geiger's clothing was torn from his body, and he was thrown out of the boat into the stream. His body was recovered.

Suspected Anarchist Arrested.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—According to a special dispatch from Rome, William Himberg of New York, alleged to be an anarchist, has been arrested there. Compromising documents were found on his person, and it is suspected that he was an accomplice of Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert.

Cuban Flag to Go Up.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Aug. 25.—It is indicative of the policy of the United States government that the Cuban flag will be hoisted today with elaborate ceremony over the palace in Santiago. It will float there for the first time since General Shafter ordered it hauled down in 1898.

Germans Buy Timber Land.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 25.—A German syndicate has just completed a deal whereby it secures all the timber on a large strip of land in the mountains in eastern Kentucky. It is estimated that the strip contains about 800,000 of the finest specimens of oak trees.

Statue of Apollo Found.

ATHENS, Aug. 25.—A magnificent marble statue of Apollo, life size, has been discovered in this vicinity. Its workmanship is of the fifth century B. C., and it is believed to be the first in existence. Archæologists are delighted at this important discovery.

Virchow's Golden Wedding.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Professor Rudolphe Virchow, the distinguished pathologist, yesterday quietly celebrated his golden wedding, receiving numerous congratulations.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS.

No Backward Movement—Brisk Market For Farm Products.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

The sky is not cloudless, but there has been no backward movement of business this week. Successful operations of the allied forces in China encourage foreign money markets, while they also suggest to our manufacturers the possible early reopening of eastern markets for goods. England's campaign in South Africa is losing its interest even among speculators. The marketing of domestic farm products is on a large scale. The chief drawback of the week has been the intense heat in some sections of the west, which was more efficient in retarding business than the lower temperature east was in stimulating it. Crop advices continue as cheerful as at any time lately, and the labor situation shows no important changes in working forces. Prices are steady, but there is talk of a decline, perhaps $10 per ton in steel rails shortly to a basis at which it is believed the railroads will be willing to place orders for the ensuing year's supplies.

Wheat declined still further on Saturday, touching the lowest price since early in June, and making the fall 15⅝ cents from the top point of the season about two months ago. Vigorous marketing by farmers shows their willingness to sell at current prices, receipts at primary markets during three weeks amounting to 19,999,960 bushels, against 10,633,051 last year. Daily figures of exports continue light, although there is much talk of purchases for foreign account. Prices recovered from the lowest point, traders on the short side taking profits freely. Corn is steady, but a drop last year makes the present price only 4 cents above that of 1899. Sales of wool at the three chief eastern markets have increased to 5,062,500 pounds, against 4,231,800 in the previous week. Texas wool was active in Boston, and territory grades are all firmly held, though prices are nominally unchanged. There is no pressure to sell, some dealers shipping east with definite instructions to hold until after election.

Factories are still working only part time in the eastern boot and shoe districts, and it is evident that earlier estimates of accumulated stocks were much too small.

Failures for the week were 171 in the United States against 163 last year, and 29 in Canada against 16 last year.

BIG GUN TESTED.

Inventor Claims For It a Range of Fifteen Miles.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Aug. 25.—In the presence of Lieutenant General Miles, General Wilson, General Buffington and other army officials the new 18 inch Gathaman torpedo gun, the largest ever built in this country, was tested yesterday at the Bethlehem Steel works to determine the velocity of the shot and the strength of the gun and proved a gratifying success. The government made an appropriation of $65,000 for the experiment and demanded that ten shots be fired, the tests to show a pressure of 18,000 pounds per inch and a velocity of 18,000 feet to the second. Solid shots weighing a ton were fired.

After two preliminary shots the third was fired with a charge of 300 pounds of powder and showed a pressure of 19,045 pounds and 1,896 feet velocity, while the fourth shot with the same charge recorded a pressure of 19,350 pounds and a velocity of 1,901 feet. The remaining six shots will be fired next week.

The gun is intended for coast defense. The inventor claims that it will throw a shell 15 miles. Gun cotton will be used in the charges. The gun is 44 feet long and weighs 59 tons. General Miles after the test said he was satisfied with the result.

Grievances of Mosquito Delegates.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 25.—The Mosquito Coast delegates who recently arrived here to lay the grievances of the Mosquito reserve before the captain general and governor in chief of Jamaica were received by Sir Augustus Hemming. They assert that the Nicaraguans deny them the franchise, close their schools and outrage their wives and daughters. Unless Great Britain acts in the matter the natives will appeal, so the delegates declare, to the United States for help and protection.

Severe Storm In Michigan.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 25.—The worst electrical storm of years struck here yesterday. The steeple of the Lutheran church was splintered by lightning, and ten barns a few miles south of here containing the season's harvest of grain were also struck and, it is reported, were burned to the ground. A huge wave, like that which recently visited Chicago, advanced ten feet up the shore, washing away a number of small boats and thousands of feet of lumber.

Tornado at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25.—A small tornado, accompanied by heavy rain and fierce lightning, struck this city yesterday and did considerable damage in a small way. The south wall of the Fuller & Warren Stove works was blown down. About 100 men were at work in the shop, but none was seriously injured.

Youtsey Very Ill.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

Miss Palmer, of Plainfield avenue, has returned from her summer vacation.

Miss Virginia Negus, of this city, has been visiting friends in Somerville.

Mrs. Thomas Stevens, of Watchung avenue, is visiting friends in Hunterdon county.

Mrs. Dundon, of Brooklyn, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Clark, of Somerset place.

Charles Hall, the Watchung avenue druggist, will spend tomorrow at Fishkill on-the-Hudson.

Francis Whiteley, of Steiner place, is greatly improved from a severe attack of rheumatism.

Miss Alice Higgins, of West Front street, leaves today for a week's vacation at Asbury Park.

Mrs. Lafayette Rosentheil, of the borough, has returned from a stay with relatives in the country.

The Misses Palmer, of Brooklyn, are visiting their cousin, Miss Netting Beeching, of Washingtonville.

The infant daughter of Edward Vail, of Elmwood place, has about recovered from a recent severe illness.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Randolph, of West Second street, returned today after spending a few days at Newport, R. I.

George M. MacIntyre and family, of Elm place, went to Asbury Park today, where they will remain for a week.

Mrs. L. E. Cole, of West Front street, who has been summering at Asbury Park, is expected home next week.

Samuel Terry, Sr., of East Third street, who has been seriously ill with paralysis, is now able to take short walks.

Frank Leivers, of Jefferson avenue, has resigned his position with the Pond Tool Works on account of ill health.

Miss Inez Covey, of Minneapolis, who has been visiting friends at Poughkeepsie, is again the guest of Miss Ella Whitall, of East Fifth street.

Lewis Henry, of West Fourth street, has made arrangements to entertain a number of friends at a clambake tomorrow. The affair will probably take place at Boynton Beach.

Samuel Wallace, of Grove street, who came home from Baltimore a few days ago quite ill, is slightly improved. Dr. Adams, his phsician, at first thought he had typhoid fever, but fortunately it does not appear to be that.

Stephen Hope, the janitor of the Bryant School, has changed the programme for his vacation, and instead of going to Milford today, he will go to Washington, Warren county, for a week. After that he will spend a few days in Jersey City.

—In India, the land of famine, thousands die because they cannot obtain food. In America, the land of plenty, many suffer and die because they cannot digest the food they eat. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures all stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Ritie Lane, of this city, has been visiting her brother, C. C. Lane, at Centreville.

Mrs. Hedden and daughter, of this city, are visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Craig, in Centreville.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Ada VanDoren, of this city, is visiting Miss Florence Hall, of Somerville.

Rev. Asa Reed Dilts, formerly pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, but now of Lowell, Mass., is visiting his parents at Somerville. Tomorrow he will preach in the Baptist church at that place.

BOERS PROTEST.

Baden-Powell Rescues British Prisoners and Captures Boers.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Dr. Leyds and the Boer envoys have sent from St. Petersburg to Lord Salisbury a strong protest against the latest proclamations of Lord Roberts, maintaining that they violate every sense of right and all the principles of international law.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria, Aug. 23:

"Baden-Powell has had an engagement at Warmbath (Warmbad, north of the Pienaars river?), during which he rescued 100 British prisoners and captured 25 Boers, including two foreign officers. Buller's casualties on Aug. 23 were 7 killed and 2 officers and 20 men wounded and 5 missing. Buller reports that Kitchener has repulsed a considerable force of Boers who held a position in the Komati valley. The British had eight casualties."

A special dispatch from Pretoria says that Lieutenant Cordua was shot Friday afternoon.

General Baden-Powell, according to a dispatch to The Standard from Pretoria, dated Aug. 23, headed off General De Wet, preventing his junction with the main body of the enemy. De Wet abandoned his transport and took to the hills, his commando dispersing, some trekking south.

Lord Kitchener has returned to Pretoria.

SPEEDY JUSTICE FOR PECK.

Akron's Negro Criminal Sentenced and Imprisoned In an Afternoon.

AKRON, O., Aug. 25.—A train from Cleveland carrying the negro Peck arrived here at 3:30 p. m. yesterday. A carriage was waiting at the railway station, and Peck was quickly bundled into it. In three minutes the courthouse was reached, and Peck was arraigned before Judge Nye. The indictment was read. Peck stood up and pleaded guilty. He declared he had nothing to say except that he threw himself on the mercy of the court. The court then sentenced Peck to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary.

Troops were on guard at the railway station and along the route to the courthouse. There was no demonstration whatever.

After Peck had been sentenced he was at once taken in a closed carriage to the Center street crossing of the Cleveland, Akron and Columbus railway and placed on board the train in charge of Sheriff Kelly and taken on to the state penitentiary at Columbus.

So quickly and quietly was Peck brought into the city, sentenced and sent on to Columbus that but very few people knew what had transpired.

Japanese Steamer Wrecked.

MANILA, Aug. 25.—The Japanese liner Futami Maru, Captain Thom, bound from Australia to Manila with a cargo of stores for the American government, went aground and broke in two on the island of Mindanao. The passengers and crew camped for six days on the island. They are now being brought to Manila by the British steamer Australian, Captain Kock, the officers of the luckless liner remaining behind. There were no casualties, but the cargo, baggage and vessel will probably prove a total loss.

Insects Cause an Eclipse.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Thousands of immense dragon flies, night hawks and insects, large and small, classified and unclassified, caused a total eclipse of the sun at Austin shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and frightened women and children. The darkness lasted for more than half an hour, and then almost as suddenly as they came, the clouds of insects, following the course of a stiff wind that sprang up, disappeared in the distance.

Cattlemen May Hear Roosevelt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The Cattlemen's association, which is to have a convention and a reunion at Miles City, Mon., can have Governor Roosevelt with them, as they desire, if they change the date of the convention so as to concur with the time fixed for Governor Roosevelt's trip through the state. Senator Hanna made this concession at the governor's request, and Senator Scott has written west to that effect.

LOSS OF LIFE AT NOME

Terrific Storm Strews Coast With Wreckage.

MANY BODIES WASHED ASHORE.

Shipping Suffers Almost Total Destruction—Terrible Plight of Eskimos—A Relief Expedition Sent to Them.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—A Seattle (Wash.) special to The Bulletin says a terrific storm raged at Nome Aug. 7. There was a heavy loss of life. The water front is lined with wreckage and stranded vessels of all descriptions. Out of 68 steam launches it is reported only five remained afloat, and of 72 barges all but seven drifted ashore. Twenty dead bodies were washed ashore and taken to the morgue for identification. Five dead bodies were washed ashore at Topkuk, three miles north of Nome, the mouth of the Nome river, and eight in front of Nome camp, three 12 miles below Bluff City and two below Topkuk.

The pesthouse on an island was destroyed by fire on Aug. 9. Three patients were removed safely.

A tale of disease, death and suffering among the Eskimos almost beggaring description is told by Guy H. Stockslager, who has been directing a relief expedition sent out by the government. Stockslager has returned from York and reports the natives dying by wholesale, dozens of dead bodies lying around unburied.

At Teller City the sick natives killed the medicine man of the tribe in the vain hope that the act would appease the evil spirit. Thirteen deaths were reported at Teller City in one day.

Race Troubles In Texas.

CENTER, Tex., Aug. 25.—Serious trouble is threatened between the whites and blacks in Sabine county. A messenger arrived here from Sexton with a report that trouble was expected and requested assistance from Center. Six men left at once for Sexton, and others went there later. The trouble grew out of a letter written by a negro making known a plot to kill Sheriff William Polley, Daniel Davis, James Ingram and several other citizens. A negro who received the letter took it to Sheriff Polley to read for him. He was arrested on the spot, and the sheriff took a posse with him and arrested 13 other negroes. An examination is being held at Sexton. Many of the negroes are openly making threats, and the number of white men is being constantly augmented by arrivals from nearby towns. Sexton is 15 miles from a telegraph or telephone station.

Kind Offer From Japan.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The state department is in receipt of a dispatch from the consul of the United States at Osaka and Hiogo (Kobe), Japan, dated July 5, accompanied by a translation of a note from his excellency the governor of Hiogo province, acting as chief commissioner of the Japanese Red Cross society, stating that owing to the disturbances in China should any wounded American soldiers or any sick or wounded refugees arrive at Hiogo or be passing through that city the Japanese Red Cross society would have pleasure in rendering them every possible aid. The governor requested to be informed of any such cases coming to the attention of the consul.

Close Call For Suspected Robber.

CANTON, Pa., Aug. 25.—William Leonard, a farmhand employed near here, narrowly escaped lynching on Wednesday night at the hands of a crowd of masked men. Leonard was suspected of having robbed Mrs. William Spencer, a widow, of $135, and after a rope had been tied around his neck and thrown over the limb of a tree and he had been jerked into the air four times in an effort to extort a confession from him he was notified to leave the state and was told if he was ever found in Bradford county again he would be killed. The robbery was committed two weeks ago.

Negro Labor Scarce.

ATLANTA, Aug. 25.—Secretary of State Cook has received a number of letters from south Georgia during the past week from the farmers in that section reporting negro labor very scarce. Cotton is opening rapidly, and few negroes can be found to pick it even at 50 cents per 100 pounds. The cotton crop will be much shorter than reported unless labor can be found to pick it. The negroes have left the farms and gone to work for the railroads, lumber camps and turpentine farms. There they get better wages than the farmers are able to pay, and nothing will induce them to return.

Mosquito Bites May Prove Fatal.

NASHVILLE, Ills., Aug. 25.—With features distorted and hands and arms swollen and scarred, Andrew Schlake, a farmer, living north of this city, was found wandering about in the swamps along the Okaw river. Myriads of mosquitoes hovered over him and covered his face and body. Schlake was taken home by friends, and it was found that he was suffering from thousands of bites. Schlake had become lost while hunting and had fought the mosquitoes all night. His case is considered serious.

Chance For Americans In Siam.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Minister King, at Bangkok, informed the state department that he succeeded in securing an open tender for American manufacturers in the construction of the Petchaburee railroad by the Siamese government. Bids for the construction of a plant for the manufacture of ammunition in that country were opened to American competition in March, and a bid was asked from the United States on 20,000 rifles and 10,000,000 cartridges.

Inspecting German Army.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—General William Ludlow of the United States army has nearly finished his investigations here. He said that he had investigated the general staff, the ministry of war, the war academy, the infantry sharpshooting school, a school for noncommissioned officers, a cadet school and also a number of barracks. All the requests he has made thus far have been cheerfully rendered by the German government.

German Prize For Yale Man.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Charles Upson Clark of Yale university has been awarded a prize of 1,500 marks by the Berlin academy for preparing an edition of Marcellinus Ammianus, the Roman historian of the fourth century.

COMING EVENTS.

August 26—A. F. Irvine, of New Haven, Conn., will address the Y. M. C. A. meeting at 4:15 p. m. Good music.

It Will Madden Democrats.

City Comptroller Cariton, of Elizabeth, who was a McKinley supporter in 1896, says in an interview that he has not changed his political opinion during the past four years and that he shall vote for the Republican candidates the same as he did before. This utterance from Mr. Cariton will undoubtedly madden the Democrats of the city of Elizabeth inasmuch as the former has just been reappointed to his $2,000 a year city berth by the votes of Democratic members of the City Council.

It is a question, however, whether the Democrats will be as piqued at Mr. Cariton himself, whom they expected to take this attitude in the campaign, as they will be indignant at the Democratic officials whose votes elected him to the city office. Although once a Democrat, Mr. Cariton has gradually drifted into the Republican ranks and is now regarded as a full-fledged member of the G. O. P. When his name came before the City Council for reappointment as Comptroller several of the Democratic members vigorously opposed favorable action, but they lost their point by some of their political colleagues voting for him.

From a strict party-stand-point such action was odious with a great many Democrats, and now that Mr. Cariton has boldly and unquestionably proclaimed his antagonism to Democratic candidates and principles, after having been favored a few weeks ago by Democratic votes, that unpopularity will undoubtedly become hostility on the part of many towards those Democratic officials who voted in favor of the Comptroller.

Under the State Constitution William M. Johnson, of Hackensack, who was Thursday sworn in as First Assistant Postmaster-General, is no longer representing Bergen County as Senator. The Senatorial office was vacated by his acceptance of the Federal office, and his acceptance was his act of taking the oath of office. The Constitution requires no notice to the Governor or resignation from the Senatorship. To fill the vacancy it will be necessary to hold a Senatorial election in Bergen county in November.

Morocco has the smallest navy in the world. It consists of just one vessel—the Hassani. Until recently the peculiar feature of this war ship was that it had no guns; but the Sultan, Abdul Aziz, has now purchased at Cadiz four of the lightest pieces of ordnance left to Spain by the United States at the close of the war, and has them mounted. He is thoroughly satisfied that in the event of a war with any of the powers the "reorganized" navy will be able to sweep the seas.

Some newspapers have hinted that Senator Johnson was appointed First Assistant Postmaster-General to take him out of the Governorship contest. "Freeholder," the New Jersey editorial writer for the New York Press, rises to explain "there isn't any contest, nor has there been. Franklin Murphy is and has been the only one in it, and if the convention were held today he would be nominated unanimously."

At the meeting of the Republican State League in Jersey City September 13th a president, a vice-president from each Congress district and an executive committee, consisting of one member from each of the twenty-one counties in New Jersey, will be elected. Each regular organized club will be entited to five delegates, in addition to its president, and five alternates.

The New York Press observes that "with the Red Shirts, in North Carolina, in front of him, the White Shields, of Alabama, in rear of him and the locusts of the New York police force all over him Scipio Africanus is having no picnic these dog days."

Congressman Dolliver, who is to speak in this city September 13th, is scheduled to deliver two other campaign speeches in New Jersey, but the time and places for them have not yet been fixed.

General William J. Sewell will be asked to preside at the State convention to be held in Trenton September 6th.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

The Democrats of Somerset county are talking of nominating Peter Hall, of Neshanic, for the Assembly, but at present he is not inclined to consider the matter seriously. His friends intimate that he will think better of it later. It is expected that Edward Everett Cooper will be renominated by the Republicans, although he has already served two terms in the Assembly. He was elected last year by a plurality of 1,432 over DuFour, his Democratic opponent, of whom it is said that he is out of politics for the present.—New York Tribune.

Patrons of the Brunswick Traction Company have long importuned that corporation to sell them six tickets for a quarter, as the Trenton trolley company does, but it has been deaf to their appeals. The New Brunswick Common Council could doubtless improve the company's hearing if it would address to it the same arguments as were used by the Trenton Aldermen. The latter simply put the screws on as to paving, taxing and a few things like that, and the logic was immediately convincing. Nor has the company ever regretted the concession, for it has been found that the patronage has increased far more than enough to compensate for the reduction in the fares. The New Brunswick company would doubtless have the same experience, but it will never believe it until the screws are applied. —"Trenton" in New York Herald.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

From the point of view of most people, crushed stone is crushed stone and there is only one kind which is used in the macadamizing of the city streets. Those who have much to do with the construction of roads in this part of the State know that there is a vast difference in the quality of the stone used on the roads and also in the manner in which it is crushed. One of the great troubles with a large quantity of the crushed stone is that it is broken into small slabs rather than into cubical blocks. It is the latter kind which is most desired. The thin flat stones are almost certain to work their way loose as first one end then the other feels the weight of some passing heavy vehicle. This kind of stone often make lots of trouble in macadam roads and is responsible for many of the holes and soft places in the roadways.

LITERARY.

The September number of McClure's Magazine will contain an elaborately illustrated article by Samuel Hopkins Adams on "The Training of Lions, Tigers and Other Great Cats." The drawings, by Charles R. Knight, of the American Museum of Natural History, because of the article's technical skill and scientific knowledge, are doubtless the most startling and life-like portraits of lions that have appeared in any magazine for some time. The author relates several capital anecdotes of hairbreadth escapes of trainers from death.

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries appropriate to the season, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused be catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, Aug. 25—A valuable buildog belonging to M. W. Casterline became aggressive yesterday and sprang into the hog pen and seized one of the porkers by the throat. The shrill cries of the latter brought Mr. Casterline to the scene, but the dog refused to release its hold at his command. He then secured a club, but a few knocks were not sufficient to quiet the aggressor, and it became necessary to kill the canine. The pig's throat was badly lacerated by the dog's teeth.

Work will soon be commenced on the storm sewer which is to be built on Main street from A. G. Nelson's store to Lake street. The pipes were placed on the ground yesterday. The expense of the sewer will be borne jointly by the county and property owners.

Hamburg. Die „Hamburg-Amerika-Linie" bildet in Folge eines Uebereinkommens mit dem Hamburger Senat eine Arbeiterkolonie und errichtet Wohnhäuser in Kuxhaven, während der Senat dort für die Linie neue Docks von außerordentlichen Dimensionen baut. Die Totalkosten für die Docks werden 3,000,000 Mark betrügen. Sobald die Bauten vollendet sind, werden die Dampfer der Linie von Kuxhaven abfahren und dort ankommen.—Der an der Beulenpest erkrankte Steward Rauhut, der im Krankenhaus zu Eppendorf bei Hamburg isolirt war, ist gestorben. Alle übrigen in Quarantäne befindlichen Personen, insgesammt 71, befinden sich wohl.

Bremen. Um sich Provisionsvorschüsse von Generalagenturen zu verschaffen, denen er seine Dienste als Acquisiteur angeboten hatte, ersuchte der Agent Heinrich Emil Rochau seine zahlreichen Freunde und Bekannten, ihm die Gefälligkeit zu erzeigen, Anträge auf Lebensversicherungen über 10,000 Mark, 5000 Mark, 3000 Mark u. s. w. zu unterzeichnen. Diese Anträge übergab er dann als wirkliche Versicherungsanträge und bat um Vorschüsse von 15 bis 25 Mark. Mehrere Generalagenten waren vorsichtig genug, erst Ermittelungen anzustellen, bei ihnen erschien Rochau dann nicht wieder, mehrere sind aber bis zu 70 Mark geschädigt. Der Betrüger erhielt fünf Monate Gefängniß.

Oldenburg.

Nordenham. Auf dem hiesigen Stahlwerke waren verschiedene Arbeiter mit dem Einrammen von Pfählen durch Dampfhammer beschäftigt. Plötzlich gerieth der Zimmermann Arnold aus Geestemünde unter den 1200 Kilogramm schweren Rammblock. Arnold war auf der Stelle todt.

Die Festungsumwallung (Enceinte) zwischen Rhein- und Mombacherthor, welche die Militärbehörde zum Verkauf gestellt hat, wird jetzt durchbrochen. Es wird an dieser Stelle eine neue Kavallerie-Kaserne erbaut. Die Verhandlungen mit der Stadt wegen Erwerbung der ganzen nordwestlichen Umwallung sind noch in der Schwebe.

Offenbach. Großer Schaden wurde hier durch ein Unwetter verursacht. Das schwimmende Bootshaus des Offenbacher Ruderklubs wurde vollständig zertrümmert. Dabei wurden auch die zehn Rennboote des Klubs zerstört. Der Verlust beträgt ungefähr 6000 Mark. Der Schaden an Feldern, Baumpflanzungen u. s. w. ist außerordentlich groß.

NEW MILLINERY.

Henriette Rousseau Tells Us What the New Fall Hats Are to Be Like.

These are busy times among the big importing houses and manufacturers, and it takes an active person to get around and see the things as fast as they are received. But one may revel in such a profusion of color and beauty of fabric and grace of form in the made up things that one is paid for the fatigue.

Just now the new hats and bonnets and millinery goods in general occupy much of the attention. Along the first days in September the first openings are held, and these are where one sees the first of the new styles, but by the courtesy of some of the importers and large manufacturers I have been favored with a view of all the new things.

There are felt hats for everyday wear, mostly in the shape where the back of the brim is turned up, and the front is straight. This gives a foundation for the most surprising bunches of trimming and fancy made feathers.

THE NEW FALL HATS.

These are for the most part of the inner wing feathers of our commonest fowls, with some of the burnished outer ones, all arranged so they resemble other birds. Some of the brightest of the colored plumes from the necks and tails of the pretty little bantams are employed in making the cashmere and Persian effects in some of the turbans and also the long amazons.

These are made so that they resemble the shape of the most expensive ostrich plumes, and the ends are exceptionally rich and full. They are to be mingled with the new craped silks, which are known as drap de nippur. This has the craped design across the stuff, and when it is made into trimming the material is cut bias, and more pretty fancies are developed with this than I can remember of ever seeing in anything else. It comes in every color and tint in the colors of the season, and these are many, so many that no one could tell of them all. But the most effective of them are the drab, light brown and the white and cream. All of the others are handsome, but these are particularly fine in these shades. Rosettes, flowers and no end of rich folds and twists are made of these goods, and draperies are seen on fully half the millinery all made of this. It seems to be as well adapted for twisting around the crowns of the everyday felts as for the dainty and delicate evening bonnet.

Besides this there is polka dotted velvet and crape; also surah. One specialty in the new millinery is the quantity of felt to be used as trimming. This is cut into strips and braided in with satin straw or in some cases with chenille in a shade or two darker or of contrasting color. This is very rich. The braid thus made is about an inch or a little more in width. It is used to border wide strips of felt cut like ribbon and used as such to trim the hats.

All bows and loops and draperies are very wide. There was a piece of drab felt about ten inches wide, and this was bordered with narrow bands of beaver fur. Others in black have bindings of astrakhan, and other close furs are used. Braided tam crowns with band trimming will be a feature for young ladies. The great mob cap shapes are more exaggerated than ever, even in the old days. The crown pieces are embroidered in gold thread and beaded; also covered with spangles.

The newest trimming ribbon is at least 18 inches wide and has a luster entirely novel. It is obtained by weaving two distinct shades of the same color in it. This is then woven somewhat like surah, but it has the crisp sheen of taffeta, while it is much softer and more pleasing when draped and crushed. One piece in coral pink and garnet was rich, and one blue, where mazarin and cadet or Yale were the shades, was very handsome.

The old cheney ribbons are revived in such quality and degree of art in design as to make one understand how Beecher used to buy pieces just to look at. All the trimming ribbons are unusually wide. Black and white striped ribbon in quite a variety is seen, but not so wide, as they are designed more for trimming dresses than millinery.

Of flowers there are none for millinery purposes whatever and no fruit, but there are some things made of feathers and of silk and crape with chenille, which is, by the way, to be used to a greater extent than ever as combinations in trimming, and these things are supposed to represent flowers, and they are six and eight inches in diameter, and they all have a frosting of some kind along each edge. Brown and blue roses and all sorts of colors to represent overgrown hollyhocks are seen. These will be used mostly as pompons to fill in the front of the hats. There are many English walking hats, and these have a drapery of crape or some one of the velvets, and panne and miroir are among them.

A little eight year old living in Brooklyn, N. Y., has had excruciating spells of indigestion. He looked scrawny and was so generally miserable that his mother said Eddie had rather go hungry than not because his food distressed him so. She had tried so many remedies without avail that she had become about discouraged, but the remarkable change wrought in a little playmate of his by the use of Ripans Tabules finally induced her to give them to her son. Three times a day for several weeks he took half a Tabule. "Did you ever see such a changed boy?" was the exclamation of his mother recently to a friend who had not seen him for two months. "His peevishness and the other miserable symptoms have been effectually routed by the Tabules. It seems almost like a miracle to me," she continued, "to see him eat his food on such good terms. There is now no catering to his capricious appetite and that alone makes my life much easier." Ripans Tabules have taken up a permanent residence in the medicine closet of that family.

Semi-Newsy Items of Interest Gathered From Foreign Correspondents

Opportunities for Mining in Siberia.

Mining of all kinds in Siberia has hitherto been beset with so many difficulties as to discourage operators, native or foreign. The concession to an American—D. M. Clarkson—to mine for gold or coal on his own account, without the usual adjunct of a Russian partner, seems to point to a more liberal policy. Still, there are restrictions. Mr. Clarkson and Mr. Emery, the latter the pioneer American merchant in Siberia—who has also been granted special privilege by imperial rescript—cannot enter into combination with any existing company nor operate any but new claims, and even then work must be done under disadvantages which would be hardly tolerable to ordinary American prospectors. For example, one must have special permits from local authorities for felling trees and constructing roads, and there are certain rules to be followed when minerals other than those specified in the grant—as copper, iron, etc.—are found.

The mineral wealth of this region has been for years practically untouched. Chinese have worked the auriferous sand on a small scale, and even now they are thrashing over the old material with minimum success. The complaint has been that there was no capital to develop the mineral deposits; yet, within four years, Belgian, English, French and American experts have visited Siberia, examined the various districts, and advised the formation of companies for the exploitation of mines; but prudent foreign companies withheld the capital, mainly because of the governmental restrictions.

Good specimens of coal, anthracite and bituminous, are shown. There are excellent auriferous exhibits, and much small capital has been exhausted in simply discovering that there is mineral wealth. There is one coal mine at Nadishinsk, about 50 kilometers (31 miles) from Vladivostock, and only 20 kilometers (12.4 miles) from the Ussuri railroad. The extent of this coal bed is 16 square kilometers (6.1 square miles), and it is semi-anthracite, excellent quality, smokeless. It has attracted the attention of the naval bureau as available for battleships, and also for the naval works and factories here. When a French company tried to buy this mine and offered 750,000 francs ($144,750), 150,000 francs ($28,950) deposit was required. The French company retired. Recently, it is said, a half interest in this mine was sold for $60,000, and it is now being managed on strictly business principles, the original owner being allowed $4,000 per year to superintend the work.

There is another coal mine 24 versts (16 miles) from Vladivostock and four versts (2.6 miles) from the railroad, with a coal bed of 20 square kilometers (7.7 square miles). This coal is said to be suitable for steamships and in some respects superior to Japanese coal. The French company referred to tried to buy this mine also, but no agreement could be reached. The Frenchmen said the more anxious they were to close the deal, the higher rose the price. A number of other coal mines have been recently discovered. Even before the present famine, coal was expensive in Vladivostock, and it is now worth from $6 to $10 a ton. The market is good, on account of the number of steamers entering and departing. Coal is also used for heating purposes, as wood is growing scarcer every year. A Russian company owns the best-paying mine at St. Olga's bay, about 180 kilometers (112 miles) from Vladivostock. Messrs. Clarkson & Co. own two good coal mines, which have been developed at much expense.

Several iron mines have been reported within two years. There is also said to be good iron at St. Olga, as well as lead and silver. Lead and zinc are frequently found. Copper is also plentiful in large, separate pieces and broken veins, but no serious attempts at surveys have been made.

An American mining engineer who has spent two years in Siberia is impressed with the mineral resources of all eastern Siberia, from Lake Baikal to the new diggings opposite Cape Nome, and also in Manchuria.

The quartz gold mines on Askold island, near Vladivostock, are owned by a Russian firm and have been worked for two years with gratifying results. In 1897, the gold was first discovered; in 1898-99 prospecting was begun; in the spring and summer of 1899, 500 tons were extracted with poor machinery; the estimated value being $25,000. Some thirty-odd tunnels have been prepared, and the managers hope to obtain this year 3,000 tons of valuable quartz, worth perhaps $150,000, and about 9,000 tons of quartzite. They anticipate from the prospecting of 1900 some $50,000 to $75,000 clear profit. The gentlemen in charge of this mine are old residents, naturalized subjects, and cautious business men.

A PROFITABLE MINING VENTURE NEAR VLADIVOSTOCK.

Air Ship in Switzerland.

At the invitation of Count Zeppelin I was present at the trial ascent of his air ship on the afternoon of July 2 at Manzell, on Lake Constance.

At seven o'clock the great ship, 124 meters (407 feet) long and 12 meters (39 feet) in diameter, containing 17 separate balloon compartments filled with hydrogen gas, was drawn out of the balloon house securely moored to the float. In 20 minutes all was ready for the ascent, and the ship left its moorings, with Count Zeppelin in charge of one of the gondolas and Mr. Eugene Wolf, the famous explorer, in charge of the other, while Baron Bassus accompanied the party as meteorologist. At the moment of the ascent the wind was blowing at the rate of about 26 feet per second, giving the operators a good opportunity of testing the ability of the air wheels to propel the great ship against the wind. The cigar-shaped structure ascended slowly and gracefully to about 30 feet above the raft. The balances were adjusted so as to give the ship an ascending direction. The propellers were set in motion, and the air ship, which has cost considerably over $200,000, started easily on its interesting trial trip. At first the ship moved east against the wind for about two miles, gracefully turned at an elevation of about 400 feet, and, making a rapid sail to the westward for about five miles, reached an altitude of 1,300 feet. It was then turned and headed once more east, and after traveling about a mile against the wind blowing at the rate of 26 feet per second, suddenly stopped; floating slowly backwards three miles to the west, it sank into the lake, the gondolas resting safely upon the water. The time of the trip was about 50 minutes; distance traveled, about ten miles; fastest time made, five miles in 17½ minutes; highest revolution of the propellers, 600 per minute; highest possible revolution, 1,200. The cause of the sudden stoppage in the flight of the ship was occasioned by a slight mishap to the steering apparatus, but the coloseus floated gently with the wind until it settled upon the surface of the lake without taking any water. The raft was then brought up and the ship was easily placed upon it and brought back to the balloon house. The weight is 200 centners (22,000 pounds). The cost of filling the balloon with hydrogen gas was $2,000.

Steel Production of the World.

The steel production of the most important countries is estimated by German authorities for the year 1899 at 26,841,755 tons, against 23,866,308 tons in 1898, an increase of 2,975,447 tons. The cast iron production is estimated at 40,000,000 tons, 4,000,000 tons more than in 1898. Of these 40,000,000 tons, 28,000,000 tons, or 70 per cent., has been used in the production of steel. A comparison of the ten most important countries results as follows:

FASHIONABLE TERMS.

Meanings of Some Words Often Used When Selecting Material or Making Gowns.

An exchange gives the following useful list of terms and their meaning:

The choux, so often used to describe hat trimmings, are cabbage-like knots or rosettes of ribbon, silk, tulle, chiffon or any other material.

Bayadere is, of course, running across. Stripes are bayadere when they run across, and, whether it is silks, ribbons, laces or dress goods, or the manner in which trimming is applied, if it is described as bayadere it runs across.

A cabochon, that is so much used in description of girdles, hat garniture, etc., is a round buckle, or brooch. The expression is also used to describe mock jewels—as a cabochon jewel, when they are round; that is, uncut.

Kaiki and khaki are often confused. The first is a Japanese silk, the second a plain woven cotton stuff used for uniforms in tropical climates. It is a sort of tan, as to shade, and promises to be very much worn for wash tailor-styled suits.

Peau de soie is the fashionable and most exclusive fabric for separate waists, its satiny surface being in accord with the mode of satin-like effects in dress goods this season. This silk is woven like grosgrain, but with a rib so fine as to produce a plain face.

WHAT TO TALK ABOUT.

To Be a Good Talker One Must Keep Informed on Topics of the Day.

"The subjects of entertaining conversation are, of course, multiplied by increased knowledge of books, of the world of men and women, music, art and travel," writes Mrs. Burton Kingsland, in the Ladies' Home Journal. "One should be familiar with the current news of the day and the topics occupying public attention, with the names and authors of the new books, and be able to say something worth hearing about what one has read and heard. Many get no further in speaking of a book than that it is dull or interesting. Others give in few words what seems to be its central idea, its characteristics, the time and scene of its action, quoting perhaps some sentiment that has impressed, or witticism that has pleased. True culture carries with it an atmosphere of breadth—the world and not the village. A woman, lacking it, was said to betray by her conversation a mind of narrow compass, bounded on the north by her servants, on the east by her children, on the south by her ailments and on the west by her clothes! The mind grows shallow when occupied pepetually with trivialities. A course of solid reading is a good tonic. When ignorant of our ignorance we do not know when we betray ourselves."

HOME INSTRUCTION.

How to Combine Play and Study in the Child's Course of Training.

The mother who is able to instruct her child wisely must know something of the meaning and motive of different phases of plant and outdoor life, so as to be able to talk animatedly and lovingly upon the curious ways of nature's children. It is especially the business of parents to instruct their children in natural history, for it ought to be studied out of doors and at such times as they are voluntarily interested. Making collections of plants, stones and shells is the delight of every child, and his happiness would be increased if he could secure from his grown-up friends sympathy with his pursuits, and enlist them often in conversation about his treasures. In the quiet twilight, says Florence Hull Winterburn, in the Woman's Home Companion, may come many charming talks about the stars and moon, the different forms water takes on, and the effects of heat and light. There is a mistaken idea abroad that little children should not be allowed to reason. Rosmini fell into it when he said: "Connections weary." On the contrary, all knowledge of to-day should be joined to that of yesterday, forming an endless chain of personal experience.

To Prepare Steaks and Chops.

A hint from the English concerns the way in which steaks and chops are prepared for broiling in that country. They are always warmed before they are broiled, a process that much enhances their flavor. If cold when placed over the coals they often become charred or scorched on the outside before the meat is cooked through. In an English grill-room they are kept on a warm marble slab until needed. A woman who has lived for several years in England testifies to the superiority of the English steaks and chops, and has adopted the method followed there. In lieu of grill-room conveniences she uses the range itself. Care must be taken that the meat does not become hot, as in that case its juices would be extracted.

How to Clean Chiffon.

Mousseline de soie and chiffon are best cleaned by washing in a pure white soapsuds. After pressing gently between the hands, shake, spread out immediately and iron while wet. If left to dry before pressing the soft material will shrink and wrinkle and the threads will separate in pressing. A few drops of gum arabic dissolved in the water in which the mousseline de soie is rinsed will supply crispness if desired. Washed in this manner, these fabrics have all the appearance of being perfectly new.

FAREWELL TO THE HORSE.

Hudson Maxim Predicts His Disappearance from the Streets of Large Cities.

Hudson Maxim, the famous inventor, in a contribution to the editorial forum of Success says that it has not been long since one would have been pronounced a dreamer for predicting the disappearance of the horse from all industrial uses in large cities. Yet most thoughtful people now not only believe in the possibility of such a realization, but deem it inevitable and near at hand.

We have been accustomed to look upon the horse as a very noble wholesome animal—noble because he has been so indispensably useful. Civilization so much depends upon the ease and speed with which individuals can get from place to place, and the facility and dispatch with which burdens may be transported, that the horse has been necessarily very intimately linked with the industrial and social elevation of mankind. The value of the horse, and our intimate and constant association with him have caused us very largely to ignore, if not, in reality, to become blinded to, the many inconveniences, disadvantages and real nuisances of which he is the author.

But for the clatter and din of horses' feet and of the soon-to-be-obsolete horse-drawn vehicle, the city would have much of the restful stillness of the country, while it is common knowledge that all the dust, dirt, and noxious, disease-laden refuse of our streets emanate from the horse, with the attendant flies and other insect life.

The analysis of a breath of dust-burdened air of the streets on a windy day would, alone, condemn the horse and banish him forever from all our cities.

It seems but yesterday that the question rested upon the lips of the multitude: "Is the horseless vehicle but a transient fad, or has it come to stay?" With the practical engineer, the question was then already correctly settled, and now the same view has become a settled conviction in the popular mind. It remains only to be determined by the test of service what system of motor propulsion will best serve the purpose. Will it be steam, compressed air, petroleum, or electricity? Or, will each find, fill and maintain a proper sphere of usefulness? It is safe to say that, were nothing better possible than what may be accomplished by any one of these systems, the horseless vehicle would still be destined to win the same victory over the horse.

To Anna B. Pond.

NEW JERSEY, SS.

L. S.

The State of New Jersey to the Sheriff of the County of Union. Greeting:

We command you to summon Anna B. Pond, builder and owner, and William M. Sandford, mortgagee, to be and appear before the Circuit Court in and for the County of Union, at the Court House in said County, on the twentieth day of August, inst., that the said Anna B. Pond, builder and owner, and William M. Sandford, mortgagee may answer unto John Abbott, the claimant, in an action upon contract, to his damage, three thousand dollars, as is said, for which the said John Abbott, claims a building lien on a certain building and the lands of the said Anna B. Pond.

The said building is a two and one-half story frame dwelling house, 47 feet, 6 inches wide in front and rear, and 31 feet deep, erected on a lot or curtilage of land situate in the City of Plainfield, County of Union and State of New Jersey, being all of that certain lot of land which is known and distinguished as lot No. 26 on a map of Woodland Park, Plainfield, N. J., and is bounded and described as follows:—Beginning at a point in the Southerly side of Evergreen Avenue distant four hundred feet Easterly from the Southeasterly corner of Hillside and Evergreen Avenues; running thence Easterly along said side of Evergreen Avenue seventy-five feet; thence southerly and parallel with Hillside Avenue one hundred and sixty-two and forty-seven one-hundredths feet to a point; thence Westerly and parallel or nearly so with Evergreen Avenue Seventy-five and six one-hundredths feet to a point; thence Northerly and parallel with Hillside Avenue one hundred and sixty and fifty-six one-hundredths feet to the point or place of beginning, being the same premises conveyed by Deed of the S. D. Drake Realty Company to said Anna B. Pond of date December 15th, 1899, and duly recorded in Book 360 of Deeds for Union County, pages 218, etc., upon which said premises the said William M. Sandford holds a mortgage of record.

And have you then and there this writ:

Witness, Bennett VanSyckel, Esquire, Judge of our said Circuit Court, at Elizabeth, this sixth day of August, A. D. Nineteen Hundred.

JAMES P. POWERS, Attorney.

Agricultural Experiment Stations in America

They Are of Inestimable Value to the Farming Interests of This Country

WHEN the first agricultural societies were formed in this country, near the close of the eighteenth century, we find the beginnings of a recognition of the desirability of experimental inquiries for the advancement of agriculture. The society organized in South Carolina in 1785 had among its objects the establishment of an experiment farm. President Washington, who was a member of the first society for promoting agriculture organized in the United States, which was formed March 1, 1785, at Philadelphia, then the seat of the general government, in pleading for the establishment of a national board of agriculture in his annual message to congress in 1796, says that one of the functions of such a board is "to encourage and assist a spirit of discovery and improvement * * * by stimulating to enterprise and experiment." The distribution of seeds and plants, begun in 1839 through a congressional appropriation secured by Hon. Henry L. Ellsworth, commissioner of patents, which afterwards resulted in the establishment of the department of agriculture, was primarily an experimental enterprise with a view to testing the adaptation of new varieties of agricultural plants to different parts of the country.

In 1849 the New York Agricultural society established at Albany a chemical laboratory for the analysis of soils, manures, etc., and an elaborate examination of maize was made there by Dr. Salisbury. In 1855 a special agent was employed by the patent office "to investigate and report upon the habits of insects injurious and beneficial to vegetation, especially those infesting the cotton plant." The same office also employed a chemist and botanist, began a propagating garden, and arranged with the Smithsonian institution for procuring and publishing records of meteorological observations. After the establishment of the department of agriculture in 1862, as a branch of the government distinct from the patent office, the land on which its buildings now stand was for several years chiefly used as an experiment farm. As soon as agricultural colleges were established in this country experimental investigations in field and laboratory were undertaken, but for a number of years these were carried on with small means.

CHEMICAL AND BIOLOGICAL LABORATORY AT KENTUCKY STATION.

The act establishing an agricultural college which was passed by the legislature of Maryland in 1856 made it a duty of the board of trustees of the institution to conduct on the college farm "a series of experiments upon the cultivation of cereal and other plants adapted to the latitude and climate of the state."

The records of the college show that in 1858, immediately after the college was located and before building began, field experiments with corn, oats and potatoes, "to test the relative value of the different manures offered for sale in the cities of Baltimore and Washington," were commenced on the college farm. This work continued for two or three years, but was interrupted by the financial distress which soon affected the whole country and by the disturbed condition of the state and nation.

In 1870 a school of agriculture and horticulture was established in connection with Harvard college in accordance with the provisions of the will of Mr. Benjamin Bussey, of Roxbury, Mass. This school was named "The Bussey institution." The same year Harvard college received from the Massachusetts Society for Promoting Agriculture a considerable sum "for the support of a laboratory and for experiments in agricultural chemistry to be conducted on the Bussey estate." Investigations were begun in this laboratory in 1871 by F. H. Storer, the professor of agricultural chemistry in the Bussey institution, and his assistants, and the first report of their work was made December 3, 1871. The earliest experiments consisted of field tests of fertilizers upon the farm of the institution and chemical analyses of commercial fertilizers. A number of bulletins were published, including reports of field experiments and investigations on hybridizing plants, the composition of feeding stuffs and fertilizers, injurious fungi, and physiology. The great fire in Boston in 1872 and the commercial crisis of 1873 combined to cripple the institution financially, and for a number of years little was done in the way of original investigations. Recently, however, the financial status of the institution has improved, and investigations have been undertaken in several lines. Several bulletins have been published within the past three years, among which are those on the white pine (Pinus strobus), basket willow, systematic destruction of marmots and other vermin, and chemical substances in the trunks of trees.

When the college of agriculture of the University of California was organized it was understood that a part of its work would consist of experimental inquiries. In 1870 Prof. E. S. Carr, in an address at the state fair, stated that "the university proposes to furnish the facilities for all needful experiments; to be the station where tests can be made of whatever claims attention." The university grounds at Berkeley were developed with reference to their use for experimental purposes, and in 1874 a considerable number of varieties of grapes and orchard and small fruits were planted, and a barn and two propagating houses were built. The same year E. W. Hilgard was chosen professor of agriculture. Prof. Hilgard had previously been engaged for a number of years in conducting an agricultural and geological survey in Mississippi, in connection with which chemical examinations of soils, field experiments, and other agricultural investigations had been incidentally carried on in accordance with a plan inaugurated as early as 1857 and afterwards made the basis for the highly successful work of the California experiment station, which has been continued under his direction for a quarter of a century. "In the winter of 1875-76 the first field experiments were undertaken to determine the effects of deep culture and of the application of various fertilizers. In 1875 the laboratory branch of the experiment station work was inaugurated, the regents making provision for the expenses thereof for the first two years, and at the end of this time the legislature opened the way for the continuation and extension of the work by liberal special appropriations from year to year."

The convention of delegates of agricultural colleges which met at Washington, D. C., in 1883 discussed and indorsed the project for the establishment of stations in connection with the colleges by appropriations from the national treasury, in accordance with the terms of a bill already introduced into the house of representatives by C. C. Carpenter, of Iowa. Congress, however, was not yet quite ready to undertake so large a scientific enterprise in this direction, and the bill was not put upon its passage. Meanwhile the number of stations was steadily increasing, and the interest of practical farmers as well as men of science was more and more excited by the reports of the results of the experiments which the stations had completed. On July 8, 1885, a convention of agricultural colleges and experiment stations met at the department of agriculture at Washington city, in response to a call issued by Hon. Norman J. Colman, the commissioner of agriculture. Almost the first thing which this convention did was to pass a resolution "that the condition and progress of American agriculture require national aid for investigation and experimentation in the several states and territories; and that therefore this convention approves the principle and general provisions of what is known as the Cullen bill of the last congress, and urges upon the next congress the passage of this or a similar act." (The Cullen bill was in its general provisions similar to the bill afterwards passed by congress and now popularly known as the Hatch act.) So earnest was the convention in this matter that it appointed a committee on legislation, which was very efficient in securing the passage of the amended bill.

At the next session of congress the experiment station enterprise was again called to the attention of the house of representatives by the bill which was introduced by William H. Hatch, of Missouri, and referred to the committee on agriculture. This committee made a favorable report March 3, 1886, and nearly a year later the bill was passed by congress, and was approved by the president March 2, 1887.

"A Trip to Chinatown" is a most remarkable play. In many respecte it is the most remarkable play in the history of the drama. It holds the record for the longest continuous run in America. While Playwright Hoyt has written and produced a score or more of comedy successes, "A Trip to Chinatown" has made more money for him than all the others combined. How a Hoyt play can live so long and its great popularity seem never to lessen is easily demonstrated. Give the public something spicy, something that savors of novelty, something to entertain them that is bright and up-to-date, and they will appreciate and patronize it. "A Trip to Chinatown" has always been interesting and the new "A Trip to Chinatown," as presented this season, with its new ideas, new sketches, new music and many novelties, will please those who have already seen the play more than once, and satisfy those who have never seen it, that the interest in this great record-breaking farce will seem to increase rather than diminsih.

The Academy of Music was crowded to the doors on Monday night and hundreds were turned away unable to obtain even standing room, when the sweet voiced singing comedian Andrew Mack made his initial appearance in New York as "The Rebel" in his new Irish melo-drama of that title. The talented young star should indeed feel proud of his reception in the days of grand opera at this magnificient temple of music and drama, when Patti, Neilson, Gerster, Campinini and others of that grand galaxy that formed the Mapleson Opera Company were the idols of the hour, we were accustomed to see favorites greeted enthusiastically, but never was an actor more so than the handsome young Irish singer on Monday. "The Rebel" is something more dramatic than anything in which Mr. Mack has as yet appeared in, but as he has all the qualifications necessary for the portrayal of heroic roles he could not fail. His magnificient physique and graceful manly bearing, showed to better advantage than in any of his previous characters and he sang his new songs with a voice so sweet and sympathetic that he fairly enraptured the large audience.

Steam Roller Was Too Heavy and Forced Gutter Below Grade on Park Avenue.

The gutter on the east side of Park avenue, for a hundred feet north of North avenue, will have to be relaid. The steam roller was returned to Park avenue yesterday, and, contrary to the orders of the Street Commissioner, was used in rolling the gutter. The Street Commissioner knew that the foundation was not strong enough to stand the steam roller and had ordered the horse roller to be used there.

The result was that the gutter was forced down an inch and three-quarters below the grade and will have to be relaid. It had been built just at grade before the steam roller was used.

PARK GOLFERS PLAY FOR PRESIDENT'S CUP

Weekly Competition at Park Golf Club Links Was Won by Allan B. Laing.

LEADERS DID NOT SCORE.

HILLSIDE PLAYERS WON IN AN EXCITING FOUR BALL MATCH.

No Play for Green Committee Challenge Trophy as Both Matches the Week Before Were Allowed--McCutchen and Anderson Secured Places.

As a result of Saturday afternoon's play for the President's cup on the links of the Park Golf Club, Allan B. Laing and S. St. John McCutchen became factors in the contest for that trophy. Laing took first honors and McCutchen second and they are now among the leaders in the competition for the cup. Laing is tied with Morgan T. Townsend for third place with six points with McCutchen is just behind them with a sixth of a point less.

The past week was particularly delightful for golf but the players found that it was decidedly warm Saturday afternoon. The course was in good shape, well cut, and the putting greens were fast. Good scores were possible but the heat had its effect and nobody, except Laing, was up to the standard. A dozen players registered for the weekly competition for the President's cup but only eight cards came in. Then there were a few others out for the fun of it. The attendance was still small but another week will probably see the return of a host of the golfers from their summer vacations.

The scratch men were not in the running. W. J. R Thiers was the only one of them to turn in his score. He made 97. Morgan T. Townsend played but did not turn in his card. Edgar I. Serrell did not play in the tournament. William R. Faber, who now leads for the President's cup, was way off his form and did not turn in his score. W. de la R. Anderson, last season's champion, has been playing but little this year and is way off his old game. The green committee has given him a handicap of four and that enabled him to take third place with a 99 gross.

The scores turned in for the President's cup were as follows:

	Gross.	Hand.	Net.
Allan B. Laing	102	15	87
S. St. John McCutchen	108	15	93
W. de la R. Anderson	99	4	95
Charles B. Morse	121	25	96
William J. R. Thiers	97	0	97
H. D. Hibbard	105	8	97
William A. Townsend	107	10	97

The standing for the President's cup is as follows:

Wm. R. Faber	8½
Edgar I. Serrell	8
Morgan T. Townsend	6
Allan B. Laing	6
S. St. J. McCutchen	5 5-6
Charles A. Reed	5½
W. J. R. Thiers	4
W. de la R. Anderson	4
George T. Rogers	4
H. D. Hibbard	3
Samuel Towasend	3
George C. Werth	3
Meredith Dryden	3
J. H. Simpson	3

Scattering—Herbert S. Rogers, Henry C. Wells, Gustavus W. Faber, Donald A. McGee, Wm. M. McCutchen, Charles B. Morse, J. D. Sandford and Townsend Bushmore.

There was no play for the Green Committee challenge trophy. According to the decision of the green committee, both of W. J. R. Thiers' victories the week before counted for the trophy. As the match with Edgar I. Serrell should have been played Saturday, no other game was arranged. The standing for the trophy is as follows:

W. J. R. Thiers	6
Morgan T. Townsend	4
Gustavus W. Faber	2
Fred P. Taylor	1
W. de la R. Anderson	1

Frank Talmage and Olaf Saugstad, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, came over for a four ball match with W. J. R. Thiers and Edgar I. Serrell, of the Park Club. The visitors won one up. At the end of the first round they were three up. Then the Park Club pair braced up but some phenominal putts by Saugstad settled the match. The prettiest hole played was the second on the second round. All four men drove within ten yards of each other. Their brassey shots grouped them just short of the green. All holed out in five, which is "bogey," Serrell and Thiers each missing a four through a failure to make a four foot putt. A return match will be played on the Hillside links some afternoon this week.

A Charming Luncheon.

A charming luncheon was given at the club house of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Saturday by Mrs. Horace E. Dickinson, of New York, who is now summering at the Hotel Netherwood. The party consisted of Mrs. Charles L. Cammann, Miss Elizabeth Hoehling, Miss Cunningham, Miss Woodward, Miss Mildred Williams, Miss May Coleman, Horace E. Dickinson and Acton Poulet, all guests at the Netherwood.

LINE MAY NOT BE BUILT.

TROLLEY COMPANY ACT QUEERLY ABOUT SPRINGFIELD BRANCH.

Time Limit of Franchise Expires September 1st, but No Extension Has Been Asked For.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, August 27—The failure of the trolley company to ask for another extension of time, as the last extension granted expires September 1st, for the building of the Springfield line, has occasioned some unfavorable comment, as there will not be another meeting of the Town Committee before the 7th of September. It is said the company wants to abandon the proposed line, and instead build from the Cranford line through New Orange, leaving Westfield out altogether, and the critics also accuse the company of bad faith, saying that in consideration of the valuable franchise granted to build the line through Broad street in Westfield it was stipulated that the Springfield line should be constructed from Westfield, and its failure to appear is construed as a repudiation of what is termed an obligation to build the branch line.

The company distributed the rails along the proposed line about two months ago, and announced its intention to begin the work of construction at once, when a question was raised as to the validity of the company's franchise and the requisite number of consents. The abbutting property owners secured counsel and searched the town records, afterward instituting certiorari proceedings, which effecutually blocked all progress toward building the line. The seeming apathy of the company in the matter and the letting of the franchise go by default has awakened feelings of resentment, which some of the merchants on Broad street are nothing loth to disclose. Indeed, they now assert that the company never intended to build the Springfield extension and are glad of an opportunity to abandon the line.

PLEASURE PARK.

Amusement Enterprise to be Started by the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company.

Following the example of most of the leading traction companies of the country the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company is going to open up a pleasure park along its line. The site selected is in Fanwood township, just west of the Westfield township line. It is a pretty little grove where a number of picnics have already been held. A plot, fifteen acres in extent, has been cleaned of brush and put in good condition and has been called Union County Recreation Park. A dancing platform is being built there, and as time goes on, other attractions will be added. It will open with a picnic Thursday, September 6th. The company will carry passengers from Plainfield to the park for 5 cents. A similar rate will be allowed from Cranford.

CONTESTS IN SUSSEX COUNTY.

Senator Martin Wants a Renomination—Swarthout is Fighting Him.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

Deckertown, Aug. 27—Politics are beginning to move in Sussex county and already there are signs of two brisk contests in the Democratic party which may develop proportions sufficient to give the Republicans a victory at the polls. The county elects an Assemblyman and a Senator this fall and there are two Democrats out for each nomination.

The men who would like to be nominated for Assemblyman are Archibald E. McBride and James L. DeWitt, both of this place. Mr. McBride is a college man and is the son of ex-Senator John A. McBride, and his friends naturally expect that he will have the benefit of his father's popularity. Mr. DeWitt is an older man and has a long record of services to the Democracy. Many of the prominent Democrats of this county will find themselves embarrassed in making the choice and most of them hope that the contest may be amicably settled before convention time.

For the Senatorship, Lewis S. Martin, who holds the office at present, is a candidate for renomination. He announced himself at the Farmers' picnic held at Lake Grinnell two weeks ago. It is also said that Jacob Swarthout, though he has made no formal announcement of his candidacy, will ask for the votes of his friends in convention. He has run against Judge Martin before. Judge Martin's friends say that the Senator, when he made his announcement, was of the belief that Mr. Swarthout did not intend to run.

HIT WITH A ROCK

Hebrew Tailor Quite Badly Hurt Last Night—Assailant Escaped Being Caught.

Abraham Wolf, a Hebrew tailor living on Somerset street, was standing on the Watchung avenue bridge last evening when somebody hit him in the neck with a rock. Abraham collapsed without loss of time. There Patrolman Watson found him with his wife trying to aid him. Wolf was led to Leggett's pharmacy and Dr. Clawson was summoned.

No really serious injuries were received by the Hebrew tailor but the sudden shock jarred him considerably. A hack was summoned and the man sent home. Patrolman Higgins was told of the accident and that the man who threw the stone had fled along the raceway. A search failed to find him, however.

Mrs. Wolf says that her husband is continually being persecuted by a gang of roughs in the borough. They are hooting and throwing stones at him very often, she says. She believes that one of the gang is responsible for the injury of her husband. A young man was seen in the neighborhood of the bridge and the police believe that they know who the man was that threw the rock.

DIED ON THE TRAIN.

New York Woman Passed Away While Going Home From North Branch Last Evening.

Mrs. George W. Bean, aged 33 years, of 131 West 10th street, New York, died last evening on a Jersey Central Railroad train while on her way from North Branch to Jersey City. The supposition is that she died between Bound Brook and Plainfield, as her husband, who was with her, remembers seeing her throw her arms in the air and act strangely. Whether from fright or whether he did not want to frighten other passengers on the train, nothing was said about the matter, and the woman's death was not really discovered until the train reached Jersey City. The train on which the woman died arrives in this city at 8:13, and is known as train No. 706.

At Jersey City, the body was taken in charge by Eli Odam, an employe at the terminal, and was removed to Speer's morgue, where an autopsy will be held today. The body will then be taken to the home in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Bean had been stopping at North Branch for a short time enjoying their summer vacation. Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause of death.

DEATH CAME TO HIM.

Gash Which Andrew Undal Inflicted on Himself Several Days Ago Proved Fatal.

Death came quietly to Andrew Undal, of South avenue, late last night, after lingering for a few days from the effects of a gash in the neck inflicted by himself while temporarily insane. Complete exhaustion followed from the loss of blood which together with his previous illness, proved fatal. He had been a patient sufferer for the past two years from consumption which prevented him from working. He brooded over this fact until last Tuesday, when he procured a razor and made a deep cut in his throat. He was thirty-two years old. Besides his parents, Michael and Madgaline Undal, with whom he lived, he is survived by two sisters and three brothers. The funeral services will be private.

HACKMEN PLAN REPRISALS

Asbury Park Jehus May Stop All Work There Sundays.

Asbury Park hackmen complain of persecution by the city and threaten reprisals.

The city has many regulations that the hackmen consider onerous. Hackmen have been frequently fined this season.

The hackmen declare unless the arrests are stopped they will make the city as dead Sundays as Ocean Grove. They plan prosecution of all employes on the beach. Any person found doing manual labor, whether employed by the city or by Mr. Bradley, will be arrested, including drivers of street sprinkling carts, expressmen, bakers, butchers and ice men.

Judge Kirkpatrick Returns.

Judge Andrew Kirkpatrick, of the United States District Court, of New Jersey, returned from Europe Friday afternoon on the Kaiser Frederick. He did not expect to come home until the latter part of September, but owing to illness in the family of Mrs. Kirkpatrick he was obliged to curtail his tour.

—Neuman Brothers will place on sale tomorrow 250 baskets of the finest Delaware and Jersey peaches. The prices are sure to suit everyone.

CLAIMED GIRL WAS ENSLAVED BY GYPSIES

Clara Jackson Fled From Gypsy Camp and Took Refuge at Jack Benner's Home.

SAID SHE WAS BEATEN.

GYPSIES RECOVERED HER THROUGH AID OF A SEARCH WARRANT.

Justice Clark of Scotch Plains, Issued Warrant Early This Morning—Then Benner Summoned Chief Kiely.

Chief Kiely had a hurry call shortly after 7 o'clock this morning to go to Benner's road house on South avenue. Jack Benner, the proprietor, telephoned that a tribe of gypsies were about to depart with a colored girl who, he believed, they had taken and kept unlawfully and were now treating like a slave.

The case turned out to be out of the jurisdiction of the Plainfield police and Mr. Benner refused to make a complaint that would place the colored girl under the charge of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children until the case could be investigated. There had already been considerable excitement and some legal manoeuvring in the matter.

The Harrison tribe of gypsies have been encamped near the corner of Terrill road and South avenue. A young colored girl, named Clara Jackson, was with them. She is fifteen years old and they say that they found her down south. She has been helping abut the cooking and other household duties of the camp.

She went to Benner's house with the story that she was repeatedly beaten by the gypsies and that they had made a slave of her, limiting her freedom. She was allowed to remain all night at Benner's place. The gypsies came and demanded her but Benner refused to take their view of it.

The leaders of the Harrison tribe then went to Scotch Plains early this morning and obtained a search warrant from Justice Clark to search the premises of Benner and find the girl and remove her. Constable Talnor served the warrant and the colored girl was captured and taken back to the camp despite her pleadings. Then Chief Kiely was summoned.

The Chief questioned the girl and she declared that she had been cruelly treated. She was apparently in excellent health, however, and showed no marks of ill-treatment.

The gypsies broke camp this morning and started in the direction of Elizabeth. Their destination is not known, however.

STRIKE ON CITY WORK.

MEN EMPLOYED BY STREET DEPARTMENT IN REPAIRING PARK AVENUE.

Street Commissioner Gavett Settled the Matter Satisfactorily and All But Two Returned to Work.

On account of a slight misunderstanding this morning, the city employes engaged on the Park avenue macadamizing, refused to go to work under their new foreman, George Conover, who has taken the place of David Bowden, resigned. Matters were explained by Street Commissioner Gavett and the men were satisfied with two exceptions, Loughlin and McDermott. The services of these two were dispensed with. Mr. Conover is an experienced man in road making and was in charge of Watchung avenue, during its lowering and remacadamizing. He will now oversee the completion of Park avenue and Street Commissioner Gavett has every confidence in his ability to finish the work in a satisfactory manner.

Cut His Hand.

Yesterday afternoon the motorman of one of the "extra" Elizabeth trolley cars cut one of his hands quite badly with broken glass. In attemeting to lower one of the windows of the car while standing on the Watchung avenue switch his foot slipped on the floor of the car, throwing his elbow against and through the window. A good Samaritan, in the person of a lady living on the avenue near where the accident occurred, promptly bound up the bleeding hand in healing salve and the man was thus enabled to take his car to Elizabeth. A large percentage of the broken glass still remains in the roadway and is a menace to wheelmen's tires.

TOPSY STOLE A TEAM.

She Took a White Man Out to Ride Behind a Fast Horse—Police Now Want Her Companion.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, Aug. 27.—Ida Lane, an incorrigible colored girl better known as "the Topsy of New Germantown," stole Assemblyman George F. Martin's fast horse and rubber tired buggy last Monday night and she is now in jail.

The girl, who is only 16 years old, has a long list of stolen horses charged against her out New Germantown way. The girl is called "Topsy" because she has no name. Peter Lane, a farmer, took her as a waif. As the girl grew up she took his name, but she so disgraced it that Lane forbade her using it and she is on the census records as "Peter Lane's Black Girl."

Three weeks ago she stole a horse from the stable of Dr. E. Park to give John Bonnell, a young farmer, a ride. She was caught in Clinton with the rig after Bonnell had deserted her. She swore that Bonnell had stolen the rig and abducted her from her master's home. Bonnell was subsequently arrested and is now serving a term of five years in State prison. After stealing Assemblyman Martin's rig she tied it to a fence by the roadside. When accused of the crime she made a confession and gave an accurate description of a white man who, she says, was her companion on the night of the robbery. The authorities are now looking for the white man.

FLANGE BROKE.

Caused Trolley Car to Jump the Track and Switch Was Blocked for Sometime.

When car No. 18, of the Plainfield Street Railway Company, entered the switch on East Fifth street, Saturday evening, the flange on one of the rear wheels broke and the car jumped the track. One side of the switch was blocked for sometime, somewhat disarranging the schedule on the Netherwood line. The car was finally gotten back to the car house where the repair gang worked on it all night substituting another wheel.

During the thunder storm yesterday afternoon, the wires to the motor on car No. 8 were burnt out. The water in Woodland avenue short-circuited it. The car was stalled on Woodland avenue and had to be towed back to the car house for repairs. Traffic on the Netherwood division was disarranged in consequence.

DR. HURLBUT HERE.

Preached an Excellent Sermon in the First M. E. Church Yesterday Morning.

Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Hurlbut, of New York, formerly a long resident of Plainfield, filled the pulpit at the First M. E. church yesterday morning. Dr. Hurlbut has a host of friends in this city, but it was not generally known that he was to preach yesterday so a comparatively small congregation listened to his excellent discourse in which he drew some very important points from the message of Paul to the Romans. After the service his friends gathered about him and expressed their pleasure at seeing him again. He was the guest over Sunday of P. M. French, of Somerset street.

Improvements at Marconnier Chapel.

The steep bank in the rear of Marconnier chapel has been cut down about six feet and the grounds around the chapel are being graded with a view ot erecting sheds for the accommodation of horses and carriages. A driveway has been made from the front of the chapel to the sheds and thence out to Woodland avenue on the south side of the chapel. When completed the improvements will be highly appreciated by those who are in the habit of visiting the chapel.

Congressman Salmon's Assertion.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—Albert S. Dulin, of New Jersey, who is prominently connected with the Democratic Congressional Committee, has just received a letter from Congressman Salmon, of the Fourth New Jersey district in which he expresses the opinion that New Jersey will go Democratic this year on State and National tickets.

Sermon Enjoyed.

The sermons of Rev. A. F. Irvine, of New Haven, Conn., who preached in Warren chapel yesterday morning and evening, were greatly enjoyed by all who heard him. Mr Irvine also spoke to young men at the Y. M. C. A. hall in the afternoon and commanded the closest attention of all.

COLER IS COMING HERE.

COMPTROLLER BIRD S. COLER WILL REACH NETHERWOOD TONIGHT.

Well Known Opponent of Tammany Will Spend His Evenings Close to This City—His Family Accompanies Him.

Desirous of finding a place in which to temporarily escape the cares of political life and yet be in close proximity to New York, Comptroller Bird S. Coler has decided to spend a few weeks at the Hotel Netherwood and arrives at that popular hostelry this evening, accompanied by his wife, daughter and maid. He will commute to and from New York daily and spend his evenings here with his family as much as possible.

At present, there is no more prominent figure in New York State politics than Comptroller Coler. He has defied the great power of Tammany and the State Democracy, with David B. Hill at its head, is preparing to nominate him for Governor, at the coming State convention. Since he first entered upon the duties of Comptroller, Mr. Coler has been before the public to a more or less extent. He has run his department on a strictly business basis and utterly refused to be dominated by the political bosses.

The reputation of Plainfield as one of the most charming suburbs and the fact that a summer hotel of the highest class was being conducted on the hill overlooking the city induced Mr. Coler to try The Netherwood. He comes Plainfield hoping to escape the cares of business and politics and still to be within easy reach of his office. His decision to come here was made very quietly and the fact was not given out until he started today.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS.

James M. Beck Will Come to New Jersey to Help State Spellbinders.

The Republican State committee has received notification from the National committee that Colonel James Fairman, of New York, and James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, have been assigned to this State as speakers.

The committee has already secured Senator Julius C. Burrows, of Michigan, as the orator of the day for the State convention, at Trenton, September 6th, and Senator J. R. Foraker for the convention of Republican clubs at Jersey City, September 13th. In addition to those speakers is Victor B. Dolliver, of Iowa, who will talk in Congressman Fowler's district September 13th or 14th.

A party of Knights of Pythias, Uniformed Rank, left Plainfield Saturday evening for the national encampment of the order to be held this week at Detroit. They went by stage to South Plainfield and there took a Lehigh Valley express to Buffalo. They visited Niagara Falls yesterday and then continued on their way by boat. They will reach Detroit tonight. The party included J. E. Flannery, Joseph Blimm, Jacob Blimm, Harry Werner, Scott Terry, J. A. Blatz and R. H. Rushton.

Drunks in the Borough.

There were many borough drunks Saturday and Sunday nights, and the most disgraceful scene was that of two women who went through the streets drunk. One was very much so, and could scarcely walk. Last night on Grove street two men appeared in an intoxicated condition, and women coming from church were obliged to call at a friend's house and ask for an escort home, as they were afraid of the two drunken men who were acting in a wild manner.

Grocers' Picnic to Coney Island.

If you want to have a good time and enjoy ocean breezes go with the Grocers' Association Labor Day to Coney Island. A very low rate, 85 cents for adults and 65 cents for children, has been secured, and everything will be done to provide for the comfort and convenience of those who go. Two sections of cars will take the excursionists to Jersey City, and from there the trip will be made by the iron steamboat to the Island.

Charged With Being Drunk.

Henry Lewis, colored, was arrested Sunday morning by Patrolman Myers for being drunk. He was subsequently released by Mayor Rockfellow to appear for a hearing this morning. At the request of his employer, however, the hearing was laid over until later in the week.

Last Party of Visitors.

The last party of guests for the season took possession of the Westfield Fresh-Air Camp Friday and will remain for two weeks, when the camp will be closed. More than 1,000 women and children have been given a two weeks outing at the camp this summer.

MANY DANCED AT THE HOTEL NETHERWOOD.

Subscription Hop at the Hotel Saturday Evening was a Great Success.

ALTHOUGH NIGHT WAS HOT.

AFFAIR OPENED WITH A GRAND MARCH—MANY PARTICIPANTS.

March Was Led by Mrs. W. V. R. Smith and Horace E. Dickinson—Committee and Those who Assisted in Making Hop a Success.

While all Plainfield was suffering from the excessive humidity Saturday evening life was quite bearable on the wide verandas to the big hotel up on the hill at Netherwood. The subscription ball, arranged by the guests at the Netherwood for the benefit of the Orpheus Club, the hotel orchestra, was held and proved a decided success, socially and financially, despite the heat.

It was warm work dancing as the wilted collars and shirt fronts of the young men soon testified. It was even warm for the young women in their thin gowns. Nevertheless the floor to the big ballroom was crowded from early evening until the clock in the hall struck midnight.

The number of subscriptions was over two hundred and fifty. The guests at the Netherwood gave the affair their united support and many of Plainfield's society folk, who are now at home, came up the the hotel for the dance. It was the largest attendance that has been seen at any of the Saturday evening hops. Then the spacious verandas were crowded with those who preferred to sit out side and enjoy the sights and incidentally keep cool with the aid of the breeze which came out of the west.

The affair opened with a grand march which was well led by Mrs. William VanRensslaer Smith and Horace E. Dickinson, both of New York. Eighty couples took part. After a few pretty maneuvres, the signal was given and the march ended with a waltz. Then followed a programme of twenty dances. Much of the success of the affair was due to the enterprise and push of the treasurer of the committee, Acton Poulet. He was given valuable assistance by Mrs. Ricardo Struller. Edward Fuller also proved himself invaluable in making the arrangements for the dance.

Many beautiful evening gowns were worn and the hotel ball room never looked gayer than it did, Saturday evening. Miss Bertha Angevine, of Brooklyn, who is stopping at the hotel, was unanimously voted one of the best and most graceful dancers on the floor. Miss Woodward, one of Washington's society belles, was also in high favor. Miss Elizabeth Hoehling, also of Washington, was exceedingly popular and had her card filled early in the evening. Miss Mildred Williams, another of the army set, was much in demand among the young men. Miss May Coleman was a popular partner also.

Plainfield was represented by a number of charming young women. Miss Edith Scrymser, of Staten Island, who is a guest at the home of W. J. R. Thiers, of Watchung avenue, was very popular. Miss Maud Lord and Miss Madeline Ostermoor, two of Netherwood's residents, were frequently seen in the dance. Miss Daisy Eisberg was beautifully gowned and danced well. Another of the popular Plainfield young women was Miss McClure. Miss Sallye Swayzee, of Washington, formerly of this city, and who is now a guest in a Plainfield home, was much sought after by her old acquaintances.

Railroad Notes.

The Lehigh Valley has adopted the idea of lettering its locomotives to designate their pulling capacity. A yardmaster in making up trains can tell from the letter on the engine how many cars it can haul.

Commencing September 1st the Lehigh Valley Railroad will not permit newsboys to sell on its trains. The news business will be run by the railroad company, and will be under the supervision of the dining car department. with stands at the principal stations, where purchases will have to be made.

Teeny Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference Press Readers

—You will never find any other pills so prompt and so pleasant as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. L. W. Randolph.

—The members of Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., will accompany the Warren chapel excursionists to Asbury Park on Wednesday.

—In the contract case of Christopher Thorp against G. K. Wyhuskey Justice Mattison has given judgment for the plaintiff for $45 and costs and an execution was issued.

—Justice Mattison has issued a summons in the case of Andrew Lutkins against Frank Hull, landlord and tenant proceedings, returnable August 30th at 10 o'clock in the morning.

—There will be an auction sale of the property corner of Somerset street and Manning avenue a week from Wednesday. This is a valuable property and persons in search of a bargan should attend the sale.

—The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

The Misses Cuming, of Putnam avenue, have returned from a sojourn at Asbury Park.

Mrs. Elias H. Bird and Mrs. Edward T. VanWinkle, of Elm place, who have been summering at Woodmont, Conn., have returned home.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as L. W. Randolph secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Berthold and Robert Schreimer, of this city, left today for Atlantic City, where they will spend their vacation.

J. M. Titsworth and daughter, Miss Ethel Titsworth, of West Seventh street, are sojourning at Patchogue, L. I.

Mrs. Charles E. Vail and family, of Orchard place, have returned from Hasbrouck Heights, where they have been visiting relatives.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! no baking! simply add boiling water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Flustered.

The wedding ceremony had proceeded to the critical point. The bride, contrary to expectations, was cool and composed, but it was plain that the groom was nervous. "Who gives this young lady away?" asked the minister, and the father at once stepped forward. Taking the hand of his daughter he tried to place it in the hand of the groom. But there was a hitch. What had gone on smoothly the evening before at the rehearsal was now the stumbling block. The father blushed up to the roots and the bride was losing her composure. The groom did not seem to notice that something was wrong, nor did he take in the situation until the ushers giggled. Then he looked, and there, clutched tightly in his hand was, not the white-gloved hand of the bride, but the hand of the father, over the middle finger of which he was trying to force the ring. After some little embarrassment he succeeded in putting the ring where it belonged.—Detroit Free Press.

A Senseless Lot.

Four Americans were discussing the absurdities of the French coinage system in the compartment of a railway carriage in France not long ago. "It's funny, the way these Frenchmen have fixed things up," said one of the party. "Now, take the franc, for example. They made it worth between 18 and 19 cents, when they might just as easily have made it worth an even 20 cents and saved a lot of trouble. I never saw anything so unpractical in my life." "Yes," remarked another, "but the English are just as bad. There they went and made a pound worth $4.84, instead of putting it up to an even five dollars. It seems as though these foreigners haven't any real sense, anyhow."

AN ATTACK EXPECTED.

Thirty Thousand Boxers Moving to Attack Allies.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The latest news from Peking indicates that the situation there is unchanged. The imperial city is still invested, but has not yet been occupied. The allies, when the last message left, were still refraining from aggressive action, pending instructions from their governments.

An attack from 30,000 Boxers was anticipated, and to meet this the whole American force and the British artillery, according to a dispatch to The Morning Post from Peking, dated Aug. 18, were moved to the outer city wall. The Boxers were reported coming from the south. General Dorward, in his report of the engagement outside Tien-tsin Aug. 19, when the Americans, British and Japanese signally defeated a large force of Boxers, killing over 300, says in a dispatch dated Aug. 25:

"The lines of communication near Tien-tsin are now free from danger. The enemy had been treating the villagers badly. Several decapitated bodies were found near their camp.

"The villagers are now flocking to Tien-tsin at the rate of about 1,000 a day. As there is not more than a month's food supply there is every prospect of a famine shortly."

This declaration that a famine is imminent in consequence of the inadequacy of provisions for the hordes of refugees at Tien-tsin adds a new element of peril to the situation.

Shanghai advices say that the report of the capture of Emperor Kwang Su by the Japanese was erroneous. It was a case of mistaken identity.

The Peking correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, wiring Aug. 19, reasserts that the dowager empress fled westward.

The Shanghai correspondent of The Times, wiring Aug. 24, says:

"Li Hung Chang has received a message from Peking that the Japanese alone will occupy the imperial palace. The Japanese government has renewed its assurance that it will protect the persons of the dowager empress and the emperor.

"Mr. Morgan of the China Inland mission, who has arrived here from Si-ngan-fu, reports that 37 foreign missionaries and 30 converts have been massacred at Tai-yuen-fu.

"The Japanese government has notified Earl Li that negotiations will be impossible until plenipotentiaries acceptable to the powers are appointed. Japan suggests the viceroys of Nankin and Wuchang and Earl Li. If these are appointed and China expresses a willingness to make full indemnity, Japan is ready to assist to the utmost."

Two Negro Conventions.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 27.—Two national negro conventions will be held here this week. The Afro-American Press association began its twentieth annual convention today. It was organized at Louisville in 1890. Cyrus Adams of Chicago, a member of the Republican national advisory committee, is president. John E. Bruce of Albany is vice president. The association has a membership of 250, and at this convention, it is said, an effort to indorse the Republican national ticket will be combated, and a vigorous debate will follow. The third national convention of the Afro-American council will open its sessions in the senate chamber of the statehouse tomorrow. The work of the council is done mainly through bureaus, seven in number. The work of the council is planned and its execution superintended by an executive board made up of three representatives from each state.

Quiet In Akron.

AKRON, O., Aug. 27.—Sunday passed peacefully in Akron. Funeral services were held in the afternoon over the remains of little Rhoda Davidson, who died Friday from a wound received in Wednesday night's riot. She was held in her mother's arms, the carriage in which the parents were driving having been wedged in by the mob in front of the city building. Mrs. Davidson insists that she saw an officer fire the fatal shot. The funeral services were held from the Davidson home and were attended by a large crowd, which filled the house and lawn and overflowed into the street. It is generally believed that Chief of Police Harrison will never again take his place at the head of the city police department.

Sousa Coming Home.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 27.—Sousa's European tour closed last evening with a performance at the Palace of Industry before an audience of 5,000, including the United States minister, Mr. Stanford Newel; United States Consul Frank D. Hill and the officers of the United States training ship Essex. Sousa received several ovations, and the principal soloists were repeatedly encored. The citizens of Amsterdam have presented to Sousa a silk Netherlands flag. Today the band left for London, sailing from Southampton next Saturday on the St Louis.

Shot by a Policeman.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27.—John P. Brady, aged 20, was shot and instantly killed by one of two policemen early Sunday morning. Brady and two companions had purchased a box of beer for use at a picnic and were carrying it to the home of one of the party. On the way they passed Policemen Charles H Wilson (colored) and George Kenkelen who ordered them to halt. The men became frightened, dropped the box and started to run. The policemen each fired one shot, and Brady fell dead. The policemen were placed under arrest.

Missionaries Safe.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—Rev. Dr. A B. Leonard, corresponding secretary of the foreign missionary board of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is visiting his son-in-law in this city, has received a cablegram from Minister Conger and three missionaries in Peking saying that the native Christians in northern China had survived the attacks upon them, but were homeless and destitute. The cablegram said that all the Methodist missionaries were safe, though all the mission property is destroyed save that at Tien-tsin.

Steel Mills to Shut Down.

DUNBAR, Pa., Aug. 27.—Orders were received at this place yesterday from the officials of the Cambria Steel company of Johnstown to shut down all their works at this place for an indefinite period. The Cambria Steel company owns the Mahoning, Atlas, Anchor, Uniondale and Great Bluff plants, which comprise over 400 ovens. The shut down is attributed to a surplus of coke at the furnaces at Johnstown. Over 450 men will be thrown idle.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between James Clark and John W. Murray, trustees, et als, complainant, and The Plainfield Sanitary Company, defendant. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE NINETEENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, A. D., 1900,

Union County Orphan's Court.

IN MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Jeremiah Cash, Administrator of Maggie Cash, DECEASED FOR SALE OF LAND TO PAY DEBTS. } ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

Jeremiah Cash, Administrator of Maggie Cash, deceased, having exhibited to this Court under oath, a just and true account of the personal estate and debts other than the mortgage indebtedness of said deceased, whereby it appears that the personal estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay his debts, and requested the aid of the Court in the premises: It is, on this ninth day of August, nineteen hundred, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, and real estate of said Maggie Cash, deceased appear before the Court, at the Court House, in the City of Elizabeth, on the seventeenth day of October next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and real estate of the said Maggie Cash, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts, or the residue thereof, as the case may require. And it is further ordered, that this order be set up and published in one of the newspapers of this State, as by the statute directed.

in Dentistry is the best substitute for nature's work that can be done. Sound roots may be built up and crowned and thus fill up an unsightly space. NOT A STATE OF WAR

None of the Powers Has Made Formal Declaration.

NEWS FROM PEKING HELD UP.

Washington Has Heard Nothing Direct For Several Days—Japanese Dispatches Say Chinese Are Planning a Rear Attack.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Russia, Germany and Japan have not declared war upon China either separately or in concert. This statement is made upon authority of the highest character. What those nations may do within the next 48 hours or within the next fortnight is a question which no one in Washington is prepared to answer.

A brief dispatch from Chefu conveying a rumor current there that Russia, Germany and Japan had joined in a declaration of war upon China aroused some interested comment among Washington officials and among diplomatic representatives of foreign governments resident here.

In neither official nor diplomatic circles, however, was the rumor taken seriously. No information of such action has reached either the department of state or the legations of the governments primarily interested. That fact alone is accepted in official circles as a sufficient refutation of the rumor.

Not a word was heard yesterday from Minister Conger, General Chaffee or Admiral Remey. Since the dispatch from Consul Fowler was received late last Thursday night the department of state has received no advices from any source in China except a brief cablegram from Minister Conger inquiring how he should route his messages. The text of the dispatch, which, it was explained, was very brief and purely administrative in character, was not made public.

A suspicion exists here that the delay in messages both from and to Washington is rather between Chefu and Shanghai than between Tien-tsin and Peking. From Chefu to Shanghai the telegraph line is in control of the Chinese authorities, and it is suspected they are not so prompt in the transmission of messages as they might be.

Late yesterday a dispatch was received at the Japanese legation from the foreign office of Japan conveying the latest and most authentic information of the situation in and around Peking. In a measure the advices were of a disquieting nature, as they indicated that the Chinese had rallied their forces and were preparing for an attack upon the allies in Peking. If it should prove that the allied forces were besieged in Peking, it would account for the lack of advices from General Chaffee. As made public by Minister Takahira the dispatch from the Japanese foreign office at Tokyo is as follows:

"An official telegram dated Peking, Aug. 18, was received at Tokyo from General Yamaguchi, commander of the Japanese forces, to the following effect:

"'The capital is now entirely cleared of the enemy. A cavalry regiment which had been sent to Wan-shau-shan (where the dowager empress' palace is located) reports that the imperial family, who had left Peking Aug. 14, started after a short rest at Wan-shau-shan for the west and were under the escort of General Ma and his troops, consisting of only about 500 horsemen and 20 carts. The Japanese forces occupied the treasury department, in which over 2,000,000 taels in silver and a large quantity of rice were found.'

"Another telegraphic dispatch dated Taku, Aug. 23, states that as the Chinese troops and Boxers who had gathered at Nan-yuen were about to attack the foreign forces at Peking Japanese and Russian cavalry were expected to encounter them on the 20th. The dispatch further states that Chinese infantry, some 9,000 strong, with 15 guns, are advancing northward from Shang-tung to make a rear attack on the allies."

In the absence of official information from China or from United States officers here interest centers in the diplomatic phases of the existing trouble.

The rumor of a declaration of war by Russia, it is explained, may have grown out of the operations of the troops of the czar in the protection of the southeastern frontier of his empire, or it may have arisen from the reported statement of the commander of the Russian forces at Peking that his government was at war with China, and therefore he must prohibit communication with the Chinese. Neither the operations of Russia on her frontier nor the prohibition by a Russian general of communication with the Chinese would constitute, it is said, a declaration of war by Russia. No general by a mere dictum could declare war. Even his statement that his government had declared war would not make it so.

A declaration of war, it is pointed out by the best authorities, is a perfectly distinct and obvious proceeding. In this country a declaration of war may be made only by congress.

Only once in the present century has such a declaration been made—namely, in 1812 against Great Britain. War may exist actually between the United States and another country, as was the case between this country and Mexico, without action by congress.

The Mexican war had progressed 14 months before action was taken by congress. Troops of the United States had invaded Mexico and several important battles had been fought before congress, to insure the legality of the contest and to protect the rights of the United Staes as a probable conqueror, declared that a state of war had existed from a date 14 months prior to the action of congress. Congress did not declare war against Spain. It declared simply that a state of war existed from a specified time.

Within three hours after the official declaration of congress that the United States was at war with the kingdom of Spain the Spanish government had on the wires an identical note to all governments to which it had accredited representatives notifying them of the existence of a state of war between Spain and the United States.

The attitude this government would assume in the event of a declaration of war by another power would depend, it can be stated, upon the immediate circumstances surrounding the declaration and the situation in China at the time the declaration was made. In any event, it can be said to be no part of the purpose of the United States to sacrifice any of its guaranteed rights or privileges in the Chinese empire.

Armed Chinese Still In Evidence.

PEKING, Aug. 19, via Taku, Aug. 24—Armed Chinese are reported to the southward and westward. A well intrenched force has been located by the Bengal lancers in a village four miles to the southwest. It is believed that the best Chinese leaders are in command. Detachments of the allied forces were out today reconnoitering and looting. The imperial city and the forbidden city are under close guard by the international authorities. This morning a thanksgiving service was attended by the members of the British and American legations, the missionaries and the marines.

Russian Successes Reported.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—General Grodekoff, commander of the Amur government, reports under date of Aug. 24 that Kam-ni and Echa-tchan have been occupied by the Russians. The Chinese sent an emissary to General Rennenkampf proposing a suspension of operations, but the Russian general replied that he was unable to cease hostilities.

THE COMMISSION AT WORK.

Daily Sessions Held In Manila—Aguinaldo In the Hills.

MANILA, Aug. 27.—The Philippine commission is thoroughly investigating and adjusting civil affairs. It holds daily sessions. Interest in the work of the commission is rapidly increasing, both Filipinos and foreigners anxiously awaiting the establishment of civil government.

The third day's session of the hearing on the question of ownership of property held by the Catholic church was mainly occupied by Mgr. Chapelle, the papal delegate, and Mgr. Nozaledas, archbishop of Manila, who argued that the church is the rightful owner of San Jose college in Manila, a contention which the Filipinos are combating with much bitterness. The rooms of the commission have been crowded during the sessions. The provincial native papers are agitating the subject under the title of "The Church versus the United States." The decision, which will be given in about three weeks, will establish a precedent in the enormous land cases involved in the claim of church ownership and will also have a strong influence on the relations between the Filipinos and Americans.

There is a slight lull in military affairs. The official bulletins give only meager reports of widely scattered operations during the past fortnight. There have been numerous skirmishes in the vicinity of Manila and in the Camarines provinces, the Visayan islands and Mindanao.

Aguinaldo is reported to be in the vicinity of Biagnabato, where General Funston and General Grant are constantly scouting in the mountains. The work is rough and wearying. The enemy is hard to locate, as they are active and have accurate knowledge of the country.

Planned to Attack Manila.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The war department has made public letters found among the papers of General Ricart, recently arrested by the police near Manila. Among them is an unsigned letter in regard to an attack on Manila in January, 1900. It states that the reason for not carrying out the proposed attack was because of the small number of resolute persons stationed at the gates and because General Otis had gone aboard a ship in Manila bay. Another attack was planned, but not carried out because the "enemy" made a careful search of the city as a result of disturbances the previous day. The letter advises another attack and outlines the plan.

Mine Workers Meet.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 27.—The United Mine Workers of the anthracite coal region here invited the operators to meet them in joint conference today for the purpose of agreeing on a wage scale and the settlement of a number of grievances presented through a committee appointed for that purpose at the convention held in this city two weeks ago. From present indications not an operator will be present, so no joint conference will be possible. What will be done by the convention is a matter of doubt. Only a few of the 200 or more delegates who will represent the various mine workers' locals of the anthracite districts are on the ground, and it rests entirely with them what action will be taken.

Marquis Ito's Manifesto.

YOKOHAMA, Aug. 27.—Marquis Ito, formerly prime minister, has issued a manifesto setting forth the aims of his party, which is called the Constitutional Political association and from the ranks of which the next cabinet will probably be drawn. The manifesto emphasizes the fact that the appointment and dismissal of the ministers are constitutional prerogatives of the sovereign and that when the ministers are in office it is not permissible to their party to interfere in the discharge of their duties. The press urges the sending of troops to Korea. The cabinet hesitates, but a Japanese cruiser has been sent.

Stevenson Instead of Towne.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Unless the unexpected happens Adlai E. Stevenson will be substituted for Charles A. Towne as the vice presidential nominee on the Populist ticket. A poll of the national committee of that party was taken, and the Illinois man was seemingly assured a comfortable majority. The Populists who are advocating unity with the Democrats predict that the selection of Mr. Stevenson to be Bryan's running mate on both tickets will be unanimous, though Senator Marion Butler, chairman of the committee, and several others have declared themselves as unalterably opposed to such action.

New Route to Santa Fe.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Aug. 27.—It is stated that the railroad now being built out of St. Louis and across Missouri, known as the St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado, is to be a Santa Fe line which will absorb the charter of the Jefferson City, Fort Scott and Southwestern company and build to Chanute, Kan., via this city and connect there with the Santa Fe Southwestern line. This will give the Santa Fe the St. Louis connection which it has long wanted and at the same time open up to St. Louis a direct connection with the big southwestern territory of the Santa Fe lines.

Failures Decrease In Great Britain

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The bankruptcy report for the United Kingdom for 1899 shows a decrease of 481 failures and £1,250,000 in liabilities as compared with the previous year. The special feature is the number of bankrupt solicitors, the liabilities of four of whom amounted to more than £643,000.

VETERANS IN CAMP.

Grand Army Men Meet In Chicago.

CROWDS AT OPENING SONG SERVICE.

Address by Commander In Chief Shaw—Outlook Is For a Record Breaking Attendance—Tenting In the Rain In Lincoln Park.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Despite a rain which fell at times with the energy of a stream from a garden hose and degenerated periodically into a cold soaking drizzle the Grand Army patriotic and sacred song service at the Coliseum last night was attended by a throng which taxed the capacity of the immense building to the utmost. The exercises began at 8 o'clock, and between that hour and 7 o'clock the sidewalk on Wabash avenue was impassable for a block in both directions. A large detachment of police was on hand, and the officers had their hands more than full in handling the crowd. The jam in the doorways at 8 o'clock was terrific, and although none was injured many gowns and coats were badly wrecked. It is estimated that fully 13,000 people were packed into the hall, and thousands more were unable to gain admission.

Bishop Samuel Fallows of Chicago, who gained renown as a fighting man on the battlefield before he won distinction in the pulpit and who is the chairman of the encampment committee on religious exercises, presided. On the platform with him were Mayor Harrison, Commander In Chief Shaw of the G. A. R., Rev. Thomas G. Iliff of Salt Lake City, General Daniel E. Sickles, Rev. E. G. Hirsh of Chicago and a host of department commanders of the G. A. R. as well as the local officials in charge of Chicago's end of the encampment.

After a musical selection had been rendered by the band the vast audience joined in the Lord's prayer, being led by Rev. Frank Gunsaulus of Chicago, and then Bishop Fallows extended a warm and eloquent welcome to the visiting veterans. A responsive reading was led by Rev. J. D. Severinghaus of Chicago, and Bishop Fallows then introduced Commander In Chief Shaw, who spoke at some length upon "True Patriotism." He dwelt upon the services which had been rendered to this nation in particular and the world at large by the members of the Grand Army and pointed out the need of training the coming generations in the duties which patriotism demands of the nation's citizens.

Rev. E. G. Hirsch delivered a patriotic address, and Rev. T. D. Wallace pronounced the benediction. Between the addresses musical numbers were given by the band of 100 pieces, and vocal selections were given by soloists, quartets and the chorus, all of them being applauded frantically by the audience, which was in an intensely patriotic frame of mind.

Veterans and visitors to the encampment came in by the thousands, every incoming passenger train being packed to the doors. Railroad officials estimated that fully 75,000 people arrived during the day, of which number 18,000 were members of the G. A. R. Forty thousand strangers had arrived previously, over 11,000 of whom were veterans, a total of 29,000 already in the city, and reports from the railroads and G. A. R. headquarters indicate that today's arrivals will swell the number to a record breaking total. Reception committees were at all the railroad stations to direct the veterans to their hotels and lodging houses.

They were "tenting on the old camp ground" in Lincoln park last night. In spite of the steady drizzling rain and the water soaked ground the pale light of lanterns glimmered through the walls of white tents along the lake shore drive, and a group of old soldiers sat under a shelter tent around a ruddy campfire and sang "Marching Through Georgia" and told stories of the fighting for the Union.

The chief feature of the exercises tonight will be a reunion of the ex-prisoners of war at the Coliseum. A monster gathering is expected, as the doors will be open to all. James Atwell of Pittsburg, national commander, will call the meeting to order. The presiding officer is to be Mayor Carter H. Harrison. Chaplain McCabe, who was a prisoner at Libby, will be present and will sing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" as he and his fellow prisoners sang it behind the bars in Richmond 35 years ago.

A Double Drowning.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 27.—Altha M. Ritenour of this place lost his life through the death embrace of a friend he was trying to save from drowning. Samuel Trimble of East End, Pittsburg, attempted to swim across the Monongahela river several miles above Point Marion and when some distance from the other side gave out and called for help. Young Ritenour went to his rescue, and when he reached the drowning man the latter clutched him about the body in a desperate manner in such a way that Ritenour's arms were held against his body, and both went down.

Strong Measures Against Anarchists

VIENNA, Aug. 27.—The Politische Correspondenz asserts that the French government has expressed its readiness to interchange opinions with the powers regarding more stringent measures against anarchists, believing that the present means of repression are inadequate. The Hungarian government has ordered a search for a number of anarchists whose descriptions are given. This action is believed to be due to the Italian government's statement that 20 anarchists have recently left the United States to assassinate European sovereigns.

Mosquitoes In Swarms.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Aug. 27.—A plague of mosquitoes has invaded Mount Vernon, City Island and other places along the sound. They were so thick on the boulevard through Pelham Bay park from Pelham Manor to City Island that it was dangerous to drive there, as great swarms of them attacked the horses, and several runaways were the result.

Two Drowned.

HARTFORD, Aug. 27.—August Janowski, aged 22, was drowned in the upper pond of the Phenix Manufacturing company at Vernon yesterday afternoon. He got beyond his depth and was unable to swim. At Winsted the 12-year-old son of Larry Burgess was seized with cramps while bathing in Still river yesterday morning and was drowned.

FILIPINO BARBARITIES.

Instances of Their Inhuman Treatment of American Dead.

EMPORIA, Kan., Aug. 27.—Lieutenant William Weaver of the Thirty-second United States volunteers, who resigned in the spring on account of illness and has just returned home from the Philippines, tells of barbarities practiced by Filipinos upon American soldiers. He said that outside of the Macabebes, who were friendly to the Americans, the Filipinos are very cruel.

"Six men were killed at Dinalupijahan," said Lieutenant Weaver, "and I do not think there was a man that had fewer than ten bullet holes in his body.

"In the case of one American soldier it looked as though the muzzle of the revolver had been placed right in his eye and fired. He was also stabbed in the neck and breast with bayonets. Here is another sample of their cruelty: Harry Easter of Emporia and McDonald of Iowa, two of my company, were killed instantly. Harry Easter was shot in the neck, and the other man was shot in the back of the head. Only about 20 of the company were with them, and they were attacked by about 250 Filipinos.

"The Americans fought them an hour and 40 minutes. They had to leave the dead, and when they came back the rebels had stripped the boys of all their clothing. They pulled up grass and sticks and built a fire on their breasts. We got to the boys before anything further was done to them. We got Easter and the other man away before they were burned."

FORCING BOTHA BACK.

Advancing Against the Boers In Three Columns.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The English are relieved to learn that General Roberts has resumed personal command of the main British army on its advance to Barberton. He was at Wonderfontein on Friday, 22 miles from Machadodorp. General Botha is retiring slowly. The British are advancing in three columns, one under General Pole-Carew from Belfast, another under General French from east of Machadodorp and the third under General Buller from the south.

It is reported that Trooper Chadwick, the American belonging to Roberts' horse who lately won a queen's scarf for conspicuous bravery, has been captured while scouting southwest of Pretoria.

General Roberts met General Buller at Belfast on Saturday.

British Ready to Advance.

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 27.—Lord Roberts arrived Saturday at Belfast, a few miles west of Machadodorp, where he met Sir Redvers Buller, General French and General Pole-Carew. Everything is now in readiness for the advance.

Alabama Makes Fast Trip.

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—The battleship Alabama arrived in President Roads yesterday afternoon after an uneventful trip from New York. She is now anchored in the roads in the middle of the fleet of warships which are assembled there for her trial. During the run over after leaving New York the battleship made great time under forced draft, averaging between 16 and 17 knots for 6½ consecutive hours. This is much better time than has been made by battleships thus far on runs previous to the trial.

Milk Producers Organize.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The Five States Milk Producers' association is trying to organize the farmers for the protection of the milk producers so as to keep the price in the control of the producers and not of the speculators. An organization has been made in Chenango county, known as the thirty-second milk zone, and includes a radius of 50 to 75 miles. Farmers are joining with enthusiasm. It is hoped to be able to dictate the price to dealers by Sept. 12.

Last Meeting of War Veterans.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 27.—The National Association of Mexican War Veterans will meet in Cincinnati Sept. 13 and 14, and the local committee of entertainment has arranged an enjoyable programme for its entertainment. Mexican veterans are expected from all over the country, as it is probable that this will be the last formal meeting of the national association, the members of which are now all upward of 70 years of age.

GOOD ADVICE TO CUBA

Governor Wood Speaks at a Banquet In Santiago.

ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING ACCORDED

Islanders Urged to Put Aside Party Strife and Send Their Best Citizens to the Coming Constitutional Convention.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Aug. 27.—Governor General Wood was officially banqueted here by the Republican and Democratic parties. The civil governor, the archbishop of Cuba, the principal judicial and civil dignitaries and 100 representative merchants were present.

Senor Tamayo, secretary of state, in a forcible speech said:

"This is one of the most important epochs in the political history of Cuba. A constitutional convention, where the fundamental law of the land is to be framed, is about to be formed. In that convention the people of Cuba are to prove themselves capable of constructing a government, of guaranteeing life and property and of preserving order. They are also to prove that Cuba is a land open to all men, not only to those who are Cubans by the accident of birth or who participated in the revolution, but also those who can claim the privilege under the treaty of Paris.

"This is a moment when political contentions should be set aside. The issue is national. Cuba is about to obtain what three generations bled for, and if the constitutional convention is not what it should be the noble dead will rise to demand that that blood shall not have been shed in vain. If we fail in this convention, we shall be unworthy of the blood that was shed at El Caney and on San Juan hill. General Wood is the true friend of Cuba, and I can certify to it. The United States government is sincere in the promises it has made. I appeal to you all to send to the convention the best and most capable men among us and thus to show the world that Cubans are worthy of the confidence placed in their capacity for self government."

Governor General Wood on rising was greeted with shouts of approbation and "vivas," which were taken up by some 3,000 people assembled outside the clubhouse on the Parque de Cespedes. He spoke in part as follows:

"I am here as your friend and in no other capacity. Only those who remember the Ten Years' war can have as full knowledge of the conditions of this province as I have myself. When I first saw El Caney matters were in a most deplorable condition. The road to Santiago was marked with dead and dying. In the improvement one sees everywhere we have a proof of the friendly interest shown by the American people.

"Everybody in the United States was astonished at the satisfactory way in which the municipal elections passed off. President McKinley personally asserted that he thought the time for the next step had come. Whatever the ultimate destiny of Cuba may be, its immediate future is independence. This is no political move on the part of the United States, but a sincere desire to do what is right. Therefore, I beg you as a personal favor to me and to the United States government to sink your political differences and passions and to send men to the convention who are renowned for honor and capacity, so that the convention may mean more than the Cubans even now anticipate.

"You want liberty for all and for no particular party. The United States insists that you shall have it. This is possible, and easily possible. We have said it to the world. It lies with you to help us make our word good. Your enemies predict failure. The people of the United States and their representatives hope to see you defeat these predictions. If we were not your friends, we would not seek the best men you have, but would seek the disturber and the malcontent to represent you in the convention. We seek and demand the best you have. Again I say, send people to the convention who will hereafter make your political system workable and permanent."

General Wood's speech is considered by Cubans here to be the most important declaration made since the American occupation began.

The Cuban flag was raised over the palace by General Wood's permission yesterday, thousands of Cubans witnessing the ceremony. Later in the afternoon the American, Cuban and Spanish arms were fastened together in decorations at the principal theater, where General Wood was present. This was the first time the Spanish arms have been exhibited since the evacuation. In the morning General Wood visited the battlefields of San Juan and El Caney.

Killed by Lightning.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—A very severe electrical storm passed over New York and vicinity yesterday afternoon, a number of houses being struck by lightning. At Union Hill, N. J., the annual fest of the Plattdeutscher verein was being held when the storm came up. When the rain began all, most of the crowd sought shelter in a large pavilion, while others ran into smaller pavilions scattered throughout Scheutzen park. In one of these were about a dozen persons. Suddenly a ball of fire struck the electric light wire in the street and ran along the wires across the park, rolling into the pavilion mentioned. Everybody in the place was affected by a shock, and when they recovered it was discovered that two young men, Joseph Schoening of Union Hill and another who was not known, lay dead on the floor. A woman who had also sought shelter in the place was so badly affected by shock that it was a long time before she could be brought back to consciousness.

Supposed Murderer Arrested.

ELIZABETH, W. Va., Aug. 27.—Last Thursday the stepson of Sam Shepard, a farmer living near Pewee, Wirt county, was found dead with his skull crushed, and Mrs. Shepard was found mortally wounded. The crime was committed on Wednesday night during Shepard's alleged absence from home. Yesterday, owing to blood stains being found on Shepard's clothing, he was arrested, charged with the murder. Mrs. Shepard is dying.

National League Games.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Two games of baseball were played under National league auspices yesterday. At Cincinnati the home team whitewashed the Pittsburgs and secured but one run to their credit. At St. Louis Chicago lost to the home team by a score of 6 to 3.

It seems to be an assured fact now that Middlesex county will in the course of a short time have a county insane asylum. The Board of Freeholders have inspected the one in Camden county, and have concluded there is no use paying the State at least double what it would cost with a county asylum. Middlesex county now pays $35,000 per year for the maintenance of 205 patients at the State Hospital in Trenton. Camden county last year paid for the care of 194 patients $8,000. Under the State law the State pays $2 per week for the care of the insane and the county involved $3, but in Camden county's case a goodly sum is saved. The county asylum and grounds will cost Middlesex county about $100,000, and the asylum can be conducted for about $20,000 per year. This will save at least $15,000 to the county, and in seven years' time the cost of the buildings will have been paid for out of the $15,000 saved every year.

The Democratic headquarters for New Jersey, which have been established at the Hotel Washington, Jersey City, first put on a businesslike aspect Saturday. They were visited by many of the leaders from other counties. Secretary Wm. K. Devereux said that he had sent out a large number of invitations to well-known speakers. He said he expected answers in a day or two, and that by the end of the week he would be able to arrange a series of meetings all over the State. Not much will be attempted, however, until after the State convention. Among those who have been asked to take the stump and has responded favorably, is James E. Martine.

Governor Voorhees will have the following appointments to make next winter without the consent of the Senate: Deputy Factory Inspectors, vice Lewis H. Barrett, William H. Dodd, George W. Taylor, John Hunter, Joseph Millburn and William B. Tucker; a member of the State Board of Health, vice Laban Dennis; of the State Board of Pharmacy, vice Henry A. Jordan; of the State Board of Dentistry, vice G. Carlton Brown, and of the State Oyster Commission, vice Edward Stites, Jr.

The Hackensack Republican calls attention to the fact that as Senator Johnson's resignation will leave New Jersey without a president of the Senate, in case of the death or resignation or absence from the State of the Governor, Speaker Jones of the Assembly will, according to the constitution of the State, become the acting governor.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The account of a trolley trip from 59th street, New York, to Plainfield and return, made by a party of New Yorkers, appeared in yesterday's New York Sun. According to the story the party traveled about 72 miles in all by trolley and it cost each one 73 cents. The members, judging by their story, were not the least bit tired, on the contrary they thoroughly enjoyed the day's outing. They pay quite a compliment to Plainfield and vicinity by describing its many attractive features and natural beauty. The entire trip consumed nine and one-half hours.

Helpful Sermon.

Rev. Mr. Sullivan, pastor of the Baptist church at Paterson, preached two highly interesting and helpful sermons at the First Baptist church yesterday. In the morning he preached from the text "Lo, I Am With You Always, Even Unto the End of the World."

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Manager Edwards has a treat in store for his patrons tomorrow evening, the Pat Chappelle Comedy Company in "A Rabbit's Foot," a very farce-comedy, by Frank Dumont. Minstrelsy, refined specialties, buck and wing dancing, plantation pastimes. Lots of fun for all. Two brass bands. A great big street parade. This is to laugh and be merry.

• • • • •

Next Friday evening at Music Hall will be a gala event, the occasion being the appearance of Harry Gilfoil, Mabel Montgomery, Fleurette, Pearl Hamlin, Emily Gardner, Clayton Kennedy, Will Philbrick and fifteen other clever comedians in the superb production of Charles Hoyt's most popular comedy success, "A Trip to Chinatown," presented in a most sumptuous manner with everything in the way of scenery, stage accessories, music, dances, specialties and costuming new and fully up to date. Of all the many comedies that have been presented here under the name of Hoyt there is none that has so strong a hold upon theatre-goers as "A Trip to Chinatown." Its coming engagement is looked forward to as one of the season's theatrical events, and that it will be accorded a royal welcome goes without saying. The sale of seats now in progress indicates that the "standing room only" sign on the night of this engagement will be brought into use.

MAD DOG RAN AMUCK.

Dashed Into a Funeral Procession and Made Great Excitement.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Aug. 27—There was plenty of excitement in the center of the town yesterday afternoon and many children had narrow escapes from being bitten by a mad dog. The dog, which was a large setter, was first seen at Embree Crescent, where three other dogs were bitten. The dog then came down Clark street to Broad street and through North avenue to the corner of Elm street, where the insane brute dashed into the Exempt Firemen, who were lined up to meet the body of their dead comrade, W. W. Gilby, a former resident of Westfield, who died at Freeport, L. I., Friday. For a few minutes there was such a scurrying of men as this town has seldom seen. At this point Edgar Wilcox arrived on the scene with a shotgun and soon put an end to the dog.

Republican Delegates.

The Republicans of the borough met Friday evening and selected delegates to attend the coming conventions. Former Mayor Charles Place was chairman of the primary, and Former Borough Clerk J. K. Arnold was the secretary. The delegates to the State convention to select Presidential electors are Charles Sebring, P. A. Emmons and B. A. Hegeman, Jr. This convention will be held on Wednesday, September 5th, at Trenton. The delegates to the Congressional convention to be held at New Brunswick on Thursday, September 6th, are Charles A. Reed, Charles Place and H. J. Martin.

On the Way to Pekin.

The New York Sun of yesterday contained a very interesting story of some length from the pen of Wilbur Chamberlin, who left New York a few weeks ago for China. The article is headed "On the Way to Pekin," and it gives a highly entertaining account of what Mr. Chamberlin has seen thus far.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, Aug. 27—While driving along Main street on their way home late Saturday night, M. W. Casterline and Fred Ward, of New Market, met with a rather serious mishap. When opposite the Whittier school they turned to the right to avoid a wagon coming in the opposite direction, and in the darkness did not notice a hydrant which is located there. The wagon struck the hydrant with full force throwing both men out. Each received several bad cuts and bruises about the face and body. The wagon was badly wrecked. The shafts were broken, a front wheel dished and the body badly scratched. Another wagon was procured from Dunellen and the men were able to finish their journey.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruption, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Miss Yaeger, chief operator at the local telephone exchange, returned to her duties this morning after enjoying a vacation of two weeks.

Among those who have gone to Chicago to attend the National G.A.R. Encampment are John Shepherd, Harvey Smith and Edward Vanderweg. They left Plainfield yesterday.

—Call on J. A. Smith & Brother if you want the finest peaches and Bartlett pears produced. They have got 'em and their price, as usual, is correct.

—Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign going without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Luscious Fruits.

Some are home grown, some are from California and Florida and some are imported. Among the first are berries, grapes, apples, delicious muskmelons, etc.

The second lot includes peaches, plums, pears, pineapples, bananas, etc. The foreign fruits are lemons, oranges, bananas, etc.

The fruits we offer are of delightful flavor and in perfect condition.

Bissersheim. Bürgermeister Michael Fey und seine Gattin Elise, geborene Puder, feierten das Fest der silbernen Hochzeit.

Kaiserslautern. Der Gemeinde Weilerbach wurde die nachgesuchte Bewilligung zu den Vorarbeiten für eine Lokalbahn von Kaiserslautern über Siegelbach nach Weilerbach und Reichenbach auf die Dauer eines Jahres ertheilt.

Pirmasens. Ueber das Vermögen des Schuhfabrikanten Heinrich Hill ist das Konkursverfahren eröffnet worden. Durch den Sturz dieses großen Etablissements wurden einige hundert Arbeiter brodlos. Auch der Schuhfabrikant Heinrich Schneider hat den Konkurs angemeldet.

Wieselbach. Während eines schweren Gewitters schlug hier der Blitz in einen Stall und tödtete zwei Personen, die mit dem Füttern der Kühe beschäftigt waren.

Württemberg.

Stuttgart. In geheimer Sitzung des Gemeinderaths wurde Stadtbaurath Zobel an Stelle des Bauraths Kölle zum Vorstand des städtischen Tiefbauamts gewählt; die technische Oberleitung des Wasserwerkamtes behält Zobel bei.—Die Polizei verbot neulich einen bereits angekündigten Vortrag des italienischen Professors Stahly über die „Maffia," weil Stahly Ausländer ist.

Friedrichshafen. Vom Sturm ereilt wurden neulich drei junge Techniker von hier, die aus Lindau von einer Segelpartie heimkehrten. Bei Manzell schlug das Boot um. Mit größter Anstrengung konnten sie sich halten, bis das Kursschiff um 9 Uhr vorbeikam. Unter großen Schwierigkeiten gelang es, zwei der Schiffbrüchigen zu retten, während der dritte in den Wellen verschwand.

Heilbronn. Bei Instandsetzung des Transformatorenhauses der mechanischen Schuhfabrik im benachbarten Sontheim geriethen zwei Arbeiter, ein Schlosser und ein Monteur, an die Hochspannungsleitung. Beide blieben sofort todt.

Krailsheim. Mehrere auf der Bahnstrecke von hier nach Maulach beschäftigte Arbeiter stellten sich, als von Maulach her ein Güterzug nahte, auf das freie Geleis. In demselben Augenblicke fuhr eine leere Lokomotive von der Station Krailsheim her in die Arbeiter hinein. Einem Arbeiter wurden beide Füße abgefahren, ein anderer erlitt eine schwere Verletzung an der Hüfte und ein dritter wurde zur Seite geschleudert. Sämmtliche Verunglückte wurden in das Bezirkskrankenhaus gebracht.

Ulm. Wegen Verleumdung und Beleidigung des Oberstaatsanwalts Hecker dahier standen 12 Personen vor Gericht. Die Hauptverleumderin wurde mit vier Monaten Gefängniß, ihr Vater mit zehn Tagen bestraft. Die Uebrigen kamen mit Geldstrafen davon, zwei wurden freigesprochen.

Baden.

Baden-Baden. In dem benachbarten Dorfe Ebersteinburg, einem Orte, welcher stets unter großem Wassermangel zu leiden hat, brach neulich Abends zwischen 11 und 12 Uhr ein Brand aus, dem vier Wohnhäuser und viele Fahrnisse zum Opfer fielen. Da in Folge der großen Hitze das Feuer schnell Nahrung fand und Wasser zum Löschen fast gar nicht vorhanden war, mußten sich die von Baden herbeigeeilten Feuerwehrmannschaften darauf beschränken, ein weiteres Umsichgreifen des Feuers zu verhindern.

Bonndorf. In Brunnadern brannten elf Häuser ab, darunter auch Kirche und Schule.

Heidelberg. Dieser Tage promovirte hier Fräulein Elisabeth v. Richthofen in Nationalökonomie mit dem Prädikate: Summa cum laude und wird alsbald als Assistentin bei der Großherzoglich Badischen Gewerbeinspektion eintreten.

Mannheim. Unter dem Verdachte des betrügerischen Bankerotts wurde der frühere Mitinhaber des vor einiger Zeit hier eingegangenen Waarenhauses Heinemann u. Dublon, A. Dublon, verhaftet. Die Festnahme erfolgte in Straßburg, wo Dublon an einem Automobil-Rennen theilnahm.

HOW TO WEAR GLOVES.

Many Otherwise Well-Dressed Women Are Inclined to Neglect This Important Accessory.

Most women do not realize the importance of the glove. An ill-fitting or inappropriate glove can mar the effect of an entire costume. It is unfortunate that there should be so much carelessness in connection with that article of dress which has held so revered a place in romantic history. Gloves have been the symbol of power, the gauge of defiance and the token of love, and now they have dwindled to a necessary adjunct of dress which in the majority of cases is treated with the same consideration as a poor relation—anything is good enough! But women's carelessness of detail in regard to hand covering is noticed and commented upon to an extent which, if the fair wearers only realized it, would create a revolution in glove wearing.

There are many "do nots" which are applicable to glove wearing:

Do not buy cheap gloves. If your income is limited you might better don neatly mended, correctly cut, good quality gloves than a new pair of poor shape and quality.

Do not wear evening or dress gloves except in the evening or on dressy occasions. It seems to have become a custom to wear a fresh pair of delicate gloves on some important occasion. When they become slightly soiled or have been cleaned they are used for less important times, and a thoroughly soiled glove appears to be "good enough to run out in or to wear shopping." This is thoroughly bad taste, if not bad form. For traveling, walking and shopping wear a medium heavy glove matching the costume or a stout English glove of some neutral shade. This will prove more economical than always purchasing dress gloves, which when once soiled are hacked out so quickly and look so slovenly.

Do not try to make the hand look small by wearing a tight glove. In selecting a glove, be sure the fingers are long enough and that the button or clasp fastens at the juncture of wrist and hand and not on the palm. It is best to purchase from different dealers until gloves perfectly suiting the hand of the wearer are discovered, and then give that dealer all your trade. Promiscuous glove buying is as bad as promiscuous shoe buying.

PUTTING ON A GLOVE.
(The Diagram Shows the Right Way and the Wrong Way.)

On the other hand, do not wear gloves too large. The baggy backs, wrinkled fingers and slouchy wrists do not give that refinement of appearance which all women covet.

Do not wear a glove with a button off or a rip in some seam, thinking it will not be noticed. Such a defect is glaring to strangers and friends. Almost any store will have any gloves which have been bought from them properly mended for a trifling sum, and the gloves look much better than when mended at home.

Do not put a new glove on carelessly. The first wearing molds the glove to the hand and decides its future appearance. Be careful to get the fingers straight and work them gently on, little by little, each in turn. Then put one finger in the palm and, by pressing outward adjust the hand part. The thumb follows, and when the seam on the outside of the hand is even and smooth the glove may be buttoned or clasped.

Do not take the glove off carelessly if you desire it to last well. In taking gloves off turn the wrist over the fingers and draw until the fingers are half uncovered, then the finger ends may be loosened by the tips. This makes it an easy matter to readjust the glove right side out. It is a good plan to breathe in a glove after taking it off. It preserves the softness of the kid by quickly drying any slight moisture.—N. Y. Herald.

Hot Water Is an Excitant.

A prominent medical journal says that there are four classes of persons who should not drink hot water freely. They are: (1) People who have irritability of the heart. Hot water will cause palpitation of the heart in such cases. (2) Persons with dilated stomachs. (3) Persons afflicted with "sour stomach." (4) Persons who have soreness of the stomach, or pain induced by light pressure. These rules are not for those who take hot water simply to relieve thirst better than cold water, and for that purpose is not to be condemned. But hot water is an excitant, and in cases in which irritation of the stomach exists should be avoided.

To Renovate Straw Hats.

To clean straw hats use ammonia and water, or use an old tooth brush and wash the straw with a little tepid water, sparingly mixed with borax and white soap. Sponge off as much of the soap as possible before drying.

Don't Box Baby's Ears.

CARRIE. You wouldn't think I would give Ripans Tabules to a child like Charlie, would you?

ELSIE. No, indeed. He could not swallow one, and it would be too powerful.

CARRIE. They are all right for him. Of course, he don't need one very often, and I used to give him a quarter of a one, afterwards half, but now he takes a whole one and they seem to be just what he needs—once in a while, you know—not often.

ELSIE. And he swallows it without any fuss?

CARRIE. Yes. He don't mind it at all—but I can't swallow one, though. I'm the only member of this family that don't take Ripans Tabules.

AMERICA AND CHINA.

Why Uncle Sam Will Find It Hard to Collect Indemnity.

Secretary Evarts' Letter of December 30, 1880, to the Peking Government May Prove Itself a Diplomatic Boomerang.

[Special Washington Letter.]

THERE is considerable talk in the newspapers about "indemnity" for the outrages which have been committed in China against foreigners temporarily resident in that empire.

At the department of state the officials express the belief that there will be neither indemnity, reparation nor retribution for anything which has been done. Of course these officials do not talk for publication, because that would be contrary to the rules and precedents of the department, but in private conversation with personal friends they say that "indemnity" is practically out of the question.

Li Hung Chang spoke for the imperial government when he said that the treasury of China is so depleted that no cash indemnity can be paid, and that the people of China will not permit any further concessions of territory to the countries interested. The word "indemnity" covers a great deal of ground in international law. It means a complaisant, friendly, fraternal effort on the part of the country in which the outrages have been committed to bring the criminals to justice and retribution; an effort to indemnify the sufferers for their wrongs, or to indemnify their heirs if human lives have been sacrificed; or reparation in the form of abject apology, if the national honor has been specifically involved.

The utterances of Li Hung Chang indicate that the Chinese government does not intend to do any of these things, and the eminent oriental statesman speciously pleads the utter inability of the government of Peking to do anything more than publicly express regret for the consequences of the alleged insurrection. Present indications are that there will be no recognition of the fact that the national honor of any country has been involved.

What other nations may do under these circumstances can only be conjectured. It is well known that all of the powers of the world cannot demand an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, because the invasion and destruction of the Chinese empire would be impossible. The reasons for this conclusion have heretofore been given with some degree of elaboration.

This republic is very unfortunately circumstanced in the matter. It has always fought off the payment of indemnities, and the admission of national responsibilty for outrages committed in violation of treaty stipulations. There is one specific case in point which the Chinese government may well cite, and which it will undoubtedly cite. On December 30, 1880, William M. Evarts, our secretary of state, wrote officially to the Chinese minister in Washington as follows:

"I know of no principle of national obligation, and there is certainly none arising from treaty stipulation, which renders it incumbent upon the government of the United States to make indemnity to the Chinese residents of Denver who, in common with the citizens of the United States, suffered losses by the operations of the mob. Whatever remedies may be offered to the citizens of Colorado, or to the citizens of the United States from other states in the union resident in Colorado, for losses resulting from that occurrence are equally open to the Chinese residents of Denver who may have suffered from the lawlessness of the mob."

Twenty years ago China was a small factor in international affairs, and every nation snubbed her in diplomatic correspondence. The Chinese minister replied to Secretary Evarts, saying: "China must submit to your decision as to her citizens who have been outraged by a mob in Denver; but I venture the expression of opinion that if the cases were reversed the United States would be disposed to belligerently demand indemnity."

The reverse side of the situation has come; and there stands the precedent established by this country. Citizens of China have suffered losses and have been deprived of their lives, and the Chinese government can readily reply to any demand for indemnity or retribution: "Your own government has established the precedent that prevents you from making any demand upon China. We have the identical letter of your Secretary Evarts on this question, and you are estopped from requiring of China what you declined to admit when our citizens were outraged and killed in your country." That will undoubtedly be the unanswerable position to be taken.

"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," is as true to-day as when it was first written; and it is as true of nations as it is of individuals. When our government declined to mete out justice to China, and to her outraged citizens, nobody could foresee the massacre of missionaries, their wives, children and the native converts. Nevertheless, the sense of justice and equity which is born in all men must have lived in the mind and heart of the great statesman who set aside justice and pleaded as Cain pleaded: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

But Secretary Evarts was not the first statesman to set up this plea of non-responsibility. So great a man as Daniel Webster, when he was secretary of state, wrote a letter to the Spanish minister on November 13, 1857, saying: "Private individuals, subjects of her Catholic majesty, coming to reside voluntarily in the United States, have certainly no cause of complaint if they are protected by the same law and the same administration of law as native born citizens of this country."

Secretary Blaine, in his letter to the Spanish minister, in reference to the

A MASSACRE IN WYOMING.

New Orleans riot of 1891, said: "The United States did not by treaty (with Italy), become the insurer of the lives and property of Italian subjects residing within our territory. . . . Foreign residents are not a favored class."

That is the doctrine of American diplomacy, and it reads well from our standpoint. But when we are burning with indignation because of the outrages inflicted upon our own people in China it does not sound so well. The letter of Secretary Evarts to the Chinese minister, in 1880, applies directly to the present situation, and clearly demonstrates the difference between the selfishness of diplomacy and the justice of international procedure. Selfishness and self-seeking in nations ultimately prove to be as unfortunate and unwise as selfishness and self-seeking in individuals. It is particularly unfortunate that so-called Christian nations, living under the higher law, the law of love, should so place themselves.

Public men in the legislative and executive branches of our government regard it as a matter of deep regret that the federal government has no power to punish violators of international law and of treaty stipulations. State law, in all such cases, is in the way of federal law and procedure. Here are a few examples of riots in our own country, in which the federal government was unable to punish the criminals:

The riot in New Orleans in 1851, occasioned by the arrest and execution of some American fillbusters in Cuba, when citizens of New Orleans inflicted injury upon the persons and property of Spanish subjects.

The riot in Denver, 1880, when two Chinamen were beaten to death and a number seriously maltreated.

The riot at Rock Springs, Wyo., September, 1885, when 764 Chinamen were killed and wounded.

The riot at New Orleans, in 1891, when 11 prisoners were taken from jail and put to death by a mob.

There are other incidents, but these will suffice. In each instance it was found impossible, on account of local sentiment, to successfully prosecute the perpetrators of these outrages in the local courts, and, in most instances, it was impossible even to institute a prosecution. In each case the foreign country interested insisted and demanded that the United States government should assert its authority and bring the offenders to justice, and seemed incapable of understanding why the United States government should be powerless to act in the premises.

Speaking of this condition in the senate, and urging that congress should enact legislation to enable the federal government to act in such cases, Senator Davis of Minnesota, one of our greatest constitutional and international lawyers, said: "This government has been adopting state legislation and state procedure from the beginning. The rules of practice and proceeding are settled by state laws by 45 different codes, by 45 different rules of right and property in as many different states."

This is an epitomized statement of the condition of the United States, in constitutional and international law, in the emergency which confronts us when we consider the advisability or necessity of demanding indemnity or retribution for the outrages which have been committed in China. Manifestly our condition, position and precedents are not favorable, and it is not to be wondered that our state department officials are willing to privately admit that we cannot expect any consideration from China, other or better than we have extended to that country and to other countries under similar conditions.

When the millenium comes, if not sooner, statesmen will see that it is as wise to serve the nations as it is wise to serve individuals under the moral law, which is higher and better than national or international law, or diplomacy.

OTHER COUNTRIES' BOXERS.

Secret Societies That Have Worked Evil Elsewhere Than in China.

As recent events have taught us, the Chinese are particularly committed to the policy of the secret society. It is always the way in a land where might is right. Here in England, where it is possible to publicly insult royalty in Hyde park, to openly proclaim one's sympathies with the enemies of one's county, and to slate the war minister in no measured terms without the slightest fear of police intervention, there are practically no secret societies. There is no necessity for them, says the London Mail.

It is different abroad.

In China practically every man is a member of some society of this nature, while in Europe the most notorious secret societies are the various anarchical brotherhoods, which, by the sheer desperation of their methods, have occasionally terrorized entire kingdoms. The acknowledged father of anarchy was the celebrated French economist, Proudhon, who, after being a prominent leader in the revolution of 1848, died in 1865. His exceedingly "advanced" views—to call them by no stronger name—were promulgated in his famous book, "What Is Property?" issued in 1840.

Together with George Sand, and the Russian, Michael Bakunin, Proudhon was the cause of much unsettling of men's minds. The Russian apostle, after suffering several years' imprisonment in Siberia for his share in the German riots of 1849, founded the social democratic alliance in 1869. In 1870 he anticipated the Paris commune by an unsuccessful rising at Lyons, and his works and speeches have largely molded the characteristics of the excitable Spanish and Italian anarchical societies ever since. His principal tenet was the entire rejection of all external authority, no matter how esteemed by the generality of the people.

With the idea of attaining their ideal, nothing has been too diabolical for his followers. The Spanish risings of 1873, instigated by him, were full of horrors. In the same year the large number of young Russian students then in Switzerland (to which country Bakunin had fled from his native land) were recalled to Russia by an imperial ukase.

They returned, as commanded, but took with them the seeds of Russian anarchy, which was eventually to become world-famous as the dreaded nihilism. The first signs of nihilism, albeit of an exceedingly mild type, were crushed with the utmost severity. This brought about retaliation. Men and women of culture fought for their liberty of thought and speech with a savagery that can only be appreciated by those who know the ruthlessness of the Russ disposition.

These deeds of active retaliation began in 1877, when about 100 of them were exiled to Siberia; and culminated in the assassination of Alexander II. in 1881, by means of a bomb thrown beneath his carriage. Among their other victims may be mentioned Gens. Trepoff, Mezentzoff, and Drentein, Commander Hezking and Prince Kropotkin.

After the murder of Alexander, however, the Russian nihilists addressed a memorandum to his son, Alexander III., in which they promised to abstain from further acts of violence if he would concede them a national assembly modeled somewhat upon the lines of the British parliament. This was a distinctly healthy departure from the broad lines of anarchy. Unfortunately, however, nothing came of it, and Russian nihilism, albeit momentarily quiescent, is still a power to be reckoned with.

The other European anarchical societies have hitherto failed to show similar signs of grace. Their work has been written in ghastly letters of blood across the history of the continent. We in England have only been free from their outrages on account of the protection which Soho has afforded their fugitives, and our national disinclination to interfere with liberty of speech. Elsewhere they have been less amenable.

In Spain, for instance, there have been the Barcelona outrages, the first on November 7, 1893, when a bomb thrown from the gallery of the Liceo theater killed 20 and maimed upward of 100 poor victims; and, again, on June 7, 1896, when a similar outrage killed 15 and wounded 40 child members of a religious procession. Then, too, the strong hand with which the premier, Senor Canovas, punished this fiendish act was rewarded by the bullet of Golli, who assassinated that fearless minister in the following year.

In Italy it has been much the same. It was an Italian, Santo by name, who stabbed President Carnot. A second compatriot, Luccheni, foully murdered the beautiful empress of Austria; while Legas' attempt upon Crispi in 1894, and Acciarito's similar failure to assassinate King Humbert in 1897, were only two further illustrations of the text from which the Italian anarchists preach their doctrines.

The condition of things was, if anything, still worse in France. In March, 1892, for instance, innumerable seizures of high explosives were made in Paris, culminating on March 30 in the arrest of the celebrated leader, Ravachol. Then followed the Vaillant bomb outrage in the very chamber itself; the Henry outrage of February, 1894, and many others.

Too Honest.

First Bank Director—I think we'd better let Collins go.

Second B. D.—Why? He's been our cashier for 25 years.

"I know, but he's too infernally honest. We don't get a chance to do any financiering."—Harlem Life.

A Keen Sense of Smell.

Tommy had formed the habit of going to Miss Wheatcake's house several times a day, and, strangely enough, most of these visits occurred just at meal times. One morning he arrived before Miss Wheatcake's breakfast was served. He feared that he was too late for the meal, but, being too polite to inquire, merely looked about with anxious stealth for some signs of preparation. Miss Wheatcake saw his perturbation, but said nothing to relieve it. Presently Tommy remarked: "Ain't it funny, Miss Wheatcake, I'm awfully hungry?" Miss Wheatcake made no comment and he wiggled about uneasily in his chair for a few moments, then with a timidly ingratiating look he said: "Seems to me I smell eggs boiling. Do I?"—Judge.

Easy Enough.

Winnie—Dick, why do they put G. C. B. after Lord Roberts' name?

Dick—Oh, don't you know that? That means "generally called Bobs."—Punch.

Towne—"Yes, I'm looking for a house; we'll have to move. The roaches where we are now scare my wife almost to death." Browne—"I thought you said the only thing that could really frighten her was a mouse?" Towne—"That's just it. At a little distance these roaches look like mice."—Philadelphia Press.

Hicks—"What a studious young woman your niece is! And so well informed! It seems to be the aim of her life always to be learning something new." Wicks—"Yes; that is because she did not have the opportunity, that most young women have, to finish her education for good and all when she left school."—Boston Transcript.

WORSE THAN SODOM.

Coney Island, the Most Depraved Spot in All America.

Sodden Revelers and Hardened Slummers Rub Elbows with Hard-Working Laboring Men and Decent Shop Girls.

[Special New York Letter.]

A SWELTERING summer sun; long rows of low frame shanties; broad plank walks extending across the street from side to side; jostling crowds of men and women, red faced and hot, but smiling—the women attired in all the varying grades of the modes, from the loud, gaudy colors of the vulgar to the modest shades of the refined—red, yellow and purple, soft white and blending tints; the men dressed in the cheap outing suits of upper Broadway tailors, in flannels that shrink and wax smaller at the mere hint of a shower, in blue coats, green shirts, orange ties and duck trousers that smack of the pickle boat, with here and there a member of the clubs whose garments have been scissored on Fifth avenue; an incessant yowling—hoarse and horrible—from the rum-lined throats of the barkers to catch-penny side shows; a whirring of merry-go-rounds and noisy carrousels with the booming of automatic bass drums and the tinkling brass and cimbals; a beachful of abandoned bathers in legless breeches, short skirts and rainbow stockings; an odor of fried sea food and a dash of ocean breeze—that's Coney Island.

If you are sensitive, don't go there on a Sunday. But if you want to see life—life from the lower east side; from Mulberry Bend and the avenues along the East river; if you want to see the factory girl in all her glory and the young woman who calls "cash!" for six days in the week from behind a counter in one of the cheap department stores; if you want to see the Bowery boy on an outing, with a sprinkling of uptown folk, who wander over from Manhattan and Brighton beaches—put your prayerbook gently away and study from the original the noblest work of God having a good time for himself.

One hundred and twenty-five thousand people is quite a bunch of humanity to bring together in one place, but that number is only an average July and August attendance at Coney Island. They go there by boats, by steam cars and trolleys. By three o'clock Sunday afternoon the beach is lined with them. They dive and swim and cut capers in the sea. They bury themselves in the sand. They dig wells and stroll up and down in front of the bathing houses. Some of the more venturesome and reckless wander through the crowded streets in their bathing costumes. In the high blare of the afternoon sun I saw a young woman sitting in front of one of the free shows and beer halls in a short flannel skirt dripping with sea water. Her arms were bare and one of her stockings had been removed. Later on, when the sputtering electric lights made bright the streets, when the concert halls emitted the dismal croakings of the so-called singers and the uncanny poundings of pianos which sounded like the beatings of tom-toms of savage races—then the thousands and thousands who had been arriving since early morning choked up these alleyways known as streets and reveled in a madness of folly to which the Saturnalian feasts of Rome would seem tame, listless and inane.

Shocked! You can hear the Sabbath bells tolling in the City of Churches. Across the big bridge are societies for the suppression of vice, for the propagation of a higher state of morals among the heathen of China, whose inhabitants have been very busy of late murdering missionaries. There are societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. There are organizations to raise funds to send Bibles to the shirtless Senegualese, but here in Greater New York they are dancing the couchee-couchee. They have let down the bars of common decency, and degraded men and shameless women are staggering through the iniquitous streets of a licensed sinkhole of licentiousness, beer-soaked and moral blunted.

And yet Coney Island is a great pleasure ground for the common people. In the daytime it is not so bad. On the beach one may see thousands of merry bathers. They have come out for a good time and they evidently have it. All seem to be in the best of good nature. An evidence of this was shown on the day that I was there. Suddenly, within view of the 20,000 persons who lined the beach, the life saving corps rushed to their boat at the water's edge, carrying a middle-aged man, well dressed. He struggled and kicked and shouted, but to no avail. They placed him in the boat and rowed out a distance of 150 feet or so. There they began to rock the boat until he fell into the water. They allowed him to go down twice and then started with him toward the shore. About 50 feet further they threw him overboard again, and for the third time gave him a ducking when 25 feet from land.

When the crowds saw the man's appearance they cried: "Outrage! Outrage!" thinking he had been "ducked" for mere wantonness, but when the life savers explained that he had been caught playing "Peeping Tom" at the women's dressing-rooms they hooted him off the beach.

If you enter Coney Island from one of the trolley lines your first impression is that you are in a country town during county fair week. The buildings are close together and are one and two-story frames. Surf street, which is the most respectable thoroughfare in the place, extends along the entire front of the resort and is lined with merry-go-rounds, restaurants, soda water, lemonade and peanut stands, with one or two German beer gardens and a few saloons. Running to the sea are numerous cross streets, the most important of which is called the "Bowery." There are all kinds of "fakes" at Coney Island, but the "Bowery" contains every "fake" known to man, and the guileless stranger who has a yearning for the glitter of gold bricks and a hankering to hear the clatter of the shells may be satiated to his heart's content. Why, on this street the unsophisticated may wander from end to end with gaping mouth and staring eyes. He will gaze with awe-struck wonder on the huge painted canvas sign of the wild man. He will listen to the plaintive cry of the roper-in who, coatless and pink-shirted, stands in front of the little den in front of which the picture of the big outstretched hand announces that the "seeress" within will read your destiny in your palm.

Just off the "Bowery" there is a circus—quite an equestrian show, with "lady" riders, ringmaster, clown and all. Across the street is an open air restaurant where one may be served with well-cooked salt water fish, crabs and lobsters. While one is eating he may hear the circus band and see the disheveled hair of the "lady" riders through the top of the tent flap. At his side the crowds are passing in an endless stream—the working girls and their escorts, perspiring and happy; the mechanic and his wife and strings of little ones; the painted woman and the loafer; the innocent and the vicious; the ignorant and the cratfy. After all, is it not but a repetition in miniature of the great world outside?

Over on the big iron pier they are playing waltz music. Couples are dancing on the 150 feet of waxed flooring. Far out from the Atlantic comes a cool, refreshing breeze. From one's seat by the railing one may see the long stretch of ocean and catch glimpses of white sails. At the next pier a steamer loaded with more people from the sun-baked city is landing. They are coming in streams from the wharf. On the other side is heard the clang of the trolley bells. They are coming by thousands by land and by sea.

The sun sinks lower and lower and passes out of view. The darkness has come and the streets of the imitation town are aglare with the torches and electric lights. The debauch has begun. The mechanic and his family have gone. Only the bolder of the shop girls are there. The scarlet woman, the criminal, the sodden reveler and the slummer alone remain.

Just beyond are the green fields of Long Island and from between the trees shine the lights of the peaceful homesteads. But there on the seashore amid the quietness of farm life is the most depraved spot in America.

FREDERICK BOYD STEVENSON.

NUMMITS AND CRUMMITS.

Some Odd and Interesting Examples of the Quaint Folk-Lore of Devonshire.

In "Nummits and Crummits," lately issued by Mr. Burleigh, Mrs. Hewett makes an interesting addition to her previous writings on the folk-lore of Devonshire. The title she has chosen is, no doubt, intelligible in the west country; but, as neither word is acknowledged by Halliwell, the ordinary reader may, perhaps, be perplexed. It appears to be the equivalent of the modern afternoon tea. Devonians of old took good care not to go hungry. Before breakfast they had a wee bit, before dinner a stay bit, and between the principal meal and supper a nummit and a crummit. The book, then, is one of scraps and oddments illustrating the local legends, superstitions, maxims and customs of the district.

The folk-lore of Devon and Cornwall is likely to have a special value, says the London Standard, for in those counties the remains of the oldest race of Neolithic folk—the short, dark-haired swarthy people, the precursers of Celts and Saxons—are the most abundant. Here, as in certain parts of Wales and in Brittany, they found camps of refuge from the increasing tides of eastern invaders. In the traditions of these counties, therefore, while much will be common with the rest of England, some relics of the oldest race will lie embedded, like pebbles of ancient rock in a gravel. They may be dated anew, and transferred to more recent times, for a tradition, like a Hindu divinity, has its avatars; but the tale which in the nineteenth century still charms the children of the west may have been told in a rude wigwam ages before the foundation of Rome. That All Hallowe'en should be the time for the divination of coming marriages is universal, though one or two of the methods related by Mrs. Hart seem exceptional.

Death omens find acceptance in most countries, and the white bird of the Oxerhams is only a variant of a widespread legend; but we do not remember to have heard elsewhere of a robin acting as a banshee. As for dreams the book gives quite a collection of their interpretations, many, according to the usual saying, going by contraries. We may mention, for the instruction of those interested in such matters, that to dream of horses is lucky, while to dream of hares means money troubles and sickness; to dream of larks shows you will rise, and of magpies (three is not specifically mentioned) that you will soon be married. To dream of cats is unsatisfactory, for it implies that female friends are treacherous. There is, we learn, a cheaper way of seeing into the future than consulting a fashionable professor of palmistry. Make a new pincushion of the very best black velvet; on one side stick your name in very small pins, on the other a cross; put this into your left stocking when you undress, and hang it up at the foot of the bed. Your dream will be a panorama of your future life. A wedding custom mentioned in the books recalls memories of marriage by capture or purchase. At Lynton the bride's exit from the churchyard is obstructed by the young men till the bridegroom scatters some small coins broadcast. One village in Devon has a cow ghost—a very fearsome creature, as this specter generally is.

Of course we find a long catalogue of things lucky and unlucky, either to do or to see. Many of them—such as coffin rings and winding sheets and candles, robbing the nests of robins and wrens, or killing the birds, spilling the salt, passing under a ladder, sitting down 13 to table—are generally accepted; so also is the necessity of telling the bees any important news, and the dislike of beginning anything on Friday, and especially on Good Friday. To wash clothes on that day means a death in the family, and to plant ornamental shrubs or sow garden seeds will only lead to failure, but an exception is made for peas and beans, as for parsley in the midlands. We do not, however, remember to have heard before that it was unlucky to put an umbrella on the table, or to eat fish from the head downward; that the success or failure of the fishery will depend on whether the first herring is a male or a female; that if a miner meets a snail when entering a mine the lode will probably fail; or that a herring bone sewn into a garment will make the wearer pine away as it dries.

A Lonely Neighborhood.

The most lonely highlands of our national territory are the sparsely wooded sierras of western New Mexico. The clank of the woodcutters' ax echoes through the steepest glens of the European Alps and southern Alleghenies, but in the Sierra Mesilla, west of El Paso, there are valleys where the moan of the wind in the branches of the rock pines is the only sound heard for days together. A kind of marmot is the only inhabitant of these solitudes and rarely leaves its burrows before noon. Birds are extremely rare, though a silent vulture now and then floats across the sky on its way to the cave labyrinth of the Gila river.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Regiment Mislaid.

Records of the war office provide many examples of the temporary disappearance of regiments abroad. They have disappeared from the war office annals, and it has taken weeks of telegraphing before their exact position has been located. The other day, however, a complete regiment disappeared from view in this country. The war office knew that it was somewhere between Bristol and Colchester, but whereabouts they were at a complete loss to know. Wires were sent to every possible position before they ultimately discovered it at some unexpected spot.—Sheffield Telegraph.

SPORTING.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

With the exception of the automobile race meet, on the opening day of the first annual exhibition of the Tri-State Fair Association at North Hudson Park, formerly the Guttenberg race track, the harness racing will undoubtedly prove the greatest of the many features to be introduced during the Fair. Secretary James M. Reilly, who made trotting the chief feature during the recent years of the Waverly Fair, has charge of the department at the Tri-State Fair at North Hudson Park, and expects to make the four days of racing on the old Guttenberg course a greater attraction than any trotting event of years in New Jersey. The Guttenberg track is the only mile course in the State for trotting. It also offers greater facilities for stabling and training than at any other track, as there are stalls for several hundred horses. The prizes offered are calculated to draw the best horses on the circuit to North Hudson Park during the days of the meeting and the reopening of the once famous running track will provide a substitute for the old Waverly Fair that gives every promise of becoming more popular even than Waverly in its most successful days.

ON THE DIAMOND

The only ball game in this city Saturday was that of the Pond Tool Works and Clinton avenue nines which was played on the latter's grounds on Clinton avenue.

The Pond team won by a score of 8 to 6. The batteries were Hartfelder, Doyle and Owens for Ponds, and Squier and Taylor for the Clinton Avenue team.

Fined George Williams $3.

Two colored women, one Irene Washington, and the other one unknown, were complainants this morning in the borough court before Mayor Smalley against George Williams, of this city. The latter was charged with insulting the women and using profane language. After hearing the evidence, His Honor decided that a $3 fine would serve the ends of justice, and it was paid promptly by the prisoner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Voorhees, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno, of Codington avenue.

—J. A. Smith & Brother will receive tomorrow their first shipment of celebrated Hunterdon county peaches and Bartlett pears. A word to the wise is sufficient. Those who have had fruit from them in the past know the quality. They say price and quality are right for canning.

TAKEN HOME TO DIE.

At His Own Request and That of His Relatives, Max Garfinkel Was Removed From Hospital.

Knowing that he had but a few more days to live and wishing to die among his relatives and friends, Max Garfinkel's request to be removed from the hospital was complied with and he was taken to his home on Cottage place yesterday.

Garfinkel, it will be remembered, is the Park avenue shoemaker who was taken to the hospital some time ago after being discharged from Mount Sinai Hospital in New York as being incurable.

His removal to the local institution was done that he might have proper treatment and care before his death which could not be given to him at his home. Everything that would add to his comfort or prolong life was done for the dying man, but the physicians saw he was unable to live but a few more days, and informed him of the fact. It was then that he asked to be taken home which was done.

FUNERAL OF EVERETT STAATS.

Red Men Took Charge of the Services at the Grave in Hillside.

The funeral services of the late Everett Staats, were held from the residence of his father, Abram Staats, of East Fourth street, yesterday afternoon. There were a large number of relatives and friends present, together with delegations from Paughcaughnaughsinque and Miantonomoh Tribes of Red Men.

After a short service at the house, which was conducted by Rev. E. M. Redman, who also spoke a few words at the grave, the funeral procession proceeded to the Hillside cemetery.

The Red Men then took charge and the burial service of the order was followed. It was conducted by Prophet V. W. Nash, assisted by Sachem Weber and Marshal Young. The pallbearers were three warriors and three braves from the tribes. The popularity of the departed friend and brother was shown by the large number of floral tributes received.

Lively Runaway on Front Street.

The street railway sprinkling car was responsible for S. VanFleet's horse running away on West Front street Saturday afternoon. In front of Exchange alley the runaway collided with a farmer's rig and the latter had a wheel dished. The frightened animal was captured near the Y. M. C. A. building. Mr. VanFleet, who was thrown out, received a few slight bruises.

Fell From Building.

William Tanzer, aged 32 years, single, who is employed as a farmhand by a farmer near Greenbrook, fell off a building on the farm where he was employed last Saturday and sustained a fracture of the femur and a severe cut in the chin. He was taken to the hospital where he was made comfortable and treated properly. His injuries are not serious.

Death of Joel R. Walley.

Joel R. Walley, aged 73 years, died at his home, 54 Elm place, this morning at 4 o'clock after a long illness. He leaves a widow. The funeral will be held from the house Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Night Blooming Cereus.

On the lawn of O. Ebel's residence, 95 Duer street, last evening, a night blooming cereus was in bloom. Fourteen beautiful flowers were on the plant.

Damage by Lightning.

Two barricks of hay belonging to Abram Giddis, of Greenbrook, were struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and completely destroyed by fire.

—Thursday evening, September 6th, the members of Marconnier chapel will hold a peach and ice cream festival on the lawn of Manley Giles' residence, Park avenue. No admission fee will be charged, but plenty of home-made cake, and lemonade will be for sale, in addition to peaches and ice cream.

TWO JUSTICES IN CASE.

ONE COMMITTED PRISONERS WHILE OTHER ACCEPTED BAIL.

Reported That Further Developments in an Assault and Battery Case May be Expected.

The end is not yet in the assault and battery case of Salvatora Vambata, against Joe Napoli, Salva Napoli and Lacy Napoli, over which there was so much trouble in Justice Mattison's court last week Friday night. The action of Justice Mattison in committing the defendants to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury has been sustained by Prosecutor James L. Griggs, of Somerset county, who says that the Justice did his duty, and that he shall do nothing further in the matter.

It is said that Justice Smalley acted illegally by accepting a bond from A. I. Smalley for the appearance of the defendants' before the Grand Jury. The law states that in default of bail furnished before a Justice the prisoners may be committed. They can then be released if satisfactory bail is furnished the Sheriff. The law does not make any other provision.

The commitment papers that were returned to Justice Mattison by Constable Pangborn, who failed to take the defendants to the county jail as directed, are still held by the Justice and he refuses to give them to the constable. Yesterday morning Constable Pangborn called on Justice Mattison and asked for the writs, but they were refused.

Justice Smalley was seen by a Press representative this morning and his opinion was asked in the matter. Mr. Smalley said that he didn't know but what he had the right to accept the bond from A. I. Smalley if the latter desired him to. He stated that he had heard his acts were illegal, but he was perfectly willing to have a test case made of it. Heheld each one of the defendants in $50 bail, and this was furnished by A. I. Smalley.

Right Foot Amputated.

Frank Rudio, aged 42 years, of Lansdowne, and employed by the Jersey Central Railroad, was struck by a westbound freight train near Clinton avenue, Saturday. His right foot was crushed so badly that it had to be cut off. He also sustained a slight scalp wound. Rudio is an Italian with a wife and two children. He has not lived in this country very long. He was employed in a section gang. His injuries will not detain him long at the hospital.

Blossomed at Night.

A number of night blooming cereus were to be seen about Plainfield last evening. One at the home of William VanAlstyne, of Watchung avenue, another one at the home of Mrs. J. A. Goodman, of Manning avenue, and a third at the home of Garret Eick, of East Third street, which were greatly admired by friends and neighbors.

The Last Chance.

If you have not yet spent a day at Asbury Park and Ocean Grove, don't forget that the last opportunity of doing so this season will be next Wednesday August 29th. That is the date of the excursion of the Warren chapel Sunday-school and you should make preparations to accompany them.

Pleasant Time.

Mrs. James Southard, of North avenue, gave a pleasant sociable Saturday evening at her home in honor of Miss Hopler, who resides there and who celebrated the anniversary of her birthday. Dancing was the feature of the evening and at midnight a collation was served.

Night Blooming Cereus.

A number of visitors called at the Scott Press Works on Saturday night to admire two night blooming cereus, each of which bore thirty-three flowers. This is the third series of flowers produced by these plants this season.

WAYS OF THE CARABAO.

A Few Sober and Instructive Remarks Upon the Native Ox of the Philippines.

The carabao is a noble animal of about 400 tons displacement, and occupies twelve-thirteenths of the available breathing space of the island of Luzon, writes O. H. Fernbeck, in Overland Monthly.

He is neat, but not gaudy, and in his general appearance somewhat resembles that delightful creature, the Prum, so-called because it is not a fish. He consists principally of a pair of horns and a martyrized expression of countenance, and is considered by scientists to be a cross between the millenium and full army rations.

He lives a simple and frugal life, and spends all of it in making up his mind to execute a sudden move. Then he dies. At this sudden interruption of his projects he is generally about 83 years of age.

When not in use as a means of furthering the interests of interurban transportation the carabao is kept submerged in water. This is done in order to preserve his unruffled temper, and also to furnish a novel sport unheard of in other parts of the globe. Carabao fishing is a pleasant recreation for the natives in the small hours of the morning.

As above intimated, the carabao of the Philippines is principally used as a dray horse, and in this capacity presents many advantages over his equine cousin. He does not shy at cable cars, does not interfere, and never in the history of the islands has he been known to run away. He is gentle and kind in all harness, and can be handled with equal success by children or adults; he heeds neither.

There is a prescribed and unvarying method to be followed in driving a carabao.

After having been hitched to the cart with due ceremony the carabao will immediately lie down in the street, more to enable you to perfect yourself in the proper pronunciation of the many epithets in the Spanish vocabulary than out of any spirit of meanness.

As soon as you have sufficiently aired your profanity, kick him twice on the left side, and with a club or any other available means of persuasion plant a powerful blow on his head. He will then get up, unless you have fractured his skull, in which case it will be necessary for you to obtain another carabao and begin all over gain.

As soon as he is on his feet you must place your tongue firmly against the roof of the mouth, stiffen the muscles of the throat, and give vent to a series of sounds such as usually accompany the payment of a tribute to Neptune when about 24 hours out of port. As he hears these the carabao will move slowly forward.

Now prod him incessantly with your club, and keep up uttering the above-described exhortation, and the chances are that he will move ahead at least five yards before stopping again. Repeat the same operation as before, and by dint of patience and perseverance you will arrive at your destination.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Simple Remedies for Slight Ailments Peculiar to Old and Young.

Warm applications for the spine and stomach and between the shoulders are valuable, and aid digestion.

Chloroform rubbed on a mosquito bite will cause the pain and itching to disappear like magic, while the swelling will rapidly decrease.

When baby's skin is chafed, put a pinch of boracic powder into a little warm water and sponge the chafed skin after her bath; dry gently, apply a little cold cream and dust with baby powder.

When one goes home at night after a fatiguing day, nothing is more restful than bathing the head and back of the neck with a towel wrung out of water as hot as can be borne. It soothes the nerves and rests the body and brain. The same treatment relieves a nervous headache as nothing else does. When one is overheated and there is a rush of blood to the head, a hot towel applied to the face and head is a great relief.

Various sanitariums and private hospitals are using the "salt rub," and it is becoming so popular that some Turkish bath establishments are advertising it as a special attraction. It is just as good for well people as for sick ones, is the most refreshing of all the baths and rubs ever invented, only excepting a dip in the sea itself, is very strengthening and can be taken at home easily.

Put a few pounds of coarse salt—the coarsest you can get, sea salt, by preference—in an earthen jar, and pour enough water on it to produce a sort of slush, but not enough to dissolve the salt. This should then be taken up in handfuls and rubbed briskly over the entire person.

It is better to have it rubbed on by another person, but anyone in ordinary health can do it for herself or himself very satisfactorily. This being done, the next thing is a thorough douching of clear water, preferably cold, and a brisk rubbing with a dry towel. The effect of elation, freshness and renewed life is felt immediately, and the satiny texture of the skin and increased clearness and brightness of the complexion, swell the testimony in favor of the salt rub.

For young children it is best to drain off the salt, and add two tablespoonfuls of pure bay rum to a basin full of this salt water. Apply with a soft flannel, and dry with a soft Turkish towel. Care should be taken that there is not too much salt in the water, as it may irritate the tender skins of some children.

MURDERED IN WOODS NEAR BERNARDSVILLE

Somerset County Has Another Homicide in Which the Assassin Has Not Been Found.

SIMEON WHYCOFF KILLED.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS WITH HEAD BATTERED IN.

Last Seen Saturday When He Wandered Away With Two Companions—Murdered Man Was Found Sunday Afternoon Near His Home.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bernardsville, Aug. 28.—Somerset county has another murder apparently. The lifeless body of Simeon Whycoff, aged fifty-one years, a resident of this place, was found in the woods near his home Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. The skull had been nearly caved in by a terrible blow.

The body was discovered by Tim Geherty and a lad named Fleming, who are both residents of the locality. The body was lying on the ground upon a path leading across country from the Fleming house to an Italian shanty back of the woods and on the line separating the Dayton farms.

Word was at once sent to County Physician Wagoner, of Somerville, who viewed the remains at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. Upon examination he discovered traces of foul play, and Justice Dunster empanelled a jury of six men—Sanford Tunison, Curtis Dunster, James Bird, Oliver Bonnell, R. A. Mitchell, John Martin. The inquest was held yesterday afternoon at the undertaker's residence at Basking Ridge at 2 o'clock.

The remains were in such a condition that the body was removed to the undertaker's instead of being sent to his home in Bernardsville. Mr. Whycoff left his home Saturday morning to go to work at the stone crusher, a short distance from Bernardsville. He was last seen Saturday afternoon leaving the place at 3 o'clock in company with John Edwards and Dick Fleming, and going in the direction in which he was found dead. The ground around the body was trampled and showed signs of a struggle. He had been struck a heavy blow over the left eye and his hat had been cut. A deep cut was in the palm of his left hand. Mr. Whycoff was a son of George Whycoff, of Basking Ridge, and leaves a widow and six children in Bernardsville.

Dick Fleming was seen in Bernardsville Saturday evening at 6 o'clock intoxicated. An empty whiskey bottle laid near Whyckoff's remains when discovered.

WANT TIME EXTENDED.

Trolley Company to Ask for Favors of Westfield Officials.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, August 28—The Township Committee this evening for the purpose of meeting Col. E. W. Hine, who, it is reported, wishes to have the time for building the trolley road from this town to Springfield extended. The company wishes to build this route but, it is believed, not until they find they are successful in getting a franchise for a line from Summit, through Morristown and Dover, to Lake Hopatcong.

The Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company is known to be back of the deal to connect the county seat of Morris county with Lake Hopatcong, and it is more than likely that they will get the franchise. County Engineer King, of Netcong, is now mapping out the route of the proposed line.

An Outdoor Flavor.

September is the most popular month for camping excursions, because it combines the last month of trout fishing with the first month of deer hunting in most of the great preserves. It is therefore appropriate that the September number of Scribner's should have an outdoor flavor to many of its articles, and that the illustrations should suggest sport and adventure in many out-of-the way places.

Judge Codington a Pianist?

Former City Judge W. A. Codington has an Angelus in his home on East Second street, and the Judge and Mrs. Codington are enjoying classical and popular airs on their piano. Messrs. Vanderbeek & Sattels are agents for the musical wonder and have already sold several to Plainfield people.

Discharged Cured.

Sally Terry, colored, employed at 50 Grove street, has been discharged cured from the hospital, where she went for an operation.

RIOT AT ALDENE HOTEL.

PROPRIETOR EMMONS, HIS WIFE AND A BOARDER WERE BADLY INJURED.

Fifteen Roughs Attacked the Place Saturday Night and Wrecked the Bar Room After Assaulting the Occupants.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Roselle, Aug. 28.—A riot occurred late on Saturday night in which Stephen G. Emmons, proprietor of the Aldene Hotel, a mile from Roselle, and his wife and a boarder, McClennan Ackley, of Elizabeth, were terribly injured.

Fifteen roughs entered the place shortly before midnight, smashed all the furniture glasses and bottles in the establishment, attacked Emmons, his wife and boarder, who were in the place, and kicked them until they became insensible. Then the invaders literally tore the interior of the bar room to pieces.

Ackley had one of his ears bitten off during the terrific fight, while Emmons had his nose and four ribs broken, his jaw factured and his body is a mass of bruises. His wife is bruised about the body and limbs.

It was almost an hour after the affray before it was known in the village. A man passing along the road saw the wreckage in front of the hotel and stopped to investigate. He gave an alarm and a number of the villagers jumped out of their beds and hastened to the scene. A physician was promptly summoned to attend to the injured persons.

The names of nine out of the fifteen ruffians of this place are known, and for these Judge Woodruff has issued warrants. County Detective Keron, of Elizabeth, at the head of a posse of constables, is hunting the woods near Aldene, where it is thought the offenders are hiding. Justice Woodruff went to Elizabeth yesterday afternoon to lay the facts before Prosecutor English.

Great excitement prevails in Aldene over the outrage and if the enraged villagers could lay their hands on any of the desperadoes they would fare very badly.

SETTLED WITH NASH.

Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company Paid Demand of Justice Nash for Injuries.

The Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company has just effected a settlement with Justice V. W. Nash, of this city, for injuries received by the latter in July while he was returning home from Elizabeth on the trolley. When near Roselle the motorman, who was running his car at a high rate of speed, did not notice quickly enough a curve in the road. The car jumped the track and ran for a considerable distance in an open field. Just before the car jumped Justice Nash arose to pull down one of the curtains and he was thrown backward over the seats and injured to such an extent that he was detained at home for fifteen days.

The Justice placed a value of $10 a day on his time and his demand from the company was $150. The company offered to settle for $50, but this offer was refused, and the company was informed that if they did not pay the $150 the case would be taken into the courts. Rather than have any further trouble the company paid the amount demanded.

New Houses Rented.

Through the real estate agency of Armstrong Mulford, of North avenue, F. Wallace, of the Waclark Wire Co., of Elizabeth, has leased the Potter house, corner of West Sixth street and Division street, and will take possession September 15th. William J. Romain has leased A. A. Stryker's house on West Seventh street, near Monroe avenue, and will take possession about September 8th. F. O. Ball, of Park place, has leased the residence at 119 Richmond street, and will take possession Wednesday.

Many Watched Them.

A. J. Winkler's home on Park place was made attractive last evening by a beautiful night blooming cereus. There were four flowers on the plant that were greatly admired. Another plant with three blossoms was admired at the residence of Wm. VanAlstyne, of Watchung avenue.

No Defence was Made.

The landlord and tenant case of Robert Carson against Frank Schaeffer, was called in Justice Mattison's court yesterday, and judgment was given the plaintiff and an execution was issued. The defendant did not put in any defense.

No Quorum There.

Owing to a lack of a quorum there was no meeting of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, last evening, and there was no business transacted.

MISS FISK ENGAGED.

The Announcement of Engagement of Daughter of Former Mayor Fisk to Lewis E. Waring, of This City.

All Plainfield society is greatly interested in the announcement made today of the engagement of Miss Louise G. Fisk, daughter of Former Mayor and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, of West Seventh street, to Lewis E. Waring, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Waring, of Park avenue. Miss Fisk made her debut last winter in company with Miss Fanny C. Cox, and was quite prominent in the social life of Plainfield's "smart set" during the winter. Mr. Waring is a very popular young man and took more or less part in the social functions of the winter.

Miss Fisk is an enthusiastic golfer and spent considerable time at the club house and links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club where Mr. Waring is chairman of the golf committee. Both of the young people are fond of horses and are clever drivers. At the Elizabeth Horse Show Decoration Day, both Miss Fisk and Mr. Waring each captured several awards.

Miss Fisk is now summering with her parents at their charming cottage near Southampton, L. I., where Mr. Waring has been a guest several times this summer.

STARTING CAMPAIGN.

New Secretary of Republican State Committee Established at State Headquarters, Newark.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, August 28—The new secretary of the Republican State committee, John S. Gibson, began the duties of his office yesterday, and was at the State headquarters, 41 Market street, this city, yesterday morning, and will be at his desk daily until the campaign closes.

Mr. Gibson is an able speaker and writer, a veteran campaigner and a hustler, and is regarded as a valuable acquisition for the State committee.

Until the return from Europe of State Chairman Franklin Murphy, who is expected home about September 1st, Acting Chairman E. C. Stokes, of Burlington county, will spend a good deal of time in the headquarters, and will co operate with Mr. Gibson to get the active work of the campaign under way before Mr. Murphy get back.

Thomas Logan Gaskill, an active young Republican worker, who came to Newark recently to practice law, will be Mr. Gibson's righthand man during the campaign. Mr. Gaskill is a son of Judge Joseph Gaskill, of Burlington county.

THE BULLETIN APPEARS.

H. J. Talford's New Enterprise will be Posted Throughout the City Every Day at Noon.

The Daily Bulletin made its first appearance in Plainfield this noon. This new enterprise is a novel one and is exactly what its name implies, a daily bulletin. It will hereafter appear everyday except Sunday at noon and will contain a brief summary of the morning's news, both local and general. Copies of the Bulletin will be posted in conspicuous places in city and borough where everyone can read them.

The general plan of the Daily Bulletin is similar to that of the Bulletin, issued in Washington, D. C., four times daily. New York and Philadelphia have their financial bulletins but this is the first time such a publication has been tried in one of the smaller cities. H. J. Talford is the editor and business manager of the Bulletin.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

Wealthy Colored Contractor in New Brunswick Met Death on Railroad.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, Aug. 28.—Jordan Moody, the richest negro in New Brunswick, was struck and instantly killed by a fast eastbound train at the Suydam street crossing yesterday afternoon. He started to cross the railroad tracks and did not see the train. He was thrown and landed directly in front of the engine, which struck him again. The wheels passed over him.

Moody was fifty-five years old. He was a contractor and made his money from city work.

New Pastor in Town.

Rev. W. H. McLean, of Fayetteville, N. C., and also pastor of the First Baptist church, of South Orange, N. J., has accepted a call to the Fillmore Baptist church, of this city. The installation services will take place Wednesday, Sept 5th.

Funeral of J. R. Walley.

The funeral services of Joel R. Walley will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at his late residence, 54 Elm place. Interment at Long Island Thursday.

FOUR SCORE PLAYED EUCHRE AT HOTEL.

"Military Euchre" at The Hotel Netherwood Proved a Decided Success.

COMPTROLLER COLER HERE.

MR. AND MRS. COLER AND THEIR LITTLE SON ARRIVED YESTERDAY.

Mrs. Coler and Master Eugene Came From Liberty, N. Y.—Prize Winners at the "Military Euchre"—No Corn Roast Tomorrow Night.

The guests at The Hotel Netherwood had two things to occupy their minds last evening. One was the "military euchre," and the other was the arrival of Comptroller Bird S. Coler, of New York, with his wife and little son. There were a number of other new guests, but Mr. Coler was naturally the most prominent of them all.

The "military euehre" proved a great success. Eighty-four people took part in it, and there were a score more who, when it was well under way, wished that they had. It was nothing more than a progressive euchre party, but was conducted on somewhat different lines from the usual affairs of that nature.

The guests were grouped about twenty-one tables in fours. By each table was a gay banner with the number of the table or "fort" on it. Instead of the usual method of progression, cards were distributed which directed two of the four players at each "fort" to go to another certain "fort" and attack it. The other two players were left to defend the home "fort" against the attacks of other invaders. Little flags were distributed and the winners of the game hung up the flag over their "fort." If the attacking party won, they bore the flag back to their own "fort."

Twelve games were played and "fort" No. 7 captured twenty-one flags out of a possible twenty-four. The players at the winning "fort" were Miss May Coleman, Miss Adams, Harry Gloningeo and John vanHerwerden. "Fort" No. 6 was second with nineteen flags. The players there were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Carson, Mrs. Schofield and Mr. Whitlock. Mrs. C. D. Beasley, Miss Alice Ball, Miss Bertha C. Angevine and William Smith, at "fort" No. 10, took third place.

Handsome prizes were awarded to the players at the winning tables. The affair was under the charge of F. C. Swaney, of New York, who brought with him the elaborate equipment of flags and decorations.

As was exclusively stated in yesterday's Daily Press, Comptroller Bird S. Coler and his family arrived late in the afternoon. Mrs. Coler and little Eugene Coler, a lad of nine summers, arrived from Liberty, Sullivan county, New York, where they have spent several weeks. Mr. Coler came directly from New York and soon saw his family comfortably settled.

The Colers went into dinner rather late and then did not participate in the social gaieties arranged for the evening. Their trunks did not arrive until late and Mrs. Coler preferred to rest after her journey. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coler came downstairs during the progress of the "military euchre," however, and spent sometime on the veranda enjoying the delightfully cool breeze which blew all the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Henry Greene and their daughter and son, of New York, left today for Plymouth, Mass. Quite a party of the young people went to the station to say goodbye to Miss Greene, who has been quite a favorite since she came to the hotel. Mr. Greene is well-known as the organizer of the Mayflower Society, composed of the descendants of those who came to this country on that staunch little craft.

On account of the uncertainties of the weather and the possible dangers from an evening on the damp lawn, the corn roast will not be held tomorrow evening after the Calico Ball. The ball is to be held, however, and it is now planned to hold the corn roast on the afternoon of Labor Day.

Poisoned Valuable Fowls.

Peter Kane, of West Third street, is quite a chicken fancier and up to a few days ago had a large number of the finest bred fowls. Peter's success as a chicken fancier excited the jealousy of his neighbors, however, and on going to the yard a few mornings recently he found fourteen of them had been poisoned. Mr. Kane is very thankful he has a few left to begin over again, but would like very much to discover the identity of the guilty parties.

COMPANY MUST SETTLE.

Mrs. Matthews, of Liberty Street, Claims That She Was Seriously Injured in a Trolley Car One Night.

Mrs. Matthews, of Liberty street, wife of a motorman on the Plainfield Street Railway, was one of those injured the night of the Cranford carnival, when a trolley car on the Elizabeth and Westfield line ran into an ice wagon. She occupied a front seat and when the collision occurred her knee was injured. She did not fully realize it at the time, but upon reaching home the knee swelled to such proportions that she has been unable to use it since. She is able to get about with the aid of crutches, and there seems to be no reasonable hope that she will have the use of the knee this season.

Dr. Fritts, representing the trolley company, has called on Mrs. Matthews several times and has tried to effect a settlement for damages. Mrs. Matthews refuses to settle at present, as she desires to wait and see the result of the injury. Dr. Fritts called a consultation of physicians last evening, and Drs. VanHorn and Adams, with Dr. Fritts examined the injury. The result of the examination is not known, but Mrs. Matthews insists that the company shall do the right thing and make a satisfactory settlement.

IS SHE A SLAVE?

Agitation Over Alleged Cruel Treatment of Clara Jackson by Harrison Tribe of Gypsies.

The colored population of the city is greatly stirred up over the alleged enslavement of Clara Jackson, the colored girl, by the Harrison band of gypsies and who is said to have been treated by them in a cruel and inhuman manner. Several prominent colored men, among whom are Rev. E. E Jackson and L. L. Kroom, have interested themselves in the case and communicated with the police in regard to it this morning. The latter, however, are powerless to act in the matter unless some one makes a complaint. The band was located at Madison by Chief Kiely this morning and their movements will be watched by the police of that town.

FUNERAL OF MRS. LEVERIDGE.

Services Held at House and the Westfield M. E. Church.

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Cornelius Leveridge were held yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock from the house on West Front street, where a very short service was held, and at 2 o'clock from the Westfield M. E church, where the deceased was a member. Rev. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the church, officiated. He spoke in the highest terms concerning the life of the departed, how she lived faithfully serving the Lord.

There was a very large attendance of friends and neighbors at both services, who gathered to pay their last respects to one whom they loved. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends, expressing the high esteem in which the departed was held. Following the service at Westfield, the interment took place in the cemetery near the church.

NEW JANITOR APPOINTED.

James S. Lunger will Act in That Capacity at Watchung School.

A regular meeting of the Borough Board of Education was held last evening, but very little business of importance was considered. James S. Lunger was appointed janitor of the Watchung Public School in place of Henry Block, who has held the position since the school was opened. The date set for the reopening of the schools, September 12th, was not changed, it being the opinion of the Board that the schools will be ready by that time. The balance of the meeting was devoted to transacting routine business.

THREE LEADERS NOW.

EAST ORANGE'S VICTORY OF SATURDAY ADVANCED IT IN GOLF LEAGUE.

The Hillside Club, Elizabeth and East Orange Are Tied For First Place—Glen Ridge Defeated by Madison.

The Hillside Tennis and Golf Club now has two rivals instead of one for first honors in the East Jersey Golf Association. As a result of a match last Saturday with the Glen Ridge Golf Club, the East Orange Golf Club is now tied with the Hillside Club and Town and Country Club, of Elizabeth, for first place. These three teams are fairly evenly matched although the Hillside Club with its crack players should come out in the lead. The Hillsiders have been somewhat handicapped by the absence of many of the best of the local players. The same complaint is to be heard from the other clubs as well, however.

On its own short course the Madison team has a great advantage over a visiting contingent of golfers and it turned it to good account on Saturday, when the Glen Ridge team was beaten 20 to 1. The Madison links require great accuracy rather than long play, and the hazards are unique in position and difficult to those unaccustomed to the course.

The East Orange golfers defeated the Forest Hill team on the latter's links by the score of 18 to 3. H. Bingham was the only home player to score. E. A Geoffrey halved with A. H. Decker, but the other Forest Hillites went down before the visiting players.

The standing of the teams in the East Jersey Golf Association is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	P'c't. Won.
East Orange Golf Club	5	2	.714
Hillside G. C. (Plainfield)	5	2	.714
Elizabeth T. and C. C.	5	2	.714
Forest Hill F. C.	3	4	.428
Glen Ridge G. C.	3	4	.428

CAME FROM PLAINFIELD.

Eloping Couple, Married in Newark Last Week, Said They Lived Here—Not Known in Town.

The Newark News publishes the following story concerning the marriage of an eloping couple who said that they hailed from Plainfield. A careful search has failed to locate either of the young people named. If they are Plainfielders they have only very recently come to this city and are not known. The News' story is as follows:

While Justice of the Peace Germanus was attending to his duties in his office last Tuesday a well-dressed man and woman entered and said they wanted to be married. The Justice said he was willing to perform the ceremony and asked the parties their names. The man said he was Burt Warren Clifford, of Plainfield, and that he was 21 years of age. The young woman gave her age as 18, and said her name was Lillian E. Jenkins, and that she, too, resided in Plainfield.

After the Justice declared the couple to be man and wife Clifford begged him not to make public the marriage during last week. He intimated that he and his bride could appease their parents by Saturday if no immediate publicity was given the marriage.

NEW TRIBE OF RED MEN.

To Hold Meeting Thursday Evening Preparatory to Formally Organizing.

A preliminary meeting of the new tribe of Red Men will be held at 212 West Front street Thursday evening. The date of institution and other matters of importance pertaining to the order will then be arranged. All those who have signed the charter roll are requested to be present. The meeting will be addressed by Great Sachem Newcomb, after which a social time will follow. Every indication now points toward a successful beginning for the new tribe, as the charter list is large and more names are being received daily.

Grocers' Getting Ready.

Every preparation is being made by the Grocers to handle a large crowd on their Labor Day excursion to Coney Island. Two sections will leave Plainfield at 7:45 and 8 o'clock for Jersey City. The remainder of the trip will be made by one of the Iron Steamboat Company's boats, which has been chartered for the occasion by the association. The boat will leave the island for the return trip at 5:40 o'clock.

Well Equipped Now.

Two new rubber tire wagons with patent ice boxes for delivering meat, were received by Fred Endress from Ballentine & VanFleet, of Somerville, yesterday. The wagons, which are similar to those already in Mr. Endress' delivery service, are of the finest workmanship and design obtainable.

To Dance at Boynton Beach.

A number of young people from the West End have chartered a trolley car and will go to Boynton Beach for an informal dance this evening.

SOMERSET ASKS STATE AID IN ROAD BUILDING

State Commissioner of Public Roads Budd Will Pass on the Application Today.

IMPORTANT THOROUGHFARE

PROPOSED MACADAM ROAD FROM SOMERVILLE TO BEDMINSTER.

Is Eight Miles Long and Through a Beautiful Country—Will Complete Roads From Somerville to Morristown—No Heavy Grades.

While some of the counties of this State are fairly covered with a network of good roads Somerset county has taken very little advantage of the old county road act or the recent Legislative provision for State aid in road building. The only macadam road of importance, built by the county, was the one from Somerville to Bound Brook which has recently been extended to Dunellen. Now a county road is being built from Millstone to New Brunswick. The next road which the county authorities are anxious to build is one connecting Somerville with Bedminster and completing a good macadam road from the county seat of Somerset county through to Morristown, the county seat of Morris county. Application was made last week by the County Board of Freeholders to Henry I. Budd, State commissioner of public roads, for State aid in building the road in question.

The road from Somerville to Bedminster is eight miles in length and runs through a remarkably pretty country, rich in historical associations. It was right along that road that the British Army travelled during the Revolutionary War and there are many interesting bits of unpublished history which are well-known to the natives of that region. Aside from its beauty and picturesqueness, the road is of most importance as it will open a good road from the county seat to Bernardsville, which is fast becoming one of the most important parts of the county. A macadam road, built by Morris county, reaches from Morristown almost to Bedminster to the county line, a distance of twelve miles. At present, the only good road from Somerville to Morristown is by the way of Plainfield and Springfield, a decidedly roundabout way. The new way reduced the distance nearly twelve miles.

Robert A. Meeker, of Plainfield, State supervisor of roads, and Joshua Doughty, Jr., of Somerville, the county engineer, made a trip over the line of the projected road last week. The State commissioner of public roads seldom approves a road on the part of the State if there are any grades on it exceeding five per cent. According to the survey of the county engineer, there were two grades on the line exceeding that figure but some suggestions from Supervisor Meeker showed where a small amount of grading would bring the grades inside the limit and the plans were altered to conform with the suggestions.

Supervisor Meeker made his report to Commissioner Budd who will announce his decision today concerning the State's part in the building of that road. In all probability, the State will assist in the work as the road conforms to the requirements and will prove a very important thoroughfare when completed. A meeting of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders will be held September 11th when, if the application is granted, arrangements will be made for the securing of bids for the making of that road.

To the Shore Tomorrow.

The last and best excursion of the season to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove is that of the Warren chapel Sunday-school which takes place tomorrow. They will be accompanied by Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., and the Queen City Band, of this city. The train leaves Plainfield at 8 o'clock and returning leaves the beach at 6 o'clock. There will be a special baggage car for baby carriages, bicycles and lunch baskets.

New Trolley Wire Strung.

The street railway linemen have placed a new trolley wire in position from the Watchung avenue bridge to Park avenue and Front street. The men began work at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and continued without stopping until 7 o'clock this morning. This was done that they might not be bothered by the constant passing of the cars.

To Wed This Afternoon.

The wedding of Miss Katherine Callahan and Thomas J. Maher, of this city, will take place in St. Mary's church this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference Press Readers

—All bills against the city must be in the hands of the City Clerk before Thurday.

—You will never find any other pills so prompt and so pleasant as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. L. W. Randolph.

—Rev. Dr. A. E. Main, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, will preach in Trinity Reformed church next Sunday morning. Dr. Schenck, the pastor, will occupy the pulpit the following Sunday, September 9th.

—The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

Miss Lulu French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. French, of West Seventh street, is home from Milburn for a summer vacation.

Rev. Joseph Sullivan, of Paterson, who preached excellent sermons, morning and evening at the First Baptist church Sunday, was guest at the home of Mr. Rittenhouse, of West Fourth street.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as L. W. Randolph secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

Miss Cassie Reilly, of New York, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. John Flynn, of West Fourth street.

Mrs. J. B. Higgins and daughter, Hannah, of West Front street, are spending two weeks at the Hanlon House, Asbury Park.

ENGLISH BIRDS GO WRONG.

A Prevalence of Strong Winds Causes Them to Lose Their Way When Flying.

During the earlier part of an ordinary spring half the feathered population of Great Britain changes. The winter visitors leave for the north; the summer visitors arrive from the south. It is a case of Box and Cox in nature on a very extensive scale, says the London Mail.

But this is not an ordinary spring, and things have gone wrong with the birds in consequence. The wintry visitors have left, just as usual, but very few of the summer visitors have appeared to take their places.

There is only one cuckoo where there ought to be three; no swifts fly loudly screaming past one's window; martins are nearly as rare as mulberries in May, and even the ubiquitous swallow has come in single spies, rather than in battalions. The country is almost as completely denuded of visiting birds as it is of its regular troops.

This is the result of the strong winds which have been so unusually prevalent. The migrant birds have been simply unable to fly against them. Nature supplies these wandering creatures with just sufficient strength for their long journey, and no more. Even under favorable conditions they are often completely exhausted when they reach our shores. You may pick them up by dozens, too spent even to flutter. And a strong side wind blows them hopelessly out of their course.

The consequence is that they lose their track altogether. Birds do not find their way from Central Africa to central England by intuition. They simply follow the "fly lines" along which thousands of ancestral generations have passed before them. They find their way, in fact, exactly as carrier pigeons do, by an elaborate system of landmarks. So that if they are blown more than a few miles out of their course they are absolutely and hopelessly lost.

Half the birds that ought to have come to England are probably somewhere in France or Germany. The Bay of Biscay, with a stiff northeaster blowing, was too much for them, as it has been for many a traveler before them.

Whether they will eventually find their way to our shores is doubtful, and it remains to be seen whether their French or Geman cousins will give them a lead when the time comes for them to return to Africa in the autumn. If not, their plight is a sad one. Birds that have lost their bearings are as badly off as mariners without a compass in a strange sea on a starless night.

THE ALLIES AGGRESSIVE.

General Yung Lu Said to Have Started the Boxer Outbreak.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—The allies, resuming aggressive operations, have taken the district west of Peking. This statement, based on Chinese authority, is cabled from Shanghai. From the same place comes the further statement that Li Hung Chang has wired the empress dowager at Hsian-fu requesting the arrest of Prince Tuan and the disarmament of the Boxers in order to give him an opening for negotiations with the Boxers.

The illuminations projected at Shanghai in celebration of the relief of Peking have been abandoned, lest they should cause a native outbreak.

"Evidence has been received here," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Standard, "going to show that General Yung Lu was the real author of the antiforeign outbreak, the empress dowager, Prince Tuan and the others all being pursuaded by him to take an extreme attitude while he stood aside and awaited developments."

American refugee missionaries in Amoy, according to the Hongkong correspondent of The Daily Mail, are anxious to return to the interior, but the United States consul has forbidden them to do so and urges them to go to the Philippines or to return to America.

Shanghai advices to The Daily News say that consular opinion there looks upon Japan's action in the landing of troops at Amoy, despite the protests of the consuls, as similar to that of Russia at Newchwang, the whole indicating a tendency to a partition of the empire.

"Russian journals agree," says the Moscow correspondent of The Standard, "that it is impossible to deal with China in the spirit of revenge as suggested by Emperor William. They believe that methods less drastic can better accomplish the ends of Russia in Manchuria. The question would be satisfactorily settled to Russian minds by the seizure of the northern provinces."

A St. Petersburg special quotes Emperor William, when wiring in answer to the announcement that a Russian regiment had been named after him, as follows:

"Express my good wishes today with all the greater joy since our Russian and German comrades after a long time are fighting together again shoulder to shoulder. According to an old and sacred tradition victory will not be wanting."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

State troops have left Akron, O., there being no further trouble there.

The population of Denver, as announced by the census bureau, was 133,859 against 106,713 in 1890.

John Sesson shot and seriously wounded A. H. Stridiron in the Vendome hotel, New York city. Sesson then shot himself and died a few minutes later.

A mob at Gilman, Ills., fired at the house of a woman who resisted arrest, and two men were killed and several persons wounded, among the latter the woman herself. Later the mob tried to kill her in the city hall.

New York State Fair.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 28.—A heavy wind and rain storm yesterday afternoon put a damper on the opening day of the state fair. It was Syracuse day, and the attendance was good. Owing to the wet track only one heat of the 2:10 trot was run off, other events being put over. Emma Winter, bay mare, by Director, won the heat in 2:20¾; Lady Noretta, bay mare, second, and Tip T third. In the horse show there was a pretty exhibition of blooded stock. Some of the largest exhibitors are Richard F. Carman, Huntington; J. L. Conaway, Atlantic City; John Gerken, Gravesend; Harry Hamlin, East Aurora, and F. C. Stevens, Attica, and horses from the stables of each of them were awarded one or more prizes.

Fortune In a Tin Box.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Richard T. Wallace, a real estate agent who has an office on Olin avenue, Williamsbridge, found an old tin box about a month ago behind his office. Some excavating had been done there to move the building back for the purpose of widening the street to make room for a trolley road. The box was battered and showed that it had been in the earth for a long period. He put it away in his safe and tried to find its owner, but was unsuccessful. He examined its contents the other day and found a batch of United States government bonds which are said to be worth $75,000.

The Long Lost Charley Ross?

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 28.—In jail for vagrancy in this city is a tramp who startled the recorder's court by stoutly asserting that he is Charley Ross, kidnaped from his parents at Philadelphia nearly 25 years ago, an event which has always been of national interest. The man tells a story which accords in every detail with the accepted story of the kidnaping of young Ross and produces documents intended to substantiate his assertion.

Fatal Colliery Accident.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Aug. 28.—While a wagon was being lowered in the Mount Carmel colliery a side hook broke, causing the wagon to dash 400 feet to the bottom. John Daubert and George Ruske, who were riding on the wagon, were instantly killed.

Severe Storm.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The most severe electrical storm of the season visited this section last night, and during 30 minutes' rain State Observer Williams reported 1.71 inches of rainfall. No damage has been reported.

Weather Probabilities.

Generally fair; light northwesterly winds.

Mr. Jos. VanArsdale, carpenter and contractor, living at 213 Spooner avenue says:—"For several years I suffered from severe pain in my back, hips and loins so bad at times that it was almost impossible for me to get around and attend to my work. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. "When Doan's Kidney Pills came to my notice I was in pretty bad shape and procuring them from L W. Randolph's drug store, I took a few doses when I found they were helping me, and on completing the treatment I was quite free from pain. THE SILENCE BROKEN

Reports Received From Both Conger and Chaffee.

AMERICAN GUNBOAT SENT TO AMOY

The Arrival of Two Thousand Fresh German Troops Reported—Members of the Tsung-li-yamen Appear in Peking.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—After several days' intermission in Chinese advices the government has received two dispatches which presumably bring its advices up to the most recent date. There are indications that the principal delays in the lines of communication are encountered between Tien-tsin and Peking, a fact explainable by the newspaper advices that small bands of Boxers are operating on the line of communication of the Peking campaign force. Just such interference with the work of the signal corps men was experienced by the United States forces in the Philippines and by Lord Roberts' troops in the Transvaal campaign. Usually these interruptions are very short, the marauders being driven off and the lines restored within a day or two. The fact that more than a week was covered by the last interruption gives rise to the belief here that these attacks upon the lines of communication by Boxers are more formidable than was supposed to be possible after the heavy losses inflicted upon them by the international forces in its advance.

The most important dispatch was one from Minister Conger, relative to the military situation in Peking. Unfortunately it lacked a date, the minister presumably not having yet received the department's instruction to include the date in the body of his dispatches. The state department at first undertook to have the cable companies correct this serious omission, but finally concluding from internal evidence that Mr. Conger's message was certainly later than any official emanation from the Chinese capital the message was allowed publicity for what it was worth. Mr. Conger's reference to the arrival of 2,000 fresh German troops caused some surprise, no one apparently having closely watched the movements of the German contingent, which is now arriving with fairly regular frequency in China and which consequently may be expected soon to equal in numerical strength the military contingents of any of the European nations there represented.

A significant statement in Minister Conger's dispatch is that respecting the expected appearance in Peking of some of the members of the tsung-li-yamen. A natural construction to be given to this statement is that these ministers wish to undertake to represent the Chinese government formally in negotiations with the powers. It having been found impossible up to this moment, according to Mr. Conger's statement, to meet any representative of the Chinese government in Peking who was competent to open negotiations, it may be inferred that if these ministers actually appear with proper credentials one of the problems connected with the present difficult situation in China will be solved.

With some responsible person or persons to deal with it may be possible for the United States to come to some agreement as to a settlement of the Chinese trouble. Ever since the fall of Peking the principal difficulty confronting the government here has been to arrange for the next movement in its programme. It could not withdraw its troops even if so disposed without arranging for indemnification for the heavy cost it has been put to in the Peking campaign; also it must make arrangements with some responsible authority for the future protection of American interests in China, as our business interests cannot be withdrawn along with the army of occupation. Therefore, as conveying a faint hope that in the persons of these members of the tsung-li-yamen there may be found some authorized representative of the Chinese government competent to make engagements on these points, the message of Mr. Conger was very welcome to the authorities here.

Another statement in Mr. Conger's dispatch relative to the decision of the generals not to enter the imperial palace appears to explain the movement of the American troops which the press dispatches were unable to clear up in relaxing the attack upon the palace gates after capturing all but one of them.

Another event of some interest is the order dispatching the Castine from Shanghai to Amoy, distant about 400 miles. The little gunboat should make the run in about two days under favorable conditions. Her force is small, but sufficient to serve the moral purpose, if there be need for such. It appears that she is ordered to Amoy quite as much on account of representations from well informed business circles as from any official advice. The consul at Amoy agreeing with the representations of the business interests, it was decided to be proper to send a gunboat to Amoy not because of any particular apprehension as to Japanese aspirations, but to prevent rioting at this dangerous point. The first direct word from General Chaffee since Aug. 18 came in the form of a cablegram reporting the action of the Sixth cavalry with the enemy near Tientsin on the 19th. The cable is dated Aug. 27 and is as follows:

"Colonel Wint on the 19th reports marched at 4 a. m. and engaged large force of enemy seven miles from city. Dispersed them, killing about 100. Americans lost five wounded. Will cable names wounded as soon as ascertained."

Colonel Wint is lieutenant colonel of the Sixth cavalry, but is acting as colonel in the absence of Colonel Sumner, who is in Europe. The fight probably occurred near Tien-tsin, as the Sixth cavalry was at that place at the time mentioned.

This cable adds nothing to the information in the possession of the department relative to military movements, as it is simply General Chaffee's belated official report of an engagement previously reported by Admiral Remey in a cable dated Taku, Aug. 20, in which he said: "Morning 19th Sixth cavalry and about 400 English and Japanese dispersed about 1,000 Boxers outside of Tien-tsin. About 100 Chinese killed, five Americans wounded."

German Commander Honored.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—Emperor William has cabled to Lieutenant Counsoden, commander of the German marines in Peking during the siege of the legations, congratulating him upon his heroic perseverance and conferring upon him the decoration of the Red Eagle. Next Thursday, with the empress and the imperial princes, his majesty will attend the ceremony of consecrating the flag for the Asiatic expedition, which will take place in this city. The foreign attaches will witness the nailing of the flags to the staffs.

Rumors of Defeat For Allies.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—A special dispatch to Le Siecle from St. Petersburg says: "It is persistently rumored in St. Petersburg that the Russian government has received a dispatch asserting that after a fierce battle inside of Peking the allies retreated, losing 1,800 men, mostly Russians. It is further said that the Chinese occupy fortified positions, from which they are bombarding the allies in a murderous manner."

Canadians Get Mail Contract.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The postoffice department has given a contract to the Canadian Development company, limited, to carry letter mail from Skaguay to St. Michael's and Nome from Dec. 1 next to March 31 next. The route will be via Dawson, Canada; Forty Mile, Canada; Eagle, Alaska; Star, Circle City, Rampart, Tanana, Koyukuk, Hulata and Eaton, Alaska, a distance of 1,603 miles each way, with a branch from Eaton by Chennik to Nome, 240 miles each way. On the main line there are to be two round trips a month, leaving Skaguay on the 8th and 22d of each month, running time not to exceed 60 days each way between Skaguay and St. Michael's and also between Skaguay and Nome. Suitable relay stations will have to be provided by the contractor along the route.

Eagles Cause Anxiety.

PORT JERVIS, Aug. 28.—For the first time in many years two eagles made their appearance in the neighborhood of Pond Eddy, Sullivan county, N. Y., two weeks ago. They have been seen since on several occasions, but it was not until lately that any trouble was expected from the big birds. About a week ago John Van Tuyl, a farmer living a short distance from Pond Eddy, had two young lambs carried away by the eagles, and since then his hired man, Peter Smith, lost a valuable hound pup in the same manner. Other farmers complain of losing young lambs, and parents have become alarmed, fearing their babes left playing in the doorway may become the prey of the birds.

Roumania and Bulgaria May Fight.

LONDON, Aug 28.—Referring to the tension between Roumania and Bulgaria, recently accentuated by the unsatisfactory character of the reply of the Sofia government to the Roumanian demand for the suppression of the Macedonian revolutionary committee which has its headquarters at the Bulgarian capital, the Bucharest correspondent of The Daily Mail says: "The outlook becomes more and more serious. The opinion of the general public here is that Bulgaria must be taught a lesson, by arms if necessary. Many public meetings were held Sunday throughout Roumania. All were characterized by a very warlike tone. The expulsion of Bulgarians from Roumania continues."

Towne Speaks In Duluth.

DULUTH, Aug. 28.—The largest gathering to listen to a political speech that ever assembled in Duluth met last night at the armory when Charles A. Towne opened the campaign in a lengthy address, in which he replied to the recent speech of Governor Roosevelt delivered at St. Paul on the occasion of the national convention of the League of Republican Clubs. The audience listened attentively to the orator's remarks for more than two hours, and frequently throughout the discourse the applause was deafening. The speech is considered by many to be Mr. Towne's greatest effort. At its conclusion he was tendered an ovation by the multitude present.

First Buyer at Thousand Islands.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The Standard's correspondent at Alexandria Bay telegraphs as follows in connection with the death of Rev. R. H. Pullman: "Mr. Pullman was the first man to buy an estate on the St. Lawrence at the Thousand Islands. In 1864 he purchased Mother island, now known as Pullman island, for $40. He and his brother George camped on the island every summer for a number of years. Seven years after the purchase of the island George Pullman built Castle Rest. He had been a regular visitor to the islands since 1864 except two seasons. He belonged to the Knights Templar and several other secret societies."

Coal Operators Stay Out.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 28.—None of the coal operators of this section of the anthracite field attended the conference at Hazleton. Several operators who were interviewed said they did not look for a strike. The miners are very reticent. They say they will be governed by the action of their leaders. The general impression seems to be, however, that there will be no immediate trouble.

Fierce Cholera Scourge In India.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—"The present epidemic of cholera," says the Simla correspondent of The Daily Mail, "is one of the worst outbreaks on record. The bubonic plague is child's play compared with it. The natives are dying like flies at the rate of 3,000 a week. The epidemic is undoubtedly due to the pollution of the scanty water supply during the famine."

Terrific Storms In Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 28.—During the last few days terrific thunderstorms have caused much damage in the districts of Stuttgart, Leipsic and Rostock. Near Rostock the crops were destroyed by hail which lay four inches thick. In Saxony and Thuringia, on the other hand, lightning has caused many destructive fires.

Sultan Must Pay or Suffer.

TANGIER, Morocco, Aug. 28.—Under the muzzles of an American warship the sultan of Morocco must yield to the demands of the United States. The warship has arrived here to exact indemnity for the murder of Marcos Essagin, an American citizen. Morocco has the choice of payment or punishment.

Oregon's Injuries Repaired.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The navy department announced yesterday that the Oregon has been released from drydock and will be ready for sea in a week. All her injuries caused by her accident in running on a rock have been repaired, and she will soon be in active service again.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Mr. Bryan Declines to Be Present.

LARGE ATTENDANCE OF VETERANS

New York's Delegation a Record Breaker—Other Eastern States Well Represented—Naval Parade the First Day's Feature.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—William J. Bryan has followed the example of President McKinley and declined to be a visitor at the national encampment. He yesterday sent a message to Executive Director William H. Harper, the head of the local committee in charge of the local end of the encampment, saying that because of the absence of President McKinley from the encampment he considered it advisable to remain away. His telegram is as follows:

"W. H. Harper, Executive Director of the Grand Army Reunion, Chicago—Since President McKinley is detained by public business I believe that the proprieties of the occasion demand that I also decline and thus relieve the reunion of any appearance of partisanship."

The local committee through Mr. Harper expressed its regrets at the inability of Mr. Bryan to be present.

The thirty-fourth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, which was formally opened Sunday night by the monster meeting in the Coliseum, is in full blast, and in all respects it promises to be the greatest and most successful encampment the army has ever held. Train after train loaded down with veterans and their friends has rolled into the various depots in the city, and by last night it was estimated by railroad officials that 45,000 old soldiers had arrived and that 300,000 other excursionists had come with them. There were many thousand additional arrivals this morning. The veterans have come from all parts of the republic, and every northern state has sent a strong contingent. The New York delegation is one of the largest the Empire State has ever sent to an annual encampment. Fully 1,000 of them had come in by this morning, and every train from the east brings more of them. New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the New England states are all represented by large numbers of old soldiers. Iowa, Ohio and Indiana and Wisconsin have sent larger numbers than to any encampment of recent years. General J. Warren Keifer of Ohio and General Edward S. Bragg of Wisconsin both said they looked to see the greatest number of old soldiers that had marched at one time beneath the stars and stripes since the memorable review in Washington at the close of the war.

The first day of the encampment was one of ideal beauty in marked contrast to the hot and humid weeks that have preceded it since the 1st of August. There was in the early portion of the day a fresh breeze off Lake Michigan, tempering the heat of the sun, which shone brightly but not too warmly to make marching a burden for the old veterans, who claimed the day as theirs. The right of the line on the opening day was given to the men who sailed the seas during the civil war. The cheering was all for them, and the honors were theirs. The army will come to its own today.

The late afternoon feature of the day's celebration, the naval parade on Lake Michigan, proved somewhat of a disappointment. The end of the naval fight off Lincoln park closed the official programme of the encampment for the day, but all over the city in various halls and in the hotels there were reunions of regiments almost without number, gatherings of comrades who had not met since the days of the war and fraternal gatherings of all sorts and descriptions. One of the leading affairs of the night was the banquet of the Iron brigade, which was held at the clubhouse of the athletic club at 6:30. On the list of speakers were the following:

Speaker D. B. Henderson, Julius C. Burrows, United States senator from Michigan; Governor Edward Scofield of Wisconsin, General Albert D. Shaw, commander in chief of the G. A. R.; Governor James A. Mount of Indiana, James G. Flanders of Milwaukee, Charles G. Dawes, comptroller of the currency, and General Edward S. Bragg of Wisconsin.

A meeting of the National Association of ex-Prisoners of War was held in the Coliseum, which drew a large crowd, an attractive programme being rendered. The address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Harrison. Speeches were also made by Governor William A. Stone of Pennsylvania, United States Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania and General John C. Black of Chicago.

Fully 40,000 men, all members of the Grand Army, will be in line today, according to the statements of the officials in charge of the preliminaries, and it is estimated that it will require over five hours for the line of march to pass a given point. Colonel J. H. Wood of Chicago will be the chief marshal. His chief of staff will be Colonel James E. Stuart, the adjutant general will be H. S. Dietrich, and Colonel E. C. Young will act as chief of aids.

Pleasure Yacht Capsized.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 28.—A pleasure yacht was capsized in a gale off this city, but all the members of the party were rescued by the launch of the United States training ship Hartford.

Watch Your Kidneys!

They are Filters For the Blood. Impure Blood Causes Disease.

Few people understand the important part performed by the kidneys in filtering the blood. As the blood in its circulation through the body passes through the kidneys, its impurity is left in the kidneys, which in turn empties the secretions into the bladder in the form of urine.

If the kidneys are blocked and filtration of the blood from poisonous or diseased germs is prevented thereby, the result is one or all of the following: Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Weak Back, Pains in the Back and Loins, Scalding Dark and Cloudy Urine, Dizziness, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Congestion of the Kidneys, Bright's Disease and Inflammation of the Bladder.

Unhealthy Kidneys Must Be Treated

A medicine is needed that will properly promote the filtration of the blood and check the over-secretion of urine.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. WILL NEED AMERICAN AID.

Senor Lanuza Says Cuba Is Not Ready For Absolute Independence.

HAVANA, Aug. 28.—Senor Lanuza, former secretary of justice, who was recently asked to represent the Republican party of Cienfuegos in the forthcoming constitutional convention, has published a private letter, in which he gives his reason for not joining the Republicans. He takes this step in order to explain his exact position.

"I do not join the Republican party," he says, "because I do not agree with the two principal ideas of that party—namely, the immediate cessation of intervention and the immediate accession of absolute independence. If intervention were to cease before Cuba had become well established upon a sound economic basis, then dark days would be in store for us. After the republic is established the United States should maintain for some time international relations with Cuba, especially with reference to Cuba's dealing with other countries, and should also have the right of approving or disapproving Cuban loans above a certain amount.

"Moreover, the American government should uphold Cuba before the world. Indeed, if the United States were not to do these things, then the prospects would be gloomy. What is needed is a frank avowal from Washington that the United States will guarantee sound and efficient government in Cuba. This is requisite to a restoration of confidence."

Having thus defined his political position, Senor Lanuza appends a sort of footnote, in which he says:

"If the members of the Republican party should now decide to accept my definition of what is politically wise, I would readily become their candidate for election to the convention, but I doubt that my views will satisfy them."

Populists Accept Stevenson.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—At a meeting of the People's party national committee yesterday the declination of Charles A. Towne as the vice presidential nominee of the party was accepted, and the name of Adlai E. Stevenson was put in his place. This result was obtained after a long debate, beginning at 2 p. m. and ending about 6:30 p. m. In the beginning there were three courses advocated by different members of the committee—viz, to nominate a Populist, to leave the place blank or, lastly, to indorse Mr. Stevenson. Senator Marion Butler, chairman of the committee, in a warm speech of some length, advocated leaving the place blank, contending that Bryan and Stevenson would receive more Populist votes than if a candidate for vice president were named. But one test vote was taken. There were 124 members of the committee present or represented by proxy.

Green Goods Man Caught.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Charles Spinner, an alleged green goods man who claims New York as his home, was held in $1,500 bail for a further hearing yesterday by United States Commissioner Craig, charged with using the mails to defraud. The arrest was brought about by Charles H. Ferris of Pitman, N. J., who forwarded to the detective department a letter signed C. Morton offering to sell Ferris some green goods. Inclosed in the letter was a telegram to be forwarded to Morton in case Ferris wanted to do business with him. The detectives sent the dispatch, and an appointment was made to meet here. One of the detectives, representing himself as Ferris, met Morton, or Spinner, as he gave his name. While talking the matter over another detective came in and arrested Spinner.

Fitzsimmons Retires From the Ring.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—After an ineffectual attempt on the part of Bob Fitzsimmons to get on a match for the heavyweight championship with James J. Jeffries, to take place before the Horton law expires at midnight next Friday, Robert Fitzsimmons said last night: "I am through. I will retire from the ring and will not claim the championship from Jeffries. I am ready and on edge to meet him next Friday night, as his manager suggested ten days ago, but as he claims he is in no condition to fight on that night I am through with him and with the ring. Henceforth there will be one man less in the heavyweight division, for I will go out with the Horton law."

Soldiers' Graves Must Be Marked.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—A great deal of difficulty which has been experienced in establishing the identities of buried soldiers owing to the failure of commanding officers to state precisely the location of the graves of men dying in the field or in the hospital has prompted the war department to issue an order directing that wherever conditions make it possible every grave must be carefully marked by a headboard with the name, rank and organization of the deceased. Company commanders are to be held responsible for this identification to the extent of men who die in the field, while hospital surgeons are to answer for men dying in the hospitals.

Country Difficult and Well Suited to the Enemy's Tactics and Bad For British Cavalry—General Olivier Captured.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Wiring from Belfast yesterday, Lord Roberts says:

"Our casualties yesterday (Sunday) were wonderfully few, considering the heavy firing and the number of hours we were engaged. Buller estimates his as 2 killed and 24 wounded. His troops had to bivouack where they stopped after darkness fell, and accurate returns are as yet impossible.

"The casualties of the force operating north of Belfast were 3 killed and 34 wounded.

"Engaged the enemy the greater part of the day over a perimeter of nearly 30 miles. Lyttleton's division and two brigades of cavalry, all under Buller, operated southwest of Dalmanutha. French, with two brigades of cavalry, moved northwest of Belfast, driving the enemy to Lekenvly, on the Belfast-Lydenburg road. As soon as French reached Lekenvly Pole-Carew advanced from Belfast in support.

"The enemy in considerable strength opposed Buller's and Pole-Carew's advance. He brought three Long Toms and many other guns and pompons (quick firing guns) into action. The firing until dark was hot and persistent. Buller hopes his casualties will not exceed 40. Pole-Carew has not yet reported.

"The Boers are making a determined stand. They have a large number of guns. The country is difficult and well suited for their tactics and is less favorable to cavalry than any we have hitherto worked over."

The war office later received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"The Boers have been beaten back by Bruce-Hamilton at Winburg. General Olivier has been captured."

A press dispatch dated Gelum's farm, Aug. 27, says:

"General Pole-Carew came into touch with the Boers at their main position at Dalmanutha on Saturday and shelled a plantation east of Belfast. The Boers replied with long range guns.

"General French, on General Buller's flank, exchanged shots with the Boers, but no damage was done. An artillery duel occurred on the British front also, the 12 pounders bombarding the Boers' position and the latter displaying great enterprise in handling their guns, which were placed in strong position. The enemy evidently intends to contest stubbornly the ground between here and Machadodorp."

During General Buller's recent attack, according to The Daily Mail's correspondent at Lourenco Marques, the Boers lost heavily. Half the gunners of the Bethel commando were killed, as well as its commander, Commandant von Dalwig, a cousin of Herr Krupp.

"A council of war of the Boers at Machadodorp," says the correspondent, "decided, against the advice of Commandant General Botha, to return to the original plan of retiring on Lydenburg."

A Fake Fight.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The fight between Tommy West and Joe Walcott, which was the main attraction of the Twentieth Century club at Madison Square Garden, ended in a most peculiar manner last night. The bout had gone 11 rounds very much in Walcott's favor, as he had punished West very badly about the body and had him in a weakened condition. When the bell rang for the twelfth round, to the surprise of everybody, Walcott refused to go on, claiming that he had injured his left arm. Referee Charley White, suspecting that some crooked job was on foot, insisted on Walcott's continuing, but the negro simply grinned and refused to resume. This left White no alternative other than to count ten seconds, after which he declared West the winner.

Bresci Attempts to Take His Life.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, ineffectually attempted to commit suicide Sunday, according to a dispatch from Rome to The Daily Mail. He now refuses food, saying that he has no intention to give the bourgeoisie the satisfaction of seeing him condemned. He shows signs of aberration of intellect.

Inspecting Probable Emigrants.

LONDON, Aug. 28.—"A special United States official is here," says the Vienna correspondent of The Times, "investigating the condition of Roumanian Jewish emigrants who intend to go to North America. He has particularly in view those who are suspected of planning to get into the United States through Canada."

The Plague In Glasgow.

GLASGOW, Aug. 28.—Three persons, father, mother and child, who have been certified to be suffering from bubonic plague, have been placed under the care of the medical authorities here.

Returns to Adirondacks.

SARATOGA, Aug. 28.—Mrs. Collis P. Huntington and relatives of New York city have returned to Pine Knot Lodge, Raquette lake, Adirondacks, via Saratoga and North Creek.

Jersey's Good Roads.

The greater part of the public has little or no idea of the general scheme under which the good roads of New Jersey are now being constructed. Under the provisions of the old county road act, which permitted the bonding of the counties to pay for the building of macadam roads, the building of thoroughfares practicable for travel in all seasons of the year, seemed to many to be going forward with no particular end in view. There was, however, a definite plan in view in the establishment of all the county roads through the State and the work, which the State authorities are now participating in, is only the more complete development of the original idea.

When the roads were being built under county auspices alone, it was planned to construct a series of good roads radiating from the county seat to all parts of the county, and thus bringing the centre of government of the county in more intimate connection with the entire district under its control. The working of this scheme in Union county is easy to see. Roads were built from Elizabeth to Rahway; South and North avenues stretched out to Plainfield and the intervening towns; another macadam road was built on to Springfield with branches to Summit and New Providence.

Somerset county has somewhat failed to carry out the plan. The road from Somerville to Bound Brook and thence to Dunellen was all right, but the macadam road, now in the course of construction between Millstone and New Brunswick really answers as a feeder for the county seat of Middlesex rather than opening up the county for the benefit of the county seat. The road between Somerville and Bedminster, for which the Freeholders of Somerset county have applied for State aid, is directly in accordance with the general scheme, and will be of decided benefit to Somerset and its people.

The ultimate aim of the State authorities, as represented by Henry I. Budd, State commissioner of public roads, is to connect the various county systems and gradually form long lines of travel from north to south with a series of cross roads connecting them. This projected road, between Somerville and Bedminster, is practically certain to receive State approval as it is the connecting link between the county seats of Somerset and Morris counties. It also opens a section which has heretofore had but little advantage of good roads.

Residents of New Jersey can be thankful, indeed, that they live in a State where such a worthy movement is going forward and is bound to be of wonderful value in developing and increasing the resourses of this State.

North Plainfield has the prospect of being fairly well supplied with Republican campaign clubs quite early in the season. Some weeks ago, some of the younger men organized a club in the borough. Now the old U. S. Grant Club, which has lived through several campaigns, plans to renew its existance again and has set tomorrow evening as the time of meeting for organization.

The presence of the President at the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic is no new thing but the veterans of the east have shown that many of them do not approve of Chicago's plan of inviting Presidental candidates as well. They do not like it in an organization which has heretofore tried to remain strictly out of politics.

Having succeeded in building a trolley line from Elizabeth to Plainfield, the Riker-Hine syndicate is preparing to increase the traffic hereon, if possible, by trying its hand at the entertainment business. The public park, with its varied attractions, is an almost inevitable outcome of the building of the long-distance trolley.

Although Bird S. Coler is comptroller of the greatest city in the United States, he appreciates the beauties and advantages of Plainfield, after all.

WHAT THE SHEARS FIND.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers of Interest in Plainfield.

Senator Reed, chairman of the Somerset county Republican committee, attended the conference of county committee chairmen at Trenton the other day. He did not bring away as rosy a view of the situation in the State as was brought by some other county chairmen, but he was confident that, in spite ot the fact that the trust issue, which the Democrats were vigorously pushing in Morris, Somerset, Sussex and Warren counties, the Republicans would carry the State by a handsome majority.—New York Tribune.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

In Sunday's Tribune there appeared an article with an illustration concerning a houseboat in which Mrs. F. H. Ball and daughters, of Myrtle avenue, this city, have been spending the summer. The following is a description of the boat as it appeared in The Tribune's article:

"The houseboat is called by the simple and euphonious name of Sommerheim. It is painted white on the outside and finished in hardwood within. Everything in the spacious cabin is decorated with Delft blue—the upholsterings, draperies, dishes and general ornamentation. The boat itself measures seventy feet in length by thirty feet in width, and accommodates nine persons comfortably. The sails are managed by a clever device that reduces the amount of strength required to adjust them, and with the assistance of a cabin boy the gentle skippers have no trouble whatever.

"Life on board the Summerheim is not at all like life in a summer home on land. There is a vast area about the abode, with the advantage of no lawn to keep mowed. There are also no neighbors to intrude. But life cannot become dull to eager skippers who may have the elements to combat at any moment. Then there is fishing. There is always fishing. There is the chance to get up at sunrise, not only to have a front seat at the rising of the sun, but also to take a row over to the shore for something special for breakfast and to whet a sharp edge on the appetite. There is the anchor to weigh, there are the sails to adjust to proper position, according to the winds and waves. There are books to read and naps in the afternoon, and dinner in the cabin, which is the coziest of places. Then there is finally the casting of the anchor and getting ready for the night, and later music and games in the cabin. There is the excitement attendant on the arrival and departure of guests, and there are always the charming marine views, all passing on kinetoscopic display against the blue background of the sky.

Gentlemen:—I must say in regard to GRAIN-O that there is nothing better or healthier. We have used it for years. My brotheir was a great coffee drinker. He was taken sick and the doctor said coffee was the cause of it, and told us to use GRAIN-O. We got a package but did not like it at first, but now would not be without it. My brother has been well ever since we started to use it.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, August 28th—During the heavy thunder shower Sunday lightning struck a hay barrack on the farm of Abram Giddis at Greenbrook, setting it on fire. Sparks from the burning hay spread in all directions. The barn of Charles P. Sebring, of the Watchung Water Company, was barely saved from destruction by the owner attaching a private hose to a hydrant. The Lincoln fire department was summoned, but the structure was past saving. The apparatus did good work, however, and a heavy stream was thrown on the blazing hay, extinguishing it entirely. The loss will be about $300. There was no insurance, a ten-year policy having expired a few months ago.

Considerable surprise was occasioned in the borough yesterday by the report of the death of Rev. Theodore Frazee, a former pastor of the First M. E. church, which occurred at his late home at Rossville, S. I. He was a brother to Mrs. Lucy Titsworth, of the borough and is very well known here. His wife, who was a Miss Moore, and his daughter, Miss Florence Frazee, are still popular in Dunellen. The latter resided here for some time after Mr. Frazee accepted another call.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wright, of St. Simons, Ga., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Warden. The former have just returned from a tour of the Holy Land and a visit to the Paris fair.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow night to consider the advisability of extending a call for a pastor.

Weather permitting the party which Mrs. William E. Terry was to have given to a number of young friends, will be held this afternoon.

The Misses Alice and Jessie Frescoln, of Brooklyn, have returned home from a pleasant visit with Mrs. John Hunt.

Miss Edna Baldwin returned home yesterday from a week's visit with Rev. and Mrs. A. I. Martine, of Marlboro.

Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Col. William B. Hayes.

Mrs. George W. Townley, of Elizabeth, was the guest of Mrs. Wm. H. Terry yesterday.

T. C. Bodine and family have returned from a month's outing at Ocean Grove.

Joseph Sutphen, of Plainfield, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. James Martin, Sunday.

Mrs. Katherine Maier left yesterday for an extended visit with relatives at Reaville.

Arthur Palmer and Bernard Sirisky spent Sunday with friends at Raritan.

William Craig has gone to Rockaway Beach on a two weeks' vacation.

James Craig has gone to Boston on a week's business trip.

Miss DeMott, of Boehm's dry goods store, has been enjoying her annual vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Compton's daughter, who has been visiting them for a short time, returned to her home in New York, yesterday.

—Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign going without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Luscious Fruits.

Some are home grown, some are from California and Florida and some are imported. Among the first are berries, grapes, apples, delicious muskmelons, etc.

The second lot includes peaches, plums, pears, pineapples, bananas, etc. The foreign fruits are lemons, oranges, bananas, etc.

The fruits we offer are of delightful flavor and in perfect condition.

Oesterreich.

Wien. Aus Anlaß des 70. Geburtstages des Kaisers hat Herr Anton Dreher der Kaiser Franz Joseph-Jubiläumsstiftung für Volkswohnungen und Wohlfahrtseinrichtungen, deren Kuratorium er als Mitglied angehört, den Betrag von 200,000 Kronen überwiesen.—Das Reichsrathsmitglied Karl Mittermaier, Mitglied der Faktion der Antisemiten, Vertreter des 5. Wiener Wahlkreises, ist wegen grober Beleidigung eines Kellners Proßnick zu 14tägiger, durch einen Fasttag in der Woche verschärfter Gefängnißstrafe verurtheilt worden.

Almas Füzitö. Hier wurden die Dampfmühle und die Stärke- und Dextrinfabrik durch eine Feuersbrunst eingeäschert. Dabei sind 5000 Sack Mehl und 7000 Sack Weizen verbrannt.

Bruneck. Die Gemeindejagd in Enneberg wurde bei der letzthin stattgehabten Versteigerung einer Jagdgesellschaft auf zehn Jahre um den jährlichen Pachtschilling von 2100 Kronen gepachtet. Früher kostete die Jagd 850 Kronen.

Ehrwald. Am Schneefernerkopf ging kürzlich ein Wollenbruch nieder, der wahre Wasserfälle an den steilen Gebirgswänden bildete. Alsbald setzten sich, lavaartig fließend, zwei Schutt- und Geröllströme in Bewegung und zogen über die schönen Wiesmahden gen Ehrwald—meterhoch Steine und Schotter ablagernd.

Großwardein. In der Kaserne der Wilhelm-Husaren brach auf dem Heuboden durch Selbstentzündung ein Brand aus. In der Kaserne lagerten 10,000 Patronen. Die Husaren, die gerade im Bad waren, eilten im Sturmschritt nach Hause und trugen die Patronen aus der brennenden Kaserne. Die Kaserne ist gänzlich abgebrannt.

Steyr. In der hiesigen Waffenfabrik wurde der Fabrikwächter Lambert Haider als des Anarchismus verdächtig verhaftet, weil er sich über die Ermordung des Königs Humbert von Italien durch den Anarchisten Bresci in einem das Verbrechen billigenden Sinne ausgesprochen hat und den Königsmord als nachahmenswerthes Beispiel pries.

Teplitz. Ein hiesiges Konsortium plant die Errichtung einer Thonwaarenfabrik nächst der Station Preschen der Aussig-Teplitzer Bahn. Die Firma R. Bechert in Teplitz projektirt die Errichtung einer Lederfabrik in Weißkirchlitz.

Weikersdorf. Bei der jüngst vorgenommenen Bürgermeisterwahl wurde der bisherige langjährige und verdiente Bürgermeister von Weikersdorf, Herr Johann Pötschner, einstimmig wiedergewählt.

Schweiz.

Bern. Von allen Seiten rückt die Verbindung des Oberlandes mit dem Genfersee vorwärts. Letzter Tage haben die Arbeiten der Erlenbach-Zweisimmen-Bahn begonnen und zwar in Ringoldingen. — In Dürrentannen bei Rüschegg schlug der Blitz in das Haus des Christian Zbinden und äscherte dasselbe vollständig ein.—Einen gemüthlichen Arrestanten transportirte letzthin der Landjäger von Schwarzenburg. Die abnorme Hitze, welche auf der staubigen Landstraße herrschte, verursachte letzterem plötzlich ein so heftiges Unwohlsein, daß er bewußtlos ward. Kaum hatte der Arrestant dies bemerkt, eilte er dem nächsten Hause zu und holte in einem Gefäß Wasser, womit er den Bewußtlosen wieder zum Bewußtsein zurückrief.

Zürich. Die Gemeindeversammlung Hinweil hatte sich über die Aufhebung der Polizeistunde zu entscheiden, welche von 180 Petenten verlangt worden war. Nach gewaltiger Redeschlacht stimmten aber nur noch 39 Bürger für Aufhebung der Polizeistunde und 253 erklärten sich mit derselben einverstanden.

Luzern. Herr Bankpräsident Leodegar Coraggioni in Luzern ist im Alter von 74½ Jahren unerwartet gestorben.

Solothurn. Bei den Gemeinderathswahlen in Solothurn wurden 17 Freisinnige, 10 Konservative und 3 Sozialisten gewählt. Die Konservativen verlieren zwei Sitze an die Freisinnigen und Sozialisten. In Grenchen hat die sozialdemokratische Partei die Mehrheit verloren, indem nun dort 12 Sozialdemokraten 16 Freisinnigen und Konservativen gegenüberstehen.

Graubünden. Man hofft, nunmehr auch auf der Südseite des Albulatunnels, d. i. im Beverserthal, im Tunnel auf Felsen gestoßen zu sein. Bisher bewegten sich die Arbeiten bekanntlich in einer äußerst ungünstigen Schuttmasse.

Aargau. Die Strohindustrie im Freiamt läßt sich jetzt schon gut an, speziell für die Drähtli, was als ein gutes Zeichen für den kommenden Winter angesehen wird. Die Mähmaschine hat den Strohhändlern das Geschäft verdorben, indem der Behandlung des Flechtschaubes weniger Sorgfalt mehr zugewendet werden kann. Das verwendbare Stroh steigt daher sehr im Preise.

DESCENT OF THE CART HORSE.

His Progenitors Were the Prancing War Horses of the Medieval Knights.

Despite all that is said touching the dignity of labor, one can imagine the cart horse, released from ten hours' toil in plow, team, or brewer's dray, sadly contrasting the high estate of his ancestors with his own lowly lot—that is, assuming him to be aware of the facts set out in Sir Walter Gilbey's curiously interesting little book: "The Great Horse, or Shire Horse," says London Sketch.

Poets and romance writers have made us familiar with certain attributes of the noble charger, bestridden by armored knights of old; we know his lofty crest, expanding nostril, and fiery courage; but these authorities observe a judicious reticence concerning those points of the old war horse which would not appeal to modern ideas of equine nobility—his hairy heels, for instance.

Thus left in the dark on essential details, we have unconsciously fashioned the war-horse of medieval times for ourselves; for my own part, I confess to mounting the Black Prince and other favorite heroes of history on superior weight-carrying hunters. This was a mistake.

The war horse of the age of plate-armored knighthood was called the "Great Horse," but he was neither more nor less than the shire horse of to-day, only not quite so big and powerful.

When we consider the matter in the light of knowledge, it is clear that the cart horse, and the strongest of his race at that, was the only beast that could carry a man clad in plate armor.

Holinshead, the old chronicler, says that the great horse "will carry four hundredweight commonlie," and there is in the tower now a suit of armor of Henry the Eighth's time, which Sir Walter Gilbey shows meant a total over 420 pounds.

In times when the cart horse was so essential to the mounted branch of the army, its breeding naturally became the care of the state, and numberless laws were made to foster the supply.

Moors and waste lands where horses ran wild in droves were "driven" every year by royal officers, and all the small and unlikely tits were destroyed; persons of rank were compelled to keep breeding stock, and the exportation of great horses was forbidden under heavy penalties.

It was the application of gunpowder to hand firearms which wrought the undoing of the great horse; ceasing to wear heavy armor, men ceased to need his services, and he became a hauler, a drawer of ponderous coaches over apologies for roads, and the slave of wain, dray and plow.

SHE WAS A SALVATION GIRL.

But It Took Some Time for the Susceptible Young Man to Discover That Fact.

"Well, this is the greatest snap I ever struck in my life," thought a flirtatiously-inclined young Chicagoan on his way home for a college vacation as he entered the parlor car of the Chicago bound train and observed a handsome dark-eyed young lady in a blue suit sitting opposite a vacant place, relates the Chicago Chronicle.

The youth dropped into the unoccupied seat and began casting about for an opportunity to get acquainted with the brunette. Finally the young lady started to raise her window, but, with a polite "I beg your pardon; let me assist you," the Chicago boy sprang to the window and opened it, and also his campaign at the same time. He did it with such a profuse show of politeness that the girl could not turn him down. A few moments later she started to lower the shade to keep the sun out of her eyes, but the young collegian was right there again, as polite as before, and did it for her.

After thus extracting a pair of "thanks" from his fair traveling companion the youth launched into a few remarks upon the weather and kindred subjects. He even got a few monosyllabic replies. Then he shook hands with himself, for he thought he was making tracks the size of a watermelon. Just then the train whirled around a curve and the parlor car was given a yank that dislodged the young lady's bonnet from somewhere above and it came tumbling down into the young man's lap. Just as he seized it to replace it above he glanced at it and nearly fell dead when he saw a red ribbon across the front bearing the legend, "Salvation Army." The young man never got it back on the hook. He dropped it on the seat and fled into the next car and remained there until the train pulled into Chicago, where he sneaked out of the side entrance of the station.

His Preference.

The Lady Bountiful of the parish was going her rounds, and called at a small cottage occupied by a "model" peasant, whose wife had been an invalid for some years.

"And how is Mary to-day?" inquired the visitor.

"Just about the same, thankee kindly, mem," was the reply.

"Did she enjoy those little things I sent her yesterday?" asked the lady.

"The things come all right, mem, an' we be greatly obleeged; but, if I might make so bold, would ye not send her any more of that jelly? Some jam—strawberry jam—be much more sootable, mem."

"Why, doesn't she care for the jelly?" was the natural query.

"Yes, mem, she do; but I can't say as I does."—London Mail.

Exercise more.

He knows, however,

Are seldom changed.

Consequently, the doctor,

With writing a prescription
That gives me relief
Rather quickly,
While my habits remain as they were.

Of late I have noticed
That my physician,
Instead of the long prescription,
Writes but two words,
And that the remedy I get
Is rather more convenient
And decidedly
More effective.

VICE ADMIRAL POTTIER.

The French Commander in Chinese Waters Is an Able Seaman and Accomplished Diplomat.

Vice Admiral Edouard Pottier, the newly appointed French commander in chief in Chinese waters, is an alert, robust man of 61 years of age. Admiral Pottier, besides his long sea service, has had much diplomatic experience. He commanded the French contingent during the outbreak in Crete, and at one time, in his capacity as senior flag officer, commanded the combined naval forces of the four powers. Admiral Pottier is a man of strong character and is gifted with charming conversational powers. He has great tact and has always enjoyed the confidence and respect of the officers of foreign nations with whom he came in close contact. He is looked upon as one of the most highly instructed officers in the French service, and his appointment to the highest command in China meets with warm approval in naval circles. The admiral has selected as his chief aid-de-camp Capt. Viaud, the brilliant writer and academician, well known by his literary name of Pierre Loti, who returned to Paris a few days ago from a mission in Asia.

Admiral Pottier will hoist his flag on the first-class armored cruiser Redoubtable, 9,300 tons, and one of the most formidable ships in the French navy. This is the first time that France has ever sent so large and powerful a vessel on a mission so far away from home waters. The Redoubtable draws only 7 meters 80 centimeters, which enables her to pass through the Suez canal. The Redoubtable forms a part of the French northern squadron, but will sail as soon as possible for China.

COUNT LAMSDORFF.

Czar Has Placed This Distinguished Diplomat at the Head of Russia's Foreign Office.

Count Lamsdorff, who was recently placed at the head of the Russian ministry of foreign affairs, has been appointed permanent foreign minister. For some time the appointment has been looked forward to as a certainty. The count is perhaps the most efficient officer for this important post in all Russia. For 30 years he has been connected with the foreign office, and upon his skill, knowledge and experience has depended much of the success of the various ministers under whom he has served. Lamsdorff was head of the foreign affairs department during the interval between the death of Prince Lobanoff and the accession of the late Count Muravieff. He is familiar with all the intimate secrets of the government's affairs, with the czar's plans for conquest and expansion, and, besides possessing the unbounded confidence of the emperor, he is well known and liked by all the diplomats who have gone to St. Petersburg from abroad.

American Ice Cream Freezers.

Ice cream freezers of American manufacture are sold all over the world, wherever ice, either natural or artificial, is used. The ice cream eaten in Calcutta or in Melbourne, or in any other city or country, European included, would be more than likely to have been made in an American freezer.

Wood Pulp for Clothing.

Wood pulp paper as military clothing is used by the Japanese troops. It is marvelously tough and has an appearance that might well be regarded with satisfaction for summer wear. It holds stitching uncommonly well, while its warmth is undoubted.

Wise Way of Hunting.

Hawks have been seen to follow in the wake of a moving railway train, to swoop down on small birds that were suddenly disturbed and frightened by the noise, and therefore for the moment were off their guard.

KANSAS' FIRST CAPITOL.

It Is All That Is Left of Pawnee, Once the Seat of Government of the Sunflower State.

One of the ruins that Kansas proposes to guard from the ravages of time is the first statehouse of Kansas, one of the few relics of the early days, when the settlement of the west was just beginning.

It stands near Fort Riley, in the central part of the state, and, according to the Philadelphia Press, is all that is left of the town of Pawnee, the first capital of the state.

The town was started by boomers who "stood in" with the territorial governor, A. H. Reeder, who owned land there and was a good deal of a speculator.

KANSAS' FIRST CAPITOL.

The town association built the capitol, a stone structure two stories high and 40x80 feet in outside dimensions. They laid out the streets and boarding houses were made ready for the first meeting of the legislature. Then, in 1855, the governor called the legislature to meet there, and the solons decided that they would not assist him in his plays.

They went from eastern Kansas in prairie schooners, a long procession that wound its way 150 miles out on the prairie, the travelers growing more angry that the governor had selected so distant a place. They had provisions for the trip, and when they reached Pawnee not one of them went to the boarding houses, as had been expected, but they cooked in their wagons and lived on the edge of the town site.

On the day for the opening of the legislature they went to the new stone building and held a session, which consisted of organizing and adjourning to Shawnee mission, in the eastern part of the state, where, despite all the efforts of the governor, the remainder of the session was held.

Pawnee did not make a town. The cholera broke out the next year at Fort Riley and the people fled. The statehouse stands out on the plain, deserted, the roof gone and the interior a place for the hiding of coyotes and sandhill owls. The state has been asked to purchase the old ruin and preserve it for future generations, who will doubtless appreciate it as a reminder of the efforts of the first-comers to make this a great city, and for a time it seemed likely that they would succeed.

Kansas has seven capitols, ending with the present handsome building at Topeka, not yet completed; but none has a more romantic history than the old Pawnee statehouse, and none appeals more strongly to the lovers of the picturesque.

A MUSICAL BICYCLE.

Designed for the Purpose of Giving Divertisement During Long and Tedious Runs.

At this time when so many improvements are being made on bicycles, in the way of attachable motors, etc., the machine illustrated in the Scientific American will doubtless interest our readers. It is the invention of Mr. Samuel Goss, of Chicago, and was designed for the purpose of furnishing music for the rider of the wheel and his companions, in order to break the monotony and give divertisement during long and tedious runs.

THE MUSICAL BICYCLE.
(Plays Melodious Airs While the Rider Works the Pedals.)

The mechanism, which is quite simple, is mounted on an iron frame made to fit into that of the machine. On this frame are stretched piano wires, B, while on the cross piece, A, are some small hammers operated by pins on the cylinder, C, and made to strike the wires. The cylinder is rotated by worm gears placed at its left-hand end and driven from the crank shaft by a cord and pulley.

The inventor has foreseen the case when the riders should tire of the music, by providing a small lever for throwing out the gears and thus stopping the cylinder. The tune may be varied by putting in new cylinders, and the time of any air may be quickened by increasing the speed of the wheel.

JOURNALIST CANDIDATE.

Albert B. White, Republican Candidate for Governor of West Virginia, Is a Bright Editor.

Albert B. White, republican nominee for governor of West Virginia, was born in Cleveland, and is the oldest son of Dr. Emerson E. White, the author of a number of well-known school text-books.

Mr. White, on his graduation from Marietta (Ohio) college with the highest honors of his class, entered the employ of a daily paper as a reporter. His rise was rapid and in 1881 he purchased the State Journal, of Parkersburg, W. Va., at that time an obscure newspaper. Under his management the property grew in value, until the paper became a leading republican newspaper in the state. In 1887 Mr. White was elected president of the National Editorial association of the United States.

ALBERT B. WHITE.
(Republican Candidate for Governor of West Virginia.)

Mr. White is an effective stump speaker, possessed, too, of a genius for political organization. His services to the party have not gone unrecognized. President Harrison appointed him collector of internal revenue for the district of West Virginia in 1889. Mr. White has large financial interests. His nomination was unanimous.

COMMISSIONER DUELL.

Head of the United States Patent Office Is About to Give Up His Government Position.

Charles H. Duell, who is about to resign from his post of commissioner of patents, was appointed to that place by President McKinley in February, 1898. He is the son of the late R. Holland Duell, who was himself commissioner of patents in 1875. Mr. Duell is one of the bright lawyers of New York state. He is LL. B. of Hamilton college law school, from which he was graduated in 1872. In June of the same year he was admitted to the bar in Utica, and began practice in Cortlandt, but soon removed to New York city, where he became a member of the patent law firm of Duell, Wells & Duell. As a member of the New York legislature Mr. Duell was active in passing laws for the benefit of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. In 1880 he removed to Syracuse, where he has since engaged in the practice of patent law. He has had charge of several important cases. The retiring commissioner is deeply interested in several financial and industrial enterprises, which demand constant attention, and hence it is that he is resigning his government post.

Palm Leaves as Cradles.

In the palm region of the Amazon river there is a tribe which cradles their infants in palm leaves. A single leaf, turned up around the edges by some native process, makes an excellent cradle, and now and then it is made to do service as a bath tub. Strong cords are formed from the fibers of another species of palm, and by these this natural cradle is swung alongside a tree, and the wind rocks the little one to sleep. Long ago the Amazonian mothers discovered that it was not wise to leave baby and cradle under a cool palm, for the mischievous monkey delighted to drop nuts downward with unerring pecision. An older child is stationed nearby to watch the baby during his siesta, and the chatter of monkeys overhead is enough to cause a speedy migration.

Chinese Have No Sunday.

There is no Sabbath in China, but to make up for this there are many general and local festival days. Business is suspended only on the first day of the year, and then everybody makes merry and celebrates the day with good eating and drinking. The first three days of the lunar year and several days about the middle of April are devoted also to worship at the tombs. The days of relaxation and merrymaking are the two solstices and the festival of the dragon boats.

STALE BREAD.

Several Dainty Dishes Made from What It Is a Shame to Throw Away.

"I do wish I knew what to do with this stale bread," said Mrs. Newbride. "It seems a shame to throw it away; but it dries so fast in summer, and Harry does not like it steamed, and one gets tired of plain toast."

"Stale bread," cried Aunt Polly, according to the Ladies' World, cheerfully. "Why, I can tell you a dozen ways of using it. Some morning when you have bacon for breakfast try fried bread.

"Dip slices of stale bread into salted water to soften the crust and fry brown in bacon fat. Add a dust of pepper and serve hot.

"Another form of fried bread that can be used as a dessert is dropped egg on toast.

"Fill the spider with boiling water, salt, and then carefully break in your eggs, cooking three minutes. Dip the water over the yolks occasionally, and take each up on to a slice of hot, buttered toast. Add pepper and more salt if required.

"Another nice plan also uses up scraps of cold meat. It is beefsteak on toast.

"Chop fine the cold meat, putting it in the spider with salt, pepper, a dredge of flour and enough water to make a gravy. Let it boil while you prepare slices of buttered toast. Dip some of the meat and gravy on to each slice and serve hot.

"Asparagus is nice served on toast, as you know; and a nice dish for an invalid is made by pouring a cupful of hot, well-salted milk over a slice of dry toast. This brings us to the regular cream or dip toast.

"Put a quart of milk to boil and thicken with two level tablespoonfuls of flour stirred smooth in a little cold milk. Salt and set back. Toast your bread, butter, and dip each slice in the 'dip.' Lay in a deep dish until you have enough bread, then pour over it the remainder of the dip. Use half this recipe for small families.

"A lady from Nova Scotia told me once how to make lumberman's toast.

"Put into the spider a lump of butter and some molasses. Dip the slices of stale bread in water and fry until brown.

"A nice dish for supper is bread griddle cakes.

"Soak the dry bread several hours in a pan of water. Squeeze dry and crumble, adding salt, a well-beaten egg, two tablespoonfuls of flour and half a teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in milk. Add milk enough to make a not too thin batter, fry, and serve with butter and brown sugar."

A CURIOUS CLIENT.

Went to a Painter to Have a Portrait of His Dead Father Made.

A new story is being told in Europe about David Col, the Antwerp painter, who died recently, says the New York Herald. As he was at work in his studio one day many years ago three entered a farmer, who requested him to paint his father's portrait. The artist, not being overburdened with wealth at that time, gladly agreed to do the work, and said that he would be pleased to see the old gentleman at any time. Thereupon the farmer said, mournfully:

"Oh, you can't see him, sir, for he's dead."

"Then how on earth do you expect me to paint his portrait?" asked the artist, with a sigh.

"Oh, you're fooling me, sir," said the farmer. "Just tell me whose picture that is on the easel there."

"That is a portrait of St. Anthony," was the answer.

"Is that really St. Anthony?"

"Yes."

"Did he sit to you?"

"Of course not."

"Well, then, isn't that a clear proof that you are able to make the portrait of a dead man?"

Col, who wanted money badly, allowed himself to be persuaded by this novel argument, and, therefore, he obtained from the farmer as many particulars about the dead man as he could, and then, after making a sketch of the son, because he said that he closely resembled his father, he began work on the portrait. When it was finished he sent for the farmer and showed it to him. To his surprise the man fell on his knees and began to cry bitterly, his eyes meanwhile fixed on the portrait. Col flattered himself that he had made a lifelike portrait, and that it was the wonderful resemblance which caused the son to grieve so sorely.

"Why do you cry so much?" he asked, trying to comfort him.

"Oh, my dear sir," was the unexpected reply, "I never thought that anyone could change so much in such a short time. Dear me, how terribly ugly my poor father has become."

Bengaline and Faille Silks.

Bengaline and faille silks in white and delicate colors are much used in combination with cloth for plaited skirts, where fan insertions are introduced to produce an extra flare from the knees down, and for the tailor-finish of strappings, vests, etc., on the bodice. Satin antique and satin foulard are also used for the same purpose. A handsome gray cloth gown has an inner vest of geranium pink satin antique, with a narrower outer one of cream white, stitched with white silk and trimmed with two rows of very narrow gold braid and tiny gold buttons set on in clusters of three. The pink vest is an extension of the finely plaited guimpe. A Vertha collar outlines the low-cut top of the cloth bodice, and the strapped edge is piped with white silk.

SEX OF DIAMONDS.

A Jeweler's Curious Observations—The Female Stones Said to Be More Brilliant.

A short time ago a certain jeweler's window in Rue de la Paix, Paris, exhibited a tray of diamonds whose extreme beauty and brilliance attracted throngs of admiring passers-by, and many times a day the obliging proprietor was called upon to explain the remarkable diversity of color.

As a matter of fact, this tray is well known to the trade, and is specially manufactured to display the wonderful prismatic hues of the large African mine diamonds. The fire and play of color revealed are exquisite, and the jeweler's gossip, as he picked up a sparkler here and there with his diamond tweezers, was very interesting.

"This is a black diamond," said he, "somewhat less than four carats, and worth 12,500 francs. It changes its color in different lights; in strong sunlight it is almost black; in gaslight a rich golden brown. After exposure to the rays of the sun it will remain luminous in the dark for a time, but a candle flame develops its luster more than any other light.

"Here is a grass-green diamond," went on the speaker; "it's brilliance and fire exceed any emerald's known. This is for an American amateur of precious stones.

"Look at this spray of colored diamonds. Isn't it a charming piece of jewelry, with its yellow, black, gray, green, indigo and cinnamon-colored jewels? A Tyrolese spent most of his life collecting these.

"This rich deep red, like a ruby, only more beautiful, is extremely rare and costly. The Russian emperor has purchased this, and also the peach-blow tinted gem next to it.

"Here is a blue diamond from the old Indian mines," he added, "almost as choice a thing as the red one, and these are all yellow diamonds, mostly canary-colored. The West Indian trade prefer this line, and all of these others are white, nearly colorless and perfectly transparent, and resemble a drop of clear water.

"Do they break? The old theory about the hardness of the diamond is greatly modified. Some of these gems are so brittle that I could break them by dropping them on the floor. I can pulverize them in a mortar or split them with a knife in the direction of their cleavage lines. These white diamonds make fine microscopic lenses, their magnifying power is so superior to that of glass."

He bent over the gems a moment, and, picking up a beautiful white stone of a couple of carats, turned again to his listeners.

"Did you ever know there was sex in jewels?" he asked; "here is a curiosity," and under a strong magnifying glass he pointed out a group of five or six tiny diamonds clustered about the edge of the stone, but unperceivable without the lens.

"The male gem never gathers these little buds," the jeweler continued; "this is called the female, or multiplying diamond. And the female stone is not only more brilliant, but of greater size and less prone to be flawed.

"The largest and best known diamonds in history and collections are all female jewels. Strange, isn't it?"—Ledger Monthly.

VALUE OF EXPERT OPINION.

An Instance That Illustrates the Practicality of Applied Science—Technological Education.

It is said that whenever a car wheel breaks, on a certain great trunk line, the fragments are taken to the company's laboratory and carefully studied, so that when the next order for car wheels is made up, if structural weakness caused the accident, it may be guarded against. Indeed, we are told that all the purchases by this railroad of iron, steel, oil, lumber or what not, are tested by the chemists it employs, and they draw up the requirements to which persons who sell the road supplies must conform. This is not an isolated instance. It illustrates, says Youth's Companion, the practicality of applied science, and the reliance of acute business men upon the "expert opinion" that insures them against wasting materials, time and money.

A class recently graduated from one of our largest technological schools numbered 179 young men and women. Eleven of them took up special studies in this institution or others. All but 33 of the rest found employment within a year. They engaged in the service of electric companies, railroads, cotton and paper mills, mines, machine works, iron and steel foundries, and others of our most important industrial enterprises.

Many of the establishments that welcomed the young graduates are in a peculiar sense "close corporations." A man who had nothing but money might not be able to enter their employ; and if he did, his wealth would confer no privileges, since they do not need money. They do appreciate special knowledge and technical skill, and the man who possesses these qualifications may find that they open the way to places of authority and honor.

The time has been when a youth who pursued scientific pursuits had little to expect but toil and poverty. The prospect must have deterred many who would have endured anything for themselves, but who had others, dependent, to consider. To such men the applicaton of science to everyday industry means much. In effect it has created innumerable new occupations that offer a living and a chance to learn. One who deserves success will ask no more—until he has earned it.

MAKES SLAVES FREE.

New Railroad in Africa Will Be the Means of Saving Life and Labor.

There will be less slavery, less suffering, less mortality in Central Africa when the Uganda railway is completed. It is to connect the port of Mombasa, on the Indian ocean, with Lake Victoria Nyanza, that great inland sea which has no other outlet than the unnavigable Nile.

Already it is constructed and in operation as far as the plateau of Kikuyu, that Central African Eden, where English vegetables and fruits flourish and English babies grow fat and strong. It yet remains to build 228 miles to the lake, and for this purpose the British parliament is asked to vote $10,000,000 in addition to the $15,000,000 already dedicated to the entire enterprise, unexpected engineering difficulties having increased the estimate.

The cost, says the New York Journal, is cheap when the humanitarian benefits of the line are considered. It will do away with the infamous system of porterage, which, however disguised and however employed by Christian missionaries, represents slavery in its worst form.

Covering this feature of the question an English writer says: "It does not need a keenly imaginative mind to realize the hideous suffering involved in the conveyance of heavy goods 600 miles on the shoulders or heads of human beings. The men engaged in this work were in reality slaves. They started from a coast bathed in moist, tropical heat. Their first task was a forced march across a waterless desert. Next they had to thread their way through miles of thick jungle, then to toil over mountain passes 3,000 feet higher than any summit in the British isles, and, clad in thin cotton, had to sleep without shelter through the bitterly cold nights; then came the long descent through fever-haunted jungles to the great lake.

"Is it surprising that many of the men who started on this terrible six-months' journey to Uganda and back never saw their homes again, and that the pace could only be kept up by a free use of the whip? Is it surprising that the slave trade flourished in East Africa when there was a constant demand by merchants, by missionaries and by government officials for porters for this deadly journey?

"If the railway had done nothing more than remove this wrong and misery it would be worth the money that is being spent upon it."

From a commercial point of view the reform is very marked. Carriage by the railway over the sections already constructed costs about five cents per ton per mile and takes a few hours; human porterage cost about $1.75 per ton per mile and took about six weeks. Up to the end of 1899 the railway carried for the protectorate government 4,900 tons of stores at a cost of $195,000. If these stores had been carried by porters the cost would have been $1,470,000.

Thus the British authorities have already saved more than $1,000,000 against the cost of the railway, and this fact will be quoted to influence parliament in favor of the additional grant asked for.

The Uganda railway traverses about as difficult a country as a railway has ever pierced. In the earlier sections the ground is intersected with deep fissures which have to be bridged, and yet for nearly 200 miles the trains have to carry their own water for the coolies and for the permanent railway staff.

When this belt is crossed the mountains begin, and the line has to wind its way up to a height of 8,000 feet above the sea level. From that height there is a steep descent down into the Great Drift, 50 miles across hilly ground. On the other side there is an equally steep ascent.

Reaching a Decision.

When a case has been submitted to the supreme court, the justices are furnished with a printed copy of the record and of each brief filed, and are expected to study them at their homes before the case is taken up for consideration. The importance of the case and the intricacy of the points involved often extend the discussion over several days, and sometimes months. The discussion being concluded the chief justice calls the roll, and each justice who has heard the argument votes his opinion. Then the chief justice assigns some one, generally the justice who has taken the most interest in the subject, to prepare the opinion, which is privately printed and handed to the other members of the court for criticism. After examination they return it to the author with such comments as occur to them. The author often adopts their suggestions, or they may become the subject of another conference, and are sustained or overruled as the majority may determine. The opinion is then reprinted and read from the bench by its author on the following Monday.—Chicago Record.

He Took It.

"The scoundrelly impudence of these moneyed men is positively brutal. You know I live next door to a plutocrat. Last spring he tried to buy me out. Actually offered me more than my place was worth. Wanted to get rid of me. But I wouldn't sell. No, sir. Then what do you suppose he did? Sent over and said he'd give me ten dollars a week if I'd stop my daughter's singing lessons."

"No! What did you do?"

"I took the scoundrel's money. I didn't like the singing any better than he did."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SPORTING.

GOLF

It was expected that some one player of the Park Golf Club would have a substantial lead for the President's cup, when the competition for that trophy had progressed as far as this. Such is not the case, however. William R. Faber leads but Morgan T. Townsend has been at the head of the list for many weeks and just as likely to pop up again next week. So far, the contest is anybodies and the winning man is quite likely to appear from among those who are now bunched behind the present leaders. Faber may develop steady golf bu his showing last week did not look like it and, unless he does, the trophy will not go his way. W. J. R. Thiers is slowly crawling up but playing from scratch it is not likely that he will be able to score the number of times necessary to put him in front. Townsend has a chance and so has Serrell and Senator Charles A. Reed.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

One of the prettiest exhibitions witnessed in some time at the Gentlemen's Driving Park was that of Saturday afternoon when A. C. Vail's speedy horse, "Rover R.," trotted the first mile in 2:34½ and the second mile in 2:30 to a road wagon. Considering that this horse has not been in training for several weeks the exhibition was looked upon as quite remarkable The track was not in the best of condition, and this proved a handicap. It is believed that "Rover R." can do still better, and a lowering of that time may be looked for at no far distant day.

ON THE DIAMOND

The Arion ball team, of this city, will play the last game of the season at Garwood next Saturday. The team will not disband just yet, however, but will be formed into a football team. The new members are now being selected and as soon as the eleven is secured practice games will commence. The first regular game will probably be played about Oct. 1st.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Do you want to have a good time, and a real good time at that! Well if you do go and see "A Rabbits Foot" at Music Hall tonight, and you will see the greatest combination of colored performers that were ever seen. There has never been a colored show on the road that is as good as this and it will be many a long day before you see another like it. Pat Chappelle, the well-known southern theatrical manager, has had this play written according to his own ideas and after his many years of experience in the business he certainly has got the real thing now. Here are a few of the things that help to make the "A Rabbits Foot" the most talked of show of the season: Two fully equipped and beautifully uniformed bands got together after a great outlay of time and money, for this production solely; two carloads of specially made scenery direct from the scenic studios of the best scenic artists in the country, and lastly, but not least, sixty of the finest, best dressed and refined colored performers in the world, headed by that clever comedian, Ben Hunn, the Betters—Will and Clara—Florence Hines, the great Cowongo and others too numerous to mention. This is the real show and if you miss it you surely will regret it.

Next Friday night at Music Hall "A Trip to Chinatown," a comedy by Charles Hoyt, famous the world over as being the greatest financial and artistic success known to the American stage, will be presented in a revised and up to date form. The present production of "Chinatown" is a sort of a revival and it is said to be a most elaborate one as to scenery, stage accessories, costumes, and special care has been taken to present it with a cast superior to any ever organized. "A Trip to Chinatown" enjoys the distinction of holding the record for the longest continuous run in America, viz: 708 times at Hoyt's Theatre, New York. It has been presented in nearly every country on the face of the Globe. It holds the record for the largest gross receipts of any American attraction that has ever toured Australia, and it has made more money for its distinguished author than all his other comedies combined.

Ants, Cockroaches, Bed Bugs.

Mix, say, a 25c. box of "Rough on Rats" carefully with a pound or so of mashed boiled potatoes, or with a loaf of finely crumbled dampened bread, or two tin cups of fine powdered sugar, and place about their haunts, out of reach of children or pet animals. Even the hardier Black Cockroaches, Beetles, Wood or Water Bugs, in one or two applications will be completely annihilated. "Rough on Rats" is the only thing that will effectually and permanently annihilate Bed Bugs, and it stands unrivalled the world over for the prompt and effective extermination of Rats and Mice. 15 and 25 boxes at druggists.

UNIQUE ORNAMENTS.

Pretty Plaques That Can Be Made of Plaster of Paris and Colored Pictures.

A burst of ingenuity seems to have centered itself in a new plaster of paris plaque. It has come as a welcome way of preserving some of the exquisite colored heads and floral pictures which we yearly have sent to us on calendars. A little good taste and considerable nimbleness of fingers is all that is required, in addition to an agateware pieplate, some plaster of paris and water, a knife, a bit of tape and a curtain ring, with a pretty colored picture which has been neatly cut out from its background, and a bottle of gilt paint. These various things are then handled in the following way: At first the plate should be filled with water, which, however, is soon tossed out again, the object being simply to have a moist surface. The picture is then taken up and placed face downward in the center of the plate. As soon as it is seen that it adheres to it quite closely the plaster of paris, which has previously been mixed with water until it is smooth and of the consistency of thick cream, is poured in upon it, and in sufficient quantity to fill the plate up to the very top. Here, then, the knife is useful in smoothing it over. At this point, also, a contrivance is arranged for hanging up the plaque in the future. The piece of tape with a curtain ring on one end of it is pressed down in the plaster, where it soon hardens into permanency. As soon as it is found that the plaster is sufficiently hard, the knife can be slipped around the edges of the plate to facilitate the whole turning out well. When this is accomplished the picture will appear as though it had been painted upon the pure white surface of the paste. Should, by any means, the plaster have slipped under the picture, it can be readily wiped off while it is still fresh. The gilt paint is used to make a border about the plaque. It appears well, either as a stiff band or when it is stippled a little.

In the making of these plaques, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, much of their success depends upon the choice of the picture. By far the prettiest one that has so far been seen was a young girl's head, crowned with a wreath of flaming poppies. All else that was particularly noticeable about her were her filmy green draperies. To further offset its beauty, the plaque was hung upon a sage green background.

A SILVER BEDROOM.

Pretty Creation in White of One of Newport's Smart Set.

Recently I went to a very "smart" luncheon given by one of Newport's richest women, writes Edith Lawrence, in Ledger Monthly. Her house is a dream of beauty and good taste. Her bedroom is the loveliest thing I ever say. The whole room had the effect of white and silver. The woodwork was white, the wall paper white and silver. Her bedstead was white enamel, with bars and posts and knobs of silver. Her dressing table was white, with a beautiful old-fashioned standing oval mirror on it, in a carved silver frame. Instead of a small pincushion in the middle and trays for pins and stick pins, she had two good-sized sensible triangular pin cushions, covered with white satin embroidered in silver, and fitted into two upper corners of her dressing table; of course, her complete toilet set was silver. Then on her writing desk she had some things I had never seen before. A solid silver blotting book, a pad of blotting paper, with a silver back, as it were. Such an improvement on the pads with silver corners, which are always coming off. And she had a small silver bowl filled with sand, where her pins were stuck, to keep them from rusting. Her silver inkstand had a small tank attached, which her maid filled every day, and mucilage pot, sponge holder and paper-cutter, all in silver. In her dressing-room, off from her bedroom, we saw the loveliest toilet outfit imaginable, and so many new things. She had a silver tooth-powder bottle, which had a sliding top, and was filled from the bottom; and a most attractive silver rack, with a place for a tooth brush for every day in the week. The tooth brushes were of ivory and were numbered, with tiny silver figures. There were silver pegs over the washstand, as well, to hang sponges, etc., on, and silver stands for toilet waters. Altogether I never saw such a complete outfit. The articles were all made to order for the lady in Vienna, but probably they can be duplicated here with slight variation in form and ornament, if one can afford the luxury.

A Peach Mousse.

This velvety cream can be made a very perfect dish for either luncheon or dinner. Prepare a dozen large ripe peaches, remove the stones, reduce them to a pulp and then strain. Soak one teaspoonful of gelatine in cold water, dissolve it in a tablespoonful of hot water, and add to the peach pulp. Then set the whole on ice to become cold. Sweeten one pint of cream whipped to a stiff froth, then fold in the peach pulp and pour into a mold. Cover tightly and pack in ice for three hours.

Creole Orange Custard.

Take the juice from six large oranges and place over a slow fire, adding sugar to taste. When the sugar is dissolved, remove from the fire, and when nearly cold, add the yolks of six eggs well beaten and a pint of milk which has previously been boiled. Again place on the fire, and stir until it thickens. To serve, place in glasses and add the whites of the eggs, which have been well beaten with sugar.—Utica (N. Y.) Observer.

DEMOCRATS ENJOY A PLEASANT OUTING.

Union County Partisans Spent the Day in a Social Way on Long Island Sound.

ONE BOOM FOR CONGRESS.

FREDERICK W. PARK, OF CRANFORD, WOULD LIKE TO BE A CANDIDATE.

James E. Martine Principal Speaker—Encouraging Reports From Democrats in All Parts of the County.

Enthusiastic Democrats from nearly every town in Union county joined the annual outing of the unterrified Democracy of the city of Elizabeth yesterday and journeyed to Point View Grove on Long Island Sound, where the day was spent in a pleasant manner.

Although several of the prominent men who were expected to be present were not on hand, there was a large number of earnest local partisans gathered together who evidenced more interest and solicitude for the success of Democratic candidates this year than has been shown in several years. This condition of affairs among the rank and file of the party evidenced the fact that the National ticket this year is to receive the almost undivided support of Democrats. This state of affairs was especially evidenced in the comparison of reports of representatives from different sections, all telling the same story of Col. Bryan having won back, so far as Democratic votes are concerned, nearly all those who bolted him four years ago. The absence of several prominent men who had been invited was due to the fact that they were engaged in political work even at this early date in the campaign that was of enough importance to make it advisable not to shirk in order to attend the outing.

There a large number of Union county's leading Democrats present, however. Among them were: Acting Mayor P. J. Ryan, City Attorney James Connolly, City Clerk James Manning, Postmaster Whalen, Councilman D. F. Collins, City Excise Inspector Brennan, Councilman Ford, Judge Mann and Former Sheriff Hicks, of Elizabeth; James E. Martine, of this city; Former County Clerk J. L. Crowell and Alvord Cook, of Rahway; Freeholder Mulford Scudder and Assessor J. M. C. Marsh, of Westfield; Frederick W. Park, of Cranford, a candidate for Congressional honors at the hands of the Democrats, and Editor Lane, of Summit. Prominent among the guests from outside of the county were Former Congressman Cadmus, of Paterson, and Assemblyman Leon Abbott, of Jersey City.

The out-of-town guests met at the Clark Hotel in Elizabeth at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, where they were welcomed by Col. Collins, chairman of the Elizabeth city committee. Accompanied by a band they were escorted to the Chancellor dock at Elizabethport on board a special trolley car. There the steamer Isabel, which had been chartered for the affair, was boarded.

The sail up the New York bay to the Sound was a most enjoyable one for those on board. Point View Grove was reached at 1 o'clock. On arriving there dinner was served at once. After the dinner had been finished, Col. Collins, acting as master of ceremonies, called the guests to order for the speech-making that was to follow. Assemblyman Abbott was first called upon. His address was very short, but he predicted that if the Democrats of Union county, as well as other sections of the State, would work as vigorously as the Hudson county Democrats would for the ticket, New Jersey could be carried for the Democracts this year.

"Farmer Orator" Martine was then called upon. In the meantime, however, a party of Democrats from West Hoboken had arrived, and just as Mr. Martine got nicely started in his remarks the Hoboken contingent filed into another section of the pavilion. The confusion and noise interrupted Mr. Martine's speech for several minutes, but later he resumed his talk, although he continued under disadvantages—the pavilion being exceedingly warm and the other party of Democrats making considerable noise while disposing of their dinner. The "Farmer Orator" discussed imperialism and arraigned the Republican administration in scathing terms for its position on the matter. He also devoted considerable time to the financial issue, and closed by predicting the election of Bryan and Stevenson.

Several others were scheduled to

IMPROVED SEWAGE PLAN

CITY OFFICIALS VISITED WORKS AT REVERE, MASS.

The Plant Demonstrated the Value of Clearing the Sewage of Sludge.

The sewage disposal plant at Revere Mass., was visited yesterday by Mayor Rockfellow, Street Commissioner Gavett and Councilmen Tolles, Craig and Buckle.

The plant is a small one, constructed to demonstrate the value of clearing the sewage of sludge before allowing it to run upon the specially constructed sand filter beds. Similar beds are required for drying the sludge, and a plain building covers the whole.

The removal of the matter in suspension is accomplished by the use of a settling tank with four compartments, and the gradual improvement of the sewage, as it passes from one to the other is apparent, after filtering through the sand bed the effluent is thoroughly purified. The works appeared to be entirely satisfactory in operation.

WEDDED IN ST. MARY'S.

Nuptials of Katherine Agnes Callaham and Thomas J. Maher Celebrated Yesterday.

In the presence of about fifty of their most intimate friends and relatives Miss Katherine Agnes Callaham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Callahan, and Thomas J. Maher were united in marriage in St. Mary's church at noon yesterday. The bridemaid was Miss Mamie Curren and the best man was John Maher, of Trenton, a brother of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Smyth. The bride looked very charming in a dress of blue India silk and she carried a bouquet of roses. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple went to the home of the bride's parents on East Third street, where a short reception was held in their honor. They left yesterday for Atlantic Highlands, where after a stay of two weeks they will return and and take up their residence on Arlington avenue.

IN THE TOILS.

Romano, Alias Firengo, the Money Order Forger, Landed in Jail.

Giovana Roman, alias Vincenzo Firengo when operating in Westfield, has been landed in Ludlow street jail, New York, for forging post office money orders. He was neatly trapped by means of a decoy letter asking him to call for a money order at the Westfield post office about three months ago, which he did in response to the letter, but induced a poor Italian writing teacher to represent himself as one Firengo, the name used on the decoy money order, and accompanied his dupe to the Westfield post office. When the poor dupe asked for the money he was grabbed by a detective in waiting. Romano, on the pretence of getting an interpreter, made his escape, while his victim was taken to Jersey City and locked up. Afterward the detectives learned of his escape and were much chagrined.

WILL MAKE CITIZENS.

County Clerk Howard Will Give Applicants a Chance to Appear Nights.

County Clerk Howard will be at the Courthouse at Elizabeth Friday evening to receive applicants for citizenship papers. The applications will be received in the courtroom which will give ample accommodation for the expected large gathering of applicants and their witnesses. The other night dates are announced for September 7th and 14th. Judge Vail will hold a special sitting of court to grant naturalization certificates the evening of September 5th.

Plans for Enlarging the White House

The October Ladies' Home Journal will publish plans for the proposed enlargement of the White House, at Washington, and Colonel Theodore A. Bingham, U. S. A., custodian of the executive mansion, will urge their adoption in an article pointing out the great need therefor. Our Chief Executives have been poorly-housed for a long time, but the obstacle that has stood in the way of enlarging the White House has been the fear of destroying the fine proportions and symmetry of the building. This has now been overcome by a skilled architect, whose solution of the problem will be given in the October Journal.

Funeral of Mrs. Hoagland.

Miss Addie Weaver, of West Front street, has gone to Elizabeth, where she will attend the funeral services of Mrs. Addie Hoagland, which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Hoagland was well known in Plainfield. Her husband, Theodore Hoagland, was buried last Tuesday.

IT IS DOLLIVER'S BROTHER.

The Senator is Not the One Who is to Deliver a Republican Speech in This City.

Local Republicans are greatly disappointed over the fact that it is not Senator John P. Dolliver, of Iowa, who is booked to speak here at the mass-meeting in September, but his brother, Victor B. Dolliver. At the meeting of the county committee, it was simply announced that Dolliver would deliver two speeches in Jersey next month and most of the members of the committee took it for granted that it was Senator Dolliver who was to come. Now they have discovered their mistake.

Victor B. Dolliver addressed a mass meeting in this city in 1892, and made an excellent speech. He is considered a good speaker but does not equal brother, the Senator. He also lack the national reputation of the other.

Some of the Republicans of Plainfield are sorry now that they made such a strong effort to secure a date while Mr. Dolliver was in the east. They did so under the supposition that it was the Senator they were getting. Now they believe that in the allotment of the speakers through this State, Plainfield is entitled to some speaker of national reputation.

GOOD FISHING REPORTED.

Anglers on the Jersey Coast Having Rare Sport.

Anglers who have visited the New Jersey coast this week have found sport in plenty with almost any kind of the gamy denizens of the deep, and some great catches of weakfish, bluefish, porgies, flounders and sea bass have been made. At Barnegat Bay weakfish have been taking the bait freely, and trolling for bluefish off shore has caught the fancy of many of the fishermen. Chumming parties have also been enjoying rare sport.

Along the southern coast fish are being caught by the boatload, the banks off Anglesea and Cape May waters being favorite spots with many of the one-day visitors. A number of drumfish have been caught during the past few days.

Fresh water fishing has taken a decided brace since the advent of cooler weather, and the pike ponds in South Jersey have had more visitors during the past week than for a month back. Bass are still shy of the bait, and but very few are being caught. In the creeks perch are running in large schools, big strings having been caught in the vicinity of Salem, Pennsgrove, Bridgeport and Swedesboro. Down in the Cohansey some nice rockfish have been boated.

Getting Ready to Reopen.

The Park Avenue Hotel is gradually being prepared for the opening, Saturday, Sept. 15th. The house has been passing through a season of general renovation and when opened it will be replete in every particular. New furnishings have taken the place of the old where needed, and everything is in perfect sanitary condition. Bath rooms have been installed, and in fact everything necessary has been done to provide for the convenience and comfort of guests. Manager John D. Bailey will be in charge and will give his personal attention to all matters pertaining to the successful mangement of a first-class house.

A Monster Piece of Machinery.

A. E. Hoagland, the expressman, is having troubles of his own in placing the large face plate, belonging to the new safe factory, in the Pond Tool Works. The immense piece of iron, which is fourteen feet in diameter, is at present outside of the gate on South Second street, and is being raised by the aid of horses and pulleys on a drag. The strain on one of the pulleys was so great yesterday that the top of a telephone pole, to which it was fastened, was pulled off. It will probably be gotten into the shop sometime today.

Broke His Collar Bone.

Harold Vanderhoof, son of Frank Vanderhoof, of West Front street, was playing with the little son of E. E. Anthony, when young Vanderhoof fell on the sidewalk and broke his collar bone. At first it was supposed that the lad's injuries were not serious. Yesterday he complained that his his shoulder hurt him and he was taken to Dr. Adams who found the broken bone.

A Long Stage Ride.

Two stages, belonging to Wm. Hand & Son, left here this morning at 1 o'clock for Paterson, a distance of 30 miles. The stages took the members of "The Rabbit's Foot" company, which appeared at Music Hall last evening, over to Paterson, where they play this evening. The baggage was also taken.

PENNSYLVANIA MAY LEAVE OUT BRUNSWICK

Survey Made for Pennsylvania Railroad Which Would Leave N. B. on a Branch Line.

IT IS BEING CONSIDERED.

RESULT OF FIGHT BETWEEN CITY AND RAILROAD OVER ELEVATED TRACKS.

If Proposed Plan, which is Now Under Advisement, is Carried Out, The Railroad Would Be Straightened and Shortened By a Mile.

(Special to the Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, August 29—Engineers in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad have been quietly making a survey for a new right-of-way from Dean Station, eight miles south of this city, to Metuchen, five miles north, which will pass to the east of New Brunswick. The officials of the Pennsylvania now have under advisement a plan to change the main line from Dean Station northward, leaving New Brunswick out in the cold and straightening and shortening the line by a mile. The plan is a direct result of the trouble between the city authorities and the railroad over the question of elevating the tracks.

No definite move has yet been made and the railroad officials refuse utterly to talk on the subject but it is a known fact that the survey has been made and the railroad company must be seriously considering the move to go as far as that.

The plan is simply to do away with several curves and shorten the line slightly, by a mile perhaps. The main line of the Pennsylvania would then pass to the east of New Brunswick and run out on the bluff which marks the edge of the Raritan valley and be bridged over to the heights on the other side. The proposed route would be an improvement as for grades and curves over the present one.

New Brunswick would not, of course, be without a railroad. The Millstone branch, which now joins the main line at New Brunswick, would simply be run over the present tracks to Metuchen and that place would mark the junction with the main line. New Brunswick would see its train service greatly cut down, however, and passengers would have to go to Metuchen or over to a new station to the east of Brunswick to catch a train for the west or south.

The troubles between the railroad officials and the city authorities have long been discussed. Neither side is willing to conform with the plans of the other on the subject of elevating the tracks. The city wants the railroad company to bear all the expense and the railroad officials fail to see it in that light.

Rumors of the proposed change have been current in New Brunswick for some time, but many citizens were inclined to discredit them as merely circulated by the railroad company in an attempt to bluff the city into giving better terms. It has been learned from good authority, however, that such a change is really being contemplated and that a complete survey of the line was made to see just exactly where the proposed line would run and how the ground was adapted for the purpose.

SAID TO BE NEARLY 102 YEARS.

Death of a Man Who Smoked and Drank in Moderation for Eighty Years.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Aug. 29.—Michael Higgins, 101 years and 8 months old, died Monday night at his home, 143 Court street. He was born in Ireland and lived in this city fifty-five years. In 1871 he was appointed Deputy Health Inspector. Later he was employed as a messenger in the Central Railroad office and worked up to Friday last. He was overcome by the heat and never recovered. For eighty years he used tobacco and liquor in moderation.

Mad Dog Caused Consternation.

A mad dog, owner unknown, made his appearance on Codington avenue yesterday afternoon and consternation reigned supreme for a short time. The animal frothed at the mouth and acted violently. Up and down the avenue he ran and all the residents who happened to be out at the time were driven indoors. The dog finally ran up on John Renneman's porch at 33 Codington avenue, where he was shot by Mr. Linbarger, who happened to be in the vicinity and who was prepared for the canine.

NEW RAILS NEEDED.

Present Ones on the Trolley Road are Much Worn and Altogether too Light.

For some time past Patsy Christmas and his gang of men have been repairing the trolley tracks along West Front street, and naturally the street cannot be left in a very good condition. The tracks are practically worn out and from constant use for several years they are out of shape. It is understood that the trolley company is considering a plan to replace the present rails by new and heavier ones. The rails now used are far too light in weight for good service, and the company should have used a heavy one in the first place. If the company should decide to lay a heavier rail and again tear up the street, the city should see that the company pay its share for making Front street what it should be. It would be an excellent time for the city to demand concessions that should be enjoyed by the residents of the city.

Patsy Christmas, under the circumstances, is doing as good a job, and is leaving the street in as good condition as it is possible considering the many disadvantages that confronts him.

RE-ELECTED ALL THE OFFICERS.

First Encampment of the Spanish-American War Veterans a Success.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, Aug. 29.—All of the old officers of the New Jersey Department of the Spanish-American War Veterans' Association were re-elected at the annual encampment of the organization in the Ribsam Building, this city. Captain William E. Pedrick, of this city, presided. Captain Pedrick, who was appointed department commander at the formation of the association less than a year ago, was elected to succeed himself, despite his expressed desire not to be considered for a second term.

The following were the other officers re-elected: Senior vice-department commander, Jacob M. Coward, Trenton; junior vice-department commander, Henry Allers, Harrison; assistant adjutant-general, Harry C. Valentine, Trenton; assistant quartermaster-general, Francis D. Jackson, Hoboken; assistant inspector-general, J. A. Mather, Camden; assistant surgeon-general, Dr. John J. Broderick, Jersey City; chaplain, Rev. Otis A. Glazebrook, Elizabeth; judge advocate, C. Albert Gasser, Newark; aides-de-camp, U. G. Lee, Camden; John W. Stevens, Trenton; William Drake, Trenton.

MUST NOT BOTHER MILLER.

Mayor Rockfellow Warns Young Girls to Leave a Neighbor Alone.

The troubles between Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Miller and their neighbors were aired in court this morning. The particular ones in this case were Anna Ammon and Julia and Eva Killoren. They live in the same house on Elm place with the Millers. Some time ago Miller says that the young women threw apples and hard names at him.

The case was tried before Mayor Rockfellow this morning. The evidence was decidedly contradictory. William G. DeMeza represented the prisoners while William Newcorn appeared for the Millers. The latter said that there was no desire on the part of the complainant to have the young women punished. He merely wanted a cessation of hostilities. The Mayor finally dismissed the case but warned the young women to leave the Miller family utterly alone in the future.

ROBBED MOODY'S BODY.

Thieves Took His Money, Papers and Watch, His Widow Says.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, August 29—Mrs. Jordan Moody, wife of the contractor who was killed by a Pennsylvania Railroad train Monday while overseeing the laying of a sewer under the tracks, said yesterday that her husband's body had been robbed after he was killed. A pocketbook was found near the body empty. Nothing whatever was found on Moody's body. His widow says that in the pocketbook found there should have been about $40 in bills and several papers concerning the contractor's work. These, as well as another pocketbook and the dead man's watch, are missing and no clue to the thief has been found.

Horse Taken Sick.

A horse, attached to one of William Hand & Son's vans, was overcome by illness yesterday morning while on the way to Hoboken with a load of furniture. The horse was taken to a Cranford stable and another horse was sent on from Plainfield. Dr. Pocock is in charge of the horse and hopes to save its life.

GALA DAY AT THE PARK.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR HOLDING THEIR ANNUAL FIELD DAY.

Twenty-five Members of Trinity Commandery Left This Morning to Participate in the Affair.

Today will be a gala day at Asbury Park. The Knights Templar of New Jersey will hold their annual field day there today and commanderies from all over the State will gather for the occasion. There will be the parade, the review and a banquet afterward. Plainfield will be represented, of course. There is rarely anything happening in Knights Templar circles in this State, in which Trinity Commandery does not figure.

A delegation of twenty-five from Trinity Commandery, No. 17, 17, K.T., accompanied by LaVere's Band, went to Asbury Park this morning on the excursion conducted by the Sunday-school of Warren chapel. Besides the fact that the Knights Templar were to have a big time, it was the last chance for a day at the shore, and many took advantage of it.

An excursion train of thirteen cars left Plainfield at 8:12 bound for Asbury Park. The last two cars were principally devoted to the Knights and their friends. The excursionists from Warren chapel occupied the rest of the cars and comfortably filled them. There were about seven hundred people in all. Walter Durling, the popular Somerville conductor, was in charge of the train.

One young woman boarded the 7:55 New York express by mistake. The train was just starting when she rushed out and jumped aboard. Then she discovered her mistake and jumped off again while the train was rapidly getting under headway.

Lightning Causes Destruction of Farm Property Near Peapack.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Peapack, August 29—This section was visited by a severe electrical storm late Monday afternoon. During its progress about 5:30 o'clock the barn of Fordham Crater, one and one half miles southwest of this village, was struck by a bolt of lightning and burned to the ground with its entire contents. The barn was filled with grain. Four valuable horses were also burned before they could be taken out of the building. The fire spread rapidly, burning to the ground two other large barns filled with hay and grain and five barracks filled with hay. The loss is estimated at about $8,000; insured for about $4,000.

Want the Bricks.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, August 29.—The ruins of the old Terhune glue factory are being torn down by some parties from out of town who have purchased the wrecked walls for the sake of the brick. This old structure has long been admired because of its appearance of an ancient castle, overgrown with ivy and moss. Twenty-five years ago there was a fire and explosion in the place at which time six men were killed and others seriously injured. Since then the place has been deserted. The building was erected in 1814.

Looking for GaNun.

The police of the city are looking for Charles GaNun, of Steiner place, who, it is alleged, is the young man who struck Abraham Wolf, the Somerset street tailor, with a rock on Watchung avenue Sunday night. GaNun has left town and his whereabouts are unknown even to his relatives. The young man who was employed by Victor Christofferson, the Watchung avenue bicycle dealer, took with him a wheel belonging to the latter which he had borrowed to ride over Sunday.

His Money is Gone.

Francis J. Blatz, the junior member of the law firm of Murphy & Blatz, went to New York yesterday on business. He expected to make some money but he managed during the afternoon to lose $39 in bills. The bills were in a pocketbook in his hip pocket. Either the pocketbook fel out of its own accord or else some pickpocket assisted it in the operation. At any rate the money is gone and Mr. Blatz is left to mourn the loss thereof.

STILL LOOKING FOR WHYCOFF'S SLAYER.

Dick Fleming Arrested Yesterday by Detective Totten and Held as a Witness.

HE WAS WITH WHYCOFF.

CORONER'S JURY DECIDED THAT WHYCOFF WAS MURDERED.

Autopsy Showed That Death Had Been Caused by Blow From Some Heavy Blunt Instrument—Contradictory Testimony.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bernardsville, August 29.—The identity of the man who struck the fatal blow which ended the life of Simeon Whycoff, still remains a mystery. Dick Fleming, who is said to have been with Whycoff Saturday afternoon, has been apprehended and taken to the Somerville jail. It is expected that he may be able to throw some light on the circumstances connected with Whycoff's death. Detective Totten arrested Fleming yesterday and took him to Somerville. He is held as a witness.

A coroner's jury Monday evening brought in a verdict that Whycoff, whose body was found in the woods near Bernardsville Sunday, was murdered by a person or persons unknown.

The inquest was held at the Washington House parlors here. Judge Reger, assistant prosecutor, conducted the examination.

Thomas Garrity, who was one of the young men who found the dead body, was first called. He related how, on Sunday afternoon, he had been to visit his mother, who lives beyond the Fleming house. Upon his return to Bernardsville he was accompanied by a lad named Robert Fleming, brother of Dick Fleming, who was seen last with Whycoff Saturday noon in the neighborhood where the body was afterward found. Garrity swore that he was returning Sunday at 3:30 p. m., by a near cut across the fields, his usual way. As he neared the place where the body was found the paths forked, one leading straight and the other to the left.

The latter was Garrity's usual way back. Fleming, however, insisted upon their return by the unused path, keeping well in the rear of Garrity. As they approached the body, before it was possible to recognize it, Garrity exclaimed: "There's a man lying over there!"

Fleming replied promptly:

"Why, here lies Sim (meaning Whycoff) yet."

Robert Fleming, who also testified, denied having said this.

John Edwards, who, it was reported, was last seen with Whycoff, swore that he had not seen Whycoff for a week.

Alonzo Low was also called and gave some unimportant testimony.

County Physician Van Wagoner, assisted by Dr. Hecht, of Somerville, made an autopsy and at the inquest testified that death resulted from a fracture at the base of the skull near the left eye, the blow having been given by some heavy blunt instrument, presumably by an empty whiskey bottle, which was the only available instrument found near the body.

The jurymen, who were R. A. Mitchell, Curtis Dunster, James Bird, John Martin, Oliver Bonnell and Sanford Tunison, remained out for about thirty minutes and brought in the verdict that death resulted from a blow administered by a person or persons unknown.

Dick Fleming, who was the last person seen in company with Whycoff was subpoenaed to appear at the inquest, but on his failure to appear, Constable David R Moffet was sent for him, but no trace of Fleming could be found until yesterday.

The remains of Whycoff, on account of the badly decomposed state, were after the autopsy immediately interred in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery at Basking Ridge. A short funeral service was held at the grave. The dead man's parents, both aged, live at Basking Ridge. His father is nearly blind and very feeble.

The case is in the hands of the prosecutor and detectives are at work.

THE WANDERING ALBATROSS.

Is Certainly One of the Wonders of Nature—Conveys a Sense of Perfect Rest.

The great wandering albatross first attracted attention as it beat imperceptibly against the wind from the distant horizon, traveling in great circles toward the ship that it always had in view. Who can gauge the sight of an albatross? The eyes can be focussed at will to penetrate incredible ranges, and a fragment of food cast upon the waters will rapidly allure it from distances far beyond the powers of human sight.

To see the enormous bird thus circle round the ship, with wings fully expanded, though well nigh motionless, is certainly one of the wonders of nature, says The Cornhill. The only muscular action visible is a slight tremor at the extreme points of the wings, a vibration so rapid that it cannot be detected without the most careful observation. There is no suggestion of force employed in the flight, but simply that movement which sailors understand by the word cant—a tilting of the body out of the plane—which serves to give both power and direction in space. In very calm weather there is a heavy flapping of the wings; in ratio, however, as the force of the wind increases, so muscular action disappears, until a gale finds the albatross poised above the ship in midair with an easy grace which is inexplicable. Lying upon my back on the wheelbox, I have with glasses riveted the eyes of such a bird as it hovered steadily above the mast of the ship. The green irides showed that curious expansion and contraction which is the special character of bird sight. Except for a faint tremor, the wings moved not from the horizontal position; the feet were tucked away beneath the tail, and an expression of gentle confidence gave the impression of a friendly, sociable nature. Dim ideas of Coleridge and "The Ancient Mariner" floated through my mind as I gazed in silence; there was an easy shot, and the rifle was close at hand, but the murderous act was not committed. The same albatross accompanied us for days; however the wind might rage or the ship toss at the mercy of the waves, it remained in close attendance, conveying a sense of perfect rest, though hardly, if ever, still. In this lies the great secret of its attraction, and the evolutions in space are followed by the traveler with an interest that never dies.

A SWIFT BATTLESHIP.

Alabama Averages 17 Knots on Her First Trial.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—There is a new queen of the American navy, the United States battleship Alabama, which yesterday won the title in one of the most magnificent speed trials yet held in the history of our navy. Her average speed for four hours' continuous steaming was 17 knots, a figure not quite as high as that made by another great battleship produced from the same builders' yard three years ago, the Iowa, but notable from the fact that it gave an idea of the yet undeveloped power in this latest and greatest product of American shipbuilders.

The Alabama was built by the Cramps at Philadelphia, and while of the first class she is unlike any of the earlier creations, both architecturally and as a fighting machine. Built under a contract that required at least an average speed of 16 knots per hour, she has been turned out to do 17 knots or better under conditions that will not be termed extra, and as such she becomes probably the fastest of our line of battle craft. The Alabama, called after a favorite state of the south, has a name of greater significance to the American people, but it was not simply because of her name and the figure of 17 knots she made that a big broom was at her foremast truck as she dropped anchor below Boston light.

A few months ago another ship of her class, but unlike her in very many respects, built by a rival shipbuilding firm at Newport News, was sent over the same course to meet the same requirements and under almost identical conditions. The other ship, the Kearsarge, with a name even more famous and linked insolubly with that of the Alabama, exceeded her contract figure and made an average speed of 16.89 knots. If one Kearsarge on a day famous in history had a triumph over ohe Alabama, a new craft of the same name yesterday achieved a triumph over another Kearsarge. Aside from the desire of the builders of the Alabama to produce a craft that would suit the government, there was not a little anxiety that she beat the Kearsarge's figures made on Nov. 25 last. The 17 knot record yesterday is not the highest for speed trials, but it is the highest for battleships since the bonus for extra speed has been abolished.

CRUELTY AND NEGLECT.

Captain Crenshaw's Sufferings on the Transport Sherman.

ATLANTA, Aug. 29.—Captain Frank Crenshaw, Twenty-ninth volunteer infantry, died here yesterday. Captain Crenshaw saw service in Cuba and the Philippines, and a wound received in the battle of Puttol eventually caused his death. Captain Crenshaw, who arrived in Atlanta a week ago, made a statement to his father in which he charged outrageous treatment and neglect on board the transport Sherman from Manila to San Francisco. The statement was to the effect that after the vessel left Manila and was on the high seas officers in the staterooms next to Captain Crenshaw's complained that he kept them awake by the sufferings from his wound. He was taken from the stateroom and, paralyzed in the left side and unable to lift his head and almost unconscious, was placed in a berth down in the hold of the ship near the engines in the midst of the insane men who were confined there.

Captain Crenshaw said he was unable to hold himself in the berth and fell out three times while the ship was riding out storms in the China seas. He finally bribed a hospital steward with $25 to give him some attention. At San Francisco Captain Crenshaw alleges that treatment was refused him, the surgeon in charge informing him that it was impossible because of limited assistance in the hospital. The wounded officer, accompanied by his uncle, then started for Atlanta, and an operation was performed here.

The body of Captain Crenshaw will lie in state at the capitol until noon today, when it will be taken to La Grange, Ga., for interment.

NEW YORK PRIMARIES.

Tammany Likely to Control State Convention.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—David B. Hill and Comptroller Bird S. Coler seem to have gone down before the impetuous attack of the Croker-Murphy forces in the Democratic primaries held in the principal cities of the state yesterday.

Indications last night pointed to the control of the state convention by Mr Croker and Mr. Murphy, the defeat of Mr. Coler's candidacy for governor and the nomination of a state ticket in sympathy with Tammany Hall.

Greater New York will be solidly against Hill and Coler. In Brooklyn where the comptroller expected to divide the delegation, his friends were put to rout, and the organization as represented by James Shevlin is in complete control of the situation.

John C. Sheehan was defeated for the second time after a bitter contest by a narrow margin.

In the interior of the state the Hill forces scored some unexpected victories but not enough to redeem the day.

Abraham Gruber, who has declared war on Senator Platt in the Twenty-first assembly district of this borough won a sweeping victory.

William F. Sheehan, who went to Buffalo to overthrow Norman E. Mack, Mr Croker's member of the national committee, and to restore Erie county to the Hill column, carried only one of the 23 wards of the city. His repulse was more complete than even the Croker-Murphy faction had expected.

BERGENDAL TAKEN.

Strong Boer Position Captured by General Buller.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Our movements have been necessarily slow on account of the great extent and difficult nature of the country over which we are operating, but we have made a satisfactory advance and met with decided success.

"The work fell entirely upon Buller's command and resulted in the capture of Bergendal, a very strong position two miles northeast of the Dalmanutha railway station.

"I met Buller at Bergendal shortly after our forces arrived there and was glad to find that the occupation cost less than had been feared on account of the approach to the Boers' position being across an open glacis for 2,000 or 3,000 yards and because of the determined stand of the enemy.

"General French advanced to Swartz kopjes, on the Lydenburg road, and prepared the way for the movement of Pole-Carew's division.

"General Rundle reports that he made a reconnoissance in the Brandwater basin on Aug. 26 and suffered some casualties. One Boer was killed and 17 were captured. He also secured 700 head of cattle.

"General Baden-Powell reports that he occupied Nylstroom unopposed, his troops and those of General Paget afterward returning to Pretoria."

Cotton States Agriculturists.

RALEIGH, Aug. 29.—The commissioners of agriculture of the cotton states are in session here. Governor Russell welcomed the visitors on behalf of the state. He said it was always a pleasure to him to welcome any one to the state, and he especially welcomed any people or association which had for its object the betterment of the farmers, who were the basis of prosperity. Years ago, he said, the farmers believed that cotton was king and endeavored to subject the world to the idea by the raw material, but they have learned that for cotton to be king they must manufacture it in the section in which it is grown, as they were now doing. Instead of selling it at 6 cents as then, they are now sending it out as a manufactured product worth 20 cents a pound.

Locomotive Works to Close Down.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 29.—It is announced that the Rogers Locomotive works will permanently close its doors as a locomotive works and also probably as an ironworks on Dec. 1 next. Fifteen hundred skilled hands will be thrown out of employment. The works were started in 1800 by John Clark of Paisley, Scotland, and Thomas Rogers became a member of the firm in 1810. The Rogers family has since that date been the principal owners of the plant. The principal owner now is Jacob Rogers. He said that, although the works are running at their full capacity and business is good, the plant is hampered by lack of modern machinery and improvements, and he, being advanced in years, does not care to invest money to bring them up to modern standards.

Ex-Presidents as Arbitrators.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Ex-Presidents Harrison and Cleveland have been asked by President McKinley to serve as members of the international board of arbitration authorized by the treaty of The Hague. Each of the nations which are parties to the treaty is entitled to four members of the board for the settlement of international differences, and the names of the other two members forming the quota of the United States will be announced when replies are received from the ex-presidents. So far as is known here the United States is the first of the great powers to demonstrate good faith in carrying out the provisions of The Hague treaty by the appointment of arbitrators.

Steamer's Narrow Escape.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Aug. 29.—Dr. Grenfell, superintendent of the Deep Sea Mission of Labrador Fishermen, who has just arrived here, reports that a large four masted transatlantic passenger steamer narrowly escaped becoming a total wreck in a fog in the strait of Belle Isle, within a few miles of the point where the British steamer Scotsman was wrecked Sept. 23 last. Northern Labrador is now free of ice, and the fishery shows a decided improvement.

In Death Not Divided.

OSWEGO, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Peter Leroy and Felicite, his wife, aged 86 and 82 years respectively, died at their home in this city within two hours of each other. Yesterday afternoon at St. Louis church the double funeral was attended by an immense throng. They were born in Canada.

Killed by a Stone Crusher.

ROCHESTER, Aug. 29.—Robert W. Matteson, a prominent resident of Caledonia, was instantly killed by a stone crusher near that place. Mr. Matteson was in charge of a gang of men who were loading cars with stone to be hauled to the crusher.

VETERANS IN PARADE

Thirty Thousand Grand Army Men In Line.

CHICAGO IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE

Lieutenant General Miles, Commander Shaw and General Wheeler on the Reviewing Stand—Many Pathetic and Stirring Incidents.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—For four hours and a half yesterday the thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic passed in review before their leaders and before probably 1,000,000 spectators packed in almost solid masses along the four miles of the line of parade. It marked the climax of the thirty-fourth annual encampment of the association of veterans who filled the pages of history with deeds of heroism during the weary years of the civil war and was, according to Commander In Chief Shaw, the greatest parade since that day in Washington, when the hundreds of thousands of veterans, the most powerful army on earth, marched in review to their final disbandment.

Probably 30,000 members of the army of veterans took part in the parade. For exactly four hours and 20 minutes, most of the time with ranks almost perfectly aligned, but occasionally faltering under their burden of years, they filed past the reviewing stand on Michigan avenue.

Weather conditions were almost ideal for the parade, wearisome enough at best for the silver haired veterans. The rays of the sun were veiled by light fleecy clouds nearly all day, and even when unobscured their effect was greatly tempered by a cool breeze which blew steadily off Lake Michigan. The line of march, too, was much shorter than ever before mapped out for the annual parade, its entire length not being over four miles, but notwithstanding this here and there a veteran, dazed and exhausted, dropped out of the ranks. Especially was this true after the reviewing stand was passed, and many pathetic scenes were witnessed down the long stretch of Michigan avenue as the veterans fell by the wayside.

One especially sad incident occurred to mar in a degree the glory of the parade,

COMMANDER SHAW.

Charles Beckwith of Algonsea, Mich., dropping dead as the line was filing past the corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street. The parade was halted for a moment, the body of the veteran who had responded to his last call was tenderly removed, and his comrades passed on.

It was shortly before 10:30 a. m. when the head of the column started from the corner of Michigan avenue and Randolph street, and an hour later it was filing past the reviewing stand. For hours before that time the sidewalks along the line of march were packed from curb to wall, the windows of the immense office buildings, gay with fluttering flags and bunting, were filled with sightseers, while along Michigan avenue, where were erected the beautiful columns and arches forming the court of honor, the crowd was so great that the hundreds of police had great difficulty in keeping clear the line of march. And all during the hours that the veterans tramped by this sea of humanity roared its welcome.

In the grand stand, erected down the slope of the lake front park near the Logan monument, were gathered scores of officers who won their fame in the civil war, statesmen and diplomats. In the center box of the reviewing stand were Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, representing President McKinley; Commander In Chief Shaw, General Joseph E. Wheeler, General Daniel E. Sickles, Mayor Harrison of Chicago and W. H. Harper. To their left were Acting Governor Warder, Speaker David Henderson of the house of representatives, Bishop Fallows and Senator Shelby M. Cullom, and to their right the Spanish minister, Duke d'Arcos, with a party of friends, stood an interested spectator. Warm greetings were accorded General Miles and the Duke d'Arcos as they entered the reviewing stand.

Shortly after passing the reviewing stand the line of march disbanded, and most of the veterans, tired with the hours of march, sought their hotels and lodging places.

Commander In Chief Shaw remained standing until the last veteran had filed by.

The evening was given up entirely to affairs of a social character, the chief event being an informal reception to Commander In Chief Shaw, department commanders and distinguished guests at Memorial hall. It was largely attended, thousands of the old soldiers coming to greet the high officials of their organization. In 26 different places in the down town district reunions of states were held. This feature, the holding of reunions by states, had never been attempted before at the national encampments, and the first trial of the experiment proved a great success. The ladies of the Woman's Relief corps and the ladies of the G. A. R. also held receptions during the evening.

The annual business meeting of the Grand Army of the Republic opened this morning in the Studebaker theater at 10 o'clock.

Telegrams From China Bear Evidence of Interference.

DATELESS AND OF LITTLE VALUE.

Government Takes Steps to Remedy Evil—Powers Slow to Declare Intentions—Difference of Opinion Regarding Li's Credentials.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Several communications came to Washington from the United States officials in China yesterday, but being dateless in most cases the government was by no means satisfied with the state of communications, and the cabinet meeting gave the larger part of its attention to the problem of rectifying this state of affairs. Evidences of interference with the messages have accumulated to a point where the government has determined to take steps to establish channels of its own, even if it is necessary to employ the rather expensive device of a man-of-war plying between Shanghai and Chefu for this purpose. Meanwhile word comes that rapid progress is making with the shore cable, which is to connect these points, and it is believed that within a week this means of communication will be open.

Three messages from General Chaffee were received, and while they cast no direct light on the military situation they were inferentially important. The general's statement that he needs no siege battery, taken in connection with the diversion of the First cavalry, which was bound for Taku, to Manila, seems to make clear that there is no intention to enter into a prolonged campaign in China such as would involve the use of heavy artillery or of re-enforcements in the shape of men and horses. At the same time it cannot be said that the government has shown any sign of a purpose to abandon any just claim it may have secured upon China through the brilliant operations of the little American force in the Flowery Kingdom. But it begins to appear that the battle of today is one of diplomacy rather than one of arms, and notwithstanding the various rumors that have filtered out from Chinese sources of heavy engagements between the international forces and the Boxers the officials here are satisfied that no formidably organized resistance will be offered by the Chinese if the demands of the powers are limited to the principles laid down by the United States in its several notes.

After the cabinet meeting it was announced that the government was in a waiting attitude regarding the Chinese situation. The lack of late advices from Peking and the failure of the powers to show their hands as to their future policy makes it necessary for this government to await developments. The administration considers it of the greatest importance that in the negotiations for a settlement of the Chinese difficulty all the powers should act in unison and harmony, and its efforts are being directed to that end. The powers, however, seem slow to declare themselves. Several replies have been received to the instructions sent to our embassadors and ministers last week asking them to sound the governments to which they are accredited on two propositions—first, the willingness of these governments to accept the sufficiency of Li Hung Chang's credentials to treat with the powers for a settlement, and second, to ascertain if possible what the future policy of each power is to be.

Regarding the latter inquiry, the replies thus far have developed nothing. The powers appear to be watching each other without definite or fixed purpose as yet of their own. With regard to the first inquiry, Great Britain and Russia are agreed that Earl Li's credentials are sufficient. Germany, however, takes a firm stand against the sufficiency of his credentials and is the only power as yet which has returned a flat footed dissension. The attitude of the United States is that his credentials appear authentic. They were promulgated by what appeared to be a genuine imperial edict, duly transmitted through the accredited Chinese minister, Mr. Wu, and the United States is willing to accept them at their face value, at least for the present.

The administration, from the advices it has received, does not credit the rumors that Russia, Japan and Germany intend to declare war against China, and it is willing to accept all disclaimers of ulterior purposes on the part of the powers. Just what would be done in case some of the powers began war for the purpose of territorial aggrandizement is not known, and the administration is not disposed to cross that bridge until it reaches it. But a member of the cabinet stated that if any of the European powers entered upon such a programme it probably would be reminded by the United States that it had agreed to the "open door" policy, by which all the powers are to be placed upon an equal footing, and that if territory were acquired under the agreement we would be entitled to the same privileges in the matter of trade, etc., as the conqueror.

The administration has nothing tending to confirm the alarmist rumors regarding the situation at Peking. Admiral Remey reports nothing disquieting, and it is assumed that if there was any prospect of the allies being attacked and hemmed in he would be in a position to hear of it and would promptly report it to Washington.

The cabinet meeting lasted two hours and 20 minutes, the absentees being Secretaries Hay, Long and Wilson and Attorney General Griggs.

Talk of Wage Reduction.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 29.—The price for weaving a cut of 45 yards of regular 28 inch 64 by 64's, which is taken as the basis of wages, was advanced from 18 cents to 19.8 cents last year. It is now proposed to recommend a return to the 18 cent basis. There is also under consideration a plan to continue the curtailment of production. The present curtailment agreement expires Sept. 17 next, and it has been suggested that a reduction in wages and a further curtailment go into effect on that date.

New Peruvian Cabinet.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 29.—The new Peruvian cabinet as officially gazetted is made up as follows: President of the council of ministers and minister of foreign affairs, Senor Ribeyro; minister of the interior, Senor Coronel Zegarra; minister of justice, Senor Domingo Almenara; minister of war, General Bernabe Carrasco; minister of finance, Senor Aurelio Souza; minister of public works, Senor Agustin Tover.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way

Miss Phelps, of this city, will return this week from a sojourn at Asbury Park.

Mrs. James Huntington, of Pearl street, has been visiting relatives in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Cadmus, of Plainfield avenue, have returned from a pleasant outing at Asbury Park.

Arthur Lederer, of West Front street, who has been spending the summer at Asbury Park, returned home yesterday.

William Harsell and wife, of La Grande avenue, will leave the city in a few days for New London, Conn., where they will reside.

—In India, the land of famine, thousands die because they cannot obtain food. In America, the land of plenty, many suffer and die because they cannot digest the food they eat. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It instantly relieves and radically cures all stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Samuel Wallace, of Grove street, is greatly improved from his recent severe illness, and he hopes to be out soon.

Mrs. Jackson and daughter, Miss Addie Parker Jackson, have returned to their home from a delightful sojourn at Patchogue, L. I.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Vanderpool, of the staff of nurses at the hospital, will return next Tuesday from her vacation.

Mr. Pierce and family, of Long Branch, have taken up their residence at the corner of East Third and Washington streets.

—Chinese are dangerous enemies, for they are treacherous. That's why all counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are dangerous. They look like Dewitt's, but instead of the all-healing witch hazel they all contain ingredients liable to irritate the skin and cause blood poisoning. For piles, injuries and skin diseases use the original and genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. L. W. Randolph.

SCHOOL AND CHURCH.

The first Littish church in this country was recently organized in Philadelphia. The congregation consisted of immigrants from the Baltic provinces in Russia.

The sisters who have charge of the Holy Cross academy in Washington, D. C., recently presented to the Catholic university a beautiful flag upon which is painted the papal coat-of-arms.

Among the contributions to a Baptist church fair held at Reedy, W. Va., were six gold spoons from Mrs. McKinley, wife of the president, and a handsome linen handkerchief from Mrs. William Jennings Bryan. The spoons were sold for $26 and the handkerchief for nearly as much.

Though civil marriage is legal in Germany, 93 per cent. are still married with religious service. In 1898 the communicants who came to the Lord's supper were 8,407,330; that is once in the year at least most of the people seem to have partaken. At funerals 78 per cent. held religious services.

A movement has been started at Malpas, Cheshire, England, for the restoration of the church with which the name of Bishop Heber is associated. It was in the neighboring rectory that he was born, and he was christened in the church. His mother was the architect of the rectory and his father the builder.

A new school for girls has been founded in the suburbs of Washington through the munificence of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst, of California. The chief aim of the school, as explained by Mrs. Hearst, is "to build up character and develop the spiritual, moral, intellectual and physical life of the young women who may seek its benefits."

The South African Methodist conference is in some difficulty financially, and has appealed to the London authorities for a loan of $25,000. The deficit during the last 12 months was £7,595. Money belonging to the widows and orphans' fund has been borrowed at five per cent., to meet pressing circuit needs, and the special grants to the Kimberley, Natal and Cape Colony districts have been reduced by half. In view of this scarcity the conference decided that a number of natives who had requested facilities for higher education must endeavor to meet the expenses themselves.

KENTUCKY LAWMAKERS MEET.

Extra Session Convenes to Amend or Repeal the Goebel Law.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 29.—The Kentucky legislature convened in extra session yesterday. There were seven absent in the house and two in the senate. Both houses adjourned after hearing read Governor Beckham's brief message, which stated that the only purpose for which the session was called was to amend the state election law. The message stated that the law was a good one, but that party and factional prejudice had been engendered against it to such an extent that it was thought best to make changes before another election was held. The message concludes:

"Imaginary ills, whether political or physical, should be treated as well as real ones. Your task in this matter is a difficult one. You cannot satisfy everybody. I do not desire to suggest in detail any law for your consideration. I have confidence in your judgment and wisdom, and I believe that you will earnestly and patriotically set to work to frame a law, in appearance as well as in fact, so fair and so just to all parties that no honest citizen can find fault with it."

The Republican minority will wait for the Democratic majority to take the initiative. The Democrats held a caucus to fill vacancies and consider changes in the election law. There are scores of election bills for caucus consideration.

Both sides admit that the vote on the repeal of the Goebel law will be close. Democrats say that the senate will be a tie, 19 to 19, but that in the house the Democrats have a comfortable majority and can defeat an outright repeal. Republican leaders say they will have a majority of one in the senate in favor of the repeal and have a good chance of carrying the bill through the house.

FIGHTING STANDARD OIL.

Nebraska's Attorney General Taking Testimony in the East.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Attorney General C. J. Smyth of Nebraska, who is in the east for the purpose of taking testimony regarding the operations of the Standard Oil company, has opened the hearing in New York. Mr. Smyth was appointed by the supreme court of Nebraska as one of two referees to find out all he could concerning the operations of the Standard Oil company, the information to be used in an inquiry as to whether the company, which does a large business in Nebraska, is or is not a trust, that state having a stringent law against trusts.

Mr. Smyth was anxious to examine John D. Rockefeller, H. M. Flagler and W. H. Tilford, all connected with the Standard Oil company, but was informed that the gentlemen were not in the city. He says he will await their return. Meanwhile Mr. Smyth began proceedings by calling as a witness George Rice, who at one time was in the oil business at Marietta, O., and who has been fighting the Standard Oil company for a number of years, claiming they forced him out of business.

Mr. Rice in his testimony gave figures purporting to be the cost of piping and refining the crude oil and the cost of carrying it to Nebraska and claimed that it could be sold at a profit for 4½ cents a gallon in Nebraska by the carload. He said the present price of oil was 5½ cents for export and 8½ cents for wholesale dealers in the United States.

STRIKE THREATENED.

Coal Operators Given Ten Days to Remedy Present Evils.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 29.—If the anthracite coal operators refuse to grant the demands of the United Mine Workers as embodied in the reports of the scale and the resolutions committee as presented and adopted at yesterday's convention within ten days of date or by Sept. 6, a strike involvong 140,000 miners, of whom 40,000 are members of the United Mine Workers' organization, will be declared. The convention has applied to the national executive board, with headquarters at Indianapolis, to order a strike if no satisfactory amicable agreement regarding wages, the powder question and other grievances is reached.

President Mitchell said that the application would undoubtedly be favorably acted upon by the board, which meets at Indianapolis on Sept. 6, if existing conditions of which the miners complain are not remedied in the time allowed by the convention.

DELAY UNEXPLAINED

Latest Telegrams From Peking Eight Days Old.

DESOLATION IN LEGATION STREET.

Mail Advices Say Houses of Foreigners Were Either Destroyed or Riddled With Shot—Attempt to Mine American Buildings.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—That the inexplicable delay in forwarding telegrams from the Chinese capital still continues is illustrated by the fact that the latest dispatch from Peking describing the search for Boxers in the imperial park is dated no later than Aug. 21.

There is no confirmation from any source of the report of an advance northward from Peking. On the contrary, a movement southward to clear the country and to insure free communication with Taku is apparently in progress. The powers as late as Aug. 21 were still unable to agree as to how to deal with Peking itself, the Japanese and Russians being at variance as to whether the imperial palaces should be destroyed.

Nor is there any further news of the alleged detention of Li Hung Chang by the admirals. Probabilities increase that all the members of the imperial household have got safely to the interior.

A Reuter dispatch, dated Peking, Aug. 15, and sent by post to Shanghai, describes scenes of appalling desolation and wanton destruction in Legation street. All the houses of foreigners were riddled with shells, burned or blown up. An attempt was made to mine the American legation. A shaft was sunk from the top of the wall 15 feet deep and was then continued as a tunnel, with a sharp slope, in the direction of the legation. Apparently the Chinese did not have time to finish it.

The Siecle's report of a defeat suffered by the allies at Peking is everywhere discredited.

The Chinese legation in St. Petersburg has received news that peace negotiations have already begun.

The Peking correspondent of The Daily News, in a dispatch dated Aug. 17, asserts that there are thousands of instances going to show that the Boxers were approved by the imperial officials in their indescribable ferocity.

The Hongkong correspondent of The Times, wiring yesterday, says:

"There are reports of continued aggression by Black Flags on North river and of the deliberate destruction of mission property."

Preparing For the Winter.

TIEN-TSIN, Aug. 24, via Taku, Aug. 27.—Officers who have arrived here from Peking report that General Chaffee, commanding the American forces in China, is making all the necessary preparations to maintain 15,000 men through the winter. Fifteen of the American wounded, including the marines wounded during the siege of the legations, have arrived here by boat from Peking. Captain Myers of the United States marine corps is suffering from typhoid fever and cannot be moved. A large batch of refugees is due here today. The American signal service corps, co-operating with that of the British, has completed the telegraph line from Taku to Peking.

Fifty Americans, including the Misses Condit-Smith, Woodward and Paine, have arrived here from Peking, which city they left five days ago.

Captain John T. Myers, or Jack Myers, as he is familiarly known, who, according to a dispatch received at the navy department in Washington from Admiral Kempff July 5, was assigned to command the legation defenders at Peking, was born in Germany and was appointed from the state of Georgia, entering the marine corps in September, 1887. He is the reputed author of the famous satirical poem, "Hoch der Kaiser," which involved Captain Coghlan in so much difficulty. He was attached to the flagship Baltimore and was afterward assigned to duty with the marines on board the battleship Oregon.

Hunting For Boxers.

PEKING, Aug. 21, via Taku, Aug. 27.—Three Russian, two Japanese, one British and one American battalion searched the Imperial park, south of the city and about five miles out, for Boxers. No armed force was found, but only a single Chinese scout, who was killed. The Japanese are in possession of the imperial summer palace. The winter palace here is still closely guarded. The Russians wish to destroy it. A southward movement began today and will continue, but several detachments will remain to protect converts.

Supplies For Asiatic Fleet.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The United States transport Arethusia has sailed from the League Island navy yard for Cavite and China stations, via the Suez canal, with supplies and 4,000 tons of ammunition for the Asiatic fleet. The vessel will stop at Malta for coal, and the trip will be made in about 60 days. The Arethusia is commanded by Captain W. S. Secomb of the merchant marine. The collier Pompey, which may be sent to China, is in the drydock undergoing repairs, and the collier Leonidas will be placed in drydock next week.

Will Stay In Midroad.

DES MOINES, Aug. 29.—The Middle of the Road Populists' state convention met here with a small attendance and decided to remain in the middle of the road. No state ticket was named, and the matter was left with the state central committee, who will make up a ticket and have it placed on the official ballot by petition, not enough votes being cast last year to permit the names going on the ticket otherwise.

The Meade at Nagasaki.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—The war department has received the following, dated Nagasaki, Aug. 28: "Transport Meade arrived at this port on the 25th with battalion of Fifteenth infantry, squadron of Third cavalry, Company E, battalion of engineers, U. S. A. No casualties." Orders have already been issued sending the Meade with the troops she carries to Manila.

The Furlough Class Returns.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The furlough class, the members of which went on leave on June 13 last, has returned to duty at the Military academy. With the 100 new cadets admitted in July the battalion now numbers close upon 500 men. In the new organization, to take effect Sept. 1, the battalion will be divided into six companies.

The order recently issued by the Postmaster of Newark, permitting the letter-carriers in that city to go about their duties without wearing any coats, seems a very sensible one. Because a man happens to be in the employ of Uncle Sam, there does not seem any great demand that he should swelter under a heavy cloth coat. The "shirt-waist man" is becoming quite prevalent and if proper care is devoted to his appearance he looks just as well and far more cool and comfortable than the man who tries to keep up appearances and wears a coat.

The tendency of people to make use of the advertising columns of newspapers, says the Philadelphia Record, is a result of the progress of civilization. Even the woman who wants a servant no longer hangs over the back fence to ask the housemaid next door to find one for her, but advertises her need. The time is coming when a business establishment of any kind that shall not consider the convenience of the public enough to use the advertising columns of newspaper will be regarded as belonging to the old horse-car period.

What a lively time there would be in New Brunswick if the Pennsylvania Railroad should decide to leave the county seat of Middlesex off the main line of that railroad. New Brunswick doesn't amount to so very much to the railroad company and the railroad officials are just as likely as not to make the change in their line. Nobody blames New Brunswick for objecting to grade crossings, but the city's demands may have to be moderated if the main line is to stay where it is at present.

According to the despatches from Lincoln, Neb., Col. Wm. J. Bryan is mapping out his campaign tour and will include New Jersey. It's exceedingly doubtful, however, that Plainfield will get another glimpse of the Democratic candidate. For a city the size of this one and with such an overwhelmingly Republican population, it is hardly likely that the Democratic managers will permit him to devote more than one speech a year to Plainfield.

For a small county, Somerset seems to have more than its share of murders and the like.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The letter-carriers of the Newark postoffice gave three rousing cheers for the Postmaster Monday when he instructed their superintendent to allow them to deliver mail without the heavy regulation coat. No doubt the rule will be made permanent and will extend to other offices.

An indication of the magnitude of the preparations for a National political campaign these days is the fact that the Republican National Committee now has in press an edition of twenty million campaign documents in the form of postal cards. The political matter printed on the reverse of these cards consists of crisp, terse extracts from speeches delivered in Congress, mostly at its last session, on measures and questions which are now among the live issues of the Presidential campaign. For months past a careful and competent editor has been engaged in reading and culling extracts from "The Record," and, after a thorough sifting, these have been committed to the types and will soon be ready to be sown broadcast throughout the land by State, county and township committees. The seed thus scattered is expected to awaken and stimulate attention, interest and action among the voters, a large proportion of whom are too busy to read a long speech or even an eight page or four page political document, however interesting it may be. The postal card is a new auxiliary in the political campaign, destined to be as effective and useful there as light cavalry in a military campaign. The author of the idea, whoever he may be, deserves great credit for originating and applying it.

It is remarkable what little things will sometimes start a panic. A strange panic occurred one morning last week on the train which leaves Plainfield at 8:17 for New York, just as that train was pulling out of the Elizabethport station. George Terrill is the conductor. The train was barely a hundred yards east of the Elizabethport station when the passengers felt the train suddenly slacken speed while the grinding of the brakes could be heard. A brakeman was seen to jump off one of the car platforms. With one accord, nearly everyone in all the five passenger coaches, men, women and children, arose in their seats and made a sudden bolt for the doors. They didn't even stop to climb down the steps, but hurled themselves from the platforms. In half a minute the train was empty save for a few cool-headed men who patiently waited for developments. Nothing happened. The engineer had merely stopped the train as one of the signals was against him. The terrified crowd gathered at the side of the train. Then somebody laughed and climbed aboard. Everybody began to look foolish and then then the people climbed aboard and resumed their seats. While some were roughly handled in the rush, no one was injured. No one was able to explain where the panic started. It seemed a spontaneous movement in all the cars.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Next Friday evening at Music Hall admirers of Mr. Hoyt's quaint methods for provoking laughter will have an opportunity of passing judgment upon the revised edition of "A Trip to Chinatown" and comparing the present cast with that which presented the piece when it was first produced. Harry Gilfoil, recognized as the cleverest and most versatile comedian now before the public and who has created more characters in the Hoytian output of comedies than all the other comedians in Mr. Hoyt's employ combined, heads the cast, and this name alone is a mountain of strength to any company. Mabel Montgomery, Fleurette, Clayton Kennedy, Will Philbrick, Emilie Gardner, Pearl Hamlin, Emily Curtis, George Shields, Robert Harty, Walter McCullough, Will Lewis and others assist Mr. Gilfoil in creating a continuous two and one-half hours of solid merriment. All of Hoyt's comedies have a strong hold upon our theatre-goers but if the very large advance sale of seats is any criterion, "A Trip to Chinatown" is the comedy liked the best.

Rev. and Mrs. George Angleman, of New York state, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Angleman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cory, of West Front street.

Abram Sutton, of Lebanon, Hunterdon county, who underwent an operation at the hospital recently, is doing very well and there are strong hopes of an early recovery.

Isadore Rottberg, of West Third street, is under the care of Dr. Van-Horn for an injury received to his foot by stepping on a rusty nail. No serious results are anticipated.

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your GRAIN-O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Java and Mocha in our family, but I am free to say I like the GRAIN-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank. Respectfully yours,

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, August 29. — "Muddy" Purnell, a young colored lad, was struck by a trolley car on the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Company's line near Gallagher's corner yesterday morning and was thrown under the fender. He managed to hold on and was dragged for some distance before the car was stopped. When rescued from his perilous position his left foot was found to be crushed. He was taken to his home and Dr. Brakeley was summoned. The foot was badly mutilated and it was necessary to chloroform the lad to dress it. Two toes were crushed and a large cut extended across the foot which required six stitches. It is thought, however, that with careful treatment there will be no serious results. Purnell claims that the motorman did not ring his bell and as it was just on the curve he did not see the car until too late to jump.

A large number of little borough misses gathered on the lawn of Mrs. William E. Terry yesterday afternoon in response to her invitation to attend a lawn party. The usual games helped to make the hours pass swiftly, and at the conclusion cooling refreshments were served. The rest of the time was passed in a social manner and the young ladies left for home about 6 o'clock. Among those present were: Mary, Nettie and Irma Baldwin, Elsie Peters, Lizzie Reusch, Florence and Edna Jennings, Pearl Dodwell, Alice Apgar, Jeannette Lake, Kathie Sampson, Susie Lowerie, Florence Dickason, Hattie Giles, Edith Hamilton, Ethel Vliet, Helen Shively, Mamie Logan, Gertrude Bowlby, Geraldine and Lizzie Dunham.

Passengers waiting at the depot have been greatly entertained for the past few days by the marvellous and expert whistling given by John Mc Mahon. John is rapidly becoming an adept in the art and it is a great treat to hear him.

The Kindling Wood Club enjoyed its regular outing Monday. Pedefious' was the destination and everyone partook of a mushroon dinner for which the proprietor is noted.

M. B. Smalley left yesterday for Trenton where he will spend a few days with friends.

Herbert Moore has been entertaining friends from Elizabeth for the past few days.

H. C. Gaskill has been entertaining relatives from Trenton for the past two weeks.

Mrs. P. R. Stelle and Mrs. W. B. Hayes spent yesterday with relatives in Newark.

Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Larkin, of Brooklyn, are the guests of Mrs. Owen Mohan.

Albert Giddes has gone to Albany for a week's stay with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rarick spent yesterday at Asbury Park.

George Rinehart enjoyed a trip to Pattenburg yesterday.

Peter Apgar is recovering from hi recent illness.

Clarence Harrison spent Monday in New York.

NEW MARKET.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

New Market, August 29.—Albert Conklin, a young Dunellen lad, had a narrow escape from drowning at the Lehigh Valley bridge yesterday. In attempting to recover a pair of shoes belonging to a friend and which had fallen into the water, he lost his balance and fell in. His cries brought three Plainfield lads who were nearby, and hurrying to the spot pulled him out in time to save him.

Judgment was rendered by Justice Storms yesterday in favor of the plaintiff, for the full amount and costs in the contract case of Hodge against Brikoff.

Mrs. Edward TenEyck, of Newark, has returned home from a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Foster Sofield.

Scotch Plains, Aug. 29—Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Westcott, of Fanwood, are entertaining their niece, Miss Moore, of Bridgeton.

Efforts are being made by some of the boys in town to run a fifteen-mile bicycle race in the near future over the Mountain avenue course. But few entries have been received as yet and unless more interest is shown the race will probably be abandoned.

The recent damage by lightning to the fire tower adjoining the borough fire headquarters has been repaired and the tower is again ready for service.

Ray Lee, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnston has returned to his home in North Plainfield.

A number of the amusement lovers from town enjoyed the performance of "A Rabbit's Foot" at Music Hall last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gere, of Roselle, have been visiting at the home of Mr. Gere's sister, Mrs. T. M. Paff, Jr.

Miss Hazel Merrett, of Newark, has been spending two weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Ann Dobbins.

Onward Council, L. A. B. A., held their regular semi-monthly meeting in the rooms last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Aug. 29—McDonough Brothers are using two year-old ice for their trade this week. They have another house of new ice yet. It will be enough to last the season.

In spite of the recent rain the ground is very dry as those who are digging potatoes can attest that under the hill the ground is perfectly dry.

A gang of Italians are digging the ditch to connect the new mill with the pumps at the pumping station.

Work is progressing nicely on the new schoolhouse. Both carpeters and masons are busy.

Geo. Dunham and wife, of Plainfield, visited Mrs. T. C. Laing, Monday.

Corn in this vicinity is not nearly as good as it was last year.

to talk, but owing to the circumstances the crowd adjourned to the grove without hearing any more speeches. There was a delightful breeze outside and the time was pleasantly passed till the return trip was started at 5 o'clock. During the afternoon the only candidacy that was promoted was that of Mr. Park for Congress. The young Cranford Democrat announced himself as a candidate for the nomination, and he spent considerable time in soliciting the support of the Union county leaders. He was favorably received and will doubtless go into the convention at Bayonne September 19th with considerable voting strength from Union county.

The return trip was made by moonlight and it proved a time for extreme sociability to prevail among the guests. There was an impromptu programme of music, songs, cakewalks and other entertaining features furnished during the trip home.

The outing was one of the most successful political functions of its kind ever arranged in Union county, and the committee in charge received much praise for its work.

FASHION NOTES.

Some Hints Concerning the Children's Wardrobe.

Batiste, india muslin, lawn and pique are most employed for little children's dresses, and these materials may be used even in the winter, as a flannel underdress insures sufficient warmth. All delicate colors are appropriate, but white is always the prettiest and is really the most practical as well, for it soils no more easily than light tints, and there is no danger that it will fade from the sun or from the repeated laundering essential to children's attire.

Surah, faille francaise and embroidered muslin are admissible for children's best dresses, but simplicity of make and material is the hallmark of refinement where little people are concerned, and nothing is prettier than fine nun's veiling or cashmere, white, pink, blue or red. Let the material, whatever it is, be the best of its kind, but of an unpretentious kind.

Children's dresses are rather short and are varied chiefly by their trimmings. Some have a deep flounce around the skirt; others are plaited lengthwise with alternate bands of insertion and a yoke. The shoes and stockings are usually black or match the costume, although with tan shoes, tan socks or stockings are often worn.

The picture given today shows a girl's coat of silver gray mohair. It is plain and straight, the edges bordered with lines of black mohair braid. The sleeves are gathered into cuffs. There is a wide collar of white batiste and guipure. The straw hat is trimmed with roses.

DRESSING GOWNS.

Dainty Designs For Wrappers and Jackets.

Wrappers and dressing gowns are as much subject to the freaks of fashion as any other department of the wardrobe, and now that the mode is so eclectic, a corresponding variety of choice is allowed in such garments. The Japanese kimono has now become thoroughly acclimated, although, as a rule, the occidental version has a few plaits let in at the back of the skirt as a concession to western prejudices. Kimono dressing jackets are also seen, which are simply the kimono cut short without a belt. The watteau wrapper is an old standby, but has become rather tiresome. Prettier are those gowns which define the figure at the back and are loose or partly loose in front. Belted gowns are also pretty, especially for a slender figure.

An illustration is given of two pretty designs for dressing jackets. The first is a bolera of pink Scotch flannel, bordered with a band of insertion and a flounce of lace. There are a wide sailor collar and revers trimmed in the same way and in front are long ends similarly decorated which hang upon the skirt. The second jacket is of French flannel and has a stole collar and revers of fancy surah. It closes with bows of ribbon and has a watteau plait at the back. The sleeves flare at the bottom and have large cuffs of the surah.

The Victims of the New York Dramatic Schools

Hundreds of Stage Struck Girls from the Country Drift Into Them Every Year

EVERY year there are hundreds of girls who, being fascinated by the glamour of the footlights, and deciding to go upon the stage, annually drift into New York from all parts of the country. They invariably begin their career by attending one or other of the dramatic schools of which so many have sprung up within the last few years. Were these schools less expensive, the victims would undoubtedly number thousands, but as it is the few that do singe their wings pay well for the privilege. Yet it is safe to say that nine-tenths of the girls can ill afford the time and money thrown away on this doubtful luxury.

At one of these schools in the heart of New York city, where students are turned out eligible for the stage after a six months' course, girls, who have never read Shakespeare, are given such lines as Juliet, in the balcony scene, one of the most difficult parts known to the stage, for the first lesson. The lines are usually reeled off in all confidence, for it is after the reading that the student gets the first faint glimmering of what it means to be an actress. She is probably told her voice is too harsh, her reading too monotonous, her gestures too jerky, her carriage too stiff, and her walk too heavy and so on and so on. There are girls from the south who rol their r's and are told to learn articulation before they think of venturing upon the stage, and girls from down east who say cahrn't for cahn't and haouse for house, only to be given the same piece of information, which the more frivolous accept with silent laughter, the serious with tears. These faults are never discovered before a student has completed all arrangements for scholarship, and it is always too late for a student to remedy the evil, when such grievous obstacles to a successful career are commented upon.

A student upon entering school for the first time, will find the directress, a celebrated actress of Shakespearean roles in her day, but whose growing embonpoint has forbidden the continuance of such parts, now greeting her pupils as they file in one after another, some sixty in all, and introducing them to their different teachers, also professionals who have seen better days. The students are then divided up into five classes, allowing fifteen or sixteen to a class. This, considering the short time allowed for the lesson, seems rather a large number. A lesson being but two hours in length, it very often happens that students are obliged to sit through them without getting a chance to open their mouths, being supposed at such times to learn by watching others who probably do worse than they.

AN UNSATISFACTORY CRITICISM.

Every second Friday the students have what is called a review. On these occasions the whole school assembles in one large room, this room being fitted up with an impromptu stage and chairs for the students, who thus form their own audience; they are also on those days allowed to bring one or two immediate friends, but only such students as have good parts and are sure of a fair showing avail themselves of the privilege. The directress occupies an elevated seat in the rear center of the room, with the benches on either side. Then, as each class is called upon, the students rise and go through whatever scene they have been studying for the past two weeks. Then, when they have finished, each player receives a personal criticism from the directress. In this way it very often happens that in a class of from twelve to fifteen students, the scene selected for the fortnight's work does not include characters for all, so that two and often three students work on the same lines, while at the reviews the directress calls upon whatever students she desires to represent the work of their class, and those who are not called upon may often pass two or more reviews without the chance to exhibit their work.

Then, again, there being as many male as female parts, and but five male students in the school—the average number every year—the girls most easily imposed upon are of course called upon to do male parts, this being an absolute waste of time and money, as they would never be called upon to do such work upon the professional stage. Such a state of affairs, of course, makes it very agreeable for the male students, they having more parts to memorize than they can conveniently take care of and about twelve chances for their money to a girl's one. For instance, if three young ladies in succession decide to do Juliet, there being but one young man in the class, he is called upon each time to do Romeo; then three other girls do Lady Macbeth. That again means Macbeth each time for the solitary man, et cetera, et cetera.

As a usual thing there are three matinees given during the term. These take place at a regular theater and are as correctly professional as it is possible to make them, but they give cause for a great deal of jealousy and many heartaches among the students, some of the girls being given leading parts in all of the performances, and others, again, being given but one chance in the three, and that, sometimes, in fact, very often, a most insignificant one. As managers and newspaper writers attend these performances, the girls cannot help but feel that a great deal depends on the parts given them. It is when these performances are being got ready for that ugly rumors float about among the students to the effect that the girls with good parts have secretly paid well for them, and it is also discovered that those students most reticent in regard to their future prospects are the ones that afterward obtain the engagements, having wealth and sufficient influence to back them. But such engagements as are obtained, though in the best companies, are always the lowest to be had, and where advancement depends solely on ability. Also these engagements, in most cases, could have been obtained just as well without the course at school, and are obtained by many girls who have never seen the inside of a dramatic school, while girls that leave the school with no money and no experience but the smattering or stage craft they have learned there, have need of much courage to face the trials before them, their certificate of scholarship being pooh poohed at, and evidently doing them more harm than good in the eyes of the managers they are displayed to. As the term nears its end, some of the poorer girls receive engagements with hitherto unheard-of companies, while, after the term, others usually meet each other up and down Broadway, in the vicinity of managers' offices, all bent on the same quest, an endless search for an engagement. Perhaps the majority of the girls being sensible, and having learned enough at the school of disenchantment, whatever views they may have had of the stage, pocket their pride and return home, if not sadder at least wiser girls. Others, whose pride will not allow them to admit failure, are swallowed up in the surging tide of the great metropolis, some to fates far worse than the stage. Let us hope not all.

OFTEN MEET ON BROADWAY AND COMPARE FORTUNES.

HITA L. PIERSON.

A LAND OF CONTRASTS

An Inside Glimpse of the Social Life of Mexico.

Many Live from Hand to Mouth, But the Majority Put On No Airs—Simplicity and Good Taste Rules.

This is proverbially the land of contrasts. There is a class living from hand to mouth, with recurrent visits to the pawnshops, which hard-headed Asturians or north country Spaniards manage, and there is a great majority who live on what they earn and make no fuss in social show. The average young Mexican marries before he is 25, and he does not take his bride to a boarding-house; she does not wear diamonds and a sealskin sack, or affect to be wealthy by any manifestation of clothes. She dresses neatly and becomingly, and it is to her own little furnished house that her young husband takes her.

The Mexican, the typical Mexican, loves his home. He has not just the word for the place, for he calls it poetically his "hogar," or fireside, and he has no fireplace. But it is usually a one-story house, surrounding a patio, or courtyard, wherein grow flowers, where often there is a fountain and singing birds encaged make music in the morning hours. The babies come along with almost astronomical punctuality, and they are welcome. When Allah built this world he had in mind just such genuine homes as these. He never imagined a boarding-house as a home for young married folk.

I know something of intimate Mexico, and so have had occasion to note that courtesy, everyday politeness, is a universal article. You do not cut a man, says the correspondent of the Boston Herald, because he happens to live in a little house, nor abjectly bow down to some wealthy owner of a great mansion and master of many servants. Essentially, the Latin, and therefore the Mexican, is democratic in public. Cabinet ministers shake hands with poor clerks, and bow to their wives if they happen to know them. The high mightiness of the social magnates in a small New England manufacturing town reveals an instinct for snobbery which, Allah be praised, is not included in our daily reckoning in Mexico.

The president here is a pretty big man, I assure you. He holds power four long years, and reelection is customary. He is a ruler to the full extent of the word, but he drives about in a carriage no better than that of many a prosperous merchant. His personal staff is not composed of generals, as in Some Central American countries, but and he is accessible to anyone who has is reduced to the absolutely necessary, a sound reason for taking his time.

I don't want to paint Mexico as a social paradise; it is not. But although there are heartburnings and social rivalries in the new cosmopolitan capital crowded with foreigners of many nations, the Mexican social life, that of the best people, is really simple and well sustained. The real old families put on no airs; their great homes are ample; their dinners good, their taste cultivated by travel and observation, and the poor relation sits down unabashed at meal time with his fortunate relative.

How do I know this? Because I have dined with many fine old Mexican families. Enter the poor relation, an aunt we will suppose, who has made a marriage that did not turn out well financially. She wears modest black, her gown is of cheap stuff, made at home, probably. She is greeted with hugs and kisses, and enters into the talk of the family unconstrainedly, giving her views of matters in general, and shows pleasure at seeing her nieces handsomely gowned. Sometimes they take her to the theater with them or to drive in the family carriage.

People are not ashamed of poor relations; they are part of the great scheme of social life, and the Mexican has too much of the Moor not to know that fate rules our destinies, and that to one man is given riches and to another poverty. So it has been decreed. And the Mexican usually has a big, warm heart inside his anatomy.

Old people (well, this is the paradise of grandpas and grandmas, a fine old Spanish and oriental way) are always reverenced. Their opinions are sought; they are the "old guard," and respected accordingly. One consults them on important family matters, the daughter's engagement, the profession for the boy, the naming of the babies, etc. For them the favorite chair or corner, the siesta undisturbed, the preferred dish at table, and, when they die, you may be sure they are mourned sincerely.

Mexicans have no notion of being ashamed to show publicly a warm affection for their aged fathers and mothers. The great lawyer meets his white-haired mother in the street car and kisses her hand deferentially, and he does the same with his father. Big, handsome girls, fashionably clad, meet their father in the street, and, taking his hand, kiss it. The family tie is very strong among the people who have the right idea of home and family.

MAKES DEATH PAINLESS.

The Cuban Garrote Is Reported to Be a Humane Method of Executing Criminals.

President McKinley, in answer to the request of the senate for information as to the garroting of Porto Rican criminals under American rule, has sent to the upper house a letter from Military Gov. George W. Davis, giving that high functionary's opinion of the garrote as an instrument for inflicting official death. According to his idea, says the New York Times, it furnishes a much easier and less revolting method of execution than hanging. Says he, in a letter to President McKinley, in answer to the inquiry of the chief executive:

"When the present military governor came to this island for duty, he found the local laws, unchanged respecting capital punishment, and when the occasion arose to carry into effect a sentence of the courts which required that the criminals suffer the capital penalty, careful inquiry was made as to what the statutes provided as respects the act itself of garroting, which is the only mode of execution known to the island save that of shooting to death with muskets in certain cases under the laws of war.

"I inquired into the matter of mechanical details, how the iron collar was applied, and the physiological effects of the instrument. This investigation satisfied me that between garroting and hanging the former was less barbarous and revolting and insured almost instant death to the victim. The convicted criminal is seated and lashed in a chair, in the manner in which the victim is secured who is to be electrocuted. Passing up behind the chair, and a part of it, is a heavy post to which the iron collar is fixed; the latter is hinged and made to inclose the neck of the man. Through the post, and secured to the collar, works a rapidly threaded screw, by means of which the collar is drawn to the rear. The screw is worked by a strong handle, and by a single turn of it, occupying but the fraction of a second, the collar inclosing the neck of the victim is pulled to the rear with such force as to dislocate the vertebrae instantly. The shock completely paralyzes the man, and death is immediate. There may be some twitching of the muscles, but no other movement, and not a drop of blood is seen.

"From the moment that the subject is seated in the chair he is completely covered with a mantle, so he can see nothing, and his features cannot be seen.

"It was my understanding that the executions were to take place in the jail yard, but this was not done for the reason that the space was reported to be inadequate; therefore the executions were in public.

"If the occurrence was to be repeated during my command, I should insist that the great mass of the public should not see the spectacle, but I repeat that execution by the garrote is far less inhuman and revolting than execution by hanging."

Fun for the Court.

A prolix and pompous Missouri lawyer defending an ebony negro, was selecting a jury of white men. He had asked numberless needless questions when the judge said: "Come, now, Mr. C——, you will be examining the jurors' teeth next. Hurry along. Let's get through with this nonsense." "Well," said the lawyer, "just one more general question. Are any of you in any way related to the defendant at the bar?" Another Missouri attorney, in a divorce suit, set up in the wife's cross bill the fact that the husband "undertook to poison her without just cause."—Case and Comment.

The Awe-Inspiring Flunkey.

When Queen Victoria was at Balmoral, some time ago, she visited an aged cottager, and, on leaving her, said: "You will now no longer be afraid of me, and I shall expect you to pay me a visit." "Ah, ma'am," she replied, "it's not yerself I'm frightened at; it's them grand servants."—Little Chronicle.

HUMOROUS.

"Didn't you hear about it?" "No." "Why, the thing happened right down in your own neighborhood." "I know, but my wife's away for the summer."—Philadelphia Press.

"John," she asked, "do you ever play poker for profit?" "No," he replied thoughtfully; "the game serves as my way of being charitable."—Philadelphia North American.

Admirable Reserve.—Some one had offended a venerable English baronet. "You don't know," said he, "the strength of the expression I am not using."—Youth's Companion.

Great Strides.—Slobbs—"What advances the science of healing has made. The mediaeval doctors bled patients for quite a few diseases." Blobbs—"Yes; nowadays they're bled for them all."—Philadelphia Record.

Very Suitable.—"Gilley looks like a perfect imbecile with that monocle," said Fosdick to Keedick. "He suits his character, however. He can see more with one eye than he can remember with the other."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"Yes," mused Mr. Meddergrass, "we had a old hen that had a habit of settin' on hills of potatoes. Hiram our boy, who has went to college, called her 'Rome,' because she set on seven hills, but I never could see the p'int, although Hiram always laughed a great deal every time he got the joke off."—Baltimore American.

A Fearful Fate.—"You look wretched," remarked the guinea fowl. "I am wretched," replied the fat pullet. "I didn't dare sleep last night." "Was it on account of anything the owl told you when you went to him to have your fortune told yesterday evening?" "Yes. He told me a dark man would soon cross my path, and speedily win me."—Philadelphia Press.

SNAKES AS COMPANIONS.

Prof. Percy Selous Sacrificed His Wife and Children for the Deadly Reptiles.

For the companionship of snakes, Prof. Percy Selous sacrificed wife, children and the society of his species. Death was the penalty of his infatuation. His favorite serpent avenged mankind for the savant's indifference by fastening its fangs in his hand and destroying his life with the venom that he had braved for years.

Not even in the throes of death did the infatuation weaken. The viper that had poisoned him was still nearer to his heart than any other living thing, and his last words were:

"Poor Joe! He doesnt' know what he has done."

His weird fad gradually estranged him from humanity. The time came when even his wife fled from her home.

"I am tired of making beds for snakes," she said just before her departure.

Cut off from the income his father allowed him, Prof. Selous became schoolmaster at Greenville, Mich., a post for which his attainments more than fitted him.

Even in the schoolroom, says the New York World, the professor could not control his strange obsession. One day in the course of a lesson in zoology he produced a box and lifted from it a squirming object, long and very slender ringed in red and black.

It was a coral snake, one of the deadliest inhabitants of Florida's swamps. Many days elapsed before the pupils recovered from their horror.

From Florida also came the moccasin that encompassed its master's death. Selous in the winter often allowed it to share his bed with him.

The other day, while lifting it from its cage, he inadvertently squeezed its tail. The snake struck him between the knuckles of his left hand, injecting a full dose of venom.

Selous, when he had disengaged its fangs, dropped it and ran for a doctor. Then, remembering that the snake while at large was a danger to others, he returned to confine it.

By this time the poison had taken possession of him. Believing that the bite of a cobra would counteract that of a moccasin he seized one of the former species held it near his throat, and tried to provoke it into fastening its fangs in him. But it refused to take the hint.

For three days he lingered in agony, swollen and discolored beyond recognition. Every known antedote was tried, but the moccasin's poison prevailed.

He was buried from the Methodist church, of the choir of which he was a member. After the ceremony the mourners visited his house with hoes, spades, axes and the like and made short work of his prized collection, including the murderous moccasin, for which its master with his dying breath had entreated forgiveness.

Danilewsky's Flying Machine.

A Russian inventor, K. Danilewsky, has recently experimented, under government auspices, with a flying-machine which combines the lifting power of a balloon with something resembling wing action. The balloon, says the Youth's Companion, is shaped like a projectile, and is small, being filled with pure hydrogen. Its ascensional force is sufficient to neutralize the weight of the aeronaut and the apparatus. The latter consists of a system of movable aeroplanes and a steering tackle, by means of which the aeronaut guides the course of the balloon. In descending, the latter assumes an upright position. The immediate object of the experiments is to provide a dirigible balloon for the signal corps of the Russian army.

Looking for News.

England is looking up new names for its Boer conquests. "Chamberlainia" and "Robertsland" are suggested by the St. James' Gazette, which, however, would prefer something made up from the name of the future ruler of England, Edward VII.

CHICAGO'S Many Religions and Stanley Waterloo's Book

When Stanley Waterloo struck upon the theme carried out in his latest book, "The Seekers," he struck Chicago in a vital point.

Fakes in the Garb of Religion.

If Chicago has one fad that it indulges in more than another it is that of religions. There is probably not another city in the world in which so many fakers garbed in the coat of religion have met with success as in Chicago. It is not fair to class all of the comparatively new beliefs and creeds as fakes, and Mr. Waterloo has not done so, though his book deals with practically all of the more prominent new creeds.

As the Chicago business man schemes and plans to invent new methods, so does he consider the question of religion. His progressiveness leads him to adopt new faiths and abandon the creeds of his ancestors. There are no less than 62 different religious organizations outside of the well-established churches. Of these, the followers of Christian Science are in the majority, and their representatives include many of the most wealthy and most prominent citizens of the city of Chicago. They have recently erected one of the finest buildings as a place of worship, and regular meetings are held to study the belief. The new creed having the largest following is that invented by Dr. Dowie. From a divine having no followers and in an impoverished condition, John Alexander Dowie has, within the last few years, become the founder of what is known and called the Christian Catholic Church in Zion, with a membership which runs into the thousands. The doctor frequently boasts that, although Christ only performed a few miracles, he has performed over 8,000 during the course of seven years.

In addition to these two creeds there are countless smaller ones which are constantly securing new followers. The colony founded by the man Schweinfurth, is notorious. His belief was a combination of that of Mormonism and the Millerites of the early fifties

Many Criticisms.

Practically all of the people whom the story strikes have taken occasion to criticise it. Some have discussed its merits as a treatise on these new religions in a spirit of fairness, finding, they say, much that merits criticism, but those that Mr. Waterloo strikes hardest have but heaped anathemas upon the work. As, for instance, Dr. Dowie says:

Mr. Waterloo's Future Home.

"The devil has prepared the warmest place in hell for Stanley Waterloo."

But aside from these, the book has brought out considerable valuable discussion on both sides by some of Chicago's best thinkers. Mrs. Ursula N. Gesterfield, the leader and originator of the Exodus club and promoter of the new thought, "The Science of Being," says of the book:

"I find 'The Seekers' an interesting story, and no doubt a vivid picture of Chicago life as seen by a literary man. But the author did not have a thorough knowledge of either the Science of Being or Christian Science, and while the discussion of the various cults seems to be the background of his story, he did not catch the underlying principle of any distinct belief.

"All religious belief should have for its aim the betterment and uplifting of the human race, and in the Science of Being we seek the underlying principle as based upon knowledge, which in our day and age is the outcome of all religions. We are merely students, and as enlightenment comes to us we may change our creed if we see by advancement we are nearer the truth, as real knowledge is the root of strength and the keynote of help to humanity.

"In 'The Seekers,'" added Mrs. Gesterfield, "I perceived several well-known characters, and I believe Mr. Waterloo to be just in some of his condemnations. I am very glad to have him point out such immoralities, as nothing can ever do any faith greater harm."

The Christian Scientists.

E. A. Kimball, who is one of the strongest followers of Mrs. Eddy in Chicago, takes Mr. Waterloo severely to task for this work, though at first he refused to discuss the book at all.

John Alex. Dowie.

"But I will say," said Mr. Kimball, "after some thought, that Mr. Waterloo has not revealed the principles or truths of Christian Science in his book. I do not know what purpose the author had in printing the story, but if he wrote it with the idea of hurting Christian Science, his book will have no weight."

When asked for his opinion of the chapter devoted to Dr. Dowie, he said: "I most positively decline to discuss Dr. Dowie, Mrs. Gesterfeld, who is an opponent of Mrs. Eddy's, or Schweinfurth or any other leaders of the off-shoots of Christian Science; there is but one Christian Science, and that was founded and discovered by Mrs. Eddy alone."

When speaking of Mr. Waterloo's book, Dr. Gunsaulus, president of Armour Institute, said:

"There is certainly a great deal of truth in Christian Science. Mind can do a great deal with the body. But the power of faith over disease has its limitations. There is no doubt that Christian Science appeals to a certain class that is looking for something to believe in.

"In regard to the people who go to Zion to hear Dr. Dowie I look at the subject philosophically and feel that they might as well go there as anywhere else, as there is a certain element which must put its faith in something.

"There is nothing new in Christian Science; it has been taught in one form and another for a long time, and there is a certain amount of good in it, as there is in many creeds."

Plot of the Story.

Mr. Waterloo's story, which has aroused the ire of the expounders of Chicago's many creeds, deals with the experiences of two sisters who became interested in Christian Science, in the hope of recruiting the health of the younger woman. The older sister, Kate Vaughn, a cultured woman, a successful teacher of languages, brings her younger sister to the city for treatment for nervous exhaustion. Christian Science holds sway in their boarding house, and later the younger sister becomes the victim of another fad that is but thinly disguised by the author. When her sister attempts to break up the deleterious influence she eludes her and disappears, to be discovered later by Miss Vaughn's lover, John Yule. He is a devoted lover, and rescues the deluded girl under the most dramatic circumstances from the rural retreat of the expounder of the "Secret Gospel." The young girl dies in the arms of her sister, thus reuniting the lovers, who before this had fallen out through difference of opinion on the subject of these new religions. The book depicts a phase of life that is probably peculiar to Chicago, but after a thorough understanding of the new religions the seekers decide that the old-time religion is the best, and they conclude that, after all, to "love God and thy neighbor" is the whole duty of man.

Expounder of the Secret Gospel.

Motive for the Story.

Mr. Stanley Waterloo, answering some questions about his motives and reasons for writing the novel, said: "I have been so often impressed by the various movements and the divers beliefs to be found in everyday life in Chicago that at first I thought of writing a short sketch of them; but eventually, after I had begun to visit the different public gatherings where these creeds were expounded, a long story revealed itself to me, and 'The Seekers' is the result of my personal investigation.

SPORTING.

TENNIS

W. A. Larned, who won the all-comers' tournament at Newport this summer and thereby earned the right to play Whitman for the National tennis championship, comes from Summit, N. J., and was, at the time of the prominence of the Hillside Tennis Club in tennis affairs, an occasional visitor to this city. He played on the Hillside courts and was acquainted with the cracks of the Plainfield club. Most of the young men who in those days defended the honor of the city on the tennis court are no longer about here. Carl Walz and Henry Rider are both dead. Albert P. Simmonds is in the west, where he recently took part in a sectional tournament and was only defeated by a small margin. Fred K. Fish, Jr., is married, but still makes Plainfield his home. He took part in a recent tournament at Westfield, although he had had no practice at all, and made a good showing considering that fact.

The Forum for September.

Among the thirteen articles which make up the September issue of The Forum are many which from the point of view of timeliness and interest can hardly be beaten. Indeed, The Forum, though laboring under the disadvantages which attend every monthly magazine, manages to retain a great deal of that up-to-date-iveness which is the happy endowment of a live daily. With China as a burning question in the September issue, Prof. Paul S. Reinsch considers the problem of "China Against the World," and D. W. Stevens, Counsellor to the Japanese Legation at Washington, sets forth "Japan's Attitude Toward China." Turning homeward, and taking the Presidential campaign for pabulum, the reader has George E. Roberts' clear explanation of the meaning of "The Kansas City Financial Resolution," H. L. West's thorough, side-by-side examination of the Republican and Democratic platforms, and Ex-Governor Stone's presentation of "The Campaign of 1900, from a Democratic Point of View."

Arrivals at The Netherwood.

Among the more important of the recent arrivals at Hotel Netherwood are Miss Humphrey, daughter of Quartermaster General Humphrey; Lieut. Patten, of the "Montgomery," and wife, of Washington; Col. Wilson, U. S. A.; Mr. Baldwin, of the Allan Steamship Line, and Mr. Richards, of the American Packet Company, of New York.

IN CHAMPIONSHIP FORM

MRS N. P. ROGERS PLAYED EXCELLENT GOLF.

With a Little More Good Luck Mrs Rogers Would Have Given Miss Hoyt a Close Call.

The women's golf championship was begun on the links of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club at Southampton, L. I., yesterday. In the qualifying round, medal play, the sixteen lowest scores qualified for the match play today. For the fifth time Miss Beatrice Hoyt made the lowest net score, 94, for eighteen holes. Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club of this city, justified the hopes of her friends by finishing ninth with 108.

Her score by holes, as compared with the men's bogey, was as follows:

Mrs. N. P. Rogers, Hillside Tennis and Golf—
Out	6	7	5	6	3	7	6	9	5	—54
In	7	7	5	6	5	7	8	4	5	—54—108
Bogey—
Out	4	4	4	4	4	5	5	5	6	—41
In	5	4	4	5	5	5	4	3	4	—39— 80

In the match play today Mrs Rogers has been drawn to play Miss Ruth Underhill, of the Nassau Country Club. At medal play yesterday, Mrs. Rogers was two strokes better than Miss Underhill.

Concerning Mrs. Rogers' game yesterday the New York Sun this morning says:

"Mrs. Rogers with a little luck would have given Miss Hoyt a close call for the gold medal. She played perhaps the best long game of the field, but in putting Mrs. Rogers at times fell down to a marked degree. On the eighth hole she was on the green in 2, but it took her 9 to hole out, while at the sixteenth green after getting on in 2 Mrs. Rogers took 6 more to get into the cup.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY.

Judge Steele's Team Frightened by Trolley Car and Made a Wild Dash.

An exciting runaway occurred in the center of the city this morning, which for a time looked as if it would result in serious injury to one of the occupants of the carriage. A team of horses belonging to Judge Steele, of Park avenue, and driven by his son, Porter Steele, took fright at a trolley car on West Front street opposite the Stillman building.

The struggles of the animals broke the traces and the carriage was pulled along by the lines to which Mr. Steele pluckily clung.

A younger brother, Charles, who was in the carriage jumped out, escaping injury.

In front of the Babcock building the driver lost his balance and was forced to loose his hold on the lines. The horses then dashed up Front street, fortunately escaping all obstructions. They were captured near Richmond street by William Drake.

The only damage was that sustained by the harness.

SAD DEATH OF BABY.

Mother Had Taken it to Baby Camp but Got Home Just in Time.

The death of Mary Wise, aged 3 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wise, of Duer street, occurred yesterday afternoon as a result of cholera infantum. The little one had been ill for several days, and yesterday the mother took her child to the baby camp on the mountains thinking a change would be beneficial. When they arrived there the nurse, Miss DeLaney, told Mrs. Wise that she had better take he child home as she regarded her condition serious. The mother had scarcely arrived home when the infant died. It was a severe attack the child had and was too weak to withstand it.

GREAT DAY FOR SMITH'S

THE ANNUAL FAMILY PICNIC BEING HELD AT PEAPACK.

Greatest Family on Earth Enjoying Itself in a Jolly Manner All Day Today.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Peapack, Aug. 29.—"Are you a Smith?" That is the question which was put to everyone of the great throng which journeyed here today. If the answer was in the affirmative, there was nothing too good for the speaker. Otherwise there wasn't much use going to Peapack. The Smiths were in power. They came from all over the northern and central part of New Jersey. It was the twenty-fifth annual picnic of the Smith family and for miles around the day of the event was observed as a holiday.

Once every year the Smiths take possession of the pretty little grove near this place, where old John Henry Smith lived a century and a half ago, and all the rest of the world looks on in wonderment. Today was the date set for the family gathering this year. The Smiths of three generations moved on the place with every kind of vehicle that can be imagined. They came in a right jolly mood and camped out all over the grove to the number of nearly 5,000. A wonderful lunch was spread at noon and all the Smiths gathered at the board to preside.

Isaac Smith is the owner of the Smith grove. He is a veteran in the ranks of the Smiths, but a jolly, open-hearted man. Yearly he allows the numerous family to gather there and looks after their welfare. He has also expressly forbidden fakirs to visit the place. With a posse of sturdy Smiths to assist him, he kept the grounds free of such characters today.

For the younger folks there were games and dancing, while the older Smiths swapped tales of their ancestors and talked it all over. There was a register's office, whither each newly-discovered Smith was borne to recite his pedigree and establish his identity. Once proven that he was a Smith there was nothing in the place too good for him.

Enjoying Themselves in California.

Mrs. John D. Case and family, of the borough, who, for the past few months, have been at San Diego, Cal., have had a most delightful time. They write that the peculiarities of the summer season along the coast are conditions simply inconceivable. The agreeable coolness, the absence of any excessive heat at any period in the twenty-four hours, the constant clear sky, and the air that is slightly warmer is far more pleasant and agreeable than the air of the winter season, making the summer season an ideal one. Mrs. Case and her family will leave San Diego today for a tour through Mexico and will return late in the fall.

Serious Loss by Fire.

Mrs. Connolly, of 930 West Fourth street, sustained a severe loss by fire yesterday afternoon. She makes a living by washing clothes for people, and in the afternoon she went after a basket clothes. On her return she found that everything in her house had been destroyed by fire.

A family occupy the upper part of the house, but they could give no account of the fire or what caused it.

All that the woman has left is the clothes she had on when she left the house. The house was slightly damaged.

Franklin Murphy will Preside.

The arrangements for the convention of the New Jersey State League of Republican Clubs, to be held at Columbia Hall, Jersey City, on Thursday, September 18th, are about completed. At a meeting of the general committee Monday night it was announced that Franklin Murphy, chairman of the Republican State committee, would preside at the mass meeting which will follow the convention.

To Inspect Certificates.

Exempt members of the Plainfield fire department are invited to headquarters to inspect the new exemption certificate which the fire and building committee of the Council has had designed. Those who desire them, may have them by leaving their names with Chief T. O. Doane.

At the Smith Picnic.

Mrs. J. C. VanDyke and Miss Mary VanEps, of East Front street, and Mrs. Isaac P. Runyon, of Somerset street, accompanied by Mrs. VanDyke's daughter, Mrs. W. D. Bauer, of Somerville, left this morning for Peapack, where they will join in the festivities of the Smith picnic.

Driver Feiring Around Again.

George Feiring, driver of No. 3 hose wagon, is able to be out after being confined to the house since last week from injuries received in the recent accident while answering an alarm of fire. He will return to duty in a few day.

Cashier W. F. Arnold, Mrs. Arnold and daughters, who have been at the Felmley farm, Lebanon, for a month, go to Ocean Grove Saturday for a week or two, and so does Collector George F. Brown and Mrs. Brown, who have also been for a month at the Felmley farm.

Lecture by Mr. Kenney.

The last issue of the Catholic News contains a verbatim account of the lecture on "Compressed Air and Its Uses," as given Thursday, August 16th, at the Catholic Summer School at Cliff Haven, near Lake Champlain, by Andrew E Kenney, of North Plainfield. Mr. Kenney is editor of the magazine known as "Compressed Air." Into Mr. Kenney's lecture was condensed a wealth of material covering the experiments and investigations of years, all of which was accurate in detail and clear in presentation. His lecture was concluded with a series of experiments which well illustrated the energy and the possibilities of compressed air.

A Plainfield Incorporator.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Newark, August 29—The National Kid Company had its articles of incorporation recorded yesterday with the County Clerk. The capital stock is fixed at $25,000, while business will begon with $1,000. The company will manufacture leather. Its incorporators are Charles VanWinkle, of Plainfield; George E. Holmes, of Wollcaston, Mass., and Elbert S. Green, of this city.

Richard Higgins, of this city, has resigned his position at Fred Endress' meat market.

Mrs. Charles H. Smith and family, of Grove street, go to the Felmley farm, Lebanon, on Saturday, where they will remain for a time.

Mrs. F. W. Bailey and son, Pierson, of Duer street, and niece, Miss Grace Pierson, of Beverly, Burlington county, are spending a week with relatives at Cherry Hill, Hunterdon county.

A STARTLING PROPOSITION.

Claim Made That with the Rise of Intellect Physical Beauty Declines.

Are clever people ugly? That is the startling question which a writer in Pearson's propounds for solution. There is good reason for believing it is claimed that the higher we rise intellectually the lower we shall fall in respect of beauty. In plain language, education tends to make people ugly.

Directly we begin to think deeply we agitate what we may call the irritating matter of the brain, and this disturbance gradually shows itself in the face. The thoughtful person lowers his eyebrows or raises them unconsciously in the effort of thinking, and this creates lines and furrows on the forehead; the mouth assumes a different shape because the lips are set firmly together; the poison caused by envy and jealousy—an inevitable accompaniment of education—has its effect upon our complexions. These are only some of the changes that take place, and make it even now difficult to retain our good looks after we have acquired much knowledge and the power of reasoning. If this is so, what will it be in a few generations? As we do more and more of our thinking for ourselves, instead of taking our opinions from others, so will generation after generation become more and more highly strung, and will show in an increasing degree the traces of mental activity.

All those characteristics which go to make up beauty—the cupid mouth, the smooth forehead and delicate complexion, the oval face, the gentle expression of the eyes and the abundance of hair—will disappear, and we shall have men and women with bald heads, no natural teeth, wide mouths, and, in short, a general appearance which at the present time is regarded as the embodiment of ugliness.

Why is it that woman has always been more beautiful than man? In human beings the attractive qualities have always been on the side of the female. Why is it? Without wishing to cast any aspersion on the members of the superior sex, we may fairly answer that it is because they have hitherto been the less educated. But woman's ideas are changing; she has listened to the voice of the tempter whispering in her ear all sorts of sweet fallacies about equality of the sexes, intellectual development and its necessity, and the like, and she has yielded to the temptation. And the result of this will be that she will lose her beauty; she will suffer in appearance as man has done and is doing, and in the course of time the extremely civilized races of mankind will be ugly — irretrievably and lamentably ugly.

In a Quandary.

Sir William MacCormac, the president of the Royal College of Surgeons of London, is at times quite absent-minded. He is an indefatigable worker, and often to save time when working in his laboratory has a slight luncheon served there. Once his assistants heard him sigh heavily, and, looking up, saw the doctor glaring at two glass receptacles on his table. "What is the matter, doctor?" asked one of the youngsters. "Nothing in particular," was the reply, "only I am uncertain whether I drank the beef tea or that compound I am working on."

Adornment of an Arab Girl.

From "Southern Arabia," by the late T. Bent and Mrs. T. Bent: "Arab girls before they enter the harem and take the veil are a curious sight to behold. Their bodies and face are dyed a bright yellow with tumeric. On this ground they paint black lines, with antimony, over their eyes; the fashionable color for the nose is red; green spots adorn the cheeks, and the general aspect is grotesque beyond description."

THE GRANT CLUB READY FOR WORK.

Borough Republican Campaign Was Inaugurated Last Evening.

MAYOR SMALLEY PRESIDENT

ENTHUSIASTIC SPEECHES MADE BY SENATOR REED AND MR. PLACE.

Both Decried Democratic Issues and Candidates and Predicted That Republican Success Would Come.

The thirteenth annual meeting of the U. S. Grant Republican Club of North Plainfield was held last evening in Spencer's Hall, Somerset street, and an organization effected for the ensuing year. In spite of the excessive heat the hall was packed to overflowing with good Republicans and their enthusiasm knew no bounds. Suspended in front of the hall was a life-size portrait painting of President McKinley. Cheers were given when Senator Reed and Mayor Smalley entered the room.

Last year's president, R. M. Fountain, called the meeting to order, and the first business was the selection of a president for the coming year. J. K. Arnold nominated Mayor Smalley, while W. C. Smith nominated Councilman Robert Clark, Jr. Thomas Doud and J. J. Stahl were appointed tellers and a ballot was taken. His Honor received 41 votes, while his opponent received 11 votes. As Mr. Smalley took the chair he thanked all heartily for their kindly expression. He said that Mr. Clark was a great personal friend of his, and had he been present at the meeting he would have felt like declining the honor in favor of Mr. Clark.

The Mayor continued speaking by stating that all present were good Republicans and he hoped there would be hearty co-operation on the part of all in the coming campaign in National, State and County elections. He suggested that all factional strife be cut out of the programme and that everyone work for the grand old Republican ticket.

The next business was the selection of a secretary. George Fairchild and John G. MacLoughlin were nominated. The latter was elected. He received 44 votes, while Mr. Fairchild got 21. In this connection the president stated that H. J. Martin had served the club as secretary for four years, but felt compelled to decline a re-election this year, as he thought others ought to have the position. Mr. Martin made a similar statement. The election of a treasurer then took place, and as Robert Clark, Jr., had arrived by this time, Senator Reed nominated him for the office. He was elected unanimously, the secretary casting the ballot. Mr. Clark was called on for a speech, and in reply stated that his modesty prevented him from so doing in the presence of such a galaxy of intelligence. He declared his loyalty to the G. O. P. and asserted that he would do all possible for the success of the ticket.

Senator Reed moved that the president appoint an executive board to consist of five members, a finance committee to consist of twenty members, committees on meeting and election to consist of three members each. This was concurred in, and announcement of committees will be made later. The president stated that meetings would be arranged for Saengerbund Hall in the near future, at which time there would be good music and excellent speaking. This matter will be left with the executive committee.

Mayor Smalley, at this time, introduced Former Mayor Charles Place, a charter member of the club, who gave a short and interesting talk. He felt sure that in the National, State and county elections the Republicans would be successful. He also stated that since the election of James Buchanan as President of the United States not a Democratic President had been elected from the States which previously elected Democratic Presidents. Since that time it had been the Republican votes that had elected Democrats as in the case of Cleveland, who had two terms. He did not believe that there would be another Democratic President for twenty-five years to come, so well satisfied are the people with the present excellent administration and the principles of the Republican party that has brought prosperity to the country. He considered McKinley a noble and grand man, who has been able to round up the affairs of the nation in a satisfactory manner. He urged enthusiasm on the part of all and he hoped that the full vote would be polled.

In speaking of Bryan, he said that he evidently had two mouths, one for the east and one for the west, and he thought imperialism one of the greatest humbugs of the country. He believed that every honest Democrat would vote for McKinley and sound business principles. He cited the fact that many are leaving Bryan, as stated in yesterday's Philadelphia Press, which published the names of ninety-one prominent Democrats that had come out against Bryan and for McKinley. At the close of Mr. Place's remarks, John Goodwin and the crowd gave three cheers for McKinley and Roosevelt.

The next speaker was Senator Reed, who gave a rousing talk for the present administration. Concerning the coming campaign he said that everyone would have to fight and work very hard for the entire ticket. He mentioned the fact that Congressman Benjamin Howell would be nominated next week Tuesday and that it is the intention of sending him back to Congress.

Returning to National affairs, the Senator reviewed a little history. He told how Uncle Sam in one hundred days subdued a Nation that was a grandfather when this Nation was born, and how in two battles he gave Spain one of the greatest sub-marine navies in the world. In view of these facts, Senator Reed asked, "Who is there that would take down our flag in the Phillippines?" In answer to the question someone shouted "Bryan!" Senator Reed declared that the Demoarats are anti-everything, and that they are against everything Republican because they want to be on the opposite side. In speaking of trusts, he said that every act passed against the trusts was done so by Republicans. He said that many people forget that Bryan represents a big silver trust. He also said that the other day he met a man who is a neighbor of Bryan in Lincoln, and he told him that four years ago Bryan was assessed for $1,000 personal property.

This year he is assessed for $5,000 personal property, which is supposed to be one-fifth of what he is worth, so that in four years Bryan has made $25,000 by loafing and having a good time. In conclusion Mr. Reed urged all to work from now on and make every effort to elect the entire ticket.

Thursday, September 13th, the State Republican League convention will be held in Jersey City, and the president appointed Charles Place, H. N. Spencer, Thomas Doud, E. P. T. Smith, Edward O. Clark as delegates to that convention. The president by virtue of his office is also a delegate.

President Smalley announced that the hall would be open from now on, and frequent meetings will be held. Suitable literature will also be provided and a book of enrollment. Before the meeting adjourned a unanimous vote of thanks was extended to the retiring president, R. M. Fountain, after which the meeting adjourned.

DEATH OF JOHN BARRY.

Born in Ireland, But Had Lived in This Country Since a Boy.

After a brief illness of but a few days, John Barry, a well known West End young man, died at his home on South Second street yesterday afternoon. He was born in Ireland but came to this country with his parents when a mere boy and had lived in Plainfield ever since. He was thirty-two years old and was unmarried. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Barry, he is survived by three brothers and two sisters. The funeral services will be held from his late residence, 531 South Second street at 8:30 tomorrow morning and from St. Mary's church at 9 when a solemn high mass will be said for the repose of his soul.

Colonel George P. Olcott Appointed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, August 30.—Governor Voorhees yesterday appointed Assemblyman George P. Olcott, of East Orange, to succeed the late Dr. Gaunitt, of Burlington, as a member of the State Board of Health. The other members of the Board are physicians. It was their desire to have associated with them a sanitary engineer, and Mr. Olcott was selected.

Prohibitionists Rally.

The Union county Prohibitionists have arranged to hold a temperance Prohibition rally at Boynton Beach, Labor Day, September 3d. They are making arrangements to have the Middlesex county societies join them on this rally and will hold meetings at 10:30 in the morning and 1:45 in the afternoon.

MORE TIME TO BUILD.

EXTENSION GRANTED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF SPRINGFIELD LINE.

Railway Officials Charge Property Owners With Having Held Up the Building of the Road.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, Aug. 30.—At the meeting of the Township Committee held Tuesday night the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company asked for an extension of time in which to build the line from Westfield to Springfield. The committee extended the time to July 1st, 1901.

A petition signed by business men of Westfield was presented to the committeemen, asking them to use their best endeavors to see that the street railroad to Springfield was built as soon as possible. Colonel E. W. Hine, in his address to the committee, stated that his company had acted in good faith and that the road would have been running at this time had it not been for property owners on Broad street, who had delayed the company by going to the courts and certiorarring the proceedings. His company stood ready to commence the work within twenty-four hours after the obstructions were removed.

Col. Hine stated that the Westfield and Elizabeth Street Railway Company would be willing to co-operate with the Westfield golf players in establishing links on the Osborne farm, known as Osborne Heights, between Scotch Plains and Westfield.

JUST FOR FUN.

Boy Threw Brick and Tomato at Workmen and Then Got Horsewhipped for It.

John Canary, a small boy, threw tomatoes and then a brick at some workmen employed about the new station, as they were eating their lunch yesterday at noon. He did it just for fun. Then Robert Jahn, one of the workmen, horsewhipped Canary just for fun.

Patrolman Myers found Canary weeping profusly yesterday noon and inquired into the cause therefor. Then he arrested both Canary and Jahn and they were allowed to go to appear this morning before Mayor Rockfellow.

They came up and Canary first explained that he threw the tomatoes and the brick just for fun. He didn't want to hurt any body. Jahn, who is seventeen years old, said that he touched up the lad a little with a whip just for fun. The Mayor let them both go after explaining the need of trying some new line of fun for the future.

MICE AND MATCHES.

This Combination Thought to be Responsible for the Fire in Mrs. Conway's House.

It is now thought that mice and matches were responsible for the fire which destroyed almost the entire belongings of Mrs. Mary Conway, of West Fourth street, last Tuesday. Mrs. Conway was not at home at the time and her doors were all locked. For some time John Kuhn, who lives upstairs, detected smoke but thought nothing of it until he saw it coming from the windows. He then broke open a door and found the bureau ablaze. He carried it out to the yard and in doing so dropped several burning pieces which were unnoticed. It was some time before the blaze was extinguished and on re-entering the house it was found that the dropped pieces had set fire to several other articles which were also destroyed. But for a few spots in the floor the house was unharmed. Kuhn's hands and clothing were quite badly burned.

He Will Be Missed.

J. P. Laire and family, of Richmond street, left today for Trenton, where they will reside hereafter, on account of Mr. Laire's business, he having accepted the position of manager of the City Steam Laundry, South Stockton street. Plainfield loses one of her substantial business men, respected by all for his honorable dealings, and Trinity Reformed church loses one of its Godly Elders and teacher in the Sunday-school, whose place it will be hard to fill.

Hope Chapel Members in Charge.

About sixty members of the Christian Endeavor Society from Hope Memorial chapel went to the Westfield Fresh Air Camp last evening and took charge of the service which was conducted by Rev. G. Kennedy Newell. The meeting was a very interesting one. The trip was arranged by Fred Newman, of 112 West Fifth street.

DRESSED IN CALICO, DANCED IN RAGTIME.

Unique Social Affair Given at the Hotel Netherwood by the Guests.

FREAK COSTUMES SEEN.

SOCIETY BELLES WERE ATTIRED IN OUTLANDISH DRESS.

Genuine Street Piano Furnished Music — Miss Williams Fixed Up as a Negro "Mammie" and Made a Great Hit.

A strange crew took possession of the big ball room at the Hotel Netherwood last evening. Under the guise of some remarkable characters, familiar faces were finally recognized. A "Ragtime Calico Dance" was what this motley gathering was called. It was arranged by the guests at the Netherwood, and, of all the affairs of the summer, it was the most novel and one of the most successful.

The "Ragtime Calico Dance" opened with a grand march on somewhat novel lines. Little Walter Richard, of New York, conspicuous in a red sweater and a white vest, led the van. Then came a street piano, dragged by an Italian whom the guests had copiously adorned with yellow. His manipulation of the instrument didn't suit Miss Mildred Williams, however, so she took possession of the handle and ground out the popular airs in decidedly rag-time. It was Miss Williams, that charming young woman of Washington society, although it certainly didn't look much like her. She figured as an old negro "Mammie" with the aid of much burnt cork and a calico dress. Then she shuffled along in positively realistic fashion.

The rest of the guests, who had donned any outlandish costume for the occasion, fell in behind, two by two and paraded around the room. After everybody had laughed immoderately and guessed vainly as to identity of the participants, the young folks lined up for a Virginia reel. Some victims were rounded up to fill up the line and a jolly romp followed. The rest of the evening was devoted to the conventional waltz and two-step.

"Miss Scarlet Fever" was the sobriquet earned by Mrs. Spaulding, of New York. She wore a white gown fairly hidden under an array of red decorations. Miss May Coleman and Miss Helen Humphries, of Washington, D. C, were charming village maids in flashing gowns of a general assortment of colors. Countless colored bows covered the white gown worn by Miss Orcum, of New York. Miss Bertha C. Angevine, of Brooklyn, was very pretty as one of the æsthetic maidens, right from the scenes of the opera of "Patience." She wore sunflowers in profusion and a gown wonderful to behold. A bashful milkmaid, with white sunbonnet and calico gown, was finally identified as Miss Woodward, of Washington.

The general effect of the gown of Miss Hazel Clark, of New York, was blue. Miss Dickson, of Brooklyn, made a satisfactory Spanish peasant girl. Miss Florence Bruen, of Brooklyn, hailed from the peasantry of sunny Italy. Miss van Herwerden, of Plainfield, came as a maiden of Colonial days with powdered hair and simple costume. Miss Ruth Hall, of Washington, was the Colonial dame in all her glory. Miss Janet Mercer, of New York, went back to the costume of earlier days.

Norman Pendergast, of New York, appeared in a white duck suit as a French "count." A moustache and goatee were supplied and he went through the proper stunts with much glory to himself. A red hat, red bows on his shoes, a red necktie, and a general scattering of that brilliant color adorned his person. Charles Vaughn was attired in a similar fashion save that he was a "shirt waist" man.

Most wonderful to behold was F. Lloyd Kane, of New York. A more swell "coon" could hardly be imagined. He wore short white duck trousers and his shapely limbs were encased in stockings, designed as American flags. Edgar I. Serrell, of Plainfield, and Edward B. Fuller, of New York, were of a dusky hue and spent the evening looking for work, so they did. They were fitted out in overalls and jumpers. Another dusky dancer was James Dodd, of Plainfield, clad in a marvelous dress suit of bright yellow. His diamonds were dazzling.

Lacey Hall, of Washington, and Martin Haley, of New York, were costumed as cooks. Harry Ostermoor had his face blackened and wore his coat and trousers inside out. O. L. Richards, of New York, was gaily decorated with many colors. Leo Doherty, of Brooklyn, represented the "tough man," wore a blue and white sweater and carried a baseball bat. Among the "shirtwaist men" to appear on the floor were Morris Dument, Owen Fleming and William K. McClure, of this city, and Acton Poulet, of New York.

During the evening, Miss Harriett Lyman Tichenor, of Newark, gave a tamborine dance in costume. A cake walk was cleverly given by Mrs. Spaulding and James Dodd. Mrs. Horace E. Dickinson gave a graceful skirt dance.

GOOD ROADS IN HUNTERDON

Subject Will be Discussed at Joint Clambake of Freeholders of Hunterdon and Somerset.

The members of the Boards of Freeholders of Somerset and Hunterdon counties have arranged a clambake for Saturday afternoon on the occasion of their joint inspection of a bridge which is located on the boundary line between the two counties. There is a subject, however, which is going to be discussed at the meeting which will be of decided interest to the residents of both counties.

It is only of late that Somerset county has gone into the road making business, but the advantages of it are already manifest. Hunterdon county is practically barren of good macadam roads and the Freeholders of the county are beginning to see the necessity of providing some. The peach growers of that county are very anxious for better facilities to enable them to get their crop to market easily and quickly.

At the inspection the two Boards will consider the matter and try to unite their efforts in that line. Hunterdon county will start work next year if State aid can be secured. What roads will be chosen has not yet been decided.

ALMOST RODE INTO CANAL

Narrow Escape That J. B. Cleaver's Daughter Underwent in Bound Brook Yesterday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Bound Brook, Aug. 30.—Isabelle the seven-year-old daughter of J. B. Cleaver had a narrow escape from serious injury, if not death, yesterday afternoon. In company with a young friend she was riding on her bicycle to the Harvest Home in South Bound Brook where her father was to deliver an address. After crossing the bridge over the Raritan, she did not notice that the canal draw was open, and rode off the edge into the draw. The tow path is on that side, but is about twelve feet below the roadway. It was the railing that prevented little Isabelle from being precipitated into the water. She and her wheel struck this railing and were thrown back upon the tow path. Her friend saw the danger in time and stopped. The bridge tender and others immediately went to her assistance, and it was found that she was conscious, and with the exception of a cut across the forehead and some scratches and bruises, she was uninjured. The wheel was not damaged.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

Young Colored Couple United in Wedlock by Elder Benj. Hand, of West Second Street.

Louis Brown, of New Market, was wedded to Miss Mamie Smith, of this city, last evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Elder Benjamin Hand, of 321 West Second street. The young couple are colored people. Brown lives and works on the farm of his father, Louis G. Brown, near New Market. The bride has been employed at 334 East Fifth street.

The couple came unaccompanied save for the groom's parents. The bride was gowned in white organdie and wore a veil and orange blossoms. The groom wore the conventional evening dress. After the ceremony was performed the couple went to New Market, where a supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brown. The newly-married couple will be absent for two weeks and then take up their residence in Plainfield.

The Misses Barrett, of this city, are at the Delaware House, Lackawaxen, Pike county, Pa.

Miss Sallye Swayzee, of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Miss Louise Patton, of LaGrande avenue.

Mrs. Tallamy and daughter, Miss Ida Tallamy, of West Front street, have returned from Asbury Park.

COL. PRICE TO PRESIDE.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

Gen. Collins, of Boston, to be the Principal Orator—County Chairmen to Meet.

The Democratic State convention to name electors will be held in Taylor's Opera House, Trenton, two weeks from today. Colonel E. L. Price will be the temporary and permanent presiding officer, and the orator of the occasion will be General Patrick A. Collins, of Boston, who was permanent chairman of the Democratic National convention of 1888 and Consul-General to London from 1892 to 1896.

Chairman Gourley and Senator McDermott, of Hudson, had a long conference at the State headquarters in Jersey City yesterday about campaign affairs, and after it was over Mr. Gourley remarked that all the talk about a serious breach between himself and Leader "Bob" Davis was really amusing.

Secretary Devereux, of the State committee, has been instructed by Mr. Gourley to invite the various Democratic county chairmen to meet Mr. Gourley at the State headquarters next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for a conference. At this meeting the political situation is to be discussed and steps taken to perfect the Democratic organization wherever it requires strengthening. Mr. Gourley says he wants to see every election precinct in the State organized.

Colonel H. J. Budd, of Iowa, who has been collecting money in New Jersey for the Democratic national committee during the last few weeks, started for Ohio last night.

TO HOLD CLAM-BAKE.

North Plainfield Republican Club is Arranging an Outing to be Held at Mountainside Grove.

The North Plainfield Republican Club is planning to hold a clam bake at Mountainside Grove, September 12th. At a business meeting of that organization, held in DeMott's Hall last evening, arrangements for the affair were completed. Nat Astfalk has been engaged to prepare the bake which will begin at 7 o'clock. LaVere's Band will be on hand and begin a concert at 6:30 o'clock. Word was received from the State committee that good speakers would be provided for the occasion.

Delegates were elected to the annual meeting of the Republican State League at Jersey City, September 13th. The delegates chosen were as follows: Henry DeMott, Charles VanMiddlesworth, Harry Kitchell, Edward O. Clark and Robert M. Clark.

RAGGED AND DIRTY.

Forlorn Lad Picked Up and Kept in Station House Over Night.

Roundsman Flynn picked up a lad, ragged, dirty and barefooted, at the corner of Front street and Park avenue at 1 o'clock this morning. The lad was put in the station house for safe-keeping. He said that he was William Totten, the son of George Totten, who lives up on the mountain near Smalley's stone-crusher. He had been driven from home, he told the officer.

When Mayor Rockfellow interviewed the lad this morning William would have nothing to say except that he had been away from home for a week. He was a good boy, he thought, but had eaten nothing, slept not at all and done nothing all this week. The Mayor let the lad go, but asked him to bring his father to see the Mayor tomorrow afternoon.

Funeral of Andrew Uhdal.

The funeral services of Andrew Uhdal were held from his late residence on South avenue, yesterday afternoon. There were only a few of the most intimate friends and relatives of the family present. Rev. G. K. Newell officiated. The pall-bearers were two brothers, John and Peter Uhdal and the Messers. McFarley, of Elizabeth. The interment was made in Hillside.

Will Hear Witnesses.

John Burns came into City Court this morning on the complaint of Hackman Charles Berry, charged with striking and threatening the latter. There was a question of fact on which the men differed very materiall, so Mayor Rockfellow laid the the case over until next week when the witnesses will be summoned.

At Westfield Camp.

Meeting tonight at Fresh-Air Camp, Westfield, in charge of Y. P. C. E., of the First Presbyterian church. Members of society will take 7 o'clock trolley. Special musical program has been prepared.

MRS. ROGERS BESTS THE GOLF CHAMPION.

Plainfield Player Succeeded in Winning Over Miss Ruth Underhill Yesterday.

A CREDITABLE VICTORY.

MISS UNDERHILL'S CHANCES FOR THIS YEAR ARE BLASTED.

She Will Lose Her Title as Champion—Mrs. Rogers' Friends Greatly Pleased at Her Excellent Showing in the Contest.

Among the surprises which marked the first round of the match in the women's National golf championship at Southampton, L. I., yesterday, was the defeat of Miss Ruth Underhill, of the Nassau Country Club, who was the National champion last year, by Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of this city. Mrs. Rogers' friends were delighted when she qualified in the preliminary round, but it was generally conceded that she would be forced out in her match with Miss Underhill. Mrs. Rogers won one up, although her score by strokes was greater than that of Miss Underhill by two. Miss Underhill lost a chance of halving the match by missing a foot putt on the home green.

At Miss Underhill's strong points, approaching and putting, Mrs. Rogers proved fully her equal. The first three holes were halved in 6 each, and by the same figure Mrs. Rogers won the fourth. The champion took the fifth in a pretty put. A bogie 5 by Mrs. Rogers on the sixth, 308 yards gave her the lead again. Champion golf for the next three followed. The seventh, 357 yards, was halved in bogie 5. A drive upon the railroad bank lost the champion the eighth, and each did the long ninth in the grand score of 7.

The turn left Mrs. Rogers 2 up, and although Miss Underhill played her finest game on the last nine holes she was never able to get even with her steady going opponent. On the fifteenth green Mrs. Rogers led by a 3, but miserable play on the next, followed by a 4 by the champion on the seventeenth, lost her 3 points. Well on the home green in 2, a fine approach put landed Miss Underhill's ball close to the hole. Mrs. Rogers on the odd ay dead from a long put. Then came the fatal missed put and with it passed away Miss Underhill's chance to hold the title for another year.

The finish was all the harder for Miss Underhill to bear, because she is usually so deadly on the green.

"Who could imagine such a thing?" said Miss Underhill, in reply to the chorus of sympathy from her friends about the green. "It is absolutely too ridiculous to think of."

The cards were:

Mrs. N. P. Rogers, Hillside.

Carl Gallup Injured While in Bathing at Asbury Park.

Attorney Carl Gallup, of West Front street, returned yesterday from Asbury Park, where he has been for the past six weeks. Mr. Gallup went to the Park for two weeks and during that time, while in bathing, he was tossed up on the beach by a big wave in such a manner that the tendons about the right knee were torn. The injury was such that it caused intense pain and it prevented Mr. Gallup from coming home. He placed himself at once under the care of a physician, and it was not until yesterday that he would allow Mr. Gallup to return. During this time Mr. Gallup's parents were unaware of the accident and injury, as their son did not want to worry them. He is now able to be about with the aid of a cane.

Honeyman Party Home.

The steamer "Ems", carrying the Honeyman tourist party, was sighted late yesterday afternoon at Fire Island, but owing to limited accommodations at the steamship company's pier the steamer was unable to come in. She came up the bay this morning and went to her pier. A. V. D. Honeyman and Superintendent W. J. Wightman, of the Borough Public Schools, were passengers and they are expected to arrive home early this afternoon.

Republican Clambake.

An old fashioned Rhode Island clam bake will be given at Mountainside Grove on Wednesday, September 12th, by the Republicans of the borough. LaVere's Band will be present to discourse sweet melodies.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY

INTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference Press Readers

—The work of macadamizing Washington avenue in the city is nearly completed.

—You will never find any other pills so prompt and so pleasant as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. L. W. Randolph.

—Early next month the State Firemen's Relief Association will meet at Atlantic City. Among those who will attend is Chief T. O. Doane, of the fire department.

—John Powers, the druggist, has purchased from H. B. Chapman, of East Seventh street, the latter's excellent road horse, and he occasionally gets an opportunity to enjoy a pleasant drive.

—Complaints are daily being made by pedestrians against the bad condition of the boardwalk on Somerset place, near Somerset street. The authorities should look after this matter and have it repaired.

—The wolf in the fable put on sheep's clothing because if he traveled on his own reputation he couldn't accomplish his purpose. Counterfeiters of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve couldn't sell their worthless salves on their merits, so they put them in boxes and wrappers like DeWitt's. Look out for them. Take only DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It cures piles and all skin diseases. L. W. Randolph.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as L. W. Randolph secured the Agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50c and $1.00.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weida, of West Front street, have been entertaining company from Elizabeth.

Miss Mary French, of West Seventh street, has returned from Lake Hopatcong, where she has been spending her vacation.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

DOMESTIC LORE.

Odd Bits of Useful Information for the Young Housewife.

A lemon pie that is absolutely reliable is made in this way: Have ready the pastry shell. Dissolve one tablespoonful of cornstarch in a little cold water. Pour over it a teacupful of boiling water, stirring all the time until clear and free from lumps. Add one tablespoonful of butter and a small cupful of sugar and cook a few moments longer. Set on back of range and add the beaten yolks of two eggs, and the juice and grated yellow rind of one lemon. Stir until well blended and pour in crust. Set in the oven a few moments with the door left open, while preparing the meringue made from the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and two scant tablespoonfuls sugar. Spread evenly over the pie and set on the grate of the oven to rise slowly and brown, says the Washington Star.

A Colorado housewife, possessed of a knack of cooking and a large family of small boys with famous appetites, has improvised a new meat pie, which the family call delicious. When the big tin pan is filled with the meat, cut in squares, with its accompanying rich gravy, a layer of chopped watercress is added just before putting on the top crust. The pie is then baked until a rich brown, the cress adding greatly to its savory qualities.

In making a meringue it must always be borne in mind that the slower it is cooked or really dried the better. The reason so many housekeepers fail in making a thick, tender, meringue is because they make a mistake in the temperature of the oven. If the oven is too hot leave the door open. For all meringue allow a tablespoonful of powdered sugar to each egg.

Summer draperies were never daintier or prettier. Many of the muslin curtains with vertical cross stripes of flowers in delicate colors may be matched in wall papers and chintzes for furniture. A new summer fabric in soft coloring is linen taffeta.

And again: Place the butter in an earthen crock; set in a pan of water and cover pan and crock with a heavy cloth wrung out of water. By seeing that the cloth is kept wet the butter can be kept firm and sweet for days.

Plain boiled rice, served hot, with strained honey, makes an appreciated addition to the lunch table—or is excellent for a simple home dessert.

In preserving figs a little sliced lemon will be found a desirable addition.

CORBETT---M'COY.

A Battle Tonight—Fighters In Good Condition.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—After ineffectual attempts for the past two years to get James J. Corbett and Charles ("Kid") McCoy together without success on the part of the different match makers, Manager Kennedy of the Twentieth Century Athletic club has at last succeeded in bringing together two men who are conceded to be the cleverest and shiftiest artists of the prize ring Corbett and McCoy are to do battle to night at Madison Square Garden under the auspices of the Twentieth Century Athletic club.

Corbett and McCoy finished their training for the battle yesterday. McCoy put on the finishing touches of his preparation at Saratoga and announced at the conclusion of his day's work that he was fit to fight. He weighs ten pounds more than he ever has before and is satisfied that if he is beaten it will not be due to lack of condition. McCoy left Saratoga for this city last evening.

Corbett, who has been conditioning himself at Bath Beach, put a few finishing touches to his training yesterday with a little light sparring and bag punching. He devoted today to a good rest and left for the scene of battle this afternoon.

The betting on the result of the fight doesn't appear to be at all lively. On the contrary, the admirers of the pugilists are holding off for a slight advantage in the way of odds.

Liquor Dealers' Convention.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The annual convention of the New York State Liquor Dealers' association has begun here and will continue through today and tomorrow. There are about 500 delegates in attendance, 300 of whom come from New York city. The delegates were met on their arrival by the local members of the association to the number of 59, with a brass band, and a parade was made through the principal streets to the Morgan House, which is their headquarters. The Woman's Christian Temperance union is holding special prayer meetings while the convention is in session to counteract its influence if possible.

Progress of the Count.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The census of the 30 largest cities in the United States has been completed and made public, with the exception of Detroit, whose figures will probably be announced today. Director Merriam has begun making public the census of the cities of 25,000 population or over. There are 131 cities included in this second list, and their figures will be given out at intervals for some time. The returns from practically 22,000 out of 53,000 districts have been counted.

Cuban Teachers Reach Home.

HAVANA, Aug. 30.—The United States transports bearing the Cuban teachers who attended the Harvard summer school arrived off Havana last evening. Those teachers who belong to the Havana district will land immediately. Today the entire body will visit Cabanas and see the sights of Havana. General Rodriguez, the mayor, will give them a reception.

Captain Crenshaw's Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The war department has no information concerning the alleged ill treatment of Captain Crenshaw of Georgia, who died Tuesday and whose relatives say that he did not receive proper care on the transport Sherman. A telegram received at the war department from Captain Crenshaw's father made no allusion to the alleged ill treatment of his son.

Admiral Watson Homeward Bound.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Admiral Watson, aboard the Baltimore, left Greenock, Scotland, yesterday morning bound for home. The admiral had been proceeding leisurely homeward since he was detached from the command of the Asiatic station, and the Baltimore is scheduled to arrive in New York on Sept. 10.

The Czar Could Not Aid.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—"Dr. Leyds' interview with Emperor Nicholas," says a dispatch to The Daily Mail from St. Petersburg, "lasted barely five minutes. The czar said he was sorry that he could do nothing for the Transvaal except to urge it to make peace, as he hated all war."

Death of Mrs. Reese.

THE DOLLIES' PIC-NIC.

A number of sweet little dollies
Were lying close by on the shelf,
Contented to lay there together,
And not thinking at all of theirself,
When up jumped one bright-looking dollie
And cried out in a manner most gay:
Oh, dollies, let's have a real pic-nic!
And have it this day, right away!

MACHADODORP TAKEN.

Buller Meets With Little Opposition Boers Retire to the North.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Under date of Belfast, Aug. 28, Lord Roberts telegraphs the war office as follows:

"Buller's advanced troops occupied Machadodorp this afternoon. The enemy made a very poor stand and retired in a northerly direction.

"They were followed by Dundonald's mounted troops. These could not proceed beyond Helvetia owing to the difficult nature of the country and because the enemy was enabled to take up a position too strong to be dislodged by mounted troops.

"General Buller appears to have had few casualties.

"General French continued his movement today as far as Elandsfontein, from which place he turned out the enemy without difficulty. The enemy retired very quickly, leaving a quantity of cooked food.

"General French is within signaling communication with General Buller."

A Pretoria dispatch, dated Aug. 28, says:

"The force of General Baden-Powell and Hickman's mounted infantry are holding Warm Baths, 60 miles north of Pretoria.

"General Ian Hamilton and Colonel Mahon have arrived here with their troops. Colonel Mahon had only two days' rest last month. He made many long marches and took 12 prisoners a day on an average."

Body of Drowned Girl Found.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 30.—The body of Ida Corrigan, 15 years old, was found floating in the lake yesterday near where she was drowned. On July 7 the schooner yacht Idler capsized off the port of Cleveland during a heavy squall, and five women and girls and one baby of the families of John and James Corrigan, the wealthy vessel owners, were drowned, though all the members of the crew saved themselves. Captain James Corrigan has spent thousands of dollars in trying to recover the bodies of his two daughters, Ida, 15 years old, and Jane, 20 years old, which did not come to the surface. The body of Jane is still on the bottom of the lake, probably pinned down by wreckage. The captain of the Idler is under indictment for manslaughter.

Coal Operators Will Not Sign.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 30.—The coal operators in this section say the scale of wages adopted by the Hazleton convention will not be signed by a single operator. Operators interviewed on the question say the scale is too sweeping and if put into force would reduce producers of coal to bankruptcy in a short time. The miners, on the other hand, claim that the scale is a just one and that the coal companies would only be giving the men their rights by signing it. Whether a strike will follow the refusal of the operators to sign is a question that is now being widely discussed. It is a well known fact that, despite the action of the Hazleton convention, a great many miners are opposed to going out.

Missing Husband Returns.

TRENTON, Aug. 30.—Elizabeth Festimore of Orange has filed a petition in the court of chancery for the annulment of her marriage to Joseph Festimore, which took place in 1872. At the time of the marriage Mrs. Festimore believed her first husband, Alfred T. Brown, to be dead. The woman and Brown were married in 1860 in Camden. They moved to Orange, where they lived until 1872, when Brown disappeared. In 1878 Mrs. Brown received information that her husband had died of fever in South America. Four years later she married Festimore. In June of the present year Brown reappeared.

Another Hitch In Peru.

LIMA, Aug. 30.—After the constitution of the proposed new cabinet had been officially gazetted events occurred which completely upset the coalition ministry. Two members refused to accept the portfolios tendered them, and then Dr. Candamo and Senor Carlos Pierola, who have been co-operating with President Romna in the matter, announced that they would retire from all further connection with it. The president is thus still without a cabinet.

Express Office Robbed.

LARIMORE, N. D., Aug. 30.—Two masked men entered the Great Northern express office and at the point of a gun compelled Agent Harry Nelson to open the safe. They also shot at him. They took $95 and disappeared. Express company officials are here to investigate.

A Plot to Burn Shanghai.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—The Frankfort Zeitung has received a dispatch from Shanghai saying a plot has been discovered there to burn the whole city. It is added that the Europeans consider the streets unsafe after nightfall, and the general situation is described as critical.

Another Battleship Ready.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—The battleship Wisconsin will go out on her trial trip on Sept. 15. Preparations for the event have already begun. The Wisconsin is larger than the Oregon by 2,000 tons displacement.

Tin Plate Troubles Probably Settled.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 30.—The final conference on the tin plate wage scale will be held in this city tomorrow, and there seems to be no doubt now that a settlement will be reached and all the tin plate plants in the country started at an early date.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Organization Attends to the Transaction of Business.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS GOES OVER.

Commander Shaw's Proposition to Change Date of Memorial Day to the Last Sunday In May Is Defeated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Yesterday was for the G. A. R. as an organization strictly a day of business. For those members who were not burdened with the responsibilities attending the position of a delegate to the convention of the Grand Army it was a day for anything and everything but business. From morning until night the convention labored at its work in Studebaker hall, listening to numerous reports from officers and committees, while the vast majority of the old soldiers went to the parks, took boat rides upon the lake, and those who had not seen blood enough in their younger days accepted an invitation from the packers to visit the stockyards, where they beheld more slaughter than had taken place at the "bloody angle" at Spottsylvania and in the "bloody lane" at Antietam combined.

The convention opened at 10:30 o'clock, and from the start business was pushed with energy. The opening session was entirely of a social character and was open to the public. The afternoon meeting was of an executive character.

When the convention met in the afternoon, the first thing taken up was the report of the pension committee. This would contain, it was generally thought, some war statements, but there were none. There was not in the report a specific declaration or recommendation upon any subject.

The report of Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart said that the total membership of the Grand Army of the Republic in good standing on June 30, 1899, was 6,905 posts, with a membership of 287,981, while on June 30, 1900, it was 6,778 posts, with a membership of 276,662. The report of the adjutant general shows Illinois to be fourth in the list of states from the point of number of veterans. The four largest departments are: New York, 32,106; Pennsylvania, 29,819; Ohio, 23,897; Illinois, 23,037. The high water mark of membership was reached in 1890, with 409,489 members. The present members number 276,662. During the last year $129,279.26 was expended for the relief of veterans.

The report of Surgeon General William H. Baker contained a number of interesting statistics showing the rate at which the old soldiers are dying. During the last year 7,857 deaths occurred, 363 of them from wounds received while in service, and 2,296 from disease contracted in service.

After the pension committee had presented its report silver services were presented to Adjutant General Stewart and Past Commander Johnson as a token of the esteem in which they are held by their comrades.

The committee which had taken the annual message of Commander In Chief Shaw under consideration reported approval of all his suggestions with the exception of that relating to the change of the date of Memorial day from May 30 to the last Sunday in May. On this the committee reported adversely, and their report was adopted by the convention.

An adjournment was then taken until this morning.

No opposition has developed to Judge Rassieur of St. Louis in his candidacy for the position of commander in chief, and it is practically certain that he will be elected on the first ballot. There has been very little talk regarding the place of the next encampment, but two places, Denver and Salt Lake City, having been mentioned.

Prince Ferdinand May Abdicate.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—As a result of the friction between Roumania and Bulgaria over the latter's delay in complying with the demand of the former for the suppression of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, the Bulgarian diplomatic agent at Bucharest, Dr. D. Theodoroff, has been recalled. According to the Vienna correspondent of The Daily Express the Wiener Abendblatt asserts that Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria has threatened to abdicate unless the quarrel with Roumania is amicably settled.

Germany's Coal Famine.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—The coal famine in Germany has become very serious, and a number of chambers of commerce have petitioned the government for relief. The Prussian cabinet has resolved to grant a modified railroad tariff for foreign coal in order to facilitate the importation of coal from England and the United States. Indeed the famine is so pronounced that the Prussian minister of railways, in the interest of the state, has laid an embargo on all the coal mined in the state mines.

Democrats Favor Magee.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 30.—The Democratic convention of the Forty-third senatorial district met last night and unanimously nominated C. L. Magee, the present Republican incumbent, for re-election and passed resolutions recommending that Democratic members of the legislature throughout the state champion and support C. L. Magee for the United States senate to succeed M. S. Quay. Forty delegates out of 41 in the district were present and voted for the resolution.

To Reduce Wages.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 30.—Notices have been posted at the docks of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company that a reduction of 25 cents a day will take effect on Saturday, Sept. 11, in the wages of all the walkers employed there. The men announce that the reduction will not be accepted and that if the notices are not recalled a general strike will ensue.

Drowned In Mirror Lake.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Richard Tyler, 34 years of age, of New Brighton, a guest at the Placid clubhouse, Lake Placid, N. Y., was drowned in Mirror lake, near Lake Placid, yesterday while in bathing. His nephew, Cyril Tyler, had a narrow escape from drowning, but was saved by Swimming Instructor Allen of the Placid club.

THE BRITISH POLICY.

Will Take No Responsibility In China's Restoration.

SHANGHAI REPORTS TUAN SLAIN.

Story of a Great Japanese Victory and the Killing of Fifteen Hundred Boxers—Terrrible Conditions In Peking.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Amid the growing difficulties of the Chinese imbroglio Mr. Brodrick's emphatic declaration at Thorncombe last evening proves that the British government does not yet see any cause to depart from the line of policy decided upon—namely, to take no responsibility for the administration of China.

Mr. Brodrick said he hoped it would not be supposed that the government was pusillanimous in this respect. Its object was to maintain British interests. It was quite ready to take its share of the white man's burden, but could not admit that the nature of that burden should be dictated to it by the yellow man.

"Here," The Morning Post observes, "is where the difficulty of selecting a policy comes in. We cannot decamp and leave the powers to settle the matter between them."

Sir Chih Chen Lohfengluh, the Chinese minister in London, asserts that he is in constant communication with Li Hung Chang, who is still in Shanghai.

Dispatches received this morning bring no later Peking news. A Shanghai telegram says that Li Hung Chang has sent a memorial begging the empress dowager to appoint Prince Ching, General Yung Lu and the Yang-tse viceroys as joint peacemakers with himself.

It is rumored at Shanghai that the Japanese gained a great victory over the Boxers and Chinese troops from Peitsang and Ho-si-wu last Thursday at Teh-chou. The story says that 1,500 Chinese were killed, including Prince Tuan, and that all the Chinese were driven back into Chi-li.

The reform party, under Kang Yu Wei, is said to be actively preparing for rebellion.

General Creagh, in the presence of Vice Admiral Seymour, reviewed 3,000 troops of all nationalities at Shanghai Wednesday.

It is reported from Hankow that 25 reformers have been executed, their heads being exposed.

The Taku correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, wiring Aug. 26, says that the country around Taku and Peking is devastated, with the result that the Boxers are most unpopular and are being attacked by the peasantry. The Boxers who were moving north from Shangtung are now returning hastily to their homes.

Belated dispatches and the stories of refugees arriving from Chefu continue to describe the terrible conditions in Peking. One of the worst incidents is the shocking desecration of the foreign cemetery outside the west wall. The details are too revolting to be described. Hundreds of bodies of Chinese are found in the streets of Peking, supposed to be those of traitors to the cause of the Boxers.

Anxiety For Missionaries.

BOSTON, Aug. 30.—The greatest anxiety of the American board relates to its group of missionaries in the province of Shansi. Nothing whatever has been heard from them since early in June. The missing missionaries are Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Clapp, Rev. C. L. Williams, Rev. E. W. Davis, Miss Rowena Bird and Miss Mary L. Partridge of the Taku station and Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Price, Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Atwood and several children of the Fen-chow-fu station.

Foreigners Duped and Slain.

CHEFU, Aug. 30.—Yu, governor of the province of Shensi, is reported to have invited the foreigners in the province to come to his protection. About Aug. 21 50 accepted the invitation, and all were massacred.

Russians Start For Peking.

TIEN-TSIN, Aug. 23, via Chefu, Aug. 30.—One thousand Russians left Tientsin for Peking today. The country here is quiet.

Stolen Goods Shipped as Alcohol.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—District Attorney Wood of Dutchess county has caused the arrest of James Curlew, a saloon keeper of Low Point; William Post, bartender for Curlew, and Walter Vermilyea and Wallace Van Voorhees. It is alleged that the men had an organized system of stealing harness, robes, etc., from barns and shipping the booty in whisky barrels labeled "Pure alcohol" to confederates in other places, who disposed of it. Post has told the authorities where some of the stolen goods are buried near Peekskill, and officers have gone there to look for them.

Tivoli License Is Revoked.

ALBANY, Aug. 30.—Through proceedings instituted by State Commissioner of Excise Lyman the liquor tax certificate of the Tivoli, a resort on West Twenty-fifth street, New York city, has been revoked and canceled because the place was of a disorderly character and sold liquors during prohibited hours in violation of the liquor law. Justice Gildersleeve of the supreme court granted the order revoking the certificate, which was in the name of Edward F. O'Connor.

Repeal Bills Introduced.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Aug. 30.—In both houses of the legislature yesterday bills were introduced to repeal and to amend the Goebel election law. There are dozens of other similar bills to be introduced, but it is not likely that any measure will receive favorable consideration until after some election system has been agreed upon at the Democratic joint caucus of senators and representatives.

German Hemp Culture.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—Owing to the Philippine troubles manila hemp has risen 50 per cent, and now several large German companies have been formed, one of which has government connections, to start manila hemp culture in German East Africa, where the experiments have proved very successful.

Bandits Raid Canton.

HONGKONG, Aug. 30.—Two hundred bandits raided the Tartar city of Canton Monday night. Several houses were looted. It is believed that the motive of the raid was the Cantonese hatred of the northerners. It is rumored at Amoy that 12,000 Japanese troops are coming from Formosa.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. ART OF CONVERSATION.

Mrs. Burton Kingsland Tells What Things to Say and What Things to Leave Unsaid.

It is better to be frankly dull than pedantic.

One must guard one's self from the temptation of "talking shop" and of riding one's "hobby."

Whatever sets one apart as a capital "I" should be avoided.

A joke or humorous story is dependent upon its freshness for appreciation. Some emotions will not bear "warming over."

It is no longer considered good form to say a word against anyone. An ill-natured criticism is a social blunder. Gossip, too, is really going out of fashion.

True wit is a gift, not an attainment. Those who use it aright never yield to the temptation of saying anything that can wound another in order to exhibit their own cleverness. It is natural and spontaneous. "He who runs after wit is apt to catch nonsense."

Talk that has heartiness in it and the liveliness and sparkle that come of lightheartedness and innocent gayety is a fairly good substitute for wit.

Offer to each one who speaks the homage of your undivided attention. Look people in the face when you talk to them.

Talk of things, not persons. The best substitute for wisdom is silence.

It is a provincialism to say "yes, sir," "no, ma'am," to one's equal.

Have convictions of your own. Be yourself and not a mere echo.

Never ask leading questions. We should show curiosity about the concerns of others only so far as it may gratify them to tell us.

Draw out your neighbor without catechizing him. Correct him, if necessary, without contradicting him. Avoid mannerisms.

Strive to be natural and at ease. The nervousness that conceals itself under affected vivacity should be controlled, as should the loud laugh.—Mrs. Burton Kingsland, in Ladies' Home Journal.

ESCAPED IN A COFFIN.

The Thrilling Experience of Father Stette In His Flight From China.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 30.—Among the refugee missionaries there are few who have had such a thrilling experience as the Rev. Father Stephanus Stette of Hingshiu station. His place was attacked on July 4, and he owes his escape to the reverence of the Chinese for the dead. He was dumped into a box somewhat resembling a coffin and in this way was carried by native Christians a distance of over 300 miles to Lien Chau, the journey taking about seven days. Of course the party was frequently stopped on the way, but when informed that the box contained a human body which was being carried to its native country for burial all inquiries were satisfied.

On reaching Lien Chau one of the native Christians hunted up a boatman who agreed to take him and two friends to Canton for $10. When he found out, however, that one of the party was a European he demanded more pay, and ultimately $50 was agreed upon. During the trip down the river the boatman, thinking this a good chance to make money, threatened to have Father Stette thrown overboard unless 300 ounces of silver were turned over to him. Putting on a bold front the refugees informed the boatman he could have double that amount if he took them safely to Canton, where, they said, the missionary had a rich brother residing. He accordingly landed them safely in Canton and accompanied them to the head of the Roman Catholic mission there and subsequently to the French consul, who gave him a fair recompense for his trouble.

Father Jeremiah of Pashan was saved by an old Chinese woman, who, though a heathen, was moved to pity by his distressed condition and hid him for six days in a rice box. At the end of the six days the disturbance had subsided somewhat and he managed to get away to Hankow.

Atlanta's Mayor to Be Impeached.

ATLANTA, Aug. 30.—Mayor James G. Woodward on next Tuesday will be forced to stand trial for impeachment on charges of drunkenness and consequent neglect of duty. The city council has passed a resolution calling on the city attorney to prepare impeachment articles, appointing a committee of three, Malson, Johnson and Rawson, to assist the city attorney in preparing the charges and fixing the time for the beginning of the trial at 10 o'clock on Sept. 4 in council chambers. Judge H. M. Reid is named in the resolution as presiding officer of the impeachment court by virtue of his office.

Pickpockets Overlook $15,000.

CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—Jacob Kohner, a stock man of Eau Claire, Wis., is out a roll of greenbacks amounting to $145, but still has $15,000 which was in the same pocket with the missing sum. The $15,000 in $1,000 notes is now in the safe at the Harrison street police station, while the owner is under the surveillance of the police in order that he may not fall prey to any more confidence men and pickpockets. He arrived from Wisconsin on Tuesday and sold stock amounting to $15,145. He then went out to see the town.

Knierien Dies of His Wound.

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Albert Knierien, a prominent Democratic politician, is dead at the Nyack hospital as the result of a gunshot wound received at the hands of Frank Quinlan of Piedmont last Saturday. Quinlan and Henry McDonald were engaged in a row when Knierien separated them and took Quinlan home. The latter afterward went to Knierien's house and shot him. Knierien was brought to the hospital Monday. His assailant escaped.

Lightning's Pranks at Goshen, N. Y.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Lightning struck the stone spire of the Presbyterian church at Goshen yesterday afternoon, hurling several large stones through the roof and badly damaging the organ. The same church was struck a year ago with similar results. At the same time the church was struck yesterday afternoon lightning caused a panic on a loaded trolley car near Goshen. One woman was burned by the electric current.

No Race This Year.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The Daily Telegraph prints an interview with Sir Thomas Lipton at Queenstown, in the course of which he said it was impossible that any fixture for an international race could be made as yet. He declared that he would name his new yacht Shamrock, and he denied the report that he intended to make the challenge under the auspices of the Cork club.

Letter Carriers In Shirt Waists.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—Postmaster Mahony of Passaic, N. J., has issued an order which formally allows the Passaic letter carriers to wear shirt waists during the hot spell. They are especially forbidden to wear suspenders with the waists. They will not appear in their new uniforms until they can secure waists as nearly alike as possible.

New York State Fair.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 30.—Yesterday was record day at the state fair, fully 45,000 people being on the grounds. The horse show continues to be the center of attraction. Twenty-five classes of horses from the leading stables of the country appeared in the ring and were judged. The capacity of the grand stands was tested at the races.

Benefit For Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—John L. Sullivan was given a rousing benefit at the Twentieth Century club in Madison Square Garden last night. The sum realized from the sale of tickets and subscriptions will be a large one. It will be held in trust by a committee who will invest the money and pay the interest to Sullivan.

Americans Buy Russian Railway.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—A group of American financiers, according to a dispatch from Moscow to The Daily Express, has acquired the Moscow Archangel railway. A company has been formed. It is believed that Messrs. Marmonton, the famous Moscow millionaires, will retain a large interest.

Midroaders Open Headquarters.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 30.—National headquarters of the Middle of the Road Populists were opened yesterday at 341 Fifth street, this city, with National Chairman Joseph A. Parker in charge. It is the intention of the committee to make a particularly hard fight in Kentucky, the leaders say.

CABINET IN COUNCIL.

All Day Session to Discuss Chinese Situation.

THE POWERS DO NOT AGREE.

United States Opposes Partition—Germany, Great Britain and Japan Not Averse to Division of the Empire—Li's Credentials.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A special meeting of the cabinet, lasting all day and broken only by a short recess for luncheon, marked the intense interest the administration feels in the Chinese problem. It was the longest cabinet session of the present administration.

The attitude of Germany was the subject of much official discussion during the day, and considerable new light was thrown upon it. Early in the day the German charge d'affaires, Baron Speck von Sternberg, had a long conference with Acting Secretary Adee. It is understood that any question which may have arisen as to the future course of Germany is met by a reference to an official note by Count von Bulow, German minister of foreign affairs, issued on July 2, which fully defined Germany's purposes in China. This note of the German chancellor followed within ten days of Secretary Hay's note to the powers on July 3 and is somewhat analogous in setting forth Germany's intentions. Count von Bulow's note said:

"Our aim is the restoration of security for persons and property, freedom of action for German subjects in China, the rescue of the foreigners beleaguered in Peking, the re-establishment of security and regular conditions under a properly organized Chinese government and reparation and satisfaction for the outrages committed. We desire no partition of China and seek no special advantages. The imperial government is imbued with the conviction that the maintenance of the agreement between the powers is a primary condition for the restoration of peace and order in China."

One of the best posted men of the diplomatic corps who is actively engaged in present negotiations sums up the international complication substantially as follows:

"The powers were in complete accord up to the time of the taking of Peking. But with that accomplished the more important question arose as to the future course of the powers in dealing with China, and on that there is not as yet any complete accord. Thus far it seems plain that the United States opposes the dismemberment of China or any move toward territorial extension there, and in this position Russia and France seem to agree. On the other hand, while there is nothing definite indicating territorial expansion, yet the exchanges have led to the belief that Germany, Great Britain and probably Japan are not averse to a course which will bring about territorial divisions within the empire. It was supposed that Japan stood against any division of the empire, but the landing of Japanese troops at Amoy cannot be accounted for on the ground that a Japanese temple has been burned. So that it is the accepted view that Japan is at least making ready to be in a position to share in any division of territory which must come.

"The course of Russia in taking Newchwang cannot be viewed in the same light as the landing of troops at Amoy or Shanghai, as this was for the sole purpose of protecting Russia's railway line, and any ulterior territorial purposes have been disclaimed by Russia. So far as Great Britain's purposes are concerned, in the absence of any express declaration, the landing of troops at Shanghai is strong evidence that Great Britain wishes to control the Yang-tse valley, which is the garden of China. On the part of Germany, the doubt as to her future course is due mainly to Count Waldersee's speeches since the taking of Peking. These have indicated that he was going on an extended campaign and that the fall of the Chinese capital was only the initial step in a comprehensive programme, requiring the presence of a large army. Just what this means is not clear, but it has at least created much surprise in Washington and some other capitals.

"The differences over Li Hung Chang's credentials are threefold. One view, including that of the United States, is that the credentials are acceptable, another is that they have never been shown to carry complete authority, while the third is that the original credentials were valid at the time given, but have since become invalid through the flight of the emperor and empress dowager and the complete collapse of the Chinese government. The question of credentials does not seem so difficult to deal with, and it probably will be solved to the satisfaction of all concerned, but it is not clear thus far that the powers can be brought into complete accord on a general policy for the future of China. Each appears to be waiting for the other to act, and on the part of some there is a traditional disinclination to go into the outlining of policies."

A German View.

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—With reference to the future administration of China a high official of the German foreign office said today:

"It is premature to talk of the form of government that will be set up in China, but the probabilities point toward a condominium of some kind, inasmuch as the powers will not trust the Chinese government to carry out the reforms that may be agreed upon by them. It will be necessary to keep watch upon the Chinese authorities in some way. Herr von Brandt, former minister of Germany to China, who was interviewed regarding the situation, made the following statement:

"It is an error to assume that the Chinese trouble is at an end with the relief of the foreign legations. As a matter of fact it has but just begun, because now the divergent interests of the powers are asserting themselves. No doubt the United States would conclude peace immediately and act as a mediator if, unfortunately, Chinese duplicity were not so apparent. Russia wants the empress dowager retained. Great Britain wants Emperor Kwang Su at the head of affairs. Germany runs the risk of being isolated or of being compelled to confront a coalition of several powers if after the arrival of Count von Waldersee she should wish to continue military action, perhaps even single handed, or if in her demands for redress she should go further than the powers principally interested in China."

That the business men of the city of Paterson are alive to the advantages and benefits to be gained from the operation of industrial plants in their town is shown in the movement to secure a controlling interest in the Rogers Locomotive Works. The concern, which employs a large number of mechanics, is threatened with an idle season. Realizing the potency of the busy mechanic in making business brisk and profitable, the Paterson merchants are taking steps to avoid the suspension of work at the locomotive plant by organizing a company to assume control of the industry and keep it running. Jacob Rogers, the head of the concern, says that he is willing to entertain and accept any reasonable offer for the plant. If the scheme of local control and direction is consummated, it will be a monument to the enterprise and hustling abilities of the Paterson business men.

Samuel S. Childs, whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Third District as an opponent of Congressman Howell, has asked that his name be not further considered with reference to the honor. Mr. Childs states that the extension of his business interests demands his entire attention, and consequently he would be unable to devote the time necessary to a successful campaign if nominated.

The Democratic primaries throughout Union county for the selection of delegates to the State and Congressional conventions will be held September 7th, and in accordance with the arrangements of the county committee the Democratic city committee will issue the call for the primaries very shortly. Delegates will be elected on the basis of one for every two hundred Democratic votes cast in the last Gubernatorial election.

The renomination of Lewis J. Martin for State Senator by the Democrats of Sussex county appears to have been determined upon. Senator Martin's plurality in 1897 was 281, and upon this margin he succeeded a Republican. It is said that the Republicans of that county will make an earnest effort to defeat Mr. Martin.

The Middlesex county delegation to the Third Congress district Republican convention, to be held at New Brunswick, September 5th, has been chosen, and is a unit for the renomination of Benjamin F. Howell. There is every indication that Mr. Howell will be renominated by acclamation.

PASSING COMMENT

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The period of Saturday half-holidays for most of the New York business men is practically over. Many of the large business establishments of New York ended the half holidays for their employes with the last Saturday in August, which came last week. Others will keep up the custom until Labor Day. This system of Saturday half-holidays has been very largely observed this year, even more so than usual. The change to the old order of things will be quite noticeable in the Saturday afternoon traffic on the railroads leading out of New York. The Saturday afternoon specials will, several of them, be laid off entirely or else considerably reduced in size.

Dogs are not supposed to be allowed in the passenger cars of the Jersey Central Railroad but occasionally a well-behaved canine goes aboard a train with its master or mistress and is allowed to remain. The other day a woman started to board one of the trains at a station not far from Plainfield. She had her dog by the collar and was about to lead the animal up the steps.

"Madam," said the brakeman, "we cannot allow that dog in there. You will have to take him up to the baggage car." The mistress of the dog released her pet and he promptly dived under the train and came up the steps on the other side when the brakeman's back was turned.

The brakeman came in the car in time to see the dog walking up the aisle. He seized the animal by the collar and started to drag it to the door. The dog carefully allowed first one ear and then the other to slip through the collar and finally shook his head clear of it and walked back to his mistress.

The brakeman walked to where the owner of the dog sat. "Madam," he said, "Your dog has earned his passage." And he laid the collar down on the seat beside her and returned to his post.

Rev. F. L. West, pastor of the M. E. church, Mount Carmel, Ill., is the guest of C. W. Eoff, of Crescent avenue.

Miss Bessie Martin, of Jackson avenue, left yesterday for Basking Ridge, where she will visit her friend, Miss Edna Bowers, for two weeks.

Driver William Townley, of the fire department, will return from his vacation September 4th, and this will close the vacation season for the department employes.

Buchanan, Mich., May 22,
Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:
Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your GRAIN-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain-O every week. I am ten years old.

DUNELLEN.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Dunellen, August 30.—Another delightful lawn party was given to a few juvenile acquaintances by Mrs. John Conklin yesterday. The affair was given in honor of Miss Laura Conklin, of Somerville, who is visiting her. The children enjoyed themselves immensely all the afternoon playing on the lawn, and when completely tired out the party was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments. It was about 6 o'clock when the guests bid their hostess good night. Those present were Pearl Dodwell, Mamie Logan, Irina Mulford, Helen Shively, Bert Mulford, Benny Dodwell and Leo Logan.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, August 30.—Two cases of assault and battery were heard in Judge Clark's court yesterday. Charles Donaldson was brought before the court charged with assault and battery upon his father, John Donaldson. The complainant swore that the son not only assaulted him, but that both he and the rest of the family were in danger of their lives as the boy's actions had led them to believe him insane. The prisoner pleaded guilty to the assault charge and the judge concluded from the evidence presented to commit him to the county jail to await the action of the October Grand Jury and to have the prisoner examined as to his sanity. The second case of assault was one from Dog Corners. Ernest Tietz was the complainant and swore that his son was assaulted, bruised and choaked August 28.h by one John Doel, another resident of that section. A warrant was given and the prisoner was brought before the court to answer to the charge. The evidence presented was strong enough for the court to hold the prisoner under bail for the October Grand Jury. Not being able to procure the necessary bond the prisoner was taken as a boarder by the county until October.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Beekon, of Fanwood, have returned from their summer outing of several weeks which was spent in Maine. Mr. Beekon returns much improved in health.

—Three hundred baskets of fine Jersey peaches are being received daily at Neuman Brothers. They sell for 25, 50 and 75 cents a basket.

—Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign going without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

AN AMIABLE DUCHESS.

Her Grace of Sutherland Is Immensely Popular in England as Well as in Scotland.

Every inch a duchess is her tall, fair grace of Sutherland. No woman in England is more intelligent and modern in her ideas, enjoys more varied interests and graces her strawberry-leaved coronet with a more conscientious endeavor to do what is becoming and worthy of a woman and a peeress. The duchess springs from a noble family of Rosslyn, and two of her sisters, the countess of Warwick and Lady Angela Forbes, are as famous for their brains and beauty as she.

Not only does she come of one of the richest Scottish families, but, after a year in society, she married the richest young bachelor duke in England. She is the mistress of five superb homes, and in London, at Stafford house, and in the north country, at Dunrobin castle, she is reckoned one of the handsomest and most powerful social leaders of English society. In spite of her riches and the adulation that is her share, this tall, slender and gracious woman takes a deeper interest in scientific philanthropy, the education of children and the cause of woman suffrage than in balls and dinners.

Under her patronage the cottage industries of Scotland have enjoyed a remarkable prosperity. In the big cities of Scotland, in London, and even in New York, she has established shops that do a fine business in the extensive manufactures of the Scottish peasantry. Perhaps, if she is something of a socialist, like her older sister, the countess of Warwick, she is very consistent in her creed, and at her castle in the north she is tenderly loved by the poorer classes, in her relations with which she is both sensible and sincere.

The greater portion of the duchess' time is spent at Dunrobin leading a very simple life with her small family, tramping and riding about in a rough, short-skirted tweed gown, followed by her dogs and accompanied very often by her blond-headed little daughter, Lady Rosemary, who wears heavy boots and dull knickerbockers, who has a playmate in every cottager's child, and who is firmly grounded in the belief that a duke's daughter is no better than a farmer's, only more lucky.

Luscious Fruits.

Some are home grown, some are from California and Florida and some are imported. Among the first are berries, grapes, apples, delicious muskmelons, etc.

The second lot includes peaches, plums, pears, pineapples, bananas, etc. The foreign fruits are lemons, oranges, bananas, etc.

The fruits we offer are of delightful flavor and in perfect condition.

THE MODE.

Hints of What Is to Be Expected For Next Winter.

Redingotes of glace taffeta are a novelty. They are decorated with embroidery and lace to simulate a bolero or are laid in stitched plaits which flare into fullness toward the foot.

Gowns entirely of lace or largely composed of it continue to be worn, and this fashion is likely to extend into the winter for reception and evening costumes.

The bodice differing from the skirt is promised another long lease of life. So useful and convenient is it that fashion is compelled to recognize it still, in spite of the efforts that have been made to throw it out of favor. These efforts have been futile, and modistes, always anxious for changes which necessitate a new wardrobe, are obliged to satisfy themselves by modifying the separate bodice in various ways and varying the trimming, instead of disposing of it altogether and substituting something less economical.

The cut shows a wrapper of crepon, hanging straight from a yoke composed of bands of guipure alternating with muslin puffs. The top of the sleeves is like the yoke, and both are outlined by a satin ribbon which ties in front with long, fringed ends. The sleeves are bell shaped, open at the wrist and terminating with a band of feather stitching and a fall of guipure. Around the foot of the gown are two ruffles.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

Revival of the Corselet—Evening Dress by Daylight.

The past fashion of corselets is again revived. They are plaited, wrinkled, crossed or draped, and even assume the form of the Swiss girdle. This has a decided influence upon the effect of the blouse or shirt waist and quite changes its aspect. The corselet gives a stiffer, more conventional aspect to the figure, but on the other hand, it defines it and makes it appear slenderer, and to plump women who have no supple effect to be sacrificed by it, it is undoubtedly advantageous. The slender, willowy figure is always most picturesque in soft folds.

Transparent guimpes and sleeves are universally worn and have indeed been made common by being adopted by women who have the bad taste to wear them in the street. Nothing is more vulgar than to display the shoulders and arms to the general public in the daytime and out of doors; hence fastidious women are inclined to hold back from even the proper use of transparent gowns which may well be worn on warm days in the house or at private social reunions.

Today's illustration depicts a gown of yellow foulard with a printed floral design in blue. The skirt is plain. The bodice forms a slight blouse in front and is crossed, fastening with fancy oval buttons. The plastron, as well as the blouse, is ornamented with lines of white stitching, and the collar and belt are of plain yellow foulard. The hat of ficelle straw is trimmed with a drapery of straw colored tulle and clusters of blue flowers.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

The Chipmunk at His Toilet.

The chipmunk is industrious in all weathers, except the very rainy, although he is rather shy on a very windy day. The rustling and waving branches make him wary. He eats sitting on his haunches and holding his food in his forepaws. He drinks by lapping like a dog. He is very neat about his person, combing out his fur and his long tail with paws and teeth. He washes his face by lapping his forepaws and then rubbing them both at the same time over his face with such speed that the eye can hardly follow his motions.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Bulletin of the Iamatological Bureau of America

No. 1265

There is probably no disease that more requires, in the process of cure, the healthy action of every organ, than dyspepsia. Again, there is no disease with such a pronounced morbid systemic influence. Abernethy made the axiom, "To cure a gastric disorder, every organ must be exercising its functions." The Father of Medicine gave the science the equally notable proverb: "The stomach hath its wholesome or its unhealthy effect on the body. * * * A good stomach signifies health; an evil one, disease."

The Iamatological Bureau has, in the interests of medicine, conducted a series of researches on Ripans Tabules, a domestic remedy of large and growing favor, and, in pronouncing a therapeutical estimate, cannot be more emphatic than to use these two familiar good words as texts. Depending upon the chemical and physiological agreement of tests, and confirming the same by repeated clinical proof, we determine this remedy of value, because:

I. It acts to cure functional disorders of the stomach by primarily acting upon that organ and at the same time carrying a like consonant action to the other organs of the body.
II. Ignoring gastric disorders it is contributory to the health of the entire system.
In determining the determination, we are led to attribute them because of certain physiological actions which may be specified and described as follows, viz.:
1. It emulsifies albumen into peptone.
2. It stimulates the gastric glands, so that the flow of gastric juice is increased. This flow is normal and physiological.
3. It has an antiseptic action, by virtue of which it prevents the decomposition and fermentation of the contents of the stomach.
4. It has a like antiseptic action in the intestines.
5. It dissolves any and all unhealthy mucus that may sheath the walls of the stomach and intestines. It is to be noted, however, that in the action of dissolution, it may cause a detachment of the mucus, which may pass out of the stomach and intestines before before being acted upon.
6. It relieves gastric and intestinal pain.
a. When caused by irritating ingesta.
b. When due to local neuralgia.
7. It is curative at either high or low temperatures.
8. It has a tonic effect on the mucous membrane, especially on the mucous membrane of the intestines.
9. It acts equally as well in the presence of a constant amount of acid and in its absence.
10. It relieves vomiting, except, of course, where there is a condition of actual laceration.
11. It acts at once, and it continues acting as long as the food remains in the digestive tract.
12. Its action has no relation to the concentration of the food, or to the presence of liquid in the stomach and intestines.
13. It accelerates metabolism, both of organic and inorganic matter.
14. It diminishes the amount of uric acid relatively.
15. It influences sufficiency of hepatic action.
16. It is restrictive of tissue waste. One of our French consultants describes it as an ailment d'epargne.
17. It has a tonic effect on the unstriped muscles of the stomach.
18. Immediately after its exhibition there is an acceleration of the pulse rate, showing that in some considerable measure the dynamic power of the heart is increased.
19. No condition of disease of the stomach arrests or impedes its action, excepting where there is destruction or continuity of structure, as in ulceration, etc.

New and Old Campaigns Compared—A Graphic Picture of Political Activities in the South Before the War.

[Special New Orleans Letter.]

POLITICAL campaigns of the present day are very different from those of the period ending with the late war between the states. During the second quarter of the present century the campaigns were lively and very interesting. The leaders of the political parties were not only men of vast intelligence, but many of them were statesmen and orators. Those were campaigns of education, in the broadest sense of that much ill-used term. The leaders on the respective sides were not mere politicians who took no interest in affairs unless an office was within sight, but they were often men who did not want office. They worked for the good of the cause.

Only lawyers with large practice, or rich planters, or men of wealth, could go to congress, when the pay was $6 and then $8 per day. The southern members, especially, lived in the luxurious elegance which characterized that baronial and aristocratic class, and an election or appointment to office meant the outlay of a small fortune. They honored themselves and the position. Those who were poor retired from office poorer than when they accepted it. Bribery and jobs were almost unknown, and those few instances that were known invariably brought on the disgrace and isolation of the official.

The men who took the leading part in the campaigns of the generation preceding the late rebellion were, indeed, leaders, and had the confidence of the people. They were men of either state or national reputation, such as J. C. Breckinridge, the Wickliffes, Crittendens and Marshalls, of Kentucky; Jesse D. Bright, of Indiana; Jefferson Davis, Henry S. Foote, S. S. Prentiss, J. A. Quitman and McNutt, of Mississippi; John Slidell, Pierre Soule, J. P. Benjamin and Randall Hunt, of Louisiana; William L. Yancey, of Alabama; Gov. Pickens, the Rhetts, Butlers and Hugers, of South Carolina; W. M. Gwinn, of California; John Bell, of Tennessee; Douglas, of Illinois; Stephens, Howell Cobb and King, of Georgia; Henry A. Wise, John Y. Mason and R. M. T. Hunter, of Virginia. In every state and national campaign these statesmen were in the front, on their respective sides. The issues of the campaigns were discussed at joint meetings. Now each political party has its special meeting, and only its own speakers are heard. In those good old days, when democratic and whig orators were arrayed against each other, the meetings were composed of men of both parties and usually about in equal proportion to the strength of each party. The democrat was not so hide-bound but that he was willing to hear what the whig expounder had to offer and why he thought his system of politics the better. The whig voter also wanted to know what the democrats had by way of argument.

The editors of the newspapers, who were generally political leaders, and often were good speakers, attended these meetings, and took "copious notes." These they printed, eulogizing the orator, if of their political faith; but if of the opposition the editor gave a running criticism, interjecting his own political opinions by way of reply. These editorial reports were run on the editorial page. Often the report was a scathing attack on the speaker and his party, and a duel followed—for editors in those days, especially in the south, were men of standing and held themselves personally responsible for their editorials. Many of them were engaged in practicing law or were political leaders, and ran a newspaper as a side issue, not for profit but for the good of the party. Gradually, reporting broadened into a feature, and while the reporter made a "story" out of the speeches, and the "enthusiastic crowd present," the editor always reserved a few columns on his page for an essay. It is related in one instance when Henry Clay made an oration at a southern city that the reporters got excited and forgot to take notes. However, as a rule, this was immaterial, for every editor, and even the sub-editors, as the reporters were styled, were well posted on the political issues of the day, and knew tolerably well the arguments to be advanced by either side. In those days politics was not a trade, and no one's education was considered complete unless he understood the political issues of the day, the history of political parties and of the government. Consequently, when a man offered himself for office he knew something, and the only choice was one of principle, and not men. In state and national campaigns the candidates offered themselves as a sacrifice, as a rule—as far as the emoluments of the offices were concerned. As an example, Jefferson Davis, democrat, resigned a seat in the United States senate to make the race for governor of Mississippi against a popular whig. He led a lost cause and was defeated. But he reduced the whig vote, which was mainly owing to the oratorical abilities of himself and other leaders of the party in that memorable campaign.

We do not hear of such sacrifices for party in these days. Men may resign office, but it is to grasp a better paying one. Other similar instances might be cited, but this is the most notable. Politics were as pure as politics could be, and speeches were uniformly scholarly, conclusive, able and often oratorical gems. The speakers were men of education, and, although

A POLITICAL BARBECUE IN ANTE-BELLUM DAYS.

"elocution" and "gesturing" schools were almost unknown, especially in the south, the speakers were an improvement upon those stilted "spellbinders" of to-day. While oratory is not a lost art, we do not have so much of it in the latter day campaigns as in the days when political leaders gave more attention to the public affairs of the country. The issues of those campaigns were more of local and general interest, perhaps, than those of the present day. One of the "burning issues" was the right of the territories to introduce or prohibit slavery. Another was whether congress had the right to legislate on the question of slavery. During the second quarter of this century those issues were ever uppermost, and the leading men were heard in every campaign until the civil war silenced argument, and the matter was settled by arms. These two issues culminated at the Charleston convention, in 1860, which resulted in a split between the rival candidates, Davis, of Mississippi, and Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. Breckinridge and Douglas led the rival wings of the democratic party to defeat. During that campaign the issues were so personal that the old plan of joint discussion was abandoned, especially in the rural districts, for at that time men began to reason less, and made political belief a personal matter.

In the early campaigns, in the rural districts, a barbecue was the feature of every joint meeting. The darkys of the plantations, who understood the knack of barbecuing beeves, were employed and looked forward to these occasions with no little pride, for they boasted upon their culinary ability. The speakers passed good-natured jokes, sandwiched in their incisive, exhaustive and "unanswerable" arguments, at which the rival partisans cheered and laughed alternately.

At noon a recess was taken, when both sides adjourned to the long tables under the bower to eat, and discussed politics good-naturedly. After dinner the speaking was continued by orators of less renown, during which time the "small boys" and the darkys fell in line and finished up the richly barbecued meats and pies and stuff which had been added by the ladies of the neighborhood. The picturesqueness of the olden-time political meetings and the necessary barbecue passed away with the civil war.

FRANCIS W. PICKENS.
(An Old South Carolina Campaigner of National Fame.)

New men and new issues have come upon the stage, and the veteran statesmen of those good old days have nearly all passed away. The campaigns do not seem to be so interesting as then, neither are the issues so ably discussed, nor the meetings so largely attended. The masses depend more upon the newspapers for reports of speeches, also for their ideas, as they think less in their pursuit of wealth.

J. M. SCANLAND.

HOW HE LOST THE BEER.

It Was in the Bottom of the Big Growler But Was Hardly Perceptible.

"I oughtn't to tell it, but the story is too good to keep."

The speaker, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, was a member of the theatrical profession summering in Philadelphia.

"Jim came home the other night," he continued, "hot and thirsty. We sized up our finances and found we each had five cents. I suggested that about the best thing we could do was to go out and get two glasses of beer with the money, then come back and go to bed.

"'I know a better game than that,' replied Jim. 'We don't want to give up our last dime for two glasses when we can take a pitcher or something and get four times as much for the same money.'

"With which observation he grabs the big pitcher on the washstand, empties the water in it, rinses it out and starts for the nearest liquid refreshment dispensary. Ten minutes later he came back with the most disgusted expression on his face I had ever seen there.

"'What's the matter,' I asked, in alarm. 'Didn't lose the dime, did you?'

"'No, I didn't lose the dime,' he almost snarled, 'but, say, what do you suppose that infernal saloon keeper did?'

"I refused to guess.

"'Well,' continued Jim, 'when I set the pitcher upon the bar, laid down my ten cents and told him I wanted that much worth of beer he swept the coin into the cash drawer, grabbed a glass, filled it with beer from the tap, emptied it in the pitcher, filled it again, emptied it again in the pitcher, shoved the latter toward me, said 'Thank you,' and turned to wait on some one else. Say, I was so dazed that I couldn't say a word and just picked up the pitcher and walked out. See if you can see any beer in it.'

"I did manage to find what appeared to be two spoonfuls of a brownish liquid in the bottom of the big pitcher, which Jim and I proceeded sorrowfully to drink. Then we went to bed and dreamed of hunting for smart Aleck saloon keepers with clubs. Tough, don't you think?"

STICK TO SIMPLE FOOD.

The American Business Man's Pace Demands Only Easily Digested Dishes.

There was in the old days far less wear and tear upon the nerves; and, under such conditions, digestion was more completely performed, writes Mrs. S. T. Rorer, of "Why I Oppose Pies," in Ladies' Home Journal. The mothers of to-day must look more carefully to the building of their bodies and brains than their mothers and grandmothers did. Indeed, at the pace at which we Americans are going we use our brains at full speed nearly all the time. What man can build brain and brawn on pies, layer cake or preserves, or any other mass of material which from its very complexity requires labor and time for digestion, drawing the blood from the brain to the stomach during his working hours? Observe those who eat their complex foods carelessly and hastily, and you will see at a glance the conditions that necessitate a complete rest every now and then, or an early nervous breakdown.

In my close observation in the last 20 years I find very few people in our common struggle for existence who can for any length of time eat carelessly of complex foods. At 40 or 50 a man may perhaps have accumulated wealth, but not health; and of what erthly use is the first without the second? Many persons in the generation gone before have eaten pies at least once a day, but they have not had meat three times a day, nor have they rushed at our pace. They gave more time to the digestion of the pie. People who recommend these rich foods rarely know anything of their complex conditions, and still less of the complexity of digestion.

The Bane of American Homes.

A physician writing in Woman's Home Companion speaks in strong terms against two pernicious habits sapping the strength of the nation, claiming that "Hurry becomes a habit; so does worry. It is as impossible to throw off one as the other. The man who has been in a hurry all his life is no greater victim to the habit formed in youth than the woman who continually worries. Every phase of existence can be turned into some excuse for worry. When worry gets the upper hand housekeeping is an irksome task, and it is sure to poison the whole atmosphere of the home. Children brought up in such a home imbibe it just as naturally as they do other characteristics of their parents, and they grow up in the belief that the world would not progress if they did not give their daily modicum of worry to help it along. Those who do not worry are looked upon as idle and slothful, and yet they often accomplish more than the crowd of habitual worriers."

Delicious Dish of Peaches.

Cut six peaches in half, stone and sprinkle sugar in the hollows; rub a large tablespoonful of butter into a pint of flour, sifted with a teaspoonful of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt; beat an egg very light, stir it into a scant cupful of milk and mix gradually with the prepared flour, beating well at the last; pour into a greased baking pan large enough to allow the fruit to be spread out and the batter to be about an inch thick, and bake for half an hour in a brisk oven. Serve with cream and sugar.—Household Magazine.

Mr. Jos. Any stooping or heavy lifting aggravated it, and if I contracted a cold it always settled in my back and at such times my suffering was something intense. In Chancery of New Jersey.

To John H. Hays and Elizabeth S. Hays, his wife, Euphemia Richardson and Andrew J. Richardson, her husband, Hester A. Thompson and John R. Thompson, her husband.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Almira Morrison is complainant, and you and another are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant, on or before the thirty-first day of August next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed for partition of certain lands in the city of Plainfield, in the County of Union, of which Henry Hays died seized, and you, John H. Hays, Euphemia Richardson and Hester A. Thompson, are made defendents because you are tenants in common therein; and you, Elizabeth S. Hays, are made defendant because you have an inchoate right of dower, in the share of said lands and premises of which your said husband is seized; and you, Andrew J. Richardson and John R. Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union, N. J., held Thursday, Aug. 2d, 1900, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present—18.

The minutes of the previous meeting, (reading of bills being omitted), were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, ETC.

From the Westfield Land Improvement Co., as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Freeholders of the county of Union:

We, the undersigned, officers of the Westfield Land and Improvement Co., do petition your board to grant us the right to build an eight-inch pipe sewer in and along the easterly side of Central avenue, in the township of Westfield, from Elizabeth avenue to Grove street, a distance of about 300 feet, and thence under the road bed of Central avenue to connect with the Westfield sewerage system.

(Signed)
The Westfield Land and Improvement Company.
J. S. Irving, President.
Wm. S. Welch, Secretary.
Westfield, N. J., July 31, 1900.

On motion of Freeholder Bruckbacher received and referred to the committee on county roads with power.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

By special bridge committee in Springfield:

To the Board of Freeholders:

Gentlemen — Your committee appointed to view bridge over Wade race, on Morris avenue, in Springfield township, respectfully report that they have viewed the bridge site, and recommend the building of a new bridge and abutments, not exceeding in cost the sum of $1,200.

Signed,
N. W. Bonnel, Joseph McCandless, Fred. Miller, Chr. Ehrlich, Committee.

Freeholder King moved that the report be received and recommendations adopted, which was so ordered on roll call by a unanimous vote.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Bonnel:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed with power to make necessary improvements on the stone bridge joining the property now occupied by Dr. Stiles, cost not to exceed $150.

Freeholder Miller moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

The director appointed as the said committee Freeholders Bonnel, Wahl and Cady.

By Freeholder Westphal:

Whereas, Attention having been called to the very bad condition of the bridge over Green brook, at Jefferson avenue, in the counties of Somerset, Union and Middlesex a committee visited said bridge on the 13th day of July, and found it to be unsafe for travel, and did then and there condemn the said bridge, and served notices upon the Boards of Freeholders of Somerset and Middlesex counties.

A joint committee of these counties was called, and this committee decided that it was eminently necessary that a new bridge be built; therefore be it

WERE NOT UP IN CHINESE.

Bixby Was Posted But Couldn't Make His Friends Understand His Mongolian Lingo.

"That fellow Bixby is the darndest chap I ever see fer gettin' hold o' new-fangled notions. He come over t'other mornin' with his newspaper in his hand, an' sezee: 'It looks like them Germans was goin' to keep a tight hold on Keeahoo-Chahoo,' relates the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"'Gesundheit,' sez my daughter 'Lizabeth. She's been takin' a term in German at th' high school, an' they always sez 'gezundheit' when a feller sneezes, jest fer politeness.

"'I said th' Germans wuz goin' to hold on to Keeahoo-Chahoo,' sez Bixby again.

"'These dern summer colds ain't no joke,' sez I. An' then his face got red an' he stiffened up.

"'Keeahoo-Chahoo,' he sez once more.

"'It seems a leetle early fer hay fever,' sez I.

"'I'll bet you call it Cow-Cow,' he sez with a sneerin' sniff.

"'No, I don't,' sez I. 'It may be the Latin fer it,' I sez, 'but I stick to hay fever every time.'

"'I ain't sneezin',' said Bixby, lookin blacker'n thunder.

"'Wot wuz you doin'?' sez I.

"'I wuz givin' you th' correct pernunciation of Keeahow-Chahoo,' he snorts.

"'There you go again,' I sez.

"'My, but he wuz mad clean through!

"'I'm givin' you th' strictly correct pernunciation of—of thet Chinese word right there,' he sez, an' shoved his paper up against my nose.

"I looked at th' name he wuz pintin out an' it was Kiou-Chou.

"'Well,' I sez, kind o' sarcastic like, 'th' nex' time you come over here talkin' Chinese you better hang out a flag with dragons or suthin' on it. Th' fact is,' sez I, 'th' way you put it we ain't none of us bright ernuff over here to tell Chinese from catarrh!'"

STATE ROAD COMMISSIONER BUDD APPROVES OF SOMERSET'S ROAD.

State Will Therefore Aid in Building Projected Macadam Road Between Somerville and Bedminister.

Henry I. Budd, State Commissioner of Public Roads, announced Tuesday at his office in Trenton that the application of the Somerset County Board of Freeholders for State aid for building a macadam road from Somerville to Bedminister, would be granted. He reached this decision after receiving the report of State Supervisor of Roads R. A. Meeker, of this city. Mr. Meeker went over the line of the proposed road with County Engineer Doughty and found that the State requirements were complied with.

The Somerset Board of Freeholders will probably take action at the meeting of the Board September 11th, and advertise for bids for the building of the road. The contracts can then be awarded at the October meeting of the Board. The Freeholders are desirous of having the work completed as soon as possible now that the State has approved it, and so the work may be started this fall. It is doubtful, however, whether it can be finished before spring, as the work of road building does not progress very rapidly after the frost comes.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

Tomorrow night at Music Hall the much talked and extensively advertisted success, Hoyt's new "A Trip to Chinatown," the most pretentious work of America's popular playwright, Charles Hoyt, will be presented. "A Trip to Chinatown," like all of Mr. Hoyt's comedies is a satire and was constructed for laughing purposes only. Its phenomenal run of more than 700 times at Hoyt's Theatre, New York, its enormous business on the "road" and the great success the piece scored in England, France and Australia endorses Playwright Hoyt's good judgment in catering to the tastes of the amusement seeking public. The piece goes this season heralded as being in every way better and brighter than ever. The cast is without doubt the strongest and most talented ever seen in a Hoytian production. Every accessory that can possibly add to its continued success has been carefully looked after, and the extravagant stage settings, the gorgeorous costumes and the bevy of strikingly pretty girls cannot fail to make a wonderfully pleasant picture under the dazzling brightness of the calcium. Harry Gilfoil, the cleverest as well as the highest salaried comedians ever in the employ of Hoyt and McKee, heads the cast, and he is seconded by such people as Mabel Montgomery, Fleurette, Clayton Kennedy, Will Philbrick, George Shields and twenty others.

Vaudeville has never enjoyed such a position of supremacy in the amusement world as it does today. The refined continuous performances are no longer "fads." They are the popular and permant vehicle of entertainment for the hosts, the masses in fact, of those who naturally seek the playhouse for diversion. The progressive and enterprising spirit of F. F. Proctor has done wonders in bringing this condition of affairs about and when in the early spring he opened the historic and palatial Fifth Avenue Theatre, thus giving to Broadway its first continuous performance theatre, it was a most significant move to vaudeville. Since then the name of Proctor has blazened forth in Harlem, and today there are four theatres in New York city devoted to continuous performance under the Proctor management. The Proctor houses popularity lies in the low prices of 15, 25 and 50 cents for the best possible talent. Big holiday programmes have been arranged for Monday, Sept. 3d, (Labor Day,) and the doors of Proctor's Twenty-hird Street and Proctor's Fifth Avenue will open at 10 a. m. At Proctor's Falace and Proctor's 125th Street the early opening occurs at 12:30 p. m.

"The Man O' Warsman," which will be presented at Music Hall next Tuesday night September 4th, is an original play, not founded upon war episodes, but upon momentuous political questions that are agitating the American continent; likewise causing extensive diplomatic correspondence between various foreign governments. Chief among these questions is one involving the Nicarauguan Canal, and which it is the scheme of alien powers to control. So vividly does the play lay bare the entire political side of his great controversy, that the scenes as enacted constitute in themselves a complete explanation of this mighty project, which is of such deep interest, and should be understood by every American citizen. It is a lesson in civil government far better, more interesting and with less trouble than any school.

SPORTING.

AMONG THE STEPPERS.

Besides the automobile, bicycling and trotting events arranged for the first four days of the great Tri-State Fair, to be held at North Hudson Park, Guttenberg, Hudson county, September 18th to 22d, a grand day's sport for running horses is being arranged for the last day (Saturday) of the fair week, and Secretary Reilly and Manager Powers have been assured of a full entry of the bang tails. The management also hopes to arrange a series of races between the horses and automobiles, which will be a great trial of speed and should be of great interest.

After a Big Concern.

THE JUNGFRAU RAILWAY.

Description of This Wonderful Engineering Feat by a Traveler—Work Not Yet Completed.

We have only gone about half a mile when the train stops, writes Mr. A. Hilliard Atteridge in his description of the Jungfrau railway, in Cassell's Magazine. We are at Rothstock station, the temporary terminus of the line. Gletscher station was opened in the summer of 1898, Rothstock only in August, 1899. It is the highest railway station in Europe, 7,950 feet above the sea, and 1,000 feet higher than the mountain station on Pilatus. But what a station it is! From the tunnel two cave-like openings are cut out to the face of the precipice. One of these leads to a rocky platform on the side of the bold, tower-like crag of the Eiger Rothstock, which here juts out from the mountain wall. A small box with glazed windows is the only building. It stands in the archway of rock, and serves as the stationmaster's office, for there is a stationmaster in blue uniform and bright red cap, with a staff of one boy to assist him. When the line has progressed further the station will be larger and better equipped, with dining and waiting-rooms cut out of the rock, and a number of bedrooms for travelers who do not care to go in one journey up to the rarefied air of the higher regions. The tunnel is now being driven beyond Rothstock. The work of excavation is done by six boring machines, driven by electricity. These cut out a number of horizontal bore holes; and when they have gone deep enough, cartridges of dynamite are fixed in them, the borers and the workmen are withdrawn to a safe distance, and the fuses are fired by means of an electric switchboard. Then the debris is cleared away, the sides and roof of the tunnel are roughly trimmed to shape with pick and chisel, and the borers are brought up for another attack. The rock is so hard that even with the best workers and the best appliances the advance is slow. There are over six miles of tunnel yet to be made, besides the excavation work at the stations and the boring of the great vertical shaft for the elevator at the top, a shaft about 250 feet deep. Ten years will see it all finished, says Herr Gobat. From the Rothstock arches one has a glorious view down the valley of Grindelwald. The permanent station about half a mile further on, to be known as "The Grindewald Gallery," will command even a better prospect. The line will then curve through and round the mountain to Eiger station—10,630 feet high. This station will look out upon the fields of ice and snow between the Eiger and the Schreckhorn. The railway will then run under the summit of the Monch to the Aletsch Guggi Glacier station, in the rocks above the Jungfrau Joch. This station will look down on the great Aletsch glacier, the largest in Europe; and the giant pyramid of the Jungfrau will rise close in front of it. Beyond the station the line will pass through the sharp, narrow ridge of rock that supports the ice of the Jungfrau Joch. It will ascend by a steep grade in the heart of the great rocky rib that juts out eastward from the summit; and it will then curve and zigzag round the cone, always deep in the live rock, ending at last in a large chamber, from which the lift will be worked which will carry the traveler up the last 250 feet, and from which he will step out upon the summit platform.

Danced Away the Evening

"Sunset Cottage," the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Voehl, was in all its splendor last evening. About forty couple arrived early in the evening, accompanied by Prof. Cooper's Orchestra, and danced the evening away. Guests were present from New York, Jersey City, Plainfield, Martinville, Mt. Horeb and Warrenville. In the wee small hours a cake walk was indulged in and ten couples took part. The prize was captured by Dr. Edward Nuse and Miss Tina Voehl, of "Sunset."

Richard Warneck, the assistant butcher at J. W. VanSickle's meat market, celebrated the anniversary of his birthday yesterday, and during the day he received a picture of his sister and another one of his old home in Saxony, Germany, as reminders of the happy event. Both pictures are excellent and brought fond memories to Mr. Warneck's mind as he gazed on them.

WAY UP IN THE "WOODS"

A COLONY OF PLAINFIELDERS ENJOYING LIFE AT OLD FORGE.

Climatic Conditions are Very Pleasant and There is a Jolly Crowd of People.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Old Forge, N. Y., Aug. 31.—A share of Plainfield's populace is at present thoroughly enjoying the delightful bracing air to be found at the Bald Mountain House, third lake, Fulton Chain, and there is not the slightest desire on the part of any one to leave while the climatic conditions are so pleasant. Knowing that there are many Plainfielders who would be interested to know something concerning a few of their neighbors it gives considerable pleasure to disclose the names of our party. Among those who have sought the "Woods" included Mr. and Mrs. George S. Clay and their little son, Godfried Guion Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Ladd, Jr., and their sons, Howard and Delano, also Mrs. Ladd's mother, Mrs. Henry W. Evans, of Westfield; Mrs. Samuel Huntington, L. H. Biglow, Jr., Mrs. Biglow, Miss Gladys Biglow and Ray, Earla and Kenneth Biglow. These are the Plainfield contingent.

In addition to the above we have our good Baptist brother, Rev. Frank Smith, of Somerville, and the party consider that they are especially favored with the presence of E. G. Graham, of Albany, a talented gentleman connected with the Associated Press. His clever descriptions of his experience while on board the Brocklyn during the battle of Santiago, are a source of much pleasure and profit to those who have heard him.

The house has been well filled, even the boat house and laundry having been utilized for sleeping accomodations. This is a charming spot, and is almost free from any of the conditions which aggravate hay fever. The proprietor, S. M. Barrett, is a jovial accomodating gentleman, who does his utmost to give his guests every comfort which the place affords, and his reputation along the chain of lakes stands unparellelled as the best hotel man in this section.

There is no definite time set for the return of the Plainfielders, but the first of September will probably find some of them wending their way homeward to spend the fall and winter months. The stay in the "Woods" has certainly brought rest and comfort to us all and everyone will return feeling greatly benefitted.

REFORMATORY CONTRACT LET.

George P. Olcott to Put in Filtering and Sewage Disposal Beds.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Rahway, August 31.—At the regular meeting of the State Reformatory Commission held here Wednesday the contract for sewage disposal and filtering beds at the institution was awarded to Contractor George P. Olcott, of Orange.

The contract is for a system of septic tank sewage drainage and is for $6,000. Work is to be begun at once, and the system is to be completed within two months.

Miss Shepard's Engagement.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Joanna H. Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, of the Gables, of Fanwood, N. J., to Osborn Wyckoff Bright, secretary of the New York Security and Trust Company, and a member of the Union, Calumet, Rockaway Hunt and the Baltusrol Golf Club. Miss Shepard is a niece of the late Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, and consequently a cousin of Mrs. William Jay Schieffeln, Mrs. Ernesto G. Fabbri and Mrs. D. H. Morris.—New York Telegram.

Row in Cranford School Board.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, Aug. 31—A wordy war in which the lie was passed occurred at the meeting of the Cranford Board of Education Wednesday night, over the selection of a principal. The chief row was between Trustees Hunt and Park, but it soon blew over and the Board selected W. M. Thomas for the place at a salary of $1,600 a year.

Reduced Fares to Atlantic City.

During the meeting of the Firemen's State Association at Atlantic City on September 12th and 13th, the Central Railroad of New Jersey will sell excursion tickets to Atlantic City and return at rate of single fare for the round trip from points in New Jersey. Tickets to be sold are good going Sept. 11th and 12th and returning on or before Sept. 14th.

Need Not Wear His Uniform.

Mayor Smalley has given Chief Campbell, of the borough, permission to lay aside his uniform during the hot weather, and he finds more comfort in his own clothes of a lighter weight.

NEW TRIBE OF RED MEN

PRELIMINARY ORGANIZATION EFFECTED BY CHARTER MEMBERS.

Membership of Ninety to Start With—Plans Made for Formal Institution of the Tribe.

If the members of the new tribe of Red Men continue to show as much enthusiasm in the future as they did at the preliminary meeting held last night, there is no doubt but what they will have one of the strongest and most flourishing tribes in the State.

In spite of the intense heat a large number of the charter members met in Red Men's Hall on West Front street.

The meeting was called to order by Frederick Huff, after which Wm A. Westphal was elected temporary chairman. This done, the promoters got down to business and the following officers and committees were elected pro tem: F. E. Whiteside, secretary; Francis Blatz, treasurer; membership committee, F. E. Whiteside, chairman, Clarence L. Murphy, Louis A. Clement; committee on rooms, Fred Huff, Robert Humpston and M. Leichtentritt.

It was decided to apply for a charter some time during the week beginning September 16th. Before doing so, however, another meeting will be held September 12th, at which time it hoped all those who have signed the charter list will be present. The permanent officers will then be elected and all details arranged for entering the order.

Great Sachem Newcorn was present and addressed the members. Remarks were also made by William A. Westphal and Fred Huff.

The charter list of last evening showed a total of ninety names, and it is hoped before the next meeting to have it almost doubled.

NEGRO RAN FOR HIS LIFE

ANGRY MOB OF 500 CHASED COLORED MAN LAST NIGHT.

Had an Argument With a White Man Which Came Near Ending Seriously.

Just after the result of the Corbett-McCoy fight had been made known in this city last evening, a colored man was seen running along Park avenue from Front street in the direction of the railroad. A white man was in pursuit. "Stop thief," shouted somebody. Voices took up the cry. "Kill the coon," yelled the passengers on a passing trolley car. Then a mob of five hundred men and boys spread out over the roadway in wild pursuit.

The negro and the white man halted when they had nearly reached North avenue and squared off as if for fight. The mob circled round them and closed in. Another colored man was driven to the centre of the circle. The opportune appearance of Chief Kiely, Roundsman Flynn and Patrolman Higgins and Watson caused a sudden halt in the proceedings and the mob was dispersed before any damage was done.

The incident all came out of a dispute between John Moran, a local plumber, who lives on West Fifth street, and Scott Carey, a colored professional nurse. It is said that they did not agree over some point concerning the prize fight in New York and that high words followed. Moran pursued the other down the street for over a block.

In some way the rumor flew among the crowd that Carey had knifed somebody. Somebody else thought Carey was a sneak thief and started that cry. It that way most of the crowd was interested to see him caught. In less than two minutes, over five hundred people had gathered. Luckily the police were promptly on the scene and prevented any trouble. A colored man named Cuff was on the street at the time and he was handled a trifle roughly although he had nothing to do with the matter.

REPUBLICAN CLAM BAKE

Committee in Charge Has Been Appointed and Will Meet This Evening.

The Republicans of Union county will follow the customary plan of both political parties and hold an outing as the summer begins to wane and the time for the active campaign work is close at hand. At the last meeting of the Republican county executive committee, held in Elizabeth, it was decided that the committee should superintend a clam bake, to be held somewhere along the line of the trolley, between Elizabeth and Plainfield some day during September. Chairman Charles N. Codding was instructed to appoint a committee to make the arrangements.

Chairman Codding now announces the committee, which is composed of James C. Calvert, of Elizabeth, S. Rusling Ryno, of Rahway, James Denman, of Westfield, Frank H. Smith, of this city, James Warner, of Cranford and James W. Hope, of Roselle. The committee will hold a meeting at the county headquarters in the Dix building, Elizabeth, tonight, when the time and place for the clam bake will be set.

A Pleasant Trip.

A. V. D. Honeyman, who returned yesterday with his party from a tour abroad, says that the trip was in every way a delightful one, although there was a warm spell of three weeks, but this did not materially interfere with the sight seeing. Not a single accident happened to mar the trip. The ocean was quiet as a mill pond both going and coming, and very little sea sickness was reported. The members of the party speak highly of Mr. Honeyman's management, and are glad that they did not accompany some of the other parties who are now stranded abroad.

Miss Curry to Speak.

Miss Curry, who has in charge the Westfield Fresh Air Camp, is expected to be present this evening at the Christian Endeavor Society meeting to be held at the First Baptist church, and she will have something to say of interest to all.

Anxious for the Trolley.

Fearing that the street railroad will not go through Monntainside, the people are circulating a petition to be presented to the borough Council, asking that the Westfield and Elizabeth line be given a franchise.

—Press want ads pay.

—Neuman Brothers will have a fine display of 350 baskets of fine canning peaches tomorrow, with prices to suit everybody.

DEFEAT CAME TO MRS ROGERS AT THE END

Plainfield Golfer Lost to Philadelphia Girl in the Championship Tournament.

GAME SOMEWHAT UNSTEADY

ALTHOUGH DEFEATED, MRS. ROGERS' FRIENDS ARE ELATED.

She was Rather Nervous at Times, But Played a Strong and Plucky Game—No Honors in Driving Contest.

Defeat came to Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, of this city, yesterday, in the National women's golf championship on the links of the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club at Southampton, L. I. In the second round, match play, in the championship tournament, she was defeated by Miss Frances C. Griscom, the clever young Philadelphian, who thereby won a place in the semi-final round for the third season. Miss Griscom was victorious 4 up and 2 to go. Mrs. Rogers played a brilliant but somewhat unsteady game and was fairly outplayed by Miss Griscom's fine work.

Mrs. Griscom lost the first hole through bad approaching, but tried the game on the third hole, and then won the fourth in 5, after giving her opponent a golden chance to win. Miss Griscom drove into a bunker from the tee, and had to get out by a short side stroke. She atoned for her bad work by grand play to the green, running down in 5 from a ten foot put. Mrs. Rogers tried hard for a 5, but just missed. The latter got her revenge on the next green when she laid her Quarker opponent a stymie with the latter dead to the hole. The game then continued even until the seventh hole was reached, which Miss Griscom won from a six-foot put. She also wom the eighths, 354 yards, in bogey 5. The long ninth was halved handsomely in 7. Miss Griscom won the tenth, but star playing by Mrs. Rogers, including a long drive and a magnificent brassie, gave the latter the latter the twelfth. Three holes were then halved, and a finishing spurt by Miss Griscom gave her two holes in succession in bogey figures and the match. The scores:

Miss Frances Griscom:
Out.....6 5 4 5 5 6 5 5 7—48
In.....6 6 4 6 5 5 4 —36—81
Mrs. N. Pendleton Rogers, Plainfield:
Out.....5 5 6 6 4 6 6 8 7—53
In.....3 4 4 6 5 6 5 —38—91

Although Mrs. Rogers has been defeated, her friends are greatly elated over the showing she made, particularly in defeating Miss Ruth Underhill, last year's champion. Mrs. Rogers played in the National championship last year but failed to qualify for the match play. She has since greatly improved under the coaching of Expert Fox. Her peculiar method of addressing the ball was somewhat criticised, but she was able to do some excellent driving and, although rather nervous at times, played a strong and plucky game, winning many compliments from the host of expert golfers present.

Mrs. Rogers also took part in the driving contest in the afternoon, but failed to win any honors. She was by no means at her best and finished twenty-fourth with a drive of 140 yards. The best drive was 159 yards, 5 inches, made by Miss Louise Maxwell, of the Nassau Country Club.

Sleeve Caught in Belt.

William Creveling, of North avenue, is detained from work with a badly bruised and scraped arm which he received at the Scott Press Works. He was working about his machine when the sleeve of his shirt became entangled in a belt. Before he could loosen it the arm was drawn into the machinery and narrowly escaped being crushed. As it was he was forced to go home and have his injuries attended to. They were dressed by Dr. Adams.

No Special Meeting.

Mayor Smalley has decided not to call a special meeting of the Borough Council before the regular session which will be held September 7th. There is no important business demanding it.

Patent on Printing Press.

G. A. Main, of Plainfield, has just been granted a U. S patent on a printing press.

—Use Press want ads

—J. A. Smith & Brother, the West Front street grocers, will receive a very large shipment of peaches tomorrow from one of the finest orchards in Hunterdon county, which they have just purchased. As the grocery stores will be closed Monday, it will be well to see their stock tomorrow and get a supply to last over Labor Day.

OPENING OF CAMPAIGN.

FIRST G. O. P' GUN TO BE FIRED OFF IN PLAINFIELD.

County Chairman Codding Says That Dolliver's Speech Will Formally Start Campaign.

Hon. Charles N. Codding, chairman of the county Republican committee, was in Elizabeth yesterday morning, and at the headquarters for a short time. He said the campaign will be formally opened in this county on the night of September 13th, with the mass meeting in this city.

Special arrangements will be made for transportation by trolley cars of the Republicans of the towns suburban to Plainfield. The speaker will be Victor B. Dolliver, of Iowa, a brother of Senator John P. Dolliver. Senator Frye, of Maine, is also expected to be at Plainfield, but he is announced to speak with Mr. Dolliver in the Lyceum Theatre, Elizabeth, on the following night, September 14th. Joseph L. Barbour, of Hartford, Conn., will also be a speaker at the meeting in the Lyceum Theatre.

The G. O. P politicians say the outlook in this county is very bright for the Republicans. The county committee has completed the preliminary canvass of the county, and is well satisfied that the result in November will be all that the State leaders can expect. The Republicans say that Union county is now firmly in the Republican column. They estimate that it will give at least a plurality of 4,000 for McKinley and Roosevelt.

NO MORE LAWN MEETINGS.

Sunday Evening Services at East Third Street Chapel to be Held Inside Hereafter.

The Sunday evening meetings at the East Third street chapel, which have been held up to the close of August on the lawn in front of the chapel, will hereafter be held in the chapel building as they were last winter. The outdoor meetings proved a great success during the summer and that plan, which was followed for the first time this year, will be tried again next summer.

The idea of going out on the lawn to hold the meeting was first put into effect one particularly sultry night in June. The organ was moved out on the veranda and the leader took his station on the steps while the congregation occupied seats on the lawn or on the piazza. It proved such a success that all the Sunday evening meetings were held out doors.

It was announced that last Sunday evening would be the last outdoor meeting but the evening was so cool that the workers in charge decided to move inside. It was then announced that the Sunday evening meetings hereafter will be held in the chapel as of old.

A FINE DAY'S OUTING.

Grocers' Association Has Arranged an Excursion to Coney Island.

The Grocers' Association of this city has always been noted for conducting a successful excursion on Labor Day and this year will be no exception to the rule. The famous Coney Island has been selected for the destination this year and its numerous attractions are sure to please everyone. Two sections, one leaving at 7:45 and the other at 8 a. m., will carry the excursionists to Jersey City. From there the trip will be continued on the steamer to Coney Island, which has been chartered by the association for the Plainfielders exclusively. The return trip will commence at 5:40, giving a full day at the shore.

A Pretty Design.

The new exemption certificates for members of the Plainfield Fire Department have found much favor with the exempt members who have seen the design. It is now on exhibition at fire headquarters and exempt members who desire copies of it can have them by leaving their names at headquarrters. The fire committee of the Council, which had the certificates prepared, has been greatly complimented on the excellent appearance of the certificates.

Board of Education to Meet.

There will be no meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education Monday evening as it is Labor Day and a legal holiday. The regular monthly meeting will therefore be held Tuesday evening instead. All is not ready yet for action on the location of the new High School.

—J. A. Smith & Brother, the West Front street grocers, have purchased the entire crop of yellow peaches in one of the finest orchards in Hunterdon county. Tomorrow they will receive a large shipment of the fruit which they will be enabled to sell at unusually low prices.

GYPSY MATRON ACCUSED

CHARGED WITH CRUELTY TO COLORED GIRL LIVING WITH HER.

Complaint Made That the Girl Was Hit With a Chair and is Detained Against Her Will.

Mrs. Lizzie Benner, of South avenue, appeared before Justice Nash yesterday and made complaint against Mrs. John Harrison for cruelty and maltreating Clara Jackson, the colored girl, who, it is alleged, is detained against her will by the Harrison band of gypsies. The complainant states that she saw Mrs. Harrison beating the girl several times with a chair. Armed with the complaint Constable Mattox left for Madison where the band is located, yesterday afternoon, with the intention of arresting Mrs. Harrison and also bringing the girl back a witness.

Constable Mattox has returned late last night and states that the band had left there and he was unable to locate them. The proprietor of the band, who lives at Madison, says they will be traced and the girl will be brought to Plainfield as soon as possible.

Rev. E. E. Jackson and several other prominent colored men have interested themselves in the matter and if the girl can be taken from the gypsies, a home will be provided for her in this city.

BOAT WAS UPSET.

Narrow Escape From Drowning of Two Young Men Fishing on the New Market Pond.

Another narrow escape from drowning was added to the already large list of those occurring in the New Market pond this season when a boat, in which was seated Fred Coverly, of this city, and Clarence Sofield, was upset yesterday afternoon, throwing the occupants in the water.

The young men were fishing in a deep place in the upper pond. A line belonging to Coverly became entangled in something and in attempting to loosen it, he leaned too far over and the boat was capsized. On account of the suddenness with which it turned neither had time to get away from the boat and they both became entangled in it. Both were nearly exhausted before they managed to get clear of the the boat and get it righted. They then decided to give up fishing for the rest of the day and return home.

TO FIGHT TELEPHONE COMPANY

Ordinance Granting Subway Privilege at Elizabeth to be Opposed.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, Aug. 31.—There will be a big fight tomorrow night in the city Council over the question of giving the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company the right to construct subways through the principal streets of the city, in order to place its wires underground. The opponents to the movement claim its main object is to freeze out the local telephone company and that then the New York and New Jersey Company could charge anything it liked for telephone service. It is also claimed the company, in applying for the franchise, is not offering nearly as many concessions for the privilege as it has given in Orange, Newark and other places.

The committee on streets was in session until nearly 1 o'clock yesterday morning drafting the ordinance, which is to be submitted for adoption Saturday night, against which the bitter contest is being waged. A dozen lawyers are engaged on both sides.

PRIMARIES IN SOMERSET.

Democrats Will Elect Delegates in North Plainfield September 7th.

George P. Norton, chairman of the Somerset county Democratic executive committee, has issued the call for the primaries to be held throughout the county for the election of delegates to the State convention. In North Plainfield the primary will be held Friday evening, September 7th, in the basement of the Somerset school building. The primaries in other towns will be held Saturday afternoon, September 8th. North Plainfield will be entitled to three delegates, the Democratic vote being 405.

Funeral of John Barry.

The funeral services of John Barry, who died at his home on South Second street, Wednesday, were held from St. Mary's church this morning. They were conducted by Rev. Father Smyth. The pall bearers were Wm. Kennedy, Wm. Mack, Thos. O'Keefe, Patrick Galbraith, John Newman and John Sheehan. The interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

—The fifteenth annual reunion of the 9th N. J. Vols. will be held at Easton, Pa., September 19th.

WEALTH HAS VANISHED.

CONTEST OVER WILL OF BENJAMIN BUSH IS AT AN END.

The Aged Giant of the Sourland Mountains Did Not Leave as Much Money as Was Thought.

The fight over the will of the late Benjamin Bush, who with his aged housekeeper, Kate Balue, were found burned to death in the ruins of his house on the Sourland Mountain, over a year ago, is at an end.

When Bush died it was generally believed that he was a miser possessed of a large sum of money, despite the fact that he had applied to the poormaster of his township for aid a short time before his death.

He left a will disinheriting his children and giving $100 to Kate Balue and the remainder of his property to Mrs. Josephine P. Cruser, a neighbor who had been kind to him when he was ill. His three children contested the will and the matter has been in the Orphans' Court for a year.

The large sum of money which Bush was supposed to have in the Hopewell bank proved to be a myth. His entire estate when inventoried amounted to only $1,336.41, and of this amount $492 consisted of notes and mortgages which were set aside as worthless.

Mrs. Josephine Cruser threw oil on the troubled waters by assigning all of her claims to the estate to the children of Bush. Still there was trouble. Garret D. Bush, the eldest son, filed a claim of $150 against the estate, which left little or nothing to settle other claims. The matter was finally settled last week when Garret D. Bush consented to accept $150 for his claim.

Two lawyers engaged in the case received $100 each. Overseer of the Poor Wilson received $95.28 which he had paid Bush from the township funds, on the statement that he was a pauper. The undertaker who buried Bush was paid a claim of $40, and a few other small claims ate up the remainder of the reputed wealth of the aged giant, who for more than half a century was the most striking of the many odd characters in the Sourland Mountain.

MILK FOR THE COPS.

Stray Cow is Furnishing Lacteal Fluid for the Police.

Patrolman Higgins arrested a cow on West Front street at 1 o'clock this morning. The cow wandered about the street, apparently homeless, so the officer took her in charge. She was too big to put in a cell so she was turned loose in the yard in the rear of the station house where she has since remained.

The animal had evidently strayed away from some stable but no inquiries were made about it this morning. The animal needed to be milked, however, and Chief Kiely was somewhat in doubt as to the city's duty in the matter. Doorman Grant believed that his experiences of twenty years ago would not stand him in vain and essayed the job with success. The animal still awaits an owner.

HIS TEETH WERE SHARP.

Boisterous Man Bit Bartender When Latter Tackled Him in Saloon.

Thomas Lannon has an excellent set of false teeth. He bit the hand of Patrick O'Keefe, bartender in a West Front street saloon, so severely with them that the wound had to be cauterized. This happened in the saloon yesterday afternoon, where Lannon had become so boisterous that O'Keefe felt constrained to put him out.

Lannon then tackled Patrolman Myers and some lively times followed. Lannon was subsequently locked up. Neither the officer nor O'Keefe cared to press the complaint and Lannon was allowed to go. He has been working on Peck's farm, near Mt. Bethel, but originally hailed from Trenton.

Death of Max Garfinkel.

Death came to Max Garfinkel, the Hebrew shoemaker, at his home on Cottage place early this morning. He was removed from the hospital to his home at his own request a few days ago. He was thirty-five years old and leaves a wife and three children in destitute circumstances. According to the Jewish custom, the funeral services could not be held over until to morrow and they took place from his late residence at 11:30 this morning. The interment took place in the Jewish cemetery at South Bound Brook.

Accused of Embezzling Fifty Cents.

William Ross, a young colored lad, was arrested this noon on complaint of A. Stenzenberger, the cabinet maker, of Park avenue. Ross was sent by his employer to pay Stenzenberger a bill of 50 cents, which the latter claims was not done. Ross says he paid it to the cabinet maker's assistant and that he has the receipt is a forgery. The colored boy was released until this evening when the matter will be settled in the city court.

CHINESE NAMES.

Each Person in That Country Has Several, Which Change with Advancing Years.

Every Chinaman has a surname which is supposed to date back nearly if not quite, to the epoch of the great Emperor Hwangte, 2697 B. C. The Chinese, says the Philadelphia Record, pride themselves much on the possession of these surnames, and no foreigner, not even a countryman of the reigning Manchu sovereign, is allowed to borrow them, or even officially to use his own surname in China.

In addition to this surname—or "sing," as is the Chinese term for it—every Chinaman possesses one or more personal names. In his infant days a designation known as his "milk name" is conferred upon him and subsequently, on arriving at the age of puberty, a "ming," or cognomen, is given him. In after life, more especially if he becomes an author, he takes a "tsze," or literary appellation, and it is by this that he is afterward best known in everyday life and in the literary world. Often he adds one or more "haou," or pseudonyms, to his older names, which not infrequently he uses on the title page of his works; thus considerably adding to the difficulty of identifying him.

The well known philisopher Choo He affords an illustration of the number of names which a Chinaman may accumulate. To his "sing," Choo, was added his "ming," He. Subsequently he adopted the "tsze," Yuen-hwuy, and Chung-hwuy, and at different times afterward added the pseudonyms Hwuy-gan, "The dark cottage;" Hwuy-ung, "The obscure man;" Ta'ang-chow t'un' ung, "The concealed gentleman of Ts'ang-chow;" Yun kuh laou jin, "The old man of the cloudy valley," and Tsze yang, from the name of his study.

As a rule, high sounding or felicitous names are chosen for the "ming" and "tsze," and as generally the pseudonymes adopted by authors bead depreciator ymeanings, or references to their dwellings, as may be gathered from the instance given above. For example, we meet with such "ming" as "The fairy guest," "The pacifier of the age," or "The shield of the empire," while among the pseudonyms we find "The dull scholar," "The obscure student," "The stupid old man"—names which, it is needless to remark, are far from indicating humility on the part of those who select them.

It is worth noting that in the relative placing of the name and surname the Chinese practice is the reverse of ours. They put the surname first; we place it last. They say Smith John, whereas we say John Smith.

WORD FROM SAMOA.

Promising Conditions In Tutuila Reported by Tilley.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The navy department has received an interesting letter from Commander B. F. Tilley, commanding the United States naval station at Tutuila, describing the promising conditions in our section of the Samoan islands and recounting the impressive ceremonies attending the unveiling of a monument to the American and English dead who fell in the shore engagement there in July, 1899. Of the conditions Commander Tilley says:

"I am glad to report that everything connected with the new government is progressing in a most satisfactory manner in all the islands. The natives show much interest in the new methods of government, and they are striving to learn and to comply with my wishes. The general condition of the people could not be more satisfactory. They are quiet everywhere and are improving their roads, cleaning up their villages and their surroundings and planting their gardens and plantations. Prosperity for the islands seems fully assured.

"The enrollment of a force of Samoans for service in the islands has done away with the necessity of having an armed force of our own on shore and will win the natives to loyalty and allegiance to the government of the United States.

"During the past month I have visited all parts of the islands and have found everything in a very satisfactory state."

Regarding the monument in question, Commander Tilley says the unveiling took place at Mulinuu, in Apia, on July 29.

The officers and men of the Philadelphia contributed liberally for the expense of purchasing the memorial stone, and officers and men of several British ships likewise contributed. The stone, which is large and imposing, weighing 22 tons, was obtained at Sydney. It was brought to Apia by the British cruiser Pylades, Commander Tupper, and put in place by the officers and men of that ship. The monument is situated in a lot not far from the ocean, commanding a beautiful view. The land has been given in fee to the British and United States governments. A handsome iron fence with stone foundation surrounds the plot. It is a part of the conditions of the deed that the German government shall cause the prospect to be kept open to the sea. No building of any kind shall be erected between the lot and the ocean. This land is given in lieu of ground where the bodies of the men were originally interred.

Commander Tilley has sanctioned the disinterment of the bodies of our men, and similar action was taken by Commander Tupper. The lot is situated not far from the dwelling house of the governor.

Commanders Tilley and Tupper had requested Governor Solf, representing the German government, to unveil the monument. The governor made a short address, then drew aside the American and English flags, disclosing the memorial stone to view. The governor and others had brought numerous wreaths of flowers and placed them on the monument. Among these wreaths was one from Mataafa with a short note.

The names of Lonsdale and Monoghan head the list of the American dead, those of Freeman and Long of the British, and the simple inscription, "Killed In Action, April, 1899," tells the story of their patriotic devotion to duty.

SETTLEMENT PLANS.

Russia and America Favor Withdrawal From Peking.

IMPERIAL PALACE CLOSED BY POWERS

Minister Conger Again Heard From. German Dispatches Give First Complete Account of the Sufferings During the Siege.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The United States government, having acted upon the Russian proposition as to the withdrawal of troops from Peking, is now quietly waiting for responses to the notes which have been sent to our various representatives abroad for presentation to the powers. Judging by the rate of progress made in the preceding negotiations, several days and perhaps a week may pass before all of these replies are received. According to their formal expressions, all of the powers are agreed upon this one point—they do not desire to enter upon a formal war upon China. The United States government is trying to bring about this result. For the moment it finds itself side by side with Russia, whose earnestness cannot be questioned at this time. The object now in view is to bring about a situation in China that will admit of the beginning of negotiations looking to the re-establishment of order and the cessation of hostilities, the insurance of protection to foreign life and property. After that the negotiations may touch upon other questions that remain to be settled.

It is with this object that Russia has suggested the withdrawal from Peking in order that the Chinese government may resume the reins of power, for the Chinese are not apt to yield fealty to a government not in possession of its own capital. The United States government has been earnestly championing the cause of Li Hung Chang from a precisely similar motive—namely, a desire to speedily rehabilitate the Chinese government in order that it may carry out its express desire to settle the difficulties which have arisen. This has been the object of the negotiations of the last few days, and the Russian note and the United States response were but parts of the general plan.

In responding to the Russian note as it did the United States government availed itself of the opportunity of directly inviting the remaining powers to express their desires in the matter of a settlement or rather to indicate how, in their judgment, peace negotiations could be thus instituted. This note is calculated to secure a full disclosure of the intentions of the powers if the inquiry is met by them in the frank spirit in which it was conceived by the United States government. The difficulty apprehended now in reaching a settlement lies in the intentional delay and procrastination on the part of any power which is concealing its true purpose and does not desire to avoid a formal war.

The state department is already embarrassed by delays experienced in securing responses to its note challenging the production of objections to Li Hung Chang. It appears that much confusion exists at Taku as to what actually had been decided upon respecting the treatment of Li Hung Chang should he arrive at that place en route to Peking. The reports of the naval commanders to their home governments rather increased the confusion in an international sense. Admiral Remey found it difficult to sift out the facts at Taku. Now the state department finds the replies so far received from Europe vague and unsatisfactory from the reason that the various governments appear to have different understandings as to the exact conditions at Taku. It could not be learned from whom the replies were received and which were missing, but it can be stated that at present the question as to the acceptability of Earl Li as an envoy and his freedom from interference remain unsettled.

The following is the cablegram received from Minister Conger through United States Consul Fowler, at Chefu:

"From Chefu, received Aug. 30, 6:44 a. m.—Secretary of state, Washington:

"30th.—Following dispatch dated yesterday:

"More Russian, German, French and Italian troops arriving. Imperial palace will be entered Aug. 28. Military promenade of all nations made through it, afterward closed and guarded. Prince Ching is expected in a few days."

The state department has received a telegram from its special commissioner to investigate and report upon conditions in China, Mr. W. W. Rockhill, dated at Shanghai yesterday, saying that he was about to leave for Peking. Short messages descriptive of the situation in Amoy and Shanghai were received from the consuls at those points, but being devoid of interest were not published.

The first authentic and detailed account of the terrible conditions at Peking during the siege reached here yesterday. It came through official German channels, and during a call by the German charge d'affaires, Baron Speck von Sternberg, on Secretary Root the contents of the interesting document were made known. It gives all the circumstances of the assassination of Baron von Ketteler, the assault on the various legations, the steady advance of the Chinese until the legationers were hemmed in by the circle of Chinese cannon and the burning and pillage carried on by the Chinese troops and the mob. The account was brought to Tien-tsin by the courier who delivered the first message of Sir Robert Hart, telling the outside world of the desperate condition of affairs in Peking. But in addition to carrying this message the courier was instructed to give a detailed account of the awful havoc being wrought, and it is this account which is now communicated in full. The courier gives a minute account of his escape from Peking and the dangers encountered while en route. He was arrested and searched, but the messages were not discovered, being concealed within his body.

In the account of the conditions at Peking it is stated that the Russian legation was burning as the courier left, while all the other legations were razed except the English, German and Japanese. All the missions, the custom house and other foreign houses were burned with the exception of the cathedral. The cathedral was so near the imperial palace that it was considered dangerous to fire it. The main gate leading to the legations was totally destroyed. All the foreigners had retired to the British legation.

The circumstances of the killing of Baron von Ketteler are recounted at length. A meeting of the tsung-li-yamen with the ministers of the various powers had been fixed for July 20. The various ministers prepared to attend the meeting, and Baron von Ketteler, accompanied by the interpreter, was the first to start to the tsung-li-yamen. As he pushed through the disorderly crowds he was struck by a bullet and fell dying. The interpreter was also struck by a bullet, but the wound was not fatal. The crowd was kept back, and the minister was carried to the legation, where he expired. The members of the tsung-li-yamen who were in waiting for the ministers immediately dispersed when word reached them of Baron von Ketteler's assassination.

Continuing the account of the condition in Peking, the report states that the Chen-men gate was held by German soldiers with four cannon, two of the cannon having been taken from the Chinese. All the other gates were held by the Chinese. The small band of troops was well nigh exhausted. Even the ministers were acting as sentries, guns in hand.

The Chinese had succeeded in mounting cannon in Hanti-man gate, but firing had not yet begun. As the courier left all the Chinese living near the legations were ordered away as the Chinese cannon were about to fire.

PEACE POLICY CRITICISED.

British Press Favors More Vigorous Measures In China.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Russo-American "surprise," as it is called, is the chief feature of the morning papers. While Russia's part in the proposal is regarded with considerable suspicion, it is generally recognized that the flight of the empress dowager and the emperor renders the situation extremely difficult and therefore that it might be wise to adopt the Russo-American programme as the best solution of the problem.

At the same time a very strong feeling is displayed in favor of a more vigorous line of policy. The Daily Graphic says: "The United States are almost morbidly anxious to wash their hands of the Chinese embarrassment. This has long been apparent. But it is rather surprising to hear that their anxiety is shared by Russia. With the possible exception of Germany there is probably not another power that would seriously object to the evacuation of Peking."

The Daily Mail observes: "Probably Russia, with the assistance of the United States and France, hopes to dictate to other powers a far eastern policy insuring the accomplishment of Russian designs, which would be greatly facilitated by the acceptance of Li Hung Chang as plenipotentiary. The powers should refuse to accept any intermediary or to evacuate Peking, which would only be interpreted as a sign of weakness."

The Daily Express and The Daily Chronicle protest against placing any reliance on the professions of Li Hung Chang or of the Chinese authorities.

The Standard says: "It is not easy to overrate the importance of the decision of the United States. The desire of both Washington and St. Petersburg to withdraw from Peking is very intelligible. Public opinion in America is averse to foreign complications, while Russia has discovered that conditions are not propitious for her scheme of conquest. She lacks the necessary large army and wants the Transsiberian railway completed before she can stretch her arms over northern Asia."

CORBETT WHIPS M'COY.

Knockout Ends Fast and Furious Fight In Fifth Round.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The long promised and long looked for meeting between James J. Corbett and Charles ("Kid") McCoy was held last night under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club at Madison Square Garden, and in less than five rounds Corbett proved himself the better man. That Corbett and McCoy are the cleverest exponents of the art of self defense among the present generation of the heavyweights goes without saying, and keen judges of the game who saw the fight declare that it was the cleverest exhibition ever witnessed in the ring. Up to the moment that the men stepped into the squared circle opinions as to their respective ability were widely divergent. Many claimed, and rightly, too, that Corbett would prove to be the stronger as well as the cleverer, and it was through his superb feinting and heavy slugging that he put McCoy down and out.

McCoy's friends all along have claimed that he was equally as dexterous with his hands, eyes and feet as the former champion, and in addition to this they said that the "Kid" could hit harder than Corbett. All who have met McCoy acknowledge that his blows are powerful ones and that they sting and cut wherever they land. Last night, however, while McCoy landed some stinging jabs, he did not cut Corbett's skin nor did he land a single heavy right hand blow during the contest.

On the other hand, Corbett, when he dropped science and began to slug, landed hard rights and lefts which simply took McCoy's guard away, and when Corbett found a vulnerable spot in the region of McCoy's heart two lefts divided by a right ended the battle.

Both men entered the ring in superb condition. McCoy was heavier by several pounds than on any previous occasion when he battled against other opponents. He said himself that he never felt better in his life and that he was never so fit as he was for this contest.

Accidental Shooting.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 31.—Private Charles H. Burnham of Worcester, a member of Troop I, Seventh cavalry, was accidentally shot and killed by his chum, Private Beller, in Cuba Aug. 21. Word came to his father, W. H. Burnham, giving the facts in the case. The men were cleaning a revolver, when it was accidentally discharged. Burnham was 25 years old and enlisted from the Worcester office in February.

Cyclone Damages Mafeking.

MAFEKING, Aug. 31.—A cyclone that visited Mafeking Tuesday evening did more damage than the seven months' bombardment. It blew down or unroofed numerous buildings and leveled the military camp hospital, causing much suffering among the sick and wounded. One person was killed, and two were injured, and there were many narrow escapes.

WHEN PEKING FELL.

Thrilling Scenes as Legationers Were Rescued.

STRONG DEFENSES EXCITE WONDER.

Walls and Barricades With Earthworks and Sandbags Surrounded the British Legation and Defied All Chinese Attacks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The following interesting particulars of the fall of Peking have just been received from that city, dated Aug. 14:

"A medal will be struck commemorating the siege of Peking. It will bear the legend, 'Men, not walls, make a city.'

"In the grounds of the British legation, where a handful of men withstood the millions of the Chinese capital for 56 days, a memorable celebration is in progress tonight in vindication of that principle. Missionaries, assembled about bell tower, are singing the "Doxology," rockets are blazing, and soldiers and civilians of all nationalities are fraternizing. The women are applauding the sound of the cannon that are smashing the yellow roofs of the forbidden city.

"The tired Sikhs are planting their tents on the lawn, and the American and Russian contingents are lighting campfires along the stretch of turf extending beyond the Tartar wall.

"Through the ruins of the foreign settlement an eager, cosmopolitan crowd is jostling—Indians, Cossacks, legation ladies, diplomats, Americans from the Philippines and French disciplinarians from Saigon, who kept discreetly to the rear while the fighting was in progress, but came conspicuously to the front when looting began. Only the Japanese, who have earned the first place, are absent.

"Resident foreigners welcome the luxury of walking about and immunity from bullets. The newcomers are anxious to inspect the evidences of a historic defense. These barricades are, after all, the most wonderful sight in Peking. The barriers hedging the British legation are a marvel of stone and brick walls and earthworks. Sandbags shield every foot of space. The tops of the walls have niches for the riflemen, and the buildings, at their porticos and windows, have armor boxes, bags stuffed with dirt and pillows too.

"Back of the United States legation is a work named Fort Myers, which the marines held, completely screening both sides of the walls, with steps leading to it. There is a loopholed barrier across the wall which faces a similar Chinese work a few yards away. Another wall bars Legation street in front of the German legation, and confronting the enemy's barricades within those limits are yet more walls, enabling the foreigners to contract the area of defense if pressed.

"The tops of the American and British buildings were badly torn by the Chinese shells. The rest of the foreign settlement was almost demolished. Two thousand eight hundred shells fell there during the first three weeks of the bombardment, 400 in one day. Bucketfuls of bullets were gathered in the grounds.

"Four hundred and fourteen people lived in the compound through the greater part of the siege. Three hundred and four marines, assisted by 85 volunteers, commanded by the English captain Poole, defended the place. Eleven civilians were killed and 19 wounded. Fifty-four marines and sailors were killed and 112 wounded.

"The reception which the survivors gave the army was worth the hardships the troops had undergone. The entrance was not spectacular. Sir Alfred Gaselee, with his staff and a company of Sikhs, waded up a bed of sewage in the canal under the Tartar wall. The besieged removed the barricades, and when the gates swung inward and the British colors appeared there arose a great continuous cheer on both sides.

"Generals, soldiers and correspondents scrambled up the banks through the filth, elbowing to be first. Men and women surrounded the rescuers and shook the hands of the Sikhs, patting them on the back. Everybody was hustled excitedly along into the legation grounds, where the colors were planted. The soldiers surrounded the well which had been the salvation of the besieged.

"The ministers and officers demanded the latest news on both sides.

"An hour afterward General Chaffee, riding at the head of the Fourteenth United States infantry, marched to the Tartar wall. An American marine who was on top of the wall shouted: 'You are just in time! We need you in our business!'

"'Where can we get in?' said General Chaffee.

"'Through the canal. The British entered there two hours ago,' was the response. The American general looked disappointed.

"Although the Americans entered behind the last of the British forces, their reception was just as enthusiastic as if they had been first. When the stars and stripes emerged into view, Mr. Tewksbury, the missionary, cried, 'Americans, cheer your flag!' Ladies waved their handkerchiefs, and the soldiers cheered the ladies."

Praise For the Alabama.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 31.—The Alabama arrived at Cramps' shipyard late yesterday. Captain Brownson, who is to command the battleship, expressed himself as delighted with the result of the trial. Baron Ferson, Russian naval attache at Washington, and Captain Vladimir Behr, commander of the Russian cruiser Variag, were also pleased with the warship's performance. The latter said: "I believe that in battle she would be the equal of the 15,000 ton battleships of the British navy."

The Famine In India.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The committee of one hundred on Indian famine relief received a cablegram from William T. Fee, United States consul at Bombay, saying that in spite of previous rainfalls the situation is again alarming and the crops are beginning to wither. Great anxiety is felt lest the crops be destroyed. Mr. Fee adds that starvation still threatens, and the ravages of cholera are increasing.

New German Cable.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Direct telegraphic communication between the United States and Germany was opened yesterday through the new German cable in conjunction with the Commercial Cable company's system from New York to Fayal and thence to Emden, Germany. Felicitous messages were exchanged between the German emperor and President McKinley.

Charles Woolston and Garfield Pike have retured from a week's vacation spent at Easton, Pa.

Astounded The Editor

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver Troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

T. B. Titsworth, of West Front street, is home from the Thousand Islands where he has been for a week.

—Chinese are dangerous enemies, for they are treacherous. That's why all counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are dangerous. They look like Dewitt's, but instead of the all-healing witch hazel they all contain ingredients liable to irritate the skin and cause blood poisoning. For piles, injuries and skin diseases use the original and genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. L. W. Randolph.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The polar bears of Kodiak island weigh from 2,500 to 3,000 pounds, and none of them has ever been caught alive.

There are 20 large oyster packing establishments in Norfolk, Va., and it is estimated that they handle 2,500,000 bushels annually, representing a value of $2,000,000.

Mount Edgecombe, in Alaska, has one of the largest craters in the world, being five miles in diameter, which is filled with dense forests 2,000 feet below the rim.

A man who owns a cocoanut grove in Venezuela is independent, as the fruit continues to ripen all the year and brings a good price. Each tree averages an annual income of five shillings.

Saddles, in some form, are of the greatest antiquity. Under Tiglath-Pileser III. the Assyrian cavalry were provided with them, and the early Romans used a covering of cloth, hide or skin, which was no doubt very similar.

The public buildings of the United States have cost, since the foundation of the government, exclusive of the buildings in Washington and those employed by the army and navy, $154,775,384. Of this the sites have cost $22,755,167, and there remains $23,843,574 to be expended on these buildings before they are completed.

The increasing dearth of women servants was instanced by Canon Duckworth at a recent meeting of the Society for Promoting the Employment of Women in London. The other day, he said, a young woman who had advertised for a situation as housemaid on the morning after the advertisement received 80 letters, three telegrams, and three personal visits from ladies anxious to engage her.

A marvelous top, capable of spinning 43½ minutes, and then remaining erect and still, has been constructed by Prof. Charles Jacobus, for many years superintendent of the New Brunswick (N. J.) public schools, but now of Springfield, Mass. The inventor of the top guards it carefully, and never allows it to pass out of his hands. He has spun it scores of times before scientists in New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

NEW G. A. R. OFFICERS.

Major Rassieur For Commander In Chief—Denver In 1901.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—With the selection of officers and the choice of Denver for the national encampment of 1901 the thirty-fourth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic practically came to a close yesterday. The programme as mapped out by the reception committee includes two days more before the veterans are supposed to return to their homes. Nothing in the way of business remains to be transacted, the next two days being occupied entirely in excursions, patriotic concerts in the parks and other affairs of a social character. Following are the officers chosen: Commander in chief, Leo Rassieur, St. Louis; senior vice commander, E. C. Milliken, Portland, Me.; junior vice commander, Frank Seamon, Knoxville; surgeon general, John A. Wilkins, Delta, O.; chaplain in chief, Rev. A. Drahms, San Quentin, Cal.

The convention was called to order promptly at 9 o'clock by Commander In Chief Shaw. The committee appointed to consider the annual report of the commander in chief approved of it with the exception of his recommendation of an effort to secure the change of the date of Memorial day from May 30 to the last Sunday in May. The report was adopted and the delegates took up the vexed question of pensions. Over the report of this committee and over various amendments and substitutes which members had prepared to offer a rather warm debate was anticipated, but the report as submitted by the committee was adopted without amendment and practically without debate. The main feature of the somewhat lengthy report was the petition to congress to pass a bill providing for a court of appeals to act immediately on the thousands of pension applications now pending and which court of appeals shall have final jurisdiction.

Besides the business meeting the day's programme included a sham battle in which the First and Second Illinois infantry, First Illinois cavalry and a battery of artillery engaged in mimic warfare through the groves and over the grassy lawns of Washington park. An immense crowd of veterans enjoyed the spectacle.

BACK FROM NOME.

Steamer Brings Much Gold—Great Havoc by the Storm.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 31.—The steamship Senator has arrived in port from Nome, bringing advices up to Aug. 21. There were 250 returning passengers.

The Senator brought about $320,000 in gold, $300,000 of it consigned to various companies and banks in this city.

The recent storms at Nome caused large loss of life. Thirty-eight bodies have so far been recovered on the beach and buried by the officials.

Captain Richardson of the Sequoia, which is engaged in the fishing trade, says that 17 dead bodies have been found and buried between Topkuk and Golovin bay and 20 others between Topkuk and Port Safety. The majority of the drowned men are supposed to be victims of the late storm.

R. J. Nelson found two bodies at Chinik. So far as known not one of the bodies was identified before burial.

Captain Ramwell, agent of the steamer Elmore, states that passengers arriving from down the coast say that fully 25 dead bodies, washed ashore by the waves, have been buried between Topkuk and Golovin bay.

Reports of drowning have also bee received from up the coast.

The schooner Edith arrived at Nome on Aug. 9 and brought news of a tragedy near the Siberian coast. F. Scott Morrison of Chicago, where he leaves a wife and five stepchildren, was foully murdered by the Siberian natives, and Captain Gilley, who arrived at Nome this spring on the ill fated bark Alaska, a well known mariner on the Alaskan coast, was accidentally drowned off Sledge island. Both the bodies were brought back to Nome on the Edith.

PHILIPPINE TRADE.

Exports and Imports For the Eight Months Ended Feb. 28.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The division of customs and insular affairs of the war department has given out for publication a summary of its regular monthly bulletin, showing the trade of the Philippine Islands for the eight months ended Feb. 28, 1900. The summary shows the total trade for the eight months to be as follows:

The total value of merchandise imported during the period named was $13,634,764. Of this amount $633,283 was admitted free of duty. The imports are classified as follows: Articles of food and animals, $3,699,628; manufactured articles, $7,014,332; articles of voluntary use, luxuries, etc., $789,694; articles in a crude condition or partly so, $520,684; miscellaneous articles, $1,610,436. The total amount of import duty collected during the period named was $2,734,080.

The exports of merchandise during the period named amounted in value to $9,523,508 and were classified as follows: Products of agriculture, $7,972,103; manufactured articles, $980,557; mining, $56,170; forest, $422, and miscellaneous, $514,256. The total amount of export duty collected was $286,636.

HARD LUCK STORIES.

Christian Endeavor Tourists Reach New York.

HARROWING EXPERIENCES ABROAD.

Baggage Sent Astray by Drunken Attendants—Round Trip Tickets Dishonored—Many Stranded and Waiting For Funds.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Many of the 420 Christian Endeavorers who reached this port from Europe on the North German Lloyd steamer Aller are unable to proceed to their homes by reason of lack of funds. Neither had any of the 420 any baggage when they arrived, lacking even a change of linen. They tell harrowing stories of their experience abroad. They report the continent of Europe to be dotted with ill used Christian Endeavorer tourists.

Two thousand Endeavorers sailed from this port July 4 by the steamer Trave. The contingent just arrived on the Aller is the advance guard of the army of hard luck that is returning from the continent as fast as "money from home" will bring them from interior points to Cherbourg or Southampton, where they meet the steamers. Their passage home had been paid.

The pilgrims on the Aller were from Philadelphia, Maryland, St. Louis, Memphis and other points in the south and west.

The majority of them are stranded here in New York, awaiting remittances to take them home. They are well to do persons at that. Last June they paid from $300 to $500 to a tourist agency to take them to London for the international convention of Endeavorers and thereafter across the continent on various personally conducted tours.

Mrs. S. J. Edwards of St. Louis, one of the party, says that the first troubles came from the fact that the agency assigned one guide and two baggagemen to a party of 180 tourists. The baggagemen insisted on trying to drink up all the liquor they saw between London and Italy, and as a result the baggage got hopelessly mixed. The hotels the tourists were assigned to were for the most part of such a character and so limited in accommodations that the sightseers suffered all sorts of inconveniences. Parts of their tours which were to be made in carriages had to be taken on foot, and finally at Maringen the guide informed them that the managers would have to abandon the tour through lack of funds and the excursionists would have to pay their own fare to Cherbourg.

Then those not well supplied with money had to borrow from those better fixed, and the French seaport was reached. Here they were informed that their trunks had been shipped on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, and so the return trip across the ocean was made with simply the clothes they had on their backs when they landed at Cherbourg.

More Stranded Tourists.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Tour C of Crawford & Floyd's party of Christian Endeavor tourists has arrived in Paris from Geneva. It comprises 200 members. Some half a dozen of the party who were interviewed declare that they had to raise $800 to get out of Florence, where they were stranded. At Venice, where they were informed of the firm's failure, many had not $10 in money left. Some of them wired for funds, some went to friends in Germany and England, while about 200 continued on to Lucerne and Munich. Altogether the party is out about $10,000.

Sloane to Ride Ballyhoo Bey Again.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Tod Sloane, who rode Ballyhoo Bey in the Futurity, announces that he will ride that horse again next Saturday in the Flatbush stakes. It is said that when William C. Whitney came back from abroad he requested Sloane to postpone his return to England. As the proper inducements went with the request the little jockey did not hesitate, but canceled his passage. He will return to England, in all probability, the Wednesday after the race.

Train Held Up by Bandits.

Cheyenne, Wy., Aug. 31.—The Union Pacific passenger train, second section, No. 3, was held up by four bandits two and a half miles west of Tipton Station, 58 miles west of Rawlins. The express and baggage cars were blown open and the safe blown to pieces. The railroad company says the loss is nominal. The baggage and express cars were considerably damaged. The Union Pacific offers $1,000 reward for each man.

Killed While Asleep on the Track.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Aug. 31.—William Toner and Peter Girard, young men hailing from Worcester, Mass., while en route to the hopfields at Cooperstown became tired and sat down on the tracks of the Cooperstown and Charlotte Valley railroad about one mile south of Milford. They fell asleep, and an early train ran over them, killing Toner instantly and injuring Girard so that he died a few hours later.

By Kite Across the Ocean.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Aug. 31.—W. A. Eddy, the kite expert, has launched a buoy to a kite in the sea. The buoy was 24 inches long and was carried out six miles in an hour. A strong wind was blowing. Next week Mr. Eddy will attempt to send a larger buoy across the ocean by means of six large kites of his own make.

British Prisoners Released.

LOURENCO MARQUES, Aug. 31.—The British prisoners at Nooit Gedacht, on the railroad east of Machadodorp, have been released by the Boers and are marching to join Lord Roberts' forces at Watervalboven, near Machadodorp. President Kruger and his chief officials are at Nelspruit.

Immense Dredge Completed.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The largest dipper dredge in America has been successfully launched at the St. Lawrence marine railway dock. It is valued at $100,000, and its dimensions are 115 feet in length, 40 feet beam, drawing 12.2 at working end and 10½ at stern.

House and Family Burned.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 31.—By the burning of their house A. Rescia, his wife and child were burned to death.

Weather Probabilities.

Generally fair; warmer; light southwesterly winds.

A recital of the dividends paid by the Standard Oil Company to its stockholders is instructive. In the last eighteen years the Standard paid about $270,000,000 in dividends. These are the annual figures: From 1882 to 1891 the company paid dividends at 5½ per cent., amounting to $47,250,000; 1891 to 1895, dividends at 12 per cent., $48,000,000; 1895, dividends at 31 per per cent., $31,000,000; 1897, dividends at 33 per cent., $33,000,000; 1898, dividends at 30 per cent., $30,000,000; 1899, dividends at 33 per cent., $33,000,000; estimated this year 48 per cent., or $48,000,000. There are one million shares of the company, and one man, John D. Rockefeller, owns one-third of this stock, which is only a part of his vast fortune.

There has not been in recent years a political campaign of any kind in which it has been possible to associate the name of James E. Martine with a prospective candidacy but what advantage of this condition has been taken, and the "Farmer Orator" has been represented as likely to become a candidate for some office in the gift of the people. At present his name is being mentioned in connection with the Congressional nomination in the Eighth district, just as it has been for the past ten years. Mr. Martine desires it to be distictly understood that he is not a candidate for the nomination and would not accept it under any circumstances.

If the Elizabeth City Council is wise it will refuse to permit the construction of underground conduits for telephone wires for the exclusive use of one company. To grant the petition for exclusive privileges of this kind that is pending before the Council would be to take a long step towards building up a monopoly in the telephone business that would be seriously regretted at some future time, if not immediately. In granting privileges for the use of public streets by corporations the municipality interested should avoid allowing concessions that are perpetual or intended to be exclusive for one enterprise.

It appears that Assemblyman Edmund W. Wakelee, of Bergen county, is to be nominated by the Republicans of his bailiwick for Senator in place of First Assistant Postmaster-General Johnson, whose recent acceptance of the latter office created a vacancy in the Senatorial circle. Mr. Wakelee was active and prominent in the Lower House of the Legislature at the last session, and if it should be his good fortune to find himself occupying a seat in the Upper House next year he would undoubtedly be well-fitted for the exalted post in view of his experience in the Assembly.

According to law it is not necessary to file the nominations of Presidential electors with the Secretary of State till within twenty days of election. This will permit the nominations to be made as late as October 10th, exclusive of Sundays, this year. But with the State conventions of both parties being held the early part of September, there will scarcely be need of considering the time limit.

The Republicans of Plainfield will not hold primaries for the election of delegates to the State convention to be held in Trenton next week, as the representatives from this city to that assemblage of politicians were chosen several weeks ago when the primaries were held for the selection of delegates to the Eighth Congressional district convention.

Franklin Murphy, chairman of the Republican State committee, is expected to arrive home from Europe tomorrow. His arrival will be followed by active work on the part of the G. O. P. organization, although the real business of the campaign will not be commenced till after the Republican convention has met.

The fiend who considers it is his manifest duty to take a straw vote in order to determine who is going to be elected next November, is yet to put in an appearance. His arrival is as sure, however, as election itself.

PASSING COMMENT.

Things that Are Not Exactly News but Just as Interesting.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Cranford claims that the Township Committee is accessory in violating the Sunday law. The township owns a soda water fountain that was sold for taxes and bought in by the township. The fountain is in a fruit store in Cranford and is in use seven days in the day. The woman insist that it should be shut down on Sunday. The Township Committee is willing to swap the soda water fountain for a road roller and would like to hear from any Township Committee in a position to make offers.

It is an old joke about the young woman who was asleep in one of the Jersey Central trains but was awakened by the conductor shouting "Elizabeth" as the train drew into that city and sprang to her feet under the impression that she was the person addressed. It is a fact, however, that the wife of a prominent Plainfielder, when a little girl, was riding in a Jersey Central train when the conductor sung out the name "Elizabeth." The little girl's name was Elizabeth and she smiled up into the face of the conductor and said, "Yes, sir."

There is a very easy means within the reach of every golf and tennis player who uses white canvas shoes to keep those same shoes white and clean. When white the shoes are quite pretty to look at but it doesn't take long to soil them and then, to many, their usefulness does not last much longer. A fine white powder called "pipe clay," may be purchased at any drug store and applied to the shoes with a wet brush or rag. The shoes should have first been brushed and scraped to take away any superfluous dirt. After the shoes with their coating of pipe clay have been allowed to stand they will dry and become perfectly white. Pipe clay was used by soldiers in the army to keep their cross belts white. Officers in the navy have also utilized it in keeping their white canvass shoes in good condition.

THE COURTS

JUSTICE NASH.

In Justice Nash's court Wednesday the following cases were disposed of: Endress against Mintz, judgment for $186.72; Laing against Mills, judgment for $29.01.

The case of Pilger against Drake was adjourned for two weeks. Summons were issued in the contract case of Young against Marley for possession of premises. They are returnable September 5th.

Rev. Floyd T. Appleton, curate at Grace P. E. church, has returned from an extended vacation trip.

Messrs. Phillip Magrath and Frank Murphy, of New York, were the guests of Miss Katherine Carty, of Orchard place, yesterday.

In a letter received by a friend recently Jed Smalley, who has gone to Moscow, Pa., states that he is gaining in health rapidly.

—The quality of the peaches sold at Neuman Brothers is unsurpassed by any in the city, and the prices are just right.

—Mothers endorse it, children like it, old folks use it. We refer to One Minute Cough Cure. It will quickly cure all throat and lung troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Genesee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—Our family realize so much from the use of GRAIN-O that I feel I must say a word to induce others to use it. If people are interested in their health and the welfare of their children they will use no other beverage. I have used them all but GRAIN-O I have found superior to any, for the reason that it is solid grain.

Yours for health, C. F. MYERS.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson spent yesterday in Plainfield.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

Scotch Plains, August 31.—Bryant Johnson had a narrow escape from drowning while bathing with a number of other boys in Marsh's Lake yesterday afternoon. During the summer the lake has been a favorite place for swimming for the younger boys in town owing to its being in some places very shallow, while in other parts of the lake the depth is nearly eight feet. Bryant started to smim across and back where the water was the deepest but before he could make the trip he was played out. His cries for help alarmed all his companions but Gussie Frentz, who was one of the party. Gussie thought and acted promptly. Jumping into the water he made for Bryant who had already gone down several times, but still remained conscious, and was battling for all he was worth to stay afloat but his efforts were useless. In a few seconds Frentz was able to grab hold of the struggling lad and with a great effort brought him near enough to the shore for the others to assist him. Johnston was pulled out nearly unconscious and laid upon the bank while the boys worked over him to get the water out of him. It was some time before he was able to dress and go home, and it will be some time before he will forget his narrow escape. His rescuer deserves a great deal of credit for his action in going to Johnston's assistance, as he is a younger boy and Johnston was much larger, but he did not stop to think of that.

The Misses Boornmann, of Westfield avenue, invited a number of their friends to their home several evenings ago to watch the opening of eight of the buds on a beautiful night blooming cereus.

Mrs. John Robison, together with her son, Richard, and daughter, Miss Louise, are spending a week with relatives and friends in Camden.

The Misses Ivy and Regnette Marsh are spending a week at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Frederick Bulkly, in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, of Brooklyn, were the guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Hand.

Mrs. Mitchell and child, of Westfield, were the guests yesterday of Mrs. John R. Haskard.

Good Will Lodge, K. of P., held their regular weekly meeting in their rooms, Castle Hall, last evening.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

(Special Correspondence to The Press.)

South Plainfield, Aug. 31—Six new dwellings have been built in town this season. The new school building is getting along nicely and now we hear we are to have two more new houses this fall. There is nothing the matter with South Plainfield.

Mrs. Milton Major, Mrs. Wm. Teeple and Miss Theresa Brundage went to Boynton Beach yesterday.

Miss Julia Drake, of Stelton, spent the day yesterday with Mrs. Thomas Brantingham.

Mrs. Mary McDonough is moving into her new house today. It is a very pretty home.

Dennis Harlo's sister, who is visiting him, is quite ill. She is from New York.

The dry weather is causing all of the open wells in town to fail.

Farmers in this vicinity have commenced cutting up corn.

—350 baskets of choice canning peaches at Neuman Brothers tomorrow at 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents per basket.

—Fred Endress, the butcher, offers fresh beef, mutton, lamb, veal, chickens and smoked meats at less than usual rates for quality equal. He procures prime meats only, consequently has only prime meats for sale.

—The quicker you stop a cough or cold the less danger there will be of fatal lung trouble. One Minute Cough Cure is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. You will like it. L. W. Randolph.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of LaGrange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in Sores, Bruises, Skin Eruption, Cuts, Burns, Scalds and Piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by L. W. Randolph, druggist.

Among the ministers present at the dedication of St. Paul's German Lutheran church at West New Brighton, Staten Island, Sunday, was Rev. W. Trebert, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Foster and their daughter, Miss Foster, of New York, who have been spending the summer in Plainfield, have gone to Michigan, accompanied by Mrs. John Gray Foster, of Mercer avenue.

—Summons have been issued by Justice Mosher in the contract case of Gottfried Honej against Michael Powers. They are returnable September 5th.

—Millions will be spent in politics this year. We can't keep the campaign going without money any more than we can keep the body vigorous without food. Dyspeptics used to starve themselves. Now Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and allows you to eat all the good food you want. It radically cures stomach troubles. L. W. Randolph.

Lokal-Nachrichten aus der alten Heimath.

Sachsen.

Dresden. Zu dem hier garnisonirenden Schützenregimente wurde jüngst ein gewisser Höhn ausgehoben, der mit 15 Jahren nach Amerika auswanderte und sich mit 17 Jahren als Soldat bei den „First Louisiana Volunteers" anwerben ließ. Als solcher focht er auf Kuba gegen die Spanier bei Santiago. Nach Auflösung dieses Regiments ist der jugendliche Sachse nach seinem Vaterland zurückgekehrt.—Großes Aufsehen erregte hier die Eröffnung des Konkursverfahrens gegen den Besitzer des weitbekannten „Palast-Restaurants" und der „Philharmonie," C. Thamm. Das Palast-Restaurant war eines der größten Konzert-Etablissements Sachsens.

Leipzig. In Folge des Rückganges der Kleinmessen ist vom Rath beschlossen worden, Verkaufsstände an der Promenade nicht wieder aufstellen zu lassen. Die Verkaufsbuden werden auch auf dem Augustusplatz und anderen freien Plätzen in ihrer Zahl so erheblich beschränkt, daß das Straßenbild der Messen fortab ein wesentlich anderes sein wird.

Ostritz. Die kürzlich in Böhmisch-Aicha verstorbene Frau v. Schmitt testirte für verschiedene humanitäre Anstalten ihrer Heimathsgemeinde Ostritz 32,000 Mark.

Reichenbach. Unter dem Verdachte der Brandstiftung wurde der hochangesehene Fabrikbesitzer Julius Krauß, Mitinhaber der eingeäscherten, weltbekannten großen Stark'schen Streichgarnspinnerei, verhaftet.

Thurm. Aus Nahrungssorgen erhängte sich im nahen Walde der Hilfsbriefträger Ungethüm.

Zittau. Nach dem Jahresbericht der hiesigen Handelskammer nahmen die bei der Sächsischen Textil-Berufsgenossenschaft anrechnungsfähigen Löhne bei einem Betrage von 18,634,717 Mark um reichlich 125,000 Mark oder 7.23 Prozent gegen das Vorjahr zu, während die Zahl der Arbeiter nur um 1388 oder 4.12 Prozent stieg. Vergleicht man hiermit die Zahlen von 1890, so ergibt sich innerhalb den zehn Jahren ein Anwachsen der Löhne von 13,532,304 Mark um 5,102,418 Mark oder fast 38 Prozent, während die Zahl der Arbeiter in der gleichen Zeit von 30,064 um 4996 oder 16.6 Prozent wuchs.

Thüringische Staaten.

Katzhütte. Der 13jährige Schulknabe Edwin Müller, der seinen Altersgenossen Baumann im Walde überfiel, beraubte und mit einem Messer so schwer verletzte, daß kurz darauf der Tod eintrat, ist von der Strafkammer zu fünf Jahren Gefängniß verurtheilt worden.

Königsee. Jüngsthin wurde die neuerbaute Eisenbahnstrecke Sitzendorf-Katzhütte dem Verkehr übergeben.

Rodach. In dem 600 Einwohner zählenden Dorfe Großwalbur brannten vor Kurzem 18 Gehöfte nieder.

Wasungen. Der frühere Schultheiß Storch, der Gründer der Holzdreherei im benachbarten Schwallungen, fiel von der Bodentreppe seines Wohnhauses und war sofort todt.

Freie Städte.

Hamburg. Das Hamburger Schiff „Bessie Whineray" ist in der Nordsee gesunken. Der Kapitän und vier Mann sind ertrunken, die übrige Mannschaft, darunter der Sohn des Kapitäns, wurden durch den Dampfer „Etrurian" gerettet.—Mit seiner Stellenvermittelung sieht der Verein für Handlungskommis von 1858, der seinen Hauptsitz in Hamburg hat, durch Bezirksvereine aber über den ganzen Erdball verbreitet ist, an der Spitze. Durch ihn sind im Jahre 1899 113 Engagements abgeschlossen worden. Bei Beginn dieses Jahres hatte der Verein während seines Bestehens bereits über 77,000 Stellen vermittelt. Die Stellenvermittelung geschieht kostenfrei.—Das Landgericht verurtheilte den Reichstagsabgeordneten Molkenbuhr wegen Beleidigung des Offizierkorps der deutschen Armee, begangen durch ein Gedicht in dem von Molkenbuhr verantwortlich gezeichneten sozialdemokratischen „Hamburger Echo," zu 300 Mark Geldstrafe oder 30 Tagen Gefängniß.

Eppendorf. Die Reichsbehörden haben festgestellt, daß der im hiesigen Krankenhause an der Pest verstorbene Steward Rauhut sich die Seuche in Cardiff, England, zuzog, welches seit Auftreten der Pest in Indien ein Seuchenherd geworden ist und von wo aus die Seuche auch in Oporto, Portugal, eingeschleppt wurde. Es sind Anzeichen dafür vorhanden, daß in zahlreichen englischen Hafenorten Pestfälle vertuscht wurden.

Bremen. In Piräus starb plötzlich Alfred Bucherer, der erst vor Kurzem aus dem Amte scheidende Vizekonsul des deutschen Reiches, Kommissionär und Vertreter des Bremer Lloyd. Eine Abtheilung griechischer Infanterie erwies dem Verstorbenen bei seiner Beerdigung die Ehrenbezeugungen, die ihm als Ritter griechischer Orden gebührten.

CHILDREN'S FASHIONS.

Items Concerning the Up to Date Juvenile Wardrobe.

Pique is immensely used for children's wear; it is so serviceable. It washes well, and each time it is laundered it looks as well as new.

Large collars of guipure or of fine needlework give an air of elegance to children's costumes. Linon of bise tint is also used and is decorated with insertion or ribbons and bands of velvet flatly applied.

Sacks of red cloth with a large white nainsook collar are pretty for little girls.

For very little children hats of drawn and shirred silk are greatly favored. Ribbons and feathers are used as trimming, but never flowers.

GIRL'S COSTUME.

Plaid straw hats are a pleasing novelty for girls. They are simply trimmed with a bias band of velvet or silk, which passes around the crown and forms a large bow with windmill loops.

The illustration given today shows a girl's gown of navy blue wool goods. The skirt has five tucks around the foot. The bodice is draped obliquely and has a bertha covered with applications of cream silk and bordered with a plaiting of cream silk. The wrists of the plain sleeves are similarly finished, and the belt is of cream silk. The sailor hat of ecru straw is trimmed with blue ribbon having a design in white.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE DINNER TABLE.

Fashionable Methods of Making It Beautiful.

The only proper way to decorate the dinner table is with low ornaments which shall not intercept the view of the guests. Tall lamps, candelabra and vases are quite out of keeping, and fashion, in abandoning them, has done a sensible thing for once at least. Branched candlesticks are indeed a pleasing ornament much used, but they are low and the candles have rose colored shades to keep the light away from the eyes of the diners. The basket or other flower holder in the center is also low and flat. Flowers are now often replaced by fruit for decorative purposes, as many persons are made ill by strong scents, especially when these are mingled with the odor of food. If flowers are chosen, scentless flowers or those of very delicate odor should be selected. Ferns and other foliage plants are effective and free from any sort of fragrance.

DINNER GOWN.

The cut shows a dinner gown of white foulard with a printed design in sapphire blue. The skirt is plain in front, but shirred around the hips and at the back. The bodice is draped and crossed in front and has a draped corselet of sapphire liberty velvet. The collar and guimpe are of venetian guipure of a yellow tone over white satin. The sleeves, of elbow length, are wrinkled and terminate in a band of sapphire velvet and a ruffle of guipure.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Crisis.

Two Irishmen while crossing a bridge saw a sign announcing that any one saving a life would receive $5, or $2 for recovering a dead body.

"Begob, here's a chance to make some money," said Pat. "Throw yourself in an I'll save ye an we'll whack the pot, Mike."

Mike fell off the bridge, and despite the efforts of Pat came near drowning. While struggling in the water Mike exclaimed: "Whist, ould man, if ye don't hurry we'll have but the $2 to whack."—Exchange.

I am forty-four years of age, a native of New York City, but living now in Texas. Have no occupation, but live with my son, who is a "ranchman." The diet being so different in every way to what I have always been accustomed brought on severe attacks of indigestion. I tried everything prescribed or advertised, with no permanent relief. At last I determined to send for two of the 5-cent cartons of Ripans Tabules. After taking the first box I began to feel better—after eating. I continued taking them, two each day. I sent for more, so certain do I feel that they will cure me.

Street Pavements in Switzerland. The city of Basel has made within the last few years a series of experiments in street paving. It appears from an official report that the first wood pavement was laid in 1888 in one of the chief thoroughfares, the owners of the contiguous property being obliged to pay the difference between the cost of stone and wood pavement. The material used was the fir (Pinus abies), a tree that covers the neighboring Jura and Black Forest and gives to the latter region its name. In a few years this pavement became worthless, and the government required the property owners to pay half the expense of new pavement and of repairs to the old, grading and the beton support being still at the charge of the city.

At the same time, an effort was made to secure greater durability by an improved treatment of the wood blocks and by securing uniformity in the material, lack of which had been one of the chief causes of the rapid destruction of the pavement. These preparatory measures were executed by the government itself instead of by the contractors, as in the first instance, and somewhat better results were obtained. Still, in a short time repairs were needed, and in five or six years the complete renewal of the pavement was imperatively necessary. The lack of sunlight in the narrow streets which are most frequented promotes the decay of the wood. In the single large square where that material is employed, it has proved more satisfactory. But the concentration of the traffic on the parts of the street not occupied by the tram lines and the sharp shoe calks of the horses, especially in the damp winter weather, soon literally hacked the pavement to pieces.

For the present, the extension of the wood-pavement system has been abandoned; but the renewal of that now existing must be provided for, because of the expense of the stratum of beton. For this purpose, however, fir blocks will no longer be employed. Several other woods are under consideration. American pitch pine, tried on a small scale a few years ago, is rejected on the ground that it has so much waste (sap wood) that its inspection is extremely difficult. Larch from the Canton of Valais (Pinus larix, a species strongly resembling American larch or hackmatack) was laid experimentally in 1894, and is now in such a condition that an existence of nine or ten years is anticipated. It is said that this material has proved fairly satisfactory in Paris. Oak and pine are rejected, both on account of their too great cost and their relative unsuitableness for the purpose.

On the whole, it is thought most practicable to use a new material which is said to be in favor in Dresden and Leipzig — the Australian karri wood.

Below is a tabular statement of the presumed cost per square meter (10.7642 square feet) and the estimated duration of the different kinds of wood already used or under consideration:

Wood.	Price.	Duration (years).
Fir from Jura or Bernerobertland, already used	$1 98	5 to 7
Fir, in future	2 22	6 to 7
Larch from Valais	2 35	9 to 10
Larch from the Grisons	2 88	9 to 10
Pitch pine from America	2 75	10
Karri wood	3 86	18

According to this computation, karri blocks would have to be renewed but twice in 36 years, costing only $7.72 per square meter, while fir must be renewed six times in that period at a cost of $13.32. Karri wood will therefore be used for renewing the existing wood pavement.

For the streets now paved with cobblestones from the Rhine, as well as for the macadamized streets that are to be paved, it is proposed to use large hewn quarry stone. A quartz sandstone from Alsace which was laid on trial a few years ago has given excellent results. By setting such stones closely and carefully together, it is claimed that a smooth, durable street is obtained which is almost as noiseless as one paved with wood, costs only $2.50 per cubic meter (35.316 cubic feet), and will last 30 years.

As a further experiment, a certain quantity of Belgian porphyry is to be used—a stone said to be extremely durable and requiring hardly any expenditure for repairs.

STREET IN BASEL, SWITZERLAND, SHOWING METHOD OF SEWERAGE AND PAVING.

Germany's Exportation of Sugar. Germany's exportation of raw sugar has always exceeded that of any other European country. In the exportation of refined sugar, however, it was third down to 1881-82, France being first and Austria second. Between 1882 and 1887 Austria repeatedly gained the first place. In 1887-88, however, Germany led, and it has held this position ever since, with the exception of the years 1892-93 and 1893-94. In the 11 years which have elapsed since 1889 Germany's exportation of raw sugar has increased from 349,310 metric tons to 493,531 metric tons, the amount being largest in 1897 (681,516 metric tons), when the United States took 367,301 metric tons before July 24, the date on which the new customs tariff went into force. This amount exceeded Germany's entire exportation of raw sugar in 1889 and was twice as much as was shipped to the United States during the entire year 1899. The principal buyer of German raw sugar prior to 1897 was Great Britain, which in no year took less than 200,000 metric tons. The sale of German raw sugar in British North America is of great importance, having increased very considerably during the past three years. Since 1895 exportation to Denmark has largely increased, and sales to Sweden were much enlarged in 1899. Formerly Holland was a large buyer of German sugar; but this business fell off very much between 1895 and 1898, showing no signs of improvement until 1899.

The exportation of loaf sugar has recently increased considerably, owing especially to the magnitude of the English demand. In 1889 the exportation of this sort of sugar amounted to 163,286 metric tons, and in 1898 it had grown to 487,993 metric tons. The exportation decreased, however, in 1899 to 425,399 metric tons. In 1895-1898 Great Britain took annually in loaves over 300,000 metric tons, and in 1899 it received over six-sevenths of the entire amount exported. Although the exportation of German raw sugar to the United States is very great, there is small demand there for loaf sugar, the amount sent in 1895 and again in 1896 being 10,000 metric tons, while in 1899 it was only 684 metric tons. This was caused by high customs duties in the United States. The market conditions in Japan, Norway and Switzerland are now especially encouraging, each of these countries taking more than 10,000 metric tons of German loaf sugar annually. There has been a marked falling off in shipments to Holland, Chili and British India. This falling off is particularly noticed in shipments to British India, as large quantities were exported to that country annually between 1893 and 1898. The amount sent to Italy is inconsiderable.

Of other sorts of sugar, only comparatively small quantities are exported, the principal purchasers being Great Britain, Norway, Portugal and Uruguay.

The exportation of sirup and molasses increased between 1889 and 1893 from 14,426 to 100,514 metric tons, but since then it has declined, the quantity exported in 1899 being only 4,739 metric tons. This is due almost entirely to French tariff legislation, France being practically the only buyer.

A VOW THAT BINDS.

Made After Trying to Engage a Modiste in Vacation Time.

Kate Gardner, Instead of Chatting About Fashions, Explains Why the Spirit of Accommodation Has Left Her.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

ONE OF the warmest days in August I received a letter from Sue telling me that she had an opportunity to go with a party of friends to a well-known summer resort, but that her wardrobe was in such a depleted condition that unless I could help her she would be forced to decline the invitation. My "help" was to take the form of engaging the services of a dressmaker, and the matter must be attended to that day or not at all. Now it happened to be one of those days when "there is no place like home," especially with the added charms of a comfortable hammock swung in the shadiest corner of a cool veranda, and a late magazine with a table of contents of the most alluring nature; but, sacrificing myself on the altar of friendship, I sallied forth.

The particular modiste whom Sue wished to intrust with the all-important matter of making her presentable to the admiring gaze of the aristocratic Newporters has her "shop" on the top floor of a tall building in the city, and thither I wended my somewhat reluctant way. On entering the vestibule of this same building the first thing that met my eye was a neatly-printed card with the following legend upon it: "Elevator out of order; please take stairway." Now if there is anything I dislike to do it is to climb stairs, especially when the mercury is flirting with the nineties, but remembering the bareness of Sue's wardrobe which, as she ruefully expressed it, did not contain so much as a bathing suit, I drew a long breath and began the weary climb. The higher I climbed the warmer it grew and by the time I reached the top floor I was in a fainting condition.

Madame's shop is at the extreme end of a long, dark corridor. On previous visits the door had stood invitingly open—to-day, however, it was tightly closed and seemed actually to frown at me out of the deep gloom. A very stylishly dressed young woman, chewing gum, answered my somewhat timid ring, and in the most frigid manner possible informed me that madame was out of the city on her annual vacation and would not return until the middle of September.

A visit to four other dressmakers on as many different floors disclosed the fact that they, too, were in the vacation business, to remain a more or less indefinite length of time. I realized that a condition not a theory confronted me, and one, too, upon which neither Sue nor I had reckoned.

However, I was beginning to feel the heat and burden of the day, and, in addition the vigorous stair-climbing I had engaged in had produced a "gone feeling," and some refreshment for the "inner man" was indispensable. I sought the delightful quiet of a near-by tea-room and while enjoying "the cup that cheers," and ruminating on the ways of womankind in general and dressmakers in particular, the thought suddenly came to me that some time in the dim past I had heard of a dressmaker on the North side who did beautiful work on short notice, and at very reasonable prices as well. To think was to act in this case, and soon I found myself on a fashionable avenue leading toward the lake.

I had some little trouble in finding the house, which proved to be a swell-looking brown stone structure, with glistening marble steps leading there-

LOVE LETTERS TO ORDER.

The Strange Occupation Followed by Certain Persons in the City of Mexico.

Perhaps there is no more characteristic sight in Mexico than the so-called "evangelistas" who ply their trade in the plazuela de Belem and the plazuela of Santo Domingo, relates the Mexican Herald.

They write love letters, blackmailing letters and all sorts of letters for those who do not know how to write, at a rate of three, six, nine or more cents, according to the length of the missive. They also undertake without extra charge to write the address on the envelope and to attach the required stamp, but for the latter they make an extra charge of one cent.

One of the Santo Domingo evangelistas is now in prison meditating over the fact that to defraud the government even out of five cents may be a very serious matter in the eyes of the law. The name of this evangelista is J. P. Vasquez. His services were engaged by Mrs. M. Inez Hernandez to write a letter to her husband, who is absent from the city. After he had written the letter Vasquez asked Mrs. Hernandez if she wanted a stamp.

On her assenting he attached a five-cent stamp and collected six cents in addition to his regular charge for writing the letter.

With the addressed and stamped envelope Mrs. Hernandez went to the branch post office in the Exiaduana building and, not knowing in which box to drop it, asked the postal inspector, Manuel Espinosa, who happened to be in the post office, for information on the subject. Mr. Espinosa took the letter to read the address and was about to return it to Mrs. Hernandez when he noticed that the color of the stamp was extremely dim. By still closer scrutiny he discovered that the stamp had been already canceled and the faintness of color was due to a chemical treatment that had been applied for the purpose of effacing the ink of the seal.

The inspector asked the Hernandez woman from whom she had bought the stamp and she led him to the stand of the evangelista from whom she had made the purchase. The evangelista at first denied having sold the stamp to the woman, but as two other women who had been present testified that they had seen him sell the stamp, he was taken to the police station and from there to Belem.

Accurate Tunneling.

The longest separate length of tunnel for the recently opened Central London railway driven was from the Westbourne shaft to the Marble Arch shaft, the distance being over 1,200 yards, and the work resulted in an error of only five-eighths of an inch at the point where a junction was effected with the tunnel driven by another firm of contractors. In two of the sections bore holes were put down into the tunnel for the purpose of testing the lines, but generally the lengths were driven through so accurately that no recourse to bore holes was found necessary.—The Builder.

Gossip of the Football Season That Is Fast Approaching

THE thoughts of the college man and thousands of his followers are turning to the gridiron and the season of football that is promised for this fall. While some enthusiastic tennis players are perspiring out on sunny courts and baseball devotees are being tanned by Old Sol's rays, a few ambitious athletes in the 'varsities are taking the lightest kind of summer practice in football.

Managers are corresponding about the various schedules and the "athletic scholars" are seeking schools which they may join so that their wonderful brain (muscle) power may be developed. Soon the tales of the halfback and the mighty center rush flanked with his almost invincible guards will be heard in the land—will run a hard race with the talks of the political spellbinders.

Coaches, those indispensable men for the big universities, as well as for the academies, high schools and colleges, will engross the attention of many followers of gridiron athletics. A majority of the prominent 'varsities have made contracts with football coaches and many of them have blocked out the schedules of big games. What are known as practice games will be added to the schedules from time to time as the plans of the smaller institutions mature.

Michigan has obtained the famous "Biff" Lea for coach. Wisconsin has pinned her faith once more to the cunning "Phil" King, who will be assisted by that shrewd judge of athletes, "Buck" Richards. Chicago will have a galaxy of coaching stars. Prof. A. A. Stagg, as is well known, will be the power behind the throne there. But he will be ably assisted by former Capt. Kennedy, the "mighty" Herschberger, by many thought to be one of the greatest kickers and backs the west has devoloped, and Henry Gale, who is considered to be a solid veteran standby at the maroon headquarters. Illinois will have a big contingent of coaches. Fred Smith, "Big George" Huff, Holt and Shell are on the books to help the Illini progress. Northwestern will stick to Dr. Hollister. Minnesota will abide by the work of Dr. Williams, and nothing short of a wild western cyclone that would destroy the 'varsity buildings would remove Dr. Knipe from his berth with Iowa. Purdue expects to show the other colleges what A. Jamieson, a graduate player, can do with his material. Notre Dame, where the sentiment is greatly in favor of spending some money for a high-class eastern coach, has decided upon Pat O'Dea, the former captain of the badgers and one of the greatest kickers the intercollegiate game has ever known. McWeeney, a former policeman and a guard who played some hard games with the old Chicago Athletic association eleven, will be Pat's assistant.

One fact stands out very prominently, that while assignments of coaches for western colleges and many of the eastern schools have been made, neither Yale nor Harvard has made a definite move for chief coaches. Whether or not the grads of the blue and crimson are loath to accept the responsibilities or are not wanted remains to be seen. Those on the "inside" at their respective schools will not venture opinions, and although I have talked with some of the representative alumni I have learned nothing new.

Princeton's players are in great demand. We find the sons of old Nassau everywhere acting as tutors for the gridiron athletes. It is impossible to disassociate Phil King from the Princeton tactics of old. Smith and Holt, of Illinois, are old Princetonians. "Biffy" Lea made himself famous at Nassau.

What makes the popularity of the orange and black tigers? That is the natural query. Western schools say that the progressive character of football at Princeton accounts for the popularity of the sons of Nassau. It is slyly hinted also that the world loves a winner and any Princeton man can tell you of the great football victories won by the tigers in recent years.

Pennsylvania is represented with her scheme of football—greatly revamped to suit the west, it is true—by Dr. Knipe, the once mighty back of the red and blue, and Dr. Hollister. Neither Pennsy man, who used to do wonders on that great football field not far from the scene of the republican convention gathering in the City of Brotherly Love, will try to follow closely any of the Pennsy or Woodruff plays this season. These coaches realize that the best critics are of the opinion that the famous "guards back" of Pennsylvania is only successful when executed by the great athletes of Pennsy. They also know that with such a man as Capt. Hare running the eleven, Pennsy was unable to make the play much of an enigma. They play can be solved, and it has been. Iowa had the guards back in her repertory last season, but it is a fact that the Hawkeyes gained more ground by using specific plays invented by the sturdy Dr. Knipe than with all the Pennsy plays used. It has always been a mooted point with the critics whether the plays that Knipe used so successfully—Iowa's goal was not worried much last season—are legitimate under stringent interpretations of the rules. Such strict officials as Paul Dashiel and the Wrenn brothers might decide the way that Stagg did, that the plays were not quite admissible.

Coach Stagg is a Yale product, but he has intentionally forgotten the ways of the blue and aimed to put the specific stamp of "Stagg" on the plays used by the maroons. While no one assails the loyalty of the old Yale man to his alma mater, the coach is known to be broad enough to criticise the shortcomings of Yale. He has seen lack of progression at Yale and has freely criticised the work there. Stagg's plays do not have any of the Yale flavor. The little man, who was once named for the All-America team, was quick to see the advantage of having a heavy quarterback for interference and for mass plays. While open plays and place kicking were on the Chicago programme when Herschberger and Clark were in the eleven, mass plays quite naturally took prominence when those standbys graduated.

Michigan has always used the Princeton plays to a great degree. McAuley and Ward taught the Wolverines these things long ago. Michigan tried the graduate system, but it did not please. The wealth of material at the maize and blue 'varsity was practically wasted by the trial. With the coming of Lea, the head coach of Princeton, matters will take a decided brace at Ann Arbor. Lea's tigers won over Yale, and that is enough to spur on the Wolverines under their new coach.

King will have an easy time this season. His system is well established at Madison and the head coach is in close touch with all the old material, and he knows all about the new men that are coming to the cardinal training table. No one disputes the almost absolute sway of Phil at Wisconsin. Besides, "Buck" Richards with the backs is a whole team of coaches in himself.

Ex-Tackle Holt and Fred Smith are optimistic about their Illini charges this fall. Smith is popular at Champaign and his Princeton coaching has given good results. The Illinois enthusiasts expect him to build up a championship eleven in one year, but that will be a hard task.

Until athletics are given more moral and financial support at Northwestern, Dr. Hollister's job will be a hard and featureless one. He will have to keep plugging along with his material, accepting defeats as a part of the plan of infusing football wisdom into the brains of his athletes.

Iowa has the athletic fever and will do all in her power to help Dr. Knipe. The coach has good material, money and confidence, and the showing of last year—good enough for any western 'varsity—is a fine foundation for this season.

The Minnesota coaching system has been as various as the number of years that gridiron has flourished there. But Dr. Williams will treat the athletes to some surprises. The Yale and Pennsy plans will be set aside, and with a system similar to Stagg's in vogue the former crack football player and hurdler of Yale will lay a foundation for a system entirely his own. Minnesota expects a great deal from the practical and also theoretical Dr. Williams.

The Biggest Savings

are not infrequently made on items on which most people never think a saving possible. "All coons look alike," and all different grades of coal look alike to some. That's the trouble. The impurities are the same shape and just as black as the coal, but they give out no heat. Our coal is all coal, honest coal. Its use will make a big saving for you, if you have been buying any other kind.

POSTAL SUB-STATION.

It Will be Established in the Borough Next Month—J. J. Stahl Will be in Charge.

It has been definitely decided that a postal sub-station is to be established in the borough, and Julius J. Stahl is to be the official in charge. The office is to be located at 90 Somerset street in the store formerly occupied by George Ralph, as a pool room. It adjoins J. K. Arnold's grocery. The office will be opened about September 10th. Mr. Stahl will, of course, be subordinate to Postmaster Bird, of this city.

He will use a portion of the store for the sub-station, and the other part will be used for the selling of candies, fruit, etc. At the sub-station it will be possible to purchase stamps, cards, money orders, and it will be a place to drop mail. The new office will be a great advantage to the residents of the borough, and it rests entirely with them as to how rapidly the station is advanced to something better.

The establishment of this station is due to the efforts of Senator Reed and Mayor Smalley, who have been working the scheme for sometime past.

ROD AND GUN.

The annual shoot under the auspices of the Independent Gun Club will take place Labor Day on their grounds near Terrill.

GOLF

A return four-ball match was played on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club yesterday afternoon between Olaf Saugstad and Frank Talmage, of the Hillside Club, and W. J. R. Thiers and Edgar I. Serrell, of the Park Golf Club. The Hillside team won three up and two to play.

Death of an Aged Woman.

Mrs. Catherine Messler, aged 77 years, who for many years was a resident of Whitehouse, died last Monday after a long illness. The funeral services were held yesterday noon at 12:30 o'clock from the home of E. M. Bartles at German Valley, and interment took place at Peapack. Mrs. Messler leaves four grandchildren, one of whom is Miss Emma Messler, who is in charge at Muhlenberg Hospital. The others are two sisters and a brother of Miss Messler. The latter as well as the other grandchildren attended the services.

One Day in the Lockup.

Norman Linbarger, of the borough, was arrested last night by Marshal Emmons, who found him in a disorderly condition. Mayor Smalley imposed a penalty of one day in the lockup.

THEATRICAL.

Current Dramatic Attractions That Plainfielders Can Witness.

An instance of what managerial skill, unlimited means and unbounded enterprise can do in commanding public approval is amply illustrated by the enormous success of the latest effort of Managers S. W. Combs and H. A. Grady. The surpassingly fine spectacular production of "The Man O'

Warsman," to be seen at Music Hall next Tuesday night, includes realistic reproductions of historical events in our country's diplomatic achievements, while exciting scenes of danger interspersed with amusing comedy, crowd each other in rapid action of a play with few equals on the dramatic stage today.

* * * * * *

When Mr. Charles Hoyt's revival of his world-famed "A Trip to Chinatown" is presented at Music Hall tonight, it is fair to presume that it will call out an audience that will fill the playhouse to overflowing. Playwright Hoyt has had many successes, but he never scored a success as pronounced and emphatic as in "A Trip to Chinatown." This season's production of the "Trip" bears the distinct trademark of Hoyt in every line and scene. It is full of life and dash, and has even more of the breeze and whirl than usually characterizes a Hoyt farce from beginning to end. Harry Gilfoil, for years recognized as the leading comedian of the Hoyt and McKee forces, will be seen again in the role of Welland Strong. Mable Montgomery, the modern stage beauty and professionally known as the American Duse, will play the part of the widow; Fleurette, the daintiest and most sensational toe dancer now before the American public, will be seen in the part of the French maid; Pearl Hamlin, celebrated for her clever delineation of "coon" melodies and Parisian songs; Emilie Gardner, late premier soprano of the Jaxson Opera Company; Will Philbrick, champion cakewalker; Emily Curtis, male impersonator; George Shields, Robert Harty, Walter McCullough, Clayton Kennedy, the American Paderewski; Will Lewis and others form the cast, which, without doubt, is the strongest ever put together for a Hoytian production. Alex Spencer, so long directing the musical department for Hoyt and McKee, is traveling with the company and will personally direct the orchestra. The scenery, stage accessories and costuming are said to surpass those of the orginal production.

A Hard Job.

The large face plate for the new safe factory, was finally placed in the Pond Tool Works yesterday. It took nearly three days of hard work on the part of A. E. Hoagland's and Henry & John's men to get the immense piece of iron from the side walls to to the shop.

Y., early next month, where he has secured a lucrative position.

Insane and Without Relatives.

Annie Driscol, a young woman without relatives or a home, was taken to the Morris Plains Asylum this morning by Patrolman Watson. She was formerly employed in a Plainfield household as a domestic. She became insane and was quite violent at times, so that it was found necessary to confine her temporarily at Brookside Retreat, while arrangements were made to take her to Morris Plains.

Entertaining Mr. Coler.

Comptroller Bird S. Coler, of New York, who is stopping at Hotel Netherwood, was the guest last evening of his friend, F. A. Barnaby, of Plainfield avenue, and the two gentlemen enjoyed a delightful drive about Plainfield and vicinity. Mr. Barnaby will entertain Mr. Coler tomorrow at dinner.

Progressive Euchre Tonight.

The regular weekly progressive euchre will be held at Netherwood this evening, and a number of valuable prizes have been provided. The success of the "military euchre" last Monday promises to attract more to the reguler game this evening. Tomorrow the formal Saturday evening hop will be held.

Gas Main Leaks.

Employes of the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company are looking for a leak in the gas main in the neighborhood of Central avenue and West Eighth street. The odor of gas at that point is quite perceptible at times.
